39 APARTMENT AREAS AVAILABLE IN PROPOSED RESIDENCE D ZONE

Survey by Taxpayers' Ass'n Cites Lots of 24,000 Sq. Feet

In view of the interest surrounding the proposal to create a new Residence D zone allowing the construction of garden apartments under certain conditions and subject to the discretion of the Board of Aldermen, Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., Executive Director of The Taxpayers' Association has checked the zoning map as proposed, with the Sanborn Map (Fire Alarm) at City Hall to determine approximately how many presently vacant lots could have garden apartments put on them today if the Adams proposals were accepted.

According to Muther, a total of thirty-nine such areas in the whole of the city were located, some which are city owned property, some are used for private parking, a substantial tract is generally under water and some always is, some areas involve lots with very precipitous grades, and two abut railroad freight sidings.

DISCUSSES SITUATION

In discussing this phase of the situation, Muther stated:

"Without claiming perfect accuracy, the list can be said to be quite complete. No attempt was made to check into the possible situations arising if certain present structures were torn down, nor where a remodelling job might be attempted, but as far as existing vacant lots are concerned, it seems apparent that they are so located and so few in number that even if they could be built on with garden apartments as a matter of right, no measurable change in the character of the city would be noticeable.

"The list follows, and the Taxpayers' Association would be glad to receive information of any locations in the present General Residence or Private Residence zones, of 24,000 square feet or more, and now vacant, which we may have missed.

"The Taxpayers' Association recently sent a communication to the Committee on Claims and Rules recommending a curtailment of the over-all areas to which the garden apartment provisions of the Adams Report might be applied."

THE AREAS

The thirty-nine areas which Muther lists in his survey are as follows:

General Residence Zones: Thornton at Pearl; Peabody street; Vernon street; Silver Lake avenue and Bridge stret; Bridge, rear of Rose Derry Co.; end of Rustic street; Hawthorne street; Shamrock at Emerald street; between Linwood avenue and Silver Lake avenue; Commonwealth avenue at Woodbine; ends of Suban and Josselyn, and, Elliot at Margaret road.

Private Residence Zones: 1512 Washington street; 625 and rear Watertown street; Crafts at Watertown street; and end of Edinboro street; Harding at Chase and Fuller; North side of Barbara road; Flowed Meadow at Pine street and across Lexington street to Rumford avenue; ends of Mague avenue and Dearborn street; Larkin and Cumberland roads; west of Royal Circle; 35 Charles street; along Cold Spring Brook; south of Beacon street; Pettee and Thurston streets; Columbia at Elliot street; Circuit avenue at bend and east.

Elliott; Chestnut street at Pennsylvania avenue; section behind manufacturing zone S.E. of Needham and West of Winchester street; section at Lagrange and Vine; Bridge at California street; Traverse street; Chapel street opposite Raytheon; Lothrop street unless playground is extended; Farquhar road and Newtonville avenue; Madoc and Carlisle; end of Hamlet street; John street ben and east.

Tells How To Send Mail To P.O.W.

Mail for members of the U. S. Armed Forces believed to be prisoners of North Korean or Chinese Communist forces should be addressed as follows, according to Postmaster Francis A. Crowley: Name, rank and serial number. Care of Chinese Peoples Committee for World Peace, Peking, China.

The Department of Defense has notified postal officials that no guarantee can be given that attempts to communicate with the reported prisoners of war will be successful.

The envelope is to contain the return address of the sender in the upper left hand corner, and in the upper right-hand corner, where postage would ordinarily

Issues Warning About Unoccupied Residences During Vacation Season

Police Chief Purcell Sets Ten Good Rules To Follow

With the vacation season at hand, during which time many residents of the city will be away, Police Chief Philip Purcell this week issued a list of timely suggestions which, if followed, will aid materially in thwarting thefts from, and ransacking of homes which have been temporarily closed for the summer.

Following are Chief Purcell's suggestions:

1. When leaving for vacation, leave no notes or forwarding addresses outside door.
2. Leave no keys under the mat, over the door or in the mail box.
3. Be sure all doors and windows are securely locked; or better yet, double locked. Close the garage doors.
4. Tell your neighbor how long you will be gone. Ask him to keep an eye on your house, but not to give the information to anybody regarding your absence.
5. Discontinue newspapers, milk deliveries and mail deliveries.
6. Arrange with a neighbor to remove advertising matter or other articles which may be left on your porch.
7. Notify Police Headquarters, La7-0030, when you are leaving, where you are going and the approximate date of your return, so that officers can check the premises periodically.
8. Remove all money, jewelry or other valuable which can be easily stolen. Don't hide such things under rugs, behind pictures, in mattresses, etc. Remove them from the house and put them in a safe place.
9. Inspect all doors and windows.
10. Don't pull down all window shades, thus advertising that the premises are closed. Some folks leave a dim light burning on both the first and second floors.

And to those who stay at home, Chief Purcell says, "Be a good neighbor." Notify the police immediately, day or night, if anybody is seen about your neighbor's premises. It is much better for the police to establish that persons are okay, than to find out later they are not.

A. Osterlund Honored By Nash Motors At Dinner

August Osterlund, president of August Osterlund, Inc., Newton Centre, was honored by officials of Nash Motors at a dinner held at the Kenmore Hotel last week in recognition of his 26 years of sales and service as a Nash dealer.

Osterlund was presented with an electric clock trophy symbolizing his achievement by J. F. Cox, Boston zone manager. Attending the dinner was the entire staff of August Osterlund, Inc., and Nash zone office representatives.

Born in Sweden in 1886, Osterlund received his early education in Loshult, Sweden, attending the Loshult grade schools. He arrived in this country at a very early age, and at the age of 22 he established his own business, a service station on Commonwealth avenue.

During his early business career the Rambler was most popular, and he specialized in this type of service. Having successfully built up a following, he was granted a Nash Motors franchise in 1926. At that time the company employed six persons, including one salesman and two mechanics.

Several early members of the firm are still active today. Iver Osterlund, a brother, started with the dealership in 1920 as a service manager. Douglas C. Graves, sales manager, joined the company in 1926 as a salesman.

August Osterlund, Inc., has been in its present location at 724 Beacon street, Newton Centre, for 22 years. The building covers over 5,000 square feet of floor space devoted to sales and service. The company today employs a staff of 14 persons. The aggregate number of "Nash" years of all employees reaches a total of 215.

As a four-time winner of the Nash "10-point Select Dealer" award, the top honor Nash can bestow on its dealers, August Osterlund, Inc., has maintained the highest standards of financial responsibility, dealer sales and service, business practice and methods, and other requirements needed for outstanding customer relations.

Observing his 26th year as a

Laud Woman's Auxil. School Patrol at First Anniversary

Lauded as a complete success, members of the Newton Police Woman's Auxiliary School Patrol, heard Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood extend words of appreciation at ceremonies last Thursday morning which marked the first anniversary of the establishment of the unit.

Chief Philip Purcell reported that the women officers had an excellent attendance record and Mayor Lockwood said that he has received a large number of calls and letters praising the women traffic officers.

Superintendent of Schools Harold B. Gores said that the setting up of women's traffic posts resulted in a substantial drop in complaints from residents. Other speakers included Alderman Edward A. Fahey and Kenneth E. Prior; Murray E. Sholkin, president and Rupert C. Thompson, executive secretary to the Newton Chamber of Commerce.

Others in attendance were Harold T. Pilsbury, director of Municipal Research; Capt. Charles E. Walker, Sgt. William H. Dowling, and Safety Officer Charles E. Feeley.

Following the ceremonies each woman officer received a gift package of products made or distributed by Newton companies.

DR. J. EDGAR PARK

To Conduct Services During July

Dr. J. Edgar Park, former Newton clergyman and President-emeritus of Wheaton College, will conduct summer union services at Second Church, West Newton, for the remaining four Sundays this month, according to an announcement this week. Iver J. Sjorstrom will have charge of the music.

Prior to his eighteen years as President of Wheaton, Dr. Park held a 10-year ministry at Second Church, during which the present edifice and parish house were built. He makes his home now at Overville, on Cape Cod.

The Rev. Chauncey A. Blossom is chairman of the services this year, the sixteenth that six to eight churches in the western part of the city have worshipped together during the summer. Co-operating churches are: Auburndale, Central, Newton Highlands and Second Congregational, First Unitarian, Lincoln Park, Baptist, and Newtonville Methodist. The latter will be host church for the services in August and the first Sunday in September.

"Has Never Yet Voted A Blank Check"

"Proponents Will Run To Cover On Gen'al Sales Tax"

In a statement issued this week, Representative George E. Rawson of the 4th Middlesex District, flayed the action of the House of Representatives in voting a two cent increase in the gasoline tax last Friday and contended "it is absolutely contrary to sound legislative procedure for the leadership to request the House to vote for a tax bill prior to the passage of the budget and it has never been done before."

Continuing, Representative Rawson said: "Until the budget becomes a law we do not know how much tax is required. Opinions ranged from one cent extra to two. In fact, when last year's budget was being passed the Democratic leadership of the House told us no new taxes were required to take care of the Highway Fund, including the bond issues. We Republicans tried to postpone the 'Gas Tax' bill until after passage of the budget, but the Democrats prevented postponement, because they have more votes than we. I have never yet voted a blank

Miss Priscilla Ford Of Auburndale Wed Saturday

White flowers decorated Auburndale Congregational Church Saturday afternoon when Miss Priscilla Sears Ford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Leslie Ford of Auburndale, was given in marriage by her father to Mr. Robert Brooks Bryant, son of Mr. Carleton Allen Bryant of Pawtucket, R. I., and the late Mrs. Bryant. Mr. Chauncey E. Blossom officiated at the ceremony and a reception followed at the home of the bride's parents.

Carrying a cascade of stephanotis, swansonia and white orchids with her gown of Alencon lace over satin, the bride had her long heirloom veil of tulle caught to a cap with stephanotis. As maid of honor for her sister, Miss Constance B. Ford of Auburndale wore a gown of yellow taffeta and nylon tulle fashioned with a lace bodice. Her helmet matched and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses, pale blue delphinium and ivy.

The bridesmaids, wearing similarly styled aqua gowns and helmets, carried cascade bouquets of yellow roses, lavender delphinium and ivy. They were Miss Edith L. Harris of Belmont, Miss Joanna D. Johnston of Winchester, Miss Carolyn Keyes of Auburndale, and Miss Gudrum Robinson of West Newton.

Mr. David Fahlquist of Riverside, R. I., was best man. The ushers were Mr. Harry Fuller of Cambridge, Mrs. James Colville of Verona, N. J.; Mr. Charles Robinson of West Newton, and Mr. Norman Wright of Saylesville, R. I.

The bride was graduated from Colby College in 1951 where she was a member of Sigma Kappa sorority. The bridegroom was graduated from Brown University, class of 1950, and is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity. He served with the Navy for two years and holds a commission in the Naval Reserve.

They will make their home in St. Joseph, Mo.

Miss Maurine Helms Wed To Mr. Lee In W. Newton

Miss Maurine Elizabeth Helms, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Preston Helms of West Newton, became the bride last Friday evening of Mr. Alfred Preston Lee of Newton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Lee of Malden Bridge, N. Y., at an 8 o'clock candlelight service.

The Rev. Frank Grebe of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York City, performed the ceremony. The altar was decorated with white lilies, stock and woodwardia ferns, and the candlesticks marking the aisle were entwined with smilax. A reception followed at the Wellesley Country Club, where blue delphinium and white gladioli carried out the colors of the bridesmaids' gowns.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a period gown of candlelight satin fashioned with a fitted basque with a portrait neckline, and a long train. Her full-length veil of silk illusion was attached to a tiny-helmet of antique Duchess lace and pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis with a white orchid.

Her sister, Mrs. Champe A. Fisher of Lejeune, N. C., the former Patricia Helms, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. J. Deane Somerville of Cambridge; Mrs. George B. Pierce of Wellesley; Mrs. Frank H. Simpson of Wellesley Hills; Miss Nancy Concannon of Waban; and Mrs. Robert Schumacher of Groveton, N. H.

Mr. John E. Egbert of Newton was the best man, and the ushers were Mr. John Stewartt of St. Clair Shores, Mich.; Mr. Frank H. Simpson of Wellesley Hills; Mr. Burton Thornquist of Newton; Mr. Spencer M. Cowan of Roxbury; and Mr. Robert Schumacher of Groveton, N. H.

The bride was graduated from Bradford Junior College, and the the Mary A. Burnham School, Katharine Gibbs School. The bridegroom is a graduate of Brown and Nichols School and of Bowdoin College, where he was a member of Delta Upsilon fraternity. During World War II he served as a lieutenant with the Navy Air Corps in the Pacific theater. After a wedding trip to Canada, they will live on Beacon street.

Miss June Gray Married To Robert George Taylor

White snapdragons and peonies, cymbodium ferns and candelbara decorated the Newtonville Methodist Church, June 16, when Miss June D. Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Gray, 29 Rangeley road, West Newton, became the bride of Robert George Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Taylor, 109 Lowell avenue, Newtonville.

Rev. Hamilton M. Gifford performed the double ring ceremony at 4 p. m., with the reception held immediately following the ceremony in the Church parlors, decorated with peonies, snapdragons and ferns.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white gown with a lace yoke trimmed with seed pearls and fashioned with fitted bodice and full skirt terminating in a train. Her finger-tip veil of French illusion fell from a seed pearl Tiara and she carried a cascade of white glamellis and stephanotis.

Miss Joyce Gray of West Newton was her cousin's maid of honor wearing white organza over pale yellow taffeta and carrying a cascade of yellow gladioli. The bridesmaids, Miss Barbara Learmouth, Miss Patricia Mosher and Miss Raemah Gooley, all of West Newton, and Mrs. Chester Brimblecom of Waban, who wore similar gowns as Miss Gray except they were over orchid taffeta, and carried cascades of orchid gladioli. All wore white horsehair picture hats.

The best man was Russell Taylor, brother of the bridegroom, of Newtonville. Ushers were Chester Brimblecom of Waban, Fred Klenck of Arlington, Donald Wall of Westerly, R. I., and Roy Schorer of New York City. Mrs. H. M. Gifford was the organist.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Gray wore robin's egg blue crepe trimmed with lace, petal pink nylon hat and gloves and pink sweetheart corsage. Mrs. Taylor, mother of the bridegroom, wore dusty rose crepe with navy blue accessories and a corsage of white carnations and blue delphinium.

Mrs. Taylor was graduated from Newton High School and Lasell Junior College. Her husband, also a Newton High graduate, is now attending Boston University. He is employed as a sales engineer for Insulating Fabricators of New England.

After a wedding trip to Virginia Beach, Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor will reside at 303 Highland avenue, West Newton.

Miss Andrea R. Lucas Is Married In Barnstable

Miss Patricia Bach Bride of Mr. Underwood, 2nd

Following the marriage Saturday in the Second Church in Newton, West Newton, of Miss Patricia Stuart Bach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Dudley Bach of Wellesley Hills, to Mr. H. George Carlton Underwood, 2nd, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Carlton Underwood of "Crestview," Rockport, Me., a reception was held at the Brae Burn Country Club.

The Rev. Robert I. Blakesley performed the 4 o'clock ceremony in a candlelight setting of white flowers and laurel roping, and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Barbara Bach of Wellesley Hills was her sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Elizabeth Cheney of Cambridge; Miss Judith Anderson and Mrs. Paul Gryska (Barbara Carney) of Wellesley Hills; Miss Sheila Sweeney of West Newton; Mrs. E. Burton Brown (Janet Werner) of Boston; and Mrs. Alan Lincoln Burns of Saratoga, N. Y. Miss Jean Hudson of Waban was an honorary bridesmaid.

Mr. G. Harold Welch of Mt. Carmel, Ct., was best man, and the ushers included Mr. Victor Tyler of New Haven, Ct.; Mr. Peter Van Tassell of Scarsdale, N. Y.; Mr. William Gilbert of Buffalo, N. Y.; Mr. William Anderson of Camden, Me.; Mr. Richard Krementz of Elizabeth, N. J., and Mr. Arnold Haynes of Boston. The honorary ushers were Mr. Milton P. DeVane of New Haven, Ct., and Mr. David H. Montgomery of Camden, Me.

The bride was graduated from Tenacre and Dana Hall Schools, and from Smith College in 1950. She made her debut in 1946-47 season and is a member of the Junior League. Mr. Underwood prepared at Phillips Exeter Academy and was graduated in 1950 from Yale, where he is a member of York Hall (Chi Phi fraternity). He is an ensign in the USNR. After a wedding trip to Bermuda, they will live at 70 Thornton road, Chestnut Hill.

The bride's father gave her away in the double ring ceremony at which Monsignor Robert H. Lord officiated.

The bride's gown was princess style ivory satin, with an off-the-shoulder neckline and long pointed sleeves. The bodice and skirt panels were appliqued with Italian silk lace. Her finger-tip illusion veil was caught to a cap of matching lace. Lilies and stephanotis cascaded from her bouquet.

The maid of honor, Miss Mary Dowling of Wollaston, wore a gown of pink lace with a bouffant marquisette skirt. She carried sweetheart roses and blue delphinium. The bridesmaids, Miss Josephine Neveska of Lowell, and Miss Lucille Shamitz of Wellesley, wore dresses like Miss Dowling's, and carried crescents of sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Nicolai chose a gown of grey blue lace with navy velvet accessories for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of royal blue crepe. Each had an orchid corsage.

Mr. Henry C. McKee Jr. of Hingham was best man. The ushers were Mr. Robert J. Viano of Belmont, Mr. Arthur W. Marsh of Needham, Mr. John L. Iamele of Brookline, and Mr. Frank Kilburn of Waban.

After the reception at the Hotel Shelton, Boston, the bride and groom left for a wedding trip to Bermuda. They will make their home in Boston.

The bride was graduated from Mary Brooks School. The bridegroom was graduated from Brown University, where he was a member of Theta Delta Chi fraternity.

G.O.P. Leaders Wary of Waging Campaign on International Issues . . . Committee in Quandary on Graft Charges . .

A number of Republican leaders have reached the conclusion that it might be a serious mistake to pitch next year's G.O.P. Presidential campaign on international issues and link it to the policies of General MacArthur.

This attitude was reflected in the speeches and pronouncements of several of the top party chieftains who appeared at the recent national convention of young Republicans.

An exception, of course, is Senator Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin, but his attacks upon Secretary of Defense George C. Marshall and Secretary of State Dean Acheson now have become too venomous for most of the members of his own party.

It's going a little too far for the average American, whatever his political affiliations, when McCarthy assails Marshall as a liar and accuses Acheson of betraying his country. Such allegations go far beyond the bounds of any ordinary differences of political opinion.

This observer sat in the balcony of the main ballroom of the Hotel Statler at the convention of the young G.O.P. members, listened to McCarthy and watched him, and earlier attended the press conference the Wisconsin Senator conducted.

McCarthy could not be considered a good speaker, and it was definitely our impression that he delivers speeches written for him by some hatchetman. He makes the most bitter and sensational charges, couched usually in generalities, but he presented no real facts to back up his allegations.

In his Boston speech, for example, McCarthy chaged that a "treasonous document" signed the death warrant for all the men killed in Korea and for those who, he said, are to die in Iran, Indo-China, Paris and Berlin.

Three experienced newspaper reporters, listening to McCarthy and following the text of his prepared speech, had three different conceptions of what McCarthy meant by the "treasonous document," and this writer left with the impression that McCarthy himself wasn't sure just what he did mean. He was just reading a speech somebody had written for him.

A sizeable portion of the young Republicans viewed McCarthy as they would a famous actor. He was billed as a speaker who would exude oratorical fire and brimstone. They didn't necessarily agree with what he said, but hearing him say it was something like attending a show. They gave him a big ovation when he entered and left the ballroom, applauded politely at times during his address and then tried to figure out what he had said to warrant such a bitter attack at a man like General Marshall.

Older and more experienced heads in the Republican party consider there is a tone of irresponsibility to most of McCarthy's charges, that the American people are not likely to agree that General Marshall is a liar, or that Acheson deliberately betrayed them in Korea.

Even Senator Margaret Chase Smith, who is so conservative that she makes it a point never to allow newspapers to have advance copies of her speeches and will give out the written text of her addresses only after she has delivered them, observed that she knew of no facts to support McCarthy's allegations against Acheson and Marshall.

So many outstanding Republicans of the stamp of Senators Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., and Leverett Saltonstall have opposed the theories of General MacArthur on how to conduct the war in Korea that the top G.O.P. planners surmise they might be on dangerous ground with such a campaign issue.

Thus, speakers such as National Committeeman Sinclair Weeks urged the G.O.P. sons and daughters to concentrate on talking about graft and corruption, what they termed "moral decay," mink coats and the like.

They made it plain that they consider the 1952 campaign should be based strictly on domestic issues.

* * * * *

Members of the House rules committee are in a quandary as to what to do about the graft probe they have been conducting which now reposes in their collective laps.

Worcester County District Attorney Alfred B. Cenedella has testified before the committee that Judge John S. Derham of the Uxbridge district court told him of a $3000 payoff that was to be made to a high State official in a State land-taking case.

Judge Durham has denied to the committee that he ever told Cenedella any such story. Both made second appearances before the committee this week and stood by their stories, after reading the testimony given by the other.

Now the rules committee members are in a position where it's difficult to go ahead and just as awkward to stop.

They can't very well drop the probe because the people of the State look to the committee for some answers, and they could draw the accusation of administering a whitewash if they are not careful.

On the other hand, if they summon the well-known high State official in for questioning, as they may do, his name will immediately be known and suspicion directed at him although no specific allegations have been directed against him.

Cenedella takes the attitude that the matter ought to be adopted because of the implication of graft involved. He has stressed that he made no charges against the high State official, that he merely repeated a story told to him by Derham—a story Derham insists he never told.

In answer to questions from readers, it can be stated that the official referred to by Cenedella is not a member of Governor Dever's office and in no way connected with it.

Community Chest Allotment For The Newton Y.M.C.A.

By DOROTHY G. BAKER

The 1951 grant from the Community Chest to the Newton Y.M.C.A. is $29,400.00, which includes $28,000.00 for regular operations and $1,400.00 for the Newton Youth Organization. As it has done for 74 years this Red Feather Agency will continue in 1951 to further help boys and men grow in Christian ideals and in useful hobbies and skills.

Most "Y" activities are carried on in groups, clubs, gym classes, and hobby and interest groups. The dues for these various classes are set at amounts which will attract the highest membership and be consistent with the cost of rendering service. It is a recognized policy for Y.M.C.As. throughout the country to receive outside support to carry out programs which contribute so much to the betterment of the community.

In 1950 the Newton "Y" was 77.74 percent self-supporting with the 22.26 percent balance being furnished by the Newton Community Chest. Membership dues, rental of residence rooms, and fees brought in 74.20 percent with 3.5 percent income from endowment.

The 1950 annual report reflects the activity of this organization in its many branches. Last year the "Y" enrolled in its program 3,845 different persons from Newton and surrounding communities. Its affairs are directed by a Board of Directors of twenty-four men and a Board of Trustees of eight members.

Actual direction of program and physical care of property is carried out by a six-man secretarial staff and a group of diligent non-secretarial employees, office workers, matrons, and maintenance workers. Fifteen Board committees and a host of sub-committees and council keep the Association program going.

In the Boys' Division there is an enrollment of over a thousand members who range in age from 8 to 18. Varied activities are carried on within the building and five-acre playfield. One Hi-Y club in Watertown High School; two Tri-Hi-Y chapters in Watertown and Newton High Schools; two junior Hi-Y clubs in Bigelow and Warren Junior High Schools; and one junior Tri-Hi-Y in Weeks Junior High School have been active during the year. A Gra-Y club and hobby groups provide opportunities for boys to participate in activities of interest to them.

Nearly 1500 men and young men are members of the Y. Many choices of activities are open to them such as gym classes, weight-lifting, squash and handball, chess club, stamp club, or the bowling leagues. The Dorm club, for building residents, has many activities which include supper sessions. The "Y" finds that interest and participation in young adult activities is on the increase. To provide for this demand the Friendsgate club was recently formed. Golf classes under the guidance of a professional are still finding an enthusiastic number of participants who want to learn this sport.

The "Y" operates three camps: Frank A. Day, a residence camp at East Brookfield on Lake Quacumquasett. It accommodates 156 boys and on the 27th of June opened for its thirty-sixth year. Camp Massasoit, a day camp, is conducted on the "Y's" playfield and in the building. June 25th opening marked Massasoit's eighth year. 140 boys are provided for during each period of the two four-week summer sessions. Camp Chickami, opened June 25th for its 6th year. Activities are conducted at Riverside, on the Charles.

The Newton Youth Organization, an informal group of boys from the neighborhood with its own clubhouse but using the facilities of the "Y" is a recent and enthusiastic group.

For boys unable to pay nominal membership fee, a limited number of scholarships are made available. All, regardless of race, color, or creed, are welcomed. No boys are turned away because of inability to pay.

Mindful of the vital place it occupies in the community through its nearly 75 years of endeavor the "Y" aims through its committees, lay officers, and staff members to: Strengthen the opportunities for Christian growth of individual members, to increase the number of affiliated groups and clubs, and to strive continually to fulfill the purpose of the "Y's" program which is to develop the body, mind and spirit of its members and constituents.

–Newton Profile–

By HELEN A. COHEN

Based wholly upon the premise that "a good deed is never lost" has this housewife and mother dedicated the past thirteen years of her life to those less fortunate than herself.

Mrs. John F. Light, of 195 Waltham Street, West Newton, the former Ruth Blaisdell of Waltham, is permanent chairman of the Waltham Guiding Light Club for blind people.

Back in 1938, Ruth Light first became interested in working with the blind when she was asked to drive a few of these people to a social function here in Newton. Appalled at the apathy displayed by most people in volunteering to drive the blind, she decided right then that she would find someone with the deep inner feeling of wanting to help to start an organization whose sole function would be to give blind people a small measure of assistance. Finding the right person for this task was not as easy as she had anticipated, so naturally Ruth Light took over.

In those early days, interesting people into helping the blind was rough going. It took a great deal of persuasion and ringing of doorbells to get started. However, with a boost of 100% cooperation of the Waltham Women's club solidly behind her, Ruth Light forged ahead. What she has done from that time to this is a living memorial to her efforts.

Realizing that what blind people need most is the companionship of others similarly afflicted, a purely social club for the blind was born, with 18 blind people attending that first meeting at the Perkins Institute for the Blind. The funds for this first get-together were raised from a bridge party held at the Hovey Institute in Waltham. Getting off to a flying start with that first successful party, the idea actually snowballed. After that, it was not too hard to get other people willing and able to donate time or small sums of money for this work. White elephants for rummage sales and homes opened for garden parties were next in the campaign to raise funds; this fund raising, by one means or another has been functioning since that small beginning in 1938.

At the present time there are 15 women actively engaged in working with Ruth Light, four of whom have been with her since the beginning. These women, called the Committee for the Blind, are members of the Waltham Women's Club. Ruth Light feels sincerely that "so much is due my committee for their unswerving loyalty and devotion to this cause. Without their help it would be impossible for me to accomplish so much. No task is too hard, no job too distasteful, hours mean nothing when my committee sets out to help me. May I give an extra pat on the back to my co-chairman, Mrs. William MacKay who has been a tower of strength to me through all these years?"

As a fitting tribute, the Guiding Light Club was named for Ruth Light, even though she modestly feels that she does not deserve such a signal honor. The name was chosen by the blind members of the club when they were groping for a suitable name. I believe the name is fitting. There is no doubt about the fact that she is the "Light" that guides the blind!

I learned that the Guiding Light Club is non-sectarian; its membership is open to any blind person (25% vision or less) irrespective of race, color or age. As a case in point, there is a girl of 19 and a woman of 91, with a scattering of ages and sexes in between. There are 12 active members and 14 inactive. These inactive members are either confined at home or are patients in rest homes.

Ruth Light explained to me just what form her socials take for the blind. To begin with, there are monthly meetings except July and August, held at various Women's Clubs and private homes in Waltham and Newton and other surrounding communities. Ruth and her committee drive the club members to and from their destination. Actually, these socials have become an important part of the lives of these blind folks. It gives them an opportunity to meet with others just like themselves; they are able to create, for a time at least, a world all their own, a highlight in a world of limited living. And above all, they form fast friendships not only with other blind, but with understanding individuals, like Ruth Light, who have the feeling and the willingness to help.

MRS. JOHN F. LIGHT

At Christmastime, parties are a must, when a basket filled with fruit, home-made cookies and candy is presented to each member, active or shut-in. Ruth told me that she has delivered many baskets via taxi — especially when the snow has been too heavy for her to drive thru.

The wind-up each year is a picnic held on the lovely grounds of the Light home. It has been held there for the past 13 years! I had the good fortune to be present at this year's picnic and it was so easy for me to see just what these people think of Ruth Light. Watching the sure manner in the way these people handled themselves, hearing their laughter, listening to them exchange ideas on summer plans made me realize that the effect or real help from sighted people on those unable to see was something that touched on greatness.

When Ruth Light spoke, all eyes, yes, all the sightless eyes, turned in the direction to where this gracious woman stood. With a warm and vibrant voice she told them of all the happenings of the past month that would interest them, of a member confined to a hospital, of another away in California who is planning to come back to visit his blind friends in September, a letter from a blind friend in Germany was read; it was their "Ruth" speaking. At that point, I was thoroughly convinced that even though these people could not see, their picture of Ruth Light was just as lucid as the one I had.

Among other things, this busy woman finds time to work with the State Division for the Blind. In this capacity she finds ways in which to help her club that are not entirely social. She encourages them to get talking books. Talking books are actually a form of portable victrola put out by the Library of Congress and alloted to each state for use by the blind. These are loaned through the State Division of Education, free of charge, for life. The records, or books if you will, played either soft or loud, are issued on all subjects—music, languages, literature, history, travel, etc. There is even a monthly issue of Reader's Digest, and these records too, are delivered free of charge.

Even though this Committee for the Blind raises funds to be used primarily for social purposes, there are times when an extreme case will merit consideration. Ruth Light recalls one case that stands out in her memory. Her attention had been called to a particular case of a blind man ill with diabetes. Due to his lack of funds, it was difficult for him to seek proper medical attention. Ruth took it upon herself to see that this man was admitted to a hospital. It was with a great deal of surprise that she learned from the physician in charge of the case that this man's vision could be restored if his eyes were operated on. Hearing this, Ruth really went to work. The operation, which took place subsequently, was a success and the man was able to see with the help of glasses.

An unmistakable show of tears welled up in Ruth Light's eyes as she said, "I was present the day that man put his glasses on for the first time. It was a rainy, sodden sort of day and when that man, blind for so long, turned to me and said that I looked like the most beautiful woman in the whole world, I was sure, for that man at least, the sun was shining in its full glory. That day was my birthday and as far as I can remember, it has been the most wonderful birthday present I ever received. Imagine being instrumental in helping restore the sight of another human being!"

This woman feels so strongly that blind people do not want either pity or sympathy and that their "greatest need is friendship with sighted people." For that reason when she has time, she takes blind people for drives through the country and for a time is their eyes in describing in minute detail all she herself sees.

I found Ruth Light an amazingly active individual. In spite of the tremendous amount of work she does for the Guiding Light Club she is still able to manage an efficient schedule in the maintenance of her home for her husband and teen-age son and the care of an ailing mother. Several times a year she mails a "Care" package to a blind man in the Russian zone in Leipsig, Germany. Four times a year she attends meeting as a member of the Mass. Council for the Social Agencies for the Blind. During World War II she was a senior hostess at the Buddies Club in Boston. For 3½ years after the war she worked with a group of 25 young women with Red Cross hospital training among the various veteran's hospitals in this area. This last was done through the Waltham U.S.O. With a droll smile Ruth Light admits that she does not have time to do other social work!

Speaking in a serious vein, Ruth Light says emphatically that "these people are always an inspiration to me. Watching their infinite patience in doing over and over again the little things that we with sight take so much for granted leaves me very humble. I always leave a Guiding Light meeting feeling that these people deserve all the help they can get. I admire tremendously their courage and fortitude in being able to overcome the limitations of blindness."

Looking into the future, this ardent worker intends to carry on with her work as long as she is able. William Shakespeare, better versed than I in the use of words paraphrases the whole situation rather neatly by saying:

"How far that little candle throws his beams!
So shines a good deed in a naughty world.
Heaven doth with us as we with torches do;
Not light them for themselves;
for if our virtues
Did not go forth of us, 'twere
all alike
As if we had them not."

GRAPHIC SPORTS

Last week we gave some deserving appraisal to the Mullen Bros., who seem to be the best bet to overtake the Italian-American Club in the Newton Twi League, American Division. Yet you can't discount Gaths and Cabot, both in that first division as well. These four clubs will definitely go down the wire in what is expected to be one of the best League races ever.

Twi League baseball is a difficult sport to second guess. For example take a gander at the outlook for I-A still in first place and have yet to be up-rooted. Al Caira has a veteran squad which has that New York Yankee experienced-look and play. At present, the pitching staff is the best in the league with Ed Bove, John Bent and Joe LaCroix; but woe are the worries of Caira who is expected to lose Bove and Bent before the second half of the season gets underway. Bent to the Army, Bove to the National Guard. And ace receiver Chuck Roche has already joined the Navy. Who knows what will upset Caira next week, or for that matter, any other coach?

The Mullens are the White Sox in this division. They have youth, speed, baseball savvy, and three capable pitchers in Murphy Jr., MacDonnell and Callanan. However, lately the Whiz Kids have been important at bat, as was the case of their recent 3-0 2-hit shut-out administered by weak Newton Highlands T. T. Even though outstanding players like Cronin, Tanner, Manning, Frawley, Lally, Foley, Damon plus Boole and Phinney of N.H.S. can provide plenty of trouble, they'll have to come out of their batting slumps to do it. Yet, they still must be considered the favorite to jump into the leader's seat if I-A does fold.

If pitching is 90% important in "short" Twi League games, then LaCroix (IAC) certainly can't do his share and that of Bent and Bove; therefore the team that does have the twirling in the latter stages of the race should take the flag. The Gaths have one consistent winner, Bob Noble. Cabot as manager Phil Pattison and Bill Barry. We've already mentioned the Mullens. Take your pick!

Now to consider batting-punch! I-A has the slugging outfit in Gentile, Paulino, Devaney, Duffey, Cedrone, Proia, O'Brien. They could hit offen enough to give any replacements for Bove and Bent ample encouragement. Cabot has their power in Ryan, O'Sullivan and Geary while the Gaths depend on Pickett, Tommy Ryan and Palmer. The Mullen youngsters are all-equal and have already been listed. Take your pick!

Carson Post is too far down to catch up, yet who knows, a winning streak of say, 7 or 8 straight could lift them up in the running anyway. However, Schlosberg, Buanato, two of their N.H.S. rookies will have to start winning and then Tommy Silk, the new addition, will have to click. Here's another veteran team that can belt the ball. Fellows like Quirk, Pagano, D'Antonio, Greene and Ciccone are big-stickers, but pitching has been the big weakness for the Legionnaires.

Newton High baseball followers can see their boys in action in Twi League games. Besides Schlosberg, Buanato, Boole and Phinney, Sutherland, Dauten, Coffey and Kreider are on the roster for the Newton Youth. Perkins, the Flagg brothers and Forbes are with the West Newton Orioles. Keith is with the Highland Chiefs.

Salvation Army Runs Famous Camp

Eight boys and five girls from Newton are having the time of their lives at the Salvation Army's famous fresh-air camp, Wonderland, on Lake Massapoag, in Sharon.

They left here Friday as part of the camp's first group of the season. Arrangements were made by the Family Service Bureau of Newton through Mrs. Catherine S. Holden.

Mrs. Wm. H. Fox, wife of the chief executive of the Salvation Army in New England, is camp superintendent. A woman of wide experience in camp management, one thing she insists upon, and provides, is an abundance of wholesome food. It is probable that for the first time in the lives of these children, they can have all the milk they will drink, at any time of day, since this is one of the camp rules laid down by Mrs. Fox.

The group now at camp comprises 191 boys, 128 girls, 16 mothers and 20 babies, the mothers occupying 16 rooms in the Mothers' Rest cottages. They are among the 40-odd buildings on the 87-acre tract of lawn and woodland of Camp Wonderland. Carrying out an imaginative schedule of camp activities are 55 counsellors.

Wonderland is one of 30 Greater Boston Salvation Army institutions, centers and departments receiving support from the Army's Friendly Annual Appeal in Newton.

23 PER CENT TAX

Stating that motorists are now paying a tax of 23 per cent on gasoline, Representative Rawson pointed out that "With our present taxes on gasoline the motorist is now paying a tax of 23 per cent, which is really a sales tax. Why should gasoline bear a sales tax while everything else goes 'scot-free'? Most of those who vociferously clamored for increasing the sales tax on gasoline, would run to cover if a general sales tax were proposed.

"There should be consistency even in government," he concluded.

Plan Girl Scout Leader Training Courses

Plans for a Girl Scout refresher and new leader training course are now under way. These courses are most important to make the job easier for new leaders who are willing to learn and grow with their children.

The guidance that the leaders give children should, and will, make them realize they are shaping the destiny of the future generation, giving each individual child the feeling that they belong.

Every means of training and consultation is offered future leaders. A flexible program is planned which should be of great interest to all.

The dates for the two courses to be offered are: Brownie Basic, September 26; Sept. 28; October 3 and October 5. Intermediate Basic: September 26 and 28; October 3 and 5. All courses will be held during the morning hours and anyone interested who cannot possibly take any of the courses on the above dates, should contact Mrs. Clarence J. Hutchings, 74 Fenno road, Newton Centre, Lasell 7-0926.

It is announced that the first 16 who sign up for each individual course, making a total of 32, will get into the first scheduled courses, otherwise applicants will have to wait until a later date.

Applications for the training courses will be sent out immediately and any person interested should call or write Mrs. Hutchings.

Will Leave For Guam Shortly

Suzanne E. Gill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Gill of 15 Parkview avenue, Newtonville, and Marie T. O'Connell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O'Connell of 165 Fairway Drive, West Newton, will leave shortly for Guam as volunteer teachers in the island's first Catholic school. They recently received their A.B. degrees from Regis College.

Both girls, members of the mission unit at Regis, obtained family approval to teach for one year. They will teach at Our Lady of Guam Academy without salary.

Suzanne, a sociology major, was president of the department Ethelon Club in her last year and did volunteer work at the Roxbury Juvenile Court and won her letter in basketball. She has one sister, Mrs. Mary Siefel ,of Newtonville, a Regis graduate in 1945, and a brother, Gratten, a student at the Boston Architectural Center.

Marie majored in psychology and was president of the psychological club, Nu Beta, this past year. During her senior year she worked in the Regis Psycho-Educational Clinic giving intelligence and personality tests to maladjusted children. She has also been a Girl Scout leader.

What Shall We Eat . . . .
. . . . Eating Outdoors

Now that the 4th is over, we really feel that the season for picnics and eating outdoors is really under way. Picnics can mean anything from the supper tray carried out to the backyard or porch to an elaborate cookout in the woods or at the beach. Wherever they are or whomever they are with it's an enjoyable time for all.

Flapjacks are the perennial favorite for breakfast in the open. Have you ever tried baking them on a stove made from a No. 10 can? Be sure to make about twice as much batter as you would at home because they'll disappear like magic.

For the picnic basket type of meal, something crisp always goes well with the sandwiches and fixin's. Walking Salads are just the answer. Spread a leaf of lettuce with mayonnaise and wrap around a tender young carrot. Eatwith the fingers! And be sure to include a thermos of ice cold milk in the basket. It's a good thirst quencher.

My mouth is already watering in anticipation of roasted corn on the cob, clam bakes, potato salad, pups in blankets, and "some mores." You'll agree that "Nothing's More Fun That Eating Outdoors" after you have read the booklet by that name. It was written by Jack Perz, Director of Camping of the Chicago Council of Boy Scouts of America. So you can see he will have excellent advice.

If you'd like to have a free copy of the 24-page booklet "Eating Outdoors," just send your request on a postcard to the New England Dairy and Food Council, 729 Boylston street, Boston 16, Mass. Do You Know Massachusetts?

(Compiled by State Planning Board)

DO YOU KNOW THAT . . . Massachusetts consumed 2,773,658,000 kilowatt hours of electric current in the first four months of 1951, an increase of 12.7 percent over the same period a year ago and a little more than twice as much as in the same months of 1939. . . . The National Office of Vital Statistics estimates that there were 38 percent more marriage licenses issued in Massachusetts during the first quarter of 1951 than in the same period last year. . . . Dollar value of retail store sales in Massachusetts during May totaled 2.7 percent more than a year ago. Sales in Springfield, however, gained 11.5 percent over May last year and in Worcester 8.8 percent, as reported by Federal Reserve Bank of Boston. . . . Massachusetts factory employment in May dropped 1.8 percent below April but stood 10.4 percent above May a year ago, as reported by Dept. of Labor and Industries. Factory payrolls in May were 24.5 percent over last year, and average weekly earnings per worker were up 12.7 percent or $6.79 per week. . . . The four large industrial centers showing highest average weekly earnings of factory wage workers during May were Pittsfield $76.06, Beverly $75.12, Lynn $74.49, and Worcester $71.11. . . . Correcting and expanding last week's statement concerning public school costs are the following facts supplied by the Massachusetts Teachers Federation: The median average expenditure per public school pupil in Massachusetts cities in 1949 was $205.39, but ranged from a median of $150.43 for the lowest city to $293.34 for the highest. The mean or arithmetic average for all municipalities was $202.44, the indvidual cities and towns ranging from $124.00 as the lowest to $1,065.44 as highest.

Tips On How to Buy Better Peaches

Popular as peaches are, many a fod shopper does not know them well enough to do an expert job of buying.

Here are tips for those not sure of themselves as grocery store peach pickers:.

Chose mature peaches, which have a creamy or yellowish ground color. This is more important than the pretty blush which some well-favored varieties never have. Peaches with darg green ground color are immature and will not ripen satisfactorily. Firm-texture clingstone peaches are well suited to home pickling. Free-stone varieties are favorites for table use and also for canning although they do not hold shape.

Figure on about four medium-sized peaches to a pound; a bushel will yield 18 to 24 quarts of canned peaches, or 36 to 48 pints of frozen.

Unemployment Benefits During Vacation Time

A statement governing the payment of unemployment benefits during vacation periods has been issued to all local State Employment Offices, according to Antonio England, Director of the Division of Employment Security.

England's announcement was prompted by the many inquiries now being received at the state's forty Employment Offices concerning unemployment benefits during vacation periods.

Director England said that under the provisions of the Massachusetts Employment Security Law a waiting period cannot be served nor may benefits be paid to a worker for the period applicable to which he receives vacation pay. The law also provides a disqualification for an individual who requests and is granted an unpaid vacation for a period during which his employer had work available for him.

If a worker is not entitled to any vacation pay and is to be unemployed for two weeks because of a plant shutdown for vacation purposes, he would be entitled to serve a waiting period and received a payment for one week, if otherwise eligible.

Fish Won't Freeze Family's Budget

When planning nourishing meals on a budget, don't forget fish. Most fish contain as much, and sometimes more food value than meat, and the cost can be far less.

Top quality fish need not be expensive. But it is important that they are fresh and in season.

When buying fresh oysters and clams, choose those with shells tightly clamped together. Gaping shells mean the shell-fish are dead, and no longer good. Fresh finny-fish should have a flesh that's firm, moist and elastic. Crabs and lobsters in the shell should be very much alive when you purchase them. If you buy them already cooked, be sure the retailer has keept them on ice.

Fortunately for those who have a yen for an off-season fish, the price of frozen fish remains very nearly stable throughout the year.

Fish fillets and steaks are an economical purchase. Because they are cleaned and ready for coking, you pay only for what you're going to eat, not for what you throw away.

Summer Institute At Wellesley is Open to All

An interest in making democracy work is the only qualification for attendance at any or all of the conference sessions at the Wellesley Summer Institute for Social Progress, open to people of all walks of life, which convenes on the Wellesley College campus from Saturday, July 7 through July 21.

"East and West: Crisis and Challenge" will be the 1951 theme of the informal conference consisting of morning and evening lectures and afternoon roundtable discussions on community, national and international affairs presented by nationally famous experts in these fields.

Reservations to attend all or part of the conference may now be made through Miss Dorothy P. Hill, director, 14 West Elm avenue, Wollaston.

Building Houses Larger This Year

New Englanders are building their houses larger this year, the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston recently reported in its Monthly Review.

During the first five months of 1951 contract awards for one-family houses for sale or rent exceeded those in the same period of 1950 by 14 percent in the number of units. The total floor area in these units, however, was 23 percent greater than during the first five months in 1950.

These figures show that larger houses are being planned and that the proportions of the speculative building program are greater this year than last, both in respect to the number of houses being planned and the size of the houses. Single houses are being built to sell—not for investment on a rental basis.

The public demand for new housing is being sustained by a high level of personal incomes, the rapid increase of families, and the desire or actual need to move to another location.

Regulation X and other real estate credit controls together with Conservation Order M-4 of the National Production Authority are restraining influences on the house-building and nonresidential construction programs. A late April, 1951, survey forecast that home building in 1951 will be about 80 percent of that in 1950 in the country as a whole and about 84 percent in New England. During 1950 a total of 1,400,000 units was started.

Reports on New England indicate a substantial drop in apartment house building in the first five months of 1951 compared with building in the corresponding period in 1950. With the exception of one-family houses, there was no significant change in the total of other types of homebuilding.

The article suggests that the full effect of curbs imposed last fall may not have been felt yet. Previous experience has shown that construction does not feel the full effect of curbs until six months or a year after their imposition. Commitments made prior to the mortgage credit restrictions could account for 400,000 or more housing starts in the U. S. in 1951.

Cabbage, which is in plentiful supply throughout the summer and fall in New England, is an excellent source of vitamins B1 and C, a good source of riboflavin, and is rich in calcium.

Let Us Heed the Warning

Editor, Newton Graphic:

As a property owner, taxpayer and resident of the City of Newton, I wish to express my gratitude to the Newton Graphic for its excellent civic service in the coverage of the proposed changes in the zoning ordinances. Your paper has given to the citizens of Newton a reminder of the past, a picture of the present and a warning for the future.

The purpose and plan, the nature and essence, the hope and desires of many city founders, throughout the country, have gone down in disgrace and defeat for lack of foresight and vision, lack of faithfulness and loyalty to preserve the character of a city. The encroachment of commercialism, the placing of material value above and beyond the natural affection for an ideal, the aggressive personal considerations have been dangerously rampant in the world today. Let us heed the warning. Let us watch the signs of the times. Let us keep the standard and character of our city. Let us hold to the beautiful and good. Let us preserve that which is characteristic of our city and let that characteristic predominate. Let us challenge in our own hearts a firmer desire for more active expression to preserve and guard our city as it has already been established, so that which is unlovely and unworthy be abolished and stopped from our doors. Then, we shall have earned indeed, as our city fathers had, the title—"A City of Homes," safeguarded by wisdom and intelligence.

Your paper has been to the citizens of Newton a clarion call for alertness and awareness. Obviously, I oppose any type of apartments anywhere, anytime in our city.

I am humbly grateful to this paper for awakening me to my civic opportunities and obligations.

Deaths and Funerals

PHILIP WALKER CARTER

Philip Walker Carter, 64, Harvard '10, a director of the Carter Ink Company, and active for many years in philanthropic and civic matters, died last Thursday at the Deaconess Hospital, after a long illness. His home was at 11 Forest avenue, West Newton.

PHILIP W. CARTER

Born in West Newton June 24, 1887, he was a son of John W. and Helen (Burrage) Carter. His father founded the Carter Ink Company in 1858.

Philip Carter was educated at Milton Academy and Harvard where he was a member of Theta Delta Chi. He served in World War I as an Army lieutenant and was a member of Newton Post 48, American Legion.

He devoted much of his life to welfare and civic work and was a founder and active in the Alumni Social Service Bureau, a director of the Newton Welfare Bureau for 25 years, and also president of a district of the Boston Welfare Society. He organized Sea Scouts in Newton and served on the Norumbega Council.

Reflecting his interest in youth was his work in establishing and furthering the magazine Open Road for Boys.

Mr. Carter also devoted much time to the national organizational and social work of the Swedenborgian Church. He was a member of the Church of the Open Word in Newton.

On the civic side, he was active in politics, writing a column, "Politics With Color," signed PWC., in the Newton Graphic. He belonged to the Newton Republican Club, the State Club and the Harvard Club.

He leaves his wife, Dorothy C.; a son, Philip Sidney of Sharon; three daughters, Mrs. John Kenneth Colony of Winchester, Mrs. George A. Stryker of Summit, N. J., and Phyllis Carter of West Newton; two sisters, Mrs. John P. Beach of La Crescenta, Calif., and Mrs. George P. Metcalf of Duxbury, and five grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Church of the Open Word, Newtonville. Rev. Dr. Edward B. Hinckley, president of Babson Institute, officiated.

ELLEN N. SHAUGHNESSY

The funeral of Mrs. Ellen N. Shaughnessy, of 25 Capitol street, Watertown, a former Newton resident, was held from the W. H. Thomas Memorial Funeral Home, Watertown, with a requiem mass at St. Patrick's Church.

Rev. Joseph E. Leahy was celebrant of the mass and Miss Emma Roche was organist. Soloists were Mrs. Helen Murray, soprano, and Miss Mary McCafferty, contralto.

Bearers were James Harrison, Patrick Sheehan, Bernard Raymond, Thomas Sheridan and Francis and Patrick Burke.

Interment was in St. Patrick's Cemetery, Watertown, with prayers by Fr. Leahy.

o

A. BURTON NELSON

A. Burton Nelson, 54, of 88 Brackett road, Newton, collapsed last week at the Newton railroad station and was pronounced dead on arrival at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

He was a Boston attorney and commander-elect of Boston Commandery, Knights Templar.

Born in Derby Line, Vt., Mr. Nelson was graduated from the Taft School, Yale University in 1917, and Harvard Law School in 1922. He was lecturer of the Grand Chapter, Royal Arch Masons; past illustrious master of Boston Council; past high priest of St. Paul's Royal Arch Chapter, and past master of Brookline Lodge, A.F. and A.M.

He is survived by his wife, the former Dorothy Aldrich.

Funeral services were held last Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Harvard Congregational Church, Marion and Harvard streets, Brookline.

FRANK L. NAGLE

Funeral services for Frank L. Nagle, a resident of Newtonville for 50 years, and retired magazine publisher, were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Central Congregational Church, Newton, of which he was the oldest member. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

Mr. Nagle died Sunday at his home in the Hotel Vendome, Boston, at the age of 80. For a number of years he resided at 83 Kirkstall road, Newtonville, with his late wife, the former Mrs. Bessie B. Van Tassell, a Newtonville neighbor, whom he married when he was 77, and she, 70. Mrs. Nagle died three years ago.

Born in Pottsville, Pa., he was the son of Gen. James Nagle and Mrs. Nagle, and was educated in the Pottsville schools and served in the Pennsylvania National Guard. Since 1946, he had made his home in Boston, moving there on his retirement from the chairmanship of the board of Bragdon, Lord and Nagle Co., publishers of the Textile World. During his 50 years as a publisher, he also had served as chairman of the textile division of the McGraw-Hill Co.

He is survived by two sons, Maj. Norman C. Nagle of Cotuit and Arthur R. Nagle of Providence, R. I.

PFC. WARREN W. ROGERS

A pro-burial mass for Pfc. Warren Winfield Rogers, 24, USMC, son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Rogers of 182 East Side parkway, Newton, was celebrated today at 9 a.m., in the Church of Our Lady, Newton.

Pfc. Rogers, an Army veteran of World War II who re-enlisted in the Marine Corps was killed in action in the Korean area June 19, according to a government telegram received by his parents last week.

NELLIE E. SAWYER

Funeral services for Mrs. Nellie E. (Baker) Sawyer, widow of Henry L. Sawyer, formerly of Fitchburg, will be held at the Waterman Funeral Chapel, 495 Commonwealth avenue, Kenmore square, Boston, today (Thursday) at 1:30 p.m.

Blonde Three Year Old Judy Beane Is Acclaimed "Miss Newton Centre 1951"

Blonde and petite three year-old Judy Beane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Beane of 161 Clark street, Newton Centre, walked off with the honors at the Fourth of July celebration staged by the Newton Centre Improvement Association and was named "Miss Newton Centre 1951" by public acclaim over the much older entrants among the fairer sex in the contest. About 35 other entrants fell by the wayside when little Judy started flashing her blue eyes and strutted unconcernedly among the older beauties who vied with her for the honors.

"MISS NEWTON CENTRE 1951"

As a result, Judy won the title, "Miss Newton Centre" for the first time the contest has been held in the 61 year history of the celebration staged at the Centre. Dressed in a blue, full-skirted dress with a white ribbon tucked in among her golden locks and wearing shiny black Mary Janes with white socks, July proved irresistibly alluring to the crowd who chose her in preference to all others. But despite the honor heaped upon her, Judy merely said, "I just stood up and everybody clapped for me."

Fair weather and sunshine greeted the gathering at the day long exercise which were climaxed in the evening with a display of fireworks which it was estimated, about 35,000 persons gathered to watch. Parker F. Pond was master of ceremonies.

The entire program was sponsored by the Newton Centre Improvement Association, under the direction of Charles E. Dearing II, as general chairman. He was ably assisted by Scott H. Wells, John A. Reed, William P. Ripley and Harold D. Leach, officers, the directors and other Centre citizens.

THE RESULTS

Suggests Members Attend Zone Hearing Monday

President William M. Powers of the Newton Improvement Association is having notices sent to all members of the Association calling attention to the public hearing to be held in the City Hall Monday evening on the proposed modifications of the so-called "Adam's Report" as it affects the construction of garden type apartment houses in Newton.

The public meeting sponsored by the Newton Improvement Association three weeks ago was attended by over five hundred people. In view of the great interest, the Improvement Association is suggesting that all of their members who can, attend the hearing at the City Hall and express their views.

The hearing is being held by the Newton Planning Board and Claims and Rules Committee of the Board of Aldermen.

The Association, as an organization, has taken no stand on the "Adams' Report" but feels that all of its individual members should become thoroughly acquainted with the proposed ordinance and express their personal views. The Association has done much within the last year toward encouraging certain improvements in the Newton Corner area and the Executive Committee is planning an intensive program of education and public meetings for the coming winter.

Jane Morgan Sings Today In Boston

Jane Morgan, star of radio and television will appear today (Thursday) at the 2000th Birthday of Paris observance which will take place in Copley Square, Boston, at noon. An elaborate observance has been planned and Miss Morgan will sing the Marseilles.

Although she is known to millions as Jane Morgan, she is Florence Currier, former Newton girl.

After appearing in the Boston celebration, Miss Morgan will appear on Ed Sullivan's TV show Sunday night, July 22, and will then leave for Chicago for a month's engagement at the Palmer House.

Newton Priest, Wounded In Korea, Praises Fighting Forces At Home

Parishioners of the Boston Archdiocese were lauded for doing a "wonderful fighting job back home through their incessant prayers," in a letter received recently by Archbishop Cushing from Rev. John M. Quirk, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Terrance Quirk of Maple avenue, Newton, who is convalescing at the Naval Hospital in Yokosuko, Japan. Father Quirk, who graduated from Our Lady's High School, Newton, and Boston College, was a Navy Chaplain in World War II and re-entered the service when Archbishop Cushing called for volunteer chaplains.

He suffered severe injuries in Korea while accompanying a stretcher corps during an emergency mission. The mission was interrupted when the truck in which the group were riding struck a nest of land mines.

The chaplain relates in his letter the heroic efforts of his comrades to bring him to safety and the extraordinary landing of a helicopter into the battle area. He describes the daring flight which carried him to "excellent care."

Fr. Quirk casually reports that even as a convalescent he is helping out the hospital chaplain by hearing confessions—a heartening sign to his relatives and friends that he will soon realize his expressed desire to be able "to offer up Holy Mass again, a very grateful priest."

The chaplain's letter to Most Rev. Richard J. Cushing, D.D., Archbishop of Boston, as printed in The Pilot, is as follows:

"Through the mercy of God and the motherly intercession of Our Lady, I am happy to inform you I am convalescing from my injuries at the Naval Hospital in Yokosuko, Japan.

"I owe my existence to the Divine Providence Who answered the pleading prayers of all the beloved dear ones and kind parishioners and friends who have been doing a wonderful fighting job back home, through their incessant prayers, through your encouraging leadership and campaign of prayers.

"On Sunday evening, June 3, about 8 o'clock I was injured when the truck I was riding on ran over two mines. I was hurled from the running-board on which I was standing, and

Prepare For Early Fall Fund Appeal

—o—

"Thank God for The Salvation Army!" was the way Miss Emily Hickey, district court probation officer, opened her report on field opreations of The Salvation Army Newton Service Fund at a recent meeting of the Fund Committee.

The meeting was held in Newton-Waltham Bank & Trust Co. building, as a result of which preparations are now underway for The Salvation Army Friendly Annual Appeal here, scheduled for early fall.

Miss Hickey's exclamation by an experience she had a few days before, when attempting to obtain emergency care for a girl scarcely in her teens, who needed immediate attention. With typical Salvation Army waiving of red tape, its Evangeline Booth Home, and the Booth Memorial Hospital took the girl without an instant's hesitation.

Twenty percent of the gross proceeds of the Newton Appeal, or one dollar out of every five dollars contributed will be retained in The Salvation Army Newton Service Fund.

3 From Newton Recipients of Scholarships

—o—

President Carl S. Ell of Northeastern University announced recently that scholarships have been awarded to three Newton men, Ronald MacDonald, 11 Winthrop avenue; Edward P. Cass, 18 Shorncliffe road, and Dennis J. O'Brien, 199 Bellevue street.

MacDonald, recipient of a $250 trustee award, will major in mechanical engineering. He was a high ranking student in Our Lady's High School, Newton.

Cass, who graduated from Newton High School, will major in chemistry in the College of Engineering. He received a $200 Hayden Memorial Award.

O'Brien ranked high among the graduates at Our Lady's High School. He will major in chemical engineering in the College of Engineering.

JOHN P. HANRAHAN

To Teach In Belgium On Exchange

—o—

John P. Hanrahan, language teacher at the Bigelow Junior High school, has been selected from a large number of candidates as an exchange teacher between Belgium and the United States under the Fullbright Exchange Act.

This is the first time that Belgium has been included under the act and three teachers will be exchanged. Mr. Hanrahan and his wife, the former Dorothy McQuilland, and their two little daughters, Barbara and Marjorie, are expected to sail in September for the year's post.

Prior to coming to Newton, Mr. Hanharan was for two years a language teacher in Belmont High School and in 1941 resigned to accept a position at the Bigelow Junior High school here, where he teaches French and Latin as well as being a consultant in foreign languages in the school system.

During World War II he served in the Intelligence section of the 8th Armored Division for nearly three years, of which half the time he spent overseas. His outfit was attached to the 9th Army, and was in the heaviest fighting in Northern France and Germany.

He attended Boston Latin School and was graduated from Boston College, Class of 1933. Recipient of Master of Education degrees from Boston College and Boston Teachers College, he studied one summer at the Sorbonne, France. He now makes his home in Lexington.

Gath Asks Public Hearing Be Held To Consider Albemarle Bathing Pool

Mindful of the swimming and bathing needs of the youngsters and adults of Newton with the closing of three Newton beaches on the Charles River due to pollution, Harry Gath, Jr., a champion sponsor of sports both for youngsters and oldsters alike with his Gath's Guards football, baseball, softball, basketball, bowling and golf teams has asked for a public hearing before the Newton Board of Aldermen previous to their session Aug. 13 to favor the building of a swimming and bathing pool and bath house at Albemarle playground.

In his request for the public hearing to City Clerk Frank Grant, Gath wrote: "In 1948 I submitted to Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood petitions signed by 1800 Newton citizens favoring the building of a swimming and wading pool at the new Albemarle playground. As reported to me these petitions were referred to the Board of Aldermen and they in turn referred them to the Recreation Commission then existent. To date I have never received an official reply re: action upon these petitions. On behalf of those petitioners and others I now ask for a public hearing before the Board of Aldermen or the proper committee to give consideration to the subject for a swimming and wading pool at Albemarle playground to be held previous to or during the meeting of the Board of Aldermen, Aug. 13. I assume I will receive official notice of the acceptance for such a hearing from you."

In his battle for the building of the Albemarle playground swimming and wading pool, Gath has won the support of John C. Beale, Alderman at Large from Ward 7. In a communication to Mr. Gath he wrote, "Your interest in the development of the sports program for the development and benefit of youth and adults alike in the city of Newton is well known over a score of years. For that alone you deserve much credit.

Awarded First Aid Certificates

One hundred thirty-eight members of the Newton Auxiliary Police of the Civil Defense organization, were awarded Red Cross First Aid certificates by Maxwell P. Gaddis. In impressive services held Tuesday night at the War Memorial Building, guests, wives and other relatives witnessed the presentations. Also at the same time, seven new members of the Police Department were given their certificates.

Among those who attended the ceremonies were Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood; Arthur J. Swett, acting director, Newton Civil Defense; assistant deputy directors, Robert A. Whidden, Joseph P. Davis and Parker Pond; Police Chief Philip Purcell, Capt. Charles E. Walker, Sgt. William H. Dowling, Officer Gilbert J. Champagne, First Aid Instructor, and School Safety Officer Charles E. Feeley.

Modification of "Adams Report" To Be Considered At Hearing Monday Night

Monday night at eight o'clock, the Claims and Rules Committee of the Board of Aldermen will conduct a public hearing at City Hall for the purpose of considering a modification of the recommendations contained in the "Adams Report" relating to zoning which would permit erection of "Garden Type" apartments in Newton.

In scheduling the hearing, Chairman Ernest G. Angevine of the Claims and Rules Committee stated it was due to the "widespread protests against two provisions in a proposed overhauling of the Newton zoning ordinances."

Two prior hearings, one held at the City Hall and the other at the Underwood School, brought forth practically unanimous opposition to the proposal that certain areas be zoned so that apartment type buildings could be erected here. The major opposition was levied against the proposals which would allow garden type apartments in the existing two-family house zone.

It is understood that the modification phase of the report which will be taken up Monday night are the retention of the existing private residence zone (two family houses) and the restoration of the section on Walnut street, near Cabot street, to its present Residence B zone. One effect of these changes will be to prevent the construction of apartment houses in all-existing private residence zones except in those few areas which the Adams Report proposed to reclassify to Residence E or business zones.

In the new Residence D zone, two-family houses may be erected and garden type, but not other, apartment houses can be built only by permission of the Board of Aldermen. This zone D includes most of the existing General Residence zone, in which six-story apartment houses can be erected under the present zoning ordinance.

The areas in which six-story apartment houses can be erected, namely, the new Residence E zone, are very much smaller than under the present ordinance in which this type of apartment can be erected. These proposed areas are located on the westerly side of Walnut street, from existing Business zone to Page road; on the northerly side of Washington street, from Lowell avenue to Parsons street; and on the Worcester turnpike in the area bounded by Florence street and the Brookline line near the present Chestnut Hill Shopping Center.

Under the proposed ordinance, garden type apartments will be allowed only by permission of the Planning Board and the Board of Aldermen and in areas in which six-story apartments can now be built.

Despite the proposed modification in the original proposal which would permit erection of the so-called "Garden Type" apartments here, it is anticipated that the hearing Monday night will draw a large gathering of citizens and if the two previous hearings are any criterion, opposition to any change in the zoning laws of the city will be vigorously registered. All citizens are urged to attend the hearing Monday night and express their views in the matter.

Serving With Army Reserve Unit at Port of New York

Three local men serving with the Army Reserve Unit, Boston Port of Embarkation (9240th ORTSU), during its summer training tour at New York Port of Embarkation are Lieutenant Colonel Charles T. Doherty, 26 Sterling street, West Newton; Major Guernsey Camp, Jr., 215 Grove street, Auburndale, and Major Richard C. King, 137 Boston Post road, Weston.

These men are participating in on-the-job training with counterpart agencies at the New York Port. The program is designed to aid the officers of the Boston Port Reserves in applying the knowledge and skills they have learned during this year's weekly two-hour meetings to the problems of the nation's largest and most active Transportation Corps Port of Embarkation.

Colone Doherty is serving as chief of Intelligence and Security Division. He had a distinquished military record during 61 months of service in World War II, 18 months of which were spent in the European Theater of Operations. A graduate of Harvard University and Boston College Law School, Colonel Doherty is now general manager of the Armstrong Transfer Express Co. of Boston.

Major Camp is chief of management at the New York Port.

To Request Appropriation Monday of $21,000 For Playground Buildings

Public Buildings Commissioner Arthur Campbell has recently received a ruling from the National Production Authority, on the two toilet and storage buildings, which was held up last November by Order M-4, due to the fact that each of them exceeded the $5,000.00 maximum for recreational buildings applicable at that time. A more recent ruling by the NPA has stated that toilet facilities applicable to parks are not prohibited by Order M-4 as amended. This ruling stated further that, as the storage section of these buildings did not exceed the $5,000.00 maximum allowed by Order M-4, no authorization is required to commence construction.

As the result of this ruling a new request for an appropriation of $21,000.00 has been submitted to the Board of Aldermen for action Monday. Of this amount, $18,785.00 is for the construction of the two buildings, and the remaining $2,215.00 is for sewer and water connections, and for grading and contingencies in connection with the construction of these two buildings.

CITES NEED

Recreation Commissioner C. Evan Johnson gives the following reasons for the need of these buildings:

1. Both Playgrounds, Allison Park and Cold Spring, are somewhat removed from the general area of home in the vicinity.

2. Both playgrounds are used extensively.

3. Toilet facilities are essential from the standpoint of cleanliness of the area and personal health of the user group.

4. Interested citizens in these areas have requested development for several years.

5. Neither playground has any toilet facility at present.

6. Buildings contain minimum and essential facilities only. They are of lasting construction.

7. Typical uses of the playgrounds are as follows: Football practice, football games, baseball games, softball games, afterschool recreation, picnics and cookouts, field days (Boy Scouts), and summer playground.

8. Attendance records of 1950 were 39,000 at Cold Spring and 52,000 at Allison Park.

Report Only 21 Ringworm Cases Here

—o—

"Only 21 cases of ringworm of the scalp have been diagnosed in Newton during the past school year," Dr. Ernest M. Morris, Director of Public Health declared this week in answer to local inquiries concerning the prevalence of this condition in the city. In addition, all of these cases are under medical care and seven have been discharged as cured following treatment.

The early symptoms of ringworm appear as small reddish or scaly patches occurring on the scalp. As the leision spreads the hairs break off or drop out leaving apparent bald patches on the head.

Recently, dermatologists have felt that "Movies" may have aided in the spread of ringworm in some cases, especially in children where it occurs on the nape of the neck. It is apparently transmitted when children with ringworm rub their heads against the chair backs, breaking off the infected brittle hair in the ringworm, which is later picked up

Approve City For Airport Location

Newton is one of the communities which has been listed as an approved site for municipal airports, for which the federal government would pay up to half the construction cost, according to the annual report of the Civil Aeronautics Administration, released last week.

The report, which is intended as a three-year forecast, has not been given any official study as yet by Newton officials nor is there any apparent demand for such a project here.

The report stated that the CAA makes an annual survey to determine locations where airports would be "necessary" or for the "public convenience." A community listed on the National Airport Plan would be approved by the CAA for federal aid, up to 50 percent of the cost of a publicly-owned airport. However, the aid would have to be requested by the community and the project would have to be among the most urgent for the current year to come within the Congressional appropriation for the fiscal year.

The CAA plans calls for a small airport in Newton to be developed within the next few years as an auxiliary to Logan International Airport. No scheduled airlines would use the local airport, which might have a smaller charter service.

Miss Geraldine F. Smith Weds Henry E. Stanton, Jr.

Miss Geraldine F. Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith of Brighton, was married to Henry E. Stanton Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Stanton of 52 Cottage street, Newton Upper Falls, at Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church in Newton Upper Falls Monday afternoon, July 2.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father in a double ring ceremony performed by Rev. Alfonso G. Pallidino, wore a gown of white marquisette over white satin, with a lace bodice and sweetheart neckline and a white fingertip veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses and sweet peas.

Serving as matron of honor was the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Marie McCallion. She wore a gown of aqua net with a garland of yellow roses in her hair and carried a bouquet of matching flowers. The bride's sister, Miss Priscilla Smith, was the only bridesmaid and wore yellow net with yellow roses.

Neil McCallion was best man and the ushers were Fred Smith Jr., the bride's brother, and James Sharpe Jr., of the U. S. Navy.

A reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents, which was decorated with pink carnations and candles with a large white bell centered in pink roses.

The bride's mother wore a white dress with a corsage of red roses, while the bridegroom's mother chose a pale aqua dress with a corsage of yellow tea-roses.

The bride attended South Junior High School, Waltham, while the bridegroom was graduated from Newton High School and attended Newton Trade School. He served two years in the U. S. Navy Air Corps.

After a wedding trip to New Hampshire, the couple will reside at 52 Cottage street, Newton Upper Falls.

Town Talk

By Lee Tyler

If anybody wonders just how many Newtons make up Newton, my count says 11—12, maybe, if it's true that Oak Hill Village was granted special township some time ago. Anyway, the point of this column is to get around town, or rather towns, so here goes.

The new tennis stadium is coming along nicely at Longwood Cricket Club. Only last fall work was begun on replanting the precious grass of the two championship courts, used only for the United States Doubles Championships, away from the site wanted by the state for widening the turnpike. Longwood's social life has begun too. A lobster party, for senior members only, will be held by its pool next weekend. David S. Niles of West Newton heads the committee. Longwood's president is Nelson Hooe of Chestnut Hill, with Lytton H. Dowson of Waban and William F. Morton of Winchester, vice presidents; Samuel C. Brown of Wellesley Hills, treasurer; and Donald T. Field of Chestnut Hill, secretary.

Plenty of Newtonites spend the summer in their own backyards or at their neighborhood clubs. But among those off for summer vacations are Mrs. C. P. Waldinger of Newton Centre who spent early July at the Wianno Club on Nantucket Sound, Cape Cod. Mrs. Stanley Stedfast of Waban is settled in Wolfeboro, N. H., and the Robert M. P. Kennards of Newton Centre are again at "Blueberry Hill House" in Chesham, N. H. The George Brewers of Newton Highlands are off this weekend for their island in Maine, and the Henry MacLures of Newtonville have returned to Hyannisport. The Hugh Munros of Waban have taken to the high seas for the summer—a North Cape cruise with their friends, the H. Clyde Moores of Beacon street, Boston.

It's to be a July 21 wedding for Janet Louise Beecher of Auburndale and Kenneth Holmes Lapham Jr., of West Newton. Janet, daughter of the Clifford H. Beechers, went to Newton High School, and Kenneth, who's now in the Air Force, was graduated from Newton Junior College.

An engagement of interest is that which the Lloyd S. Clarks of Newton Centre are announcing. Their daughter, Elisabeth, is the fiancee of Frederick William Wegner Jr., son of the Frederick W. Wegners of South Bend, Ind. Elisabeth's a graduate of the Brimmer and May School, and a sophomore at Wheelock. Fred was recently graduated from Harvard.

A hard-working student nurse at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, Anne Marie Everett, daughter of the Albert E. Everetts of Auburndale, is another making romantic news this summer. She's engaged to Richard Sawyer, son of the James Sawyers, also of Auburndale. Both are graduates of Newton High. He served three years in the Air Force, and is now studying at Northeastern University.

Harriet Ruth Benson's fiance is a naval doctor, so she has no definite plans for her marriage to Dr. Bruce M. Sutton, son of Mrs. William Supowitz of Chelsea. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Howard Benson of Waban, she studied at Thayer Academy and Mt. Ida Junior College, while Bruce was graduated from Tufts College and its Medical School. At present, he's on the staff of Chelsea Naval Hospital.

Sisters Attend Elizabeth Rooney At Bridal July 1

Miss Elizabeth Agnes Rooney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Rooney of 46 North street, Newton Centre, was married to John Joseph DeAngelis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Achille DeAngelis of 29 Garland road, Newton Centre, at Sacred Heart Church, Sunday afternoon, July 1. The bride's cousin, Rev. Joseph Busam of Holy Cross College officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her father in a double ring ceremony which was followed by a reception at Nutting's-on-the-Charles, Waltham. She wore a white princess-styled gown with a lace bodice and skirt trimmed with satin edging and her fingertip veil of French illusion was held in place by a crown of pearls. She carried a cascade of white carnations and stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

As her sister's maid of honor, Miss Mary Rooney wore a gown of frosted white organza over blue taffeta and carried a cascade of white carnations with a blue maline background. The bridesmaids, Miss Sarah Rooney, Mrs. Joseph Chlebda, and Mrs. Zigmund Conniff, all sisters of the bride, and Miss Barbara McGrath, were gowned in orchid, yellow, green and peach dresses, fashioned like the maid of honor's, with picture hats of white horsehair trimmed with maline to match the color of their gowns. The bride's niece, Miss Judith Conniff, was flower girl.

Alfred DeAngelis, the bridegroom's brother, was best man and John Rooney, a nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Serving as ushers were Donald DeAngelis, brother of the bridegroom; Hugh Rooney, a brother of the bride; Mario Pignatelli, and Pasquale Parillo.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Rooney chose a violet crepe dress with matching accessories; while Mrs. DeAngelis wore a navy blue crepe trimmed with lace, also with matching accessories.

The bride attended Sacred Heart High School while the bridegroom attended Newton High School and Wentworth Institute.

Following a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Canada, the couple will reside at 74 Hall street, Waltham.

Gloria Duprez, Berton A. Gray Exchange Vows

Miss Gloria Duprez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Duprez of 87 Adams street, Newton, became the bride of Berton A. Gray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael P. Flanagan of Jamaica Plain, at a double ring ceremony in Our Lady Help of Christians Church, Newton, Sunday afternoon, July 1st.

The bride wore a pearl-trimmed gown of white satin and lace with a fingertip veil of nylon and carried a white prayer book and an orchid.

The ceremony in which the bride was given in marriage by her father, was performed by Rev. Charles P. Piscia of Our Lady's Church and was followed by a reception at the Hunnewell Club in Newton.

As maid of honor, Miss Rita Marchioni, the bride's cousin, wore a gown of aqua frosted organdy with a flowered headpiece and carried red roses, while the bridesmaids, Miss Grace Drew and Miss Barbara Anastasia, a cousin of the bride, wore pink and orchid frosted organdy gowns with flowered headpieces and matching bouquets.

The bride's brother, George Duprez Jr., was best man; and ushers were Daniel Verker, a cousin of the bridegroom, and Thomas O'Rielly. Wayne Duprez, a cousin of the bride, served as ring bearer.

Wedding music was played by church was decorated with white Miss Florence Herlihy, and the gladioli and roses.

The bride's mother wore a dress of dusty rose crepe with lace and a rose corsage; while the mother of the bridegroom wore aqua crepe and a rose corsage.

After a motor trip to the White Mountains and Canada, the couple will reside at 447 Newtonville avenue, Newtonville.

The bride is a graduate of Newton High School while the bridegroom, who is employed with the Custodian Corps of Engineers in Boston, is a graduate of Waltham High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Cheetham announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Priscilla H. Cheetham, to Paul R. Donovan, Jr., son of Dr. Paul R. Donovan and Mrs, Donovan of West Medford. Mr. Donovan was a member of the class of 1951 Boston College.

Jean Woodworth Bride of Arthur B. Callahan

One of the loveliest June weddings recently took place in Newton at the Immanuel Baptist Church when Miss Jean Elizabeth Woodworth became the bride of Arthur Bernard Callahan in a double ring ceremony with the Rev. Douglas B. McCorkle officiating. The ceremony was followed by a reception in the church parlors.

The bride, given in marriage by her father was traditionally gowned in ivory satin trimmed with imported valenciennes lace, a seed pearl tiara held a full length illusion veil and she carried a cascade of white roses and delphinium with a centre orchid.

The maid of honor, Miss Evelyn Konian of Newton wore a gown of yellow tulle and satin with matching picture hat and carried a colonial bouquet of sweet peas and stephanotis.

The bridesmaids, Miss Ella Gonfrade of Newton and Miss Virginia Philbrick, of Boston, wore similar gowns of orchid with matching picture hats and carried old fashioned bouquets.

Janet Woodworth, sister of the bride and Judith Hammond as junior bridesmaids wore orchid taffeta dresses and hats of tulle and carried old fashioned bouquets. Four year old Judith McCorkle in orchid taffeta was flower girl.

Edward Callahan, brother of the bridegroom was best man, the ushers were Harold Woodworth, brother of the bride, Arthur Nauss of Boston, John Gilmartin of Grassmere, New Hampshire and George Maranjian of Boston.

The junior ushers were Paul Callahan, brother of the groom and Alton Davis Jr., cousin of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a blue crepe gown with pale pink accessories and a corsage of matching orchids.

The groom's mother wore an aqua gown with white accessories and a corsage of white orchids.

After a honeymon on Cape Cod Mr. and Mrs. Callahan will reside in Newton, while Mr. Callahan continues his studies at Northeastern University. His bride is an alumna of New England Baptist School of Nursing and is on the staff at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital.

Proper Packing Is Secret of Successful Hot or Cold Picnic

A really up to date picnic menu is as attractive, well balanced and nourishing as a meal served at home. Chilled fresh fruit and crisp green vegetables, as well as hot foods, may appear on the picnic table along with the traditional sandwiches, potato salad and pickles — even though the food isn't served for hours after it is prepared.

The secret is proper packing. Vegetables such as celery, carrot and green pepper sticks and even romaine or lettuce can be crisp and fresh at the picnic if you use plastic bags. Or you can pack freshly cleaned vegetables in a coffee can or other container with a tight cover -- protecting the vegetables from the air is what saves flavor and vitamins. Wrapping the cans in newspaper will keep them cool.

Deviled eggs, sliced meat, chicken salad -- in fact any protein food, in sandwiches or packed separately should be kept COLD. Pack in ice or put directly from the refrigerator into insulated containers. There are insulated bags and containers of various sizes and shapes in the stores, that will help you solve the refrigeration problem. However, picnic foods can be kept cold successfully without special equipment. A kettle or other cooking utensil with a lid makes an effective picnic "ice chest." Select one large enough to accomodate all the foods which must be kept chilled. Cover the bottom thickly with crushed ice. Then place the food, in plastic bags, jars or other containers in the kettle. Pack with more crushed ice. Wrap towels or paper in thick layers around the kettle to act as insulation.

Many foods meant to be served hot at a picnic are dishes containing meat, poultry, fish, cheese, eggs or a combination of these foods. If they are prepared at home, the only safe way to pack such hot foods is in a thermos jug. Heat the jug first by filling with piping hot water. Empty out the water and immediately pack in the food. Plan to eat the food not more than 2 or 3 hours later.

To Reside In Turkey After Mediterranean Cruise

In the afternoon of June 29, Mr. James H. Loughman of 18 Fredana road, Waban, gave his daughter, Martha Wiley Loughman, in marriage to Barclay Moffat Shepard, son of Dr. and Mrs. Lorrin Shepard, of Istanbul, Turkey. Rev. Joseph Cony MacDonald officiated at the double ring ceremony, which was held at the Union Church, Waban.

The bride wore a gown of white satin, trimmed with old rosepoint lace from her mother's wedding dress. Her tulle veil was caught to a pearl-trimmed tulle headpiece. She carried a bouquet of white roses, white marguerites, stephanotis, and ivy.

Three of the bride's attendants were her sisters, the matron of honor, Mrs. John A. Robbins, and bridesmaids, Mrs. John C. Cowden Jr., and Mrs. Stanley P. Hall. Mrs. Otis Cary and Miss Constance Shepard, sisters of the bridegroom, were also bridesmaids. They wore white embossed organdy gowns, frosted with green, off-the-shoulder, with full skirts. Yellow tea roses, with yellow and white marguerites formed their bouquets.

The best man was Frederick B. Shepard of Phoenix, Ore; Robert E. Loughman, the bride's brother; Robert Shepard, the bridegroom's brother; Otis Cary and John A. Robbins were ushers.

Mrs. Loughman chose a gold dress of beaded crepe for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Shepard wore a rose crepe dress. They each had an orchid corsage.

The church vestry was decorated with white gladioli, stock and carnations for the reception. Earl Weidner furnished the wedding music.

The couple will reside at Robert College in Istanbul, Turkey, after a Mediterranean cruise.

The bride was graduated from Colby College, while the bridegroom graduated from Bowdoin College.

Current Comment

Some G.O.P. observers have expressed surprise at the comeraderie that exists between Democratic and Republican members of the State Senate and an apparent unwritten agreement not to embarass each other.

What precipitated an outburst of criticism was that Senate Minority Leader John E. Powers and a half-dozen of his Democratic colleagues wanted to go up to New Hampshire on a fishing trip over the Fourth. So that they might make their train on schedule and enjoy their excursion, the Republican Senators entered into a compromise agreement on the State budget the night before the Fourth.

When the budget finally was adopted, without a rollcall, Powers and several Democrats were speeding north on their fishing rendezvous, but the Republicans kept their part of the bargain and allowed the compromise budget to be adopted. Since the Senate is the sole branch of the State government which the G.O.P. controls, some of the top party leaders are not at all impressed at the cooperation which their Solons extend to the Democrats.

As the State Legislature moves toward the middle of July, it has a number of troublesome problems still confronting it. Probably the most perplexing will be the determination of what new taxes will be enacted.

Then the legislators must decide whether they'll do anything about the leaky unemployment compensation law. Governor Dever's plan for strengthening the jobless fund by collecting an additional $100,000,000 in taxes from Massachusetts industries and businessmen would probably be a case of protecting the unemployed at the expense of driving industries out of the State and killing off thousands of job opportunities. Even the most loyal Democratic law-makers can't work up much enthusiasm for Mr. Dever's scheme.

Also awaiting the consideration of the Legislature is the matter of what to do about liberalizing the old age assistance law, a question that has been pending since the beginning of the year. One criticism which never will be directed at this Legislature is that it did anything in an unseemly rush.

-Newton Profile-

By HELEN A. COHEN

A man who has patterned his life along the lines of this bit of simple philosophy, "do someone some good each day," must have accumulated a tremendous stockpile of good deeds and good will. Such a man is "Les" Moriarty, 86 years young.

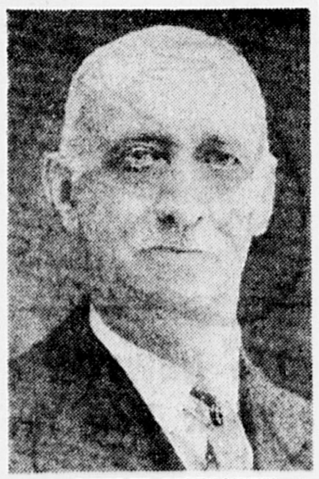
A. Leslie Moriarty, of 316 River street, Wset Newton, was born in Watertown, Mass., in 1865; when he was very young he and his family moved to Newton. He has lived here continuously for the past 75 years.

Leaving school at an early age so he could earn some money to help with the family finances did not deter Les from getting an education. Realizing the importance of learning, Les spent all the spare time he had poring over books on all subjects. It is obvious that he did an excellent job of teaching himself —it shows clearly in his record.

In 1911 Les Moriarty went to work as a laborer for the Forestry Division of Newton. After a while he was promoted to the position of storekeeper and in that capacity worked for the Forestry Division until 1939, when he was pensioned from the department.

Blessed with the kind of temperament that made him feel that working all day was not enough to keep him fully occupied Les looked around him to find something that would fill the bill. So, in 1911 he joined the Newton local of the Federation of State, County, City and Town Employees. Somehow, that marked a turning point in his life, for from that time on, Les Moriarty devoted his life to serving his fellow man. In 1914, and by popular vote, Les was elected president of the Newton local of the Federation—that office he was elected to year after year for 24 consecutive years!

When Les Moriarty took over the presidency of the local, that was when his stockpile of good deeds and good will really began to take shape. It was under his leadership that conditions for the laborers, mechanics and other workers for the street, water and forestry departments improved. Resulting from continual pressure from Les Moriarty over a long period of time these workers were given Saturday half-day holiday all year long. Les fought for and won pay for holidays and appreciable increases in wages. He was instrumental in procuring workmen's compensation for Newton city employees injured while on duty and for the dependents of employees who died of injuries. Through his untiring efforts in 1938 the people of Newton voted in favor of a bill that would give laborers, drivers, mechanics, and craftsmen employed by the city two weeks vacation with pay.



A. LESLIE MORIARTY

For six years Les Moriarty served as national president of the Federation of State, City and Town Employees, and as a natural sequence of events, the same improvement of working conditions that had taken effect in Newton were instituted throughout New England.

As a State Legislative Agent for the Federation for 18 years (by election) Les Moriarty was able to appear before legislative committees at the State House and fight for the good of his people on bills up for consideration before the legislative body. In 1942 he was elected as business agent for the Federation for an indefinite term; he holds that office until this day.

Les Moriarty is a "joiner"—he is affiliated with many organizations. He is a member of the Newton Lodge 1327, B.P.O. Elks (since 1923) and is chairman of their publicity committee; past Governor of the Loyal Order of Moose; past president and charter member of the Garden City Mutual Aid Association; past president, Division 35, Ancient Order of Hibernians of Newton; member of the Knights of Columbus; past president of War Parents of Newton; agent for the Newton Restaurant Association; member of Newton License Commission (for 12 years and appointed by Mayor Weeks).

Newton Lodge No. 1327, B.P.O. Elks proclaimed Thursday evening, June 28, as "Leslie Moriarty Night." This was a testimonial dinner given by the Lodge in honor of a brother Elk who for more than 25 years had done an outstanding job in working tirelessly and unselfishly for the good of the Lodge. A member of the committee for this testimonial dinner went on record to say that "there is no citizen in Newton who has done more for the city workers in this community than Les."

Although Les Moriarty has not been feeling completely well these past few months, he nonetheless manages to keep his finger on the pulse of his own little world — via telephone he still conducts the necessary business as agent for the Federation. His manner and attitude is surprisingly vigorous and energetic for a man in the twilight of his life and with a twinkle in his roguish blue eyes he assured me there is so much more for him to do, that he has no intention of letting up.

Recently Les and his wife celebrated their 59th wedding anniversary and he proudly announced that he is the head of four living generations. His only living daughter is Mrs. Etta Haverty of West Newton, president of the Newton Chapter of the Gold Star Mothers of America.

Les Moriarty is a true example of living by the "Golden Rule" of "do unto others as you wish others to do unto you." He believes so sincerely that the way to a full rich life is to help and keep on helping a fellow man and to "try to be good to everyone." He feels that the secret of being able to make peace with oneself stems wholly from the willingness to put out a hand to one who needs something to cling to. With this simple and wholesome logic I am convinced that this man, so young in spirit and attitude, will carry on and on and some day I shall not be surprised if his stockpile of good deeds and good will reaches clear to the sky.

WHY BRISTOL UPHOLSTERING IS DIFFERENT

(1) We don't tie springs just 4 or 6 ways—we tie them fully 8 ways and with special twine.
(2) We don't just glue loose frames—we tear out old dowels, replace them with larger and new ones. We add brand new corner blocks.
(3) We don't tack seams at just the obvious spots—we hand sew seams throughout the piece.
(4) The welting isn't simulated—it's separate, individually made — that means it's stronger.
(5) The seams on the sides and backs aren't blind-tacked—all the seams are hand-sewn.
(6) We don't use ordinary fibre or excelsior—we use the new, expensive moss filling.
(7) We don't just repair your cushions—we make brand new cushions, springs and all.
(8) We don't put the fabric on carelessly—we make sure the pattern matches perfectly.
(9) We don't just cut from a pattern—we fit your cover as carefully as a tailor-made suit.
(10) We don't settle for second-best materials—we use only the highest quality throughout.

by the next occupant of the seat who rubs his healthy hair over the back of the seat.

Dr. Morris states that in Newton this danger has been reduced to an absolute minimum, since the theatre managers have cooperated splendidly with the Health Department by regularly applying a fungicide to the back of the chair and by vacuuming the seat backs thoroughly after each show in order to pick up "broken-off hairs" which might spread the infection to others.

Since early diagnosis is essential in treating and preventing the spread of the infection, parents are advised to consult the family physician immediately should they note the above-described signs in their children's scalps.

He was on duty for 42 months during World War II, serving as staff officer of the Boston Port of Embarkation during most of the time. A graduate of Harvard College, Major Camp is now a Transportation Engineer with the Socony Vacuum Oil Co.

Major King serves as inspector general, with the Inspector General's Division. During a distinquished military career of 54 months, he was on duty in the European theatre as personnel officer and inspector general. He was awarded the Army Commendation Ribbon. A graduate of Newton High School and the University of Massachusetts, he is now life insurance home office supervisor for John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company.

I do remember your petitions of 1948 signed by hundreds of Newton citizens asking for a swimming and wading pool to be built at Albemarle playground together with the some hundreds of post cards mailed directly to Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood. It is within the province of the mayor to recommend an appropriation of such a project as you have consistently proposed. No such appropriation or recommendation for positive action has ever come before our Board while I have been a member.

"Definitely, the need exists for the building of the Albemarle swimming and wading pool as well as in other parts of the Garden City. The lack of such facilities, while poorer cities and towns are doing it, together with the Metropolitan District Commission expenditures under state control in Brighton, Boston, Cambridge and Waltham should be convincing proof to our city government that the need still exists, in fact, has increased with the growing population of the city and the high ranking Newton has in the state in new building and higher valuation of property.

"I am convinced that an aroused public in Newton merits a public hearing. I hope that the Board of Aldermen will review your previous petitions at its August meeting.

"It is most unfortunate for the youngsters and adults alike in Newton to be deprived of their three public beaches on the Charles river together with the likely closing of Crystal Lake due to pollution.

"I interpret your action as a constructive civic undertaking which merits the support of EVERY civic minded organization in the city including the Chamber of Commerce, the Improvement associations, Rotary, Kiwanis and the Lions, the fraternal organizations and all public spirited citizens of Newton who are interested in the betterment of our recreational and playground facilities.

"There is no need to burden the city with heavy extra expense. In my opinion your project deserves first consideration because of accessibility. Naturally, it cannot be done this year. But, it can be planned and developed. Yours is definitely a civic improvement much needed. Let us start at Albemarle playground and the future needs branch from the success I know it will be."

Encouraged by Alderman Beale's endorsement of the Albemarle swimming and wading pool project, Gath said, "Civic minded, non-political and as a public servant of the whole citizenry of Newton I am grateful to Mr. Beale for his cooperation. Such independence of thought and action is deserving of credit in Newton. With nigh a doubling of population in Newton in 25 years it is high time that public spirited citizens were aroused to the increasing needs for recreational activities. Definitely, if the Board of Aldermen cannot resurrect my petitions of three years ago I will present new ones because I believe I am as familiar as anyone with the swimming and wading pool needs in Newton. I am definitely calling upon every public spirited organization and individual to cooperate with me in this fight. My ex-Gath Guards in Korea, Lt. Col. Pete Birmingham, Lt. Col. Paul Leahmy and Lt. Com. Brad Dyer aren't laying down arms. Why should I?"

Nutrition Center Sees That Newtonites Are Well-Nourished

The Newton Nutrition Center, sponsored jointly by the Newton Community Chest and Newton Health Department, is a small agency with a big job—that of helping to keep more than 80,000 Newton people healthy through the teaching of principles of good nutrition and its relation to good health.

Toward this end, the Center's 1951 allotment of $2,000,000 from the Community Chest will help it provide direct assistance to Chest agencies. To the Newton District Nursing Association it gives nutrition service at Well Baby clinics, and information about food needs of families, and diet needs of individuals visited by District nurses. Help on food selection and budgeting is available to people who consult the Family Service Bureau. The Boy Scouts receive help in planning menus for camp, cookouts and overnight trips, as do the Girl Scouts, who ask the Center for assistance in merit badge projects connected with food and nutrition.

In addition to the Community Chest grant, the Nutrition Center was allotted $4260 from the Newton Health Department. The nutritionists participate with the public health nurses in school health programs and in family health supervision. Nutrition service is available to other tax supported activities; the Heart program and Welfare department.

Miss Ruth Irwin, Nutritionist-in-charge, and her assistant, Mrs. Marie Barrett, working under the supervision of a Board of Directors, representing the citizens and health and welfare agencies, afford nutrition information to the many homes in Newton that are not contacted by established agencies. Working directly with individuals in the Nutrition office, in homes, or in Pre-school Clinics, the nutritionists give sound guidance and practical help on food selection for normal or therapeutic diets.

In 1950 such direct service was given to 1024 individuals in Newton. The nutritionists at the Center serve the citizens of Newton indirectly by providing resource information and nutrition program suggestions to schools; by speaking before clubs and professional groups and by assisting in the organization of group programs. They reach more people via the newspaper columns, exhibits and monthly recipe bulletins distributed in markets throughout the city.

The group approach to nutrition problems has been popular at the Center. This year, group methods were used successfully to tackle weight control problems, help people on low sodium diets, and provide food service information for local nursing homes. Probably the outstanding achievement of the past year was the preparation of a booklet "Planning Low Sodium Diets." Compiled in cooperation with the Health Department, Newton-Wellesley Hospital, and the Heart Demonstration Program, it has attracted nationwide attention since its publication several months ago.

The Nutrition Center further protects good health by sponsoring and encouraging surveys on the nutrition needs of the community.

Newton Priest-

landed some distance away in a rice field. Needless to say, there was plenty of blood and I was dazed for a while. I was, however, soon attended by a corpsman and carried on a stretcher to the battalion aid station.

"Though darkness had set in with pouring rain, one of our valiant and brilliant helicopter pilots, a Lt. Scott, daringly flew into the area and evacuated me to a medical battalion in the rear. The next day I was flown aboard a transport plane to a hospital ship in Pusan, the USS Haven. Two days later I was flown to Yokosuko. I was given excellent care on all occasions.

"It was while aboard the Haven I first learned of the death of one of our beloved Boston priests, Father Frank 'Ace' Coppens. May he rest in the peace of heaven.

"On the Sunday I was hit the battalion commanding officer, Lt. Col. John Hopkins came to me as I was finishing my first mass and said he was very pleased to see me offering mass the night before (at 8 o'clock), as he returned from his command post on a nearby hill. He said he knew the men looked for consolation and encouragement in God. The going was rough, and they needed the strength of religion to help them carry on.

"Late in the afternoon, after I had delivered two catechisms to two marines who asked to be instructed in our faith, I went to the command post.

"Learning that one of our marine companies had been hit very hard, I told Col. Hopkins I would accompany a stretcher party to help bring the wounded off the hills. I ran down the road and the first vehicle which came along was a truck. I jumped on the running-board and we headed for the injured men. Shortly afterward we ran over the mines.

"Fr. Charles Lawler of Chicago, Catholic chaplain of the hospital here brings me holy communion every morning. I have heard confessions during his mass on Sundays the past two weeks.

"In a few days I should be able to offer up holy mass again, a very grateful priest.

"With fraternal good wishes to you, your Excellency, and all the priests and people of the archdiocese, I remain,"

Obediently yours in Christ,
John M. Quirk, Chaplain,

Warns About New Poison Sprays

—o—

"Some of the newer poison sprays for home gardens may contain tetroethyl pyrophosphate and parathion compounds which are extremely toxic to humans," warns Clarence I. Sterling Jr., Director of Sanitary Engineering, Massachusetts Department of Public Health.

The poisons contained in these insecticides may enter the body through the air, through food which has been sprayed, or by direct contact through the skin and eyes. Symptoms of poisoning include headache, excessive sweating, giddiness, blurred vision, weakness, nausea, cramps and diarrhea.

"Absorbing even very small amounts of these organic phosphate compounds is so dangerous," said Mr. Sterling, "that the Department of Public Health advises using the better known insecticides, until safer compounds are developed."

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
LAND COURT

To Ralph Orrill, Trustee, Mario D'Ercole and Eugenio D'Ercole, of Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; Ruth Cimerblatt, of Brookline, in the County of Norfolk and said Commonwealth; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by James J. Egan and Alice L. Egan, of Boston, in the County of Suffolk and said Commonwealth, to register and confirm their title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Newton, bounded and described as follows:

Northerly by Boylston Street 134.75 feet; Easterly and Northerly by land now or formerly of Mario G. D'Ercole et ux 111.52 feet and 12.58 feet respectively; Southeasterly by land now or formerly of Ruth Cimerblatt 316.59 feet; Southwesterly by Florence Street 135.65 feet; and Northwesterly by land now or formerly of Ralph Orrill, Trustee 363.21 feet.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

If you desire to make any objection or defense to said petition you or your attorney must file a written appearance and an answer under oath, setting forth clearly and specifically your objections or defense to each part of said petition, in the office of the Recorder of said Court in Boston (at the Court House), on or before the thirtieth day of July next.

Unless an appearance is so filed by or for you, your default will be recorded, the said petition will be taken as confessed and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, JOHN E. FENTON, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-eighth day of June in the year nineteen hundred and fifty-one.

Attest with Seal of said Court.

CITY OF NEWTON

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS

Sealed proposals for the construction of an elementary school to be located on property between Nos. 441 and 495 Lowell Avenue, Newtonville, Massachusetts, will be received by the Public Buildings Commissioner, City Hall, Newton Center 59, Massachusetts, until 2 o'clock p. m., Eastern Daylight Saving Time, Wednesday, August 1, 1951, and at that place and time publicly opened and read aloud. All branches of the work will be included in the general contract.

All proposals shall be in duplicate on form furnished by said Commissioner. One of these copies (the original) is to be submitted to the Public Buildings Commissioner, accompanied by a certified check on a national bank or trust company in the sum of Twenty Thousand Dollars ($20,000.00) payable to and to become the property of the City of Newton if the proposal is accepted and the bidder neglects or refuses to comply with the terms of the proposal. The other copy of the proposal (without check) shall be submitted by the bidder to the Comptroller of Accounts, at Newton City Hall, 1000 Commonwealth Avenue, Newton Centre 59, Massachusetts, prior to the time set for the opening of bids (as required by the Ordinances of the City of Newton, Chapter 2, Section 22).

Plans and specifications may be obtained from the Architects, Maginnis & Walsh, 126 Newbury Street, Boston 16, Massachusetts, beginning at 2 p. m., Eastern Daylight Saving Time, Monday, July 16, 1951, on the deposit of $20.00 in cash or certified check payable to the City of Newton. The deposit will be refunded on return of the plans and the specifications in good condition, title to all plans and specifications remaining in the City at all times.

A surety company bond by a company satisfactory to the Mayor of the City of Newton, and in an amount equal to one hundred per cent (100%) of the contract price will be required from the successful bidder. The surety bond will be required from the general contractor only and will cover the work of his sub-contractors.

Attention is called to the fact that minimum wage rates are established for the work and are as set forth in the contract documents, in accordance with the requirements of Chapter 461, Mass. Acts of 1935.

The Public Buildings Commissioner reserves the right to accept or to reject any proposal, and to award the contract as he may deem to be for the best interests of the City of Newton, and any contract made will be made subject to appropriations and grants to meet payments thereunder.

ARTHUR CAMPBELL,
Public Buildings Commissioner.

Communist Bills

—o—

Editor,
Newton Graphic:

Anti-Communist feeling has been developed through such a long series of bitter and disappointing experiences with Communist behaviour that our impulse is to leap to the support of any measures labelled anti-Communist.

Yet, because feeling is involved and we know that emotion can trick us, we need to question carefully the soundness of measures before we give them our support.

We must ask, "Are they likely to be effective in accomplishing their purpose? Are they necessary, in that they will ward off danger from which we are now unprotected? Is it certain that they themselves do not carry some kind of danger? If so, is it serious?

Right now, the Legislature has before it bills which were proposed to curb Communism. Nevertheless, all of them have been opposed at their hearings by groups of distinguished citizens, representing civic organizations, and religious and educational bodies. The "Lawyers' Oath" bill has been denounced also by lawyers. Neither the Constitutional Law nor the Rules Committees have recommended these bills for passage.

The bills have been opposed because they have small chance of success against Communists to whom a sworn oath would be but another disguise, as truth and lies are for them but other weapons; because they would only tend to drive the machinations of the Communists farther into the dark; because organizations can best clean their own houses as many have already done, while the Commonwealth itself has few "sensitive" spots; because, in addition to strong Federal laws, the Commonwealth has, not one but many, adequate laws for dealing with subversive action; because these bills are so worded that although they may be used against Communists today, some other day they may be used against anyone who fails to conform to the momentarily popular opinion. Lincoln warned, "Familiarize yourself with the chains of bondage and you are preparing your own limbs to wear them."

Not only do such bills endanger individual freedom but they threaten the whole concept of democracy under which thought is clarified by exposure to many, varied opinions, and by the necessity to hold its own in argument. The President's Committee on Civil Rights, in its report, asked, "How can the concept of the marketplace of thought in which truth ultimately prevails retain its validity if the thought of certain individuals is denied right of circulation?" Dr. Daniel Poling advises, "Gag Freedom and she will go mad. Give her a voice, and above every sophistry of violence and selfishness she will declare the truth. The Constitution of the United States is a document of faith, not of fear."

In spite of all this, many legislators seem to feel that their constituents expect them to pass these bills, constantly referred to as anti-Communist; they do not wish to be called "soft" toward Communism. We, the constituents, are the only ones that can make them understand that we are not so unthinking or so emotional as to judge merely by labels, but that we, too, have been weighing these bills.

There is little time left as the vote must come soon upon these measures, the "Ober Law," the "Lawyers' Oath" bill and H426. Legislators need to know our position.

33 Clark street,
Newton Centre, Mass.

Information for Vets in Form of Questions, Answers

—o—

Q.—I was separated, but not divorced, from my husband — a World War I veteran—at the time of his death. His service-connected disability, incidentally, did not cause his death. If I meet ineligibility requirements, would I be entitled to a pension, even though we were separated?

A.—Yes, if you can establish that the separation was due to the misconduct of, procured by, your husband, with no fault on your part. Also, you would have to meet the income requirements, and you must not have remarried.

Q.—I got in military service in 1948, after World War II, and was discharged recently. Would I be entitled to GI bill benefits?

A.—No. One of the qualifications for GI bill benefits is World War II service.

I'm Beginning to Wonder

There's the patter of tiny feet around our house lately, and I hate it. Now understand, I like children as much as the next guy—children are what every family should have. But the tiny feet I'm talking about belong to a mouse which is currently sharing my room.

We first met about a month ago, and somehow our personalities just didn't match. I had dropped off to sleep when I was suddenly jolted awake by a strange noise. It was not the usual scratching or gnawing sound that every mouse makes. This sounded more like a troupe of sharp-nailed emus square-dancing on a sandpaper floor.

I opened one eye and listened. The emus circled left and dos-a-dosed. Deciding I must be awake, I sat up. My new-found roommate leaped off my pillow and vanished into the woodwork.

"It doesn't matter," I said, settling back to sleep. "That mouse is so scared it won't ever come back again."

How wrong can you get?

The same night I woke up to hear wood being ripped underneath the bureau. Having found my room to its liking, the mouse was now building a private entrance.

I banged on the wall, flashed lights through the cracks, and personally threatened the mouse. The mouse chewed on, blissfully ignoring me from behind the wall.

"All right," I said. "This means war. To the finish."

And, having delivered my ultimatum, I returned to bed and lay there all night whispering: 'I don't hear anything. I don't hear anything."

The next night I again awoke to a familiar gnawing sound. This time it came from the direction of my desk—not behind it, in it!

Holding a shoe raised in readiness, I carefully opened drawer after drawer. At the end of one, a small bunch of papers was jumping up and down.

I shook the drawer, trying to get my enemy out into the open. The mouse dashed toward me, I swung the shoe, I squashed my thumb.

"Okay," I muttered, as the pattering feet dashed away. "Now you'll really get it."

I loaded three mousetraps with rich-smelling, over-ripe cheese, and placed the traps in strategic points which the mouse couldn't possibly miss. The mouse didn't miss the traps, all right. It enjoyed the cheese immensely and was able to chew the woodwork twice as loudly.

The following night I decided to try trickery. Putting out the light and bouncing loudly on the bedsprings, I made going-to-bed noises.

Sure enough, I heard the mouse creep out his secret entrance and head for the desk. This time I knew what drawer to look in, and I began thrashing about with the shoe. The mouse franticaly leaped out of the drawer, heading for the half-open door.

Immediately I grabbed the door, started to close it, and stopped just in time. I had trapped the mouse, according to my plan, but it was caught between the door and the frame near the hinge, the door just barely holding it in.

Here was a real dilemma. If I opened the door, the mouse escaped. If I closed it, well—that would be messy. And I couldn't hit the mouse without letting go the door.

We had reached an impasse. Finally I had to open the door, and another night passed to the tune of jaws crunching wood.

I tried poison in the form of seeds. I stuck the poison into chocolate mints and placed the mints in easily-found places.

The mouse ate the mints and spit out the seeds.

I plugged up every exit in the room, then trapped the mouse in the open. The rodent seemed made of rubber, slipped through a hole no wider than my thumb and disappearing in the jumble of my closet.

I'm beginning to get a phobia. I see mice in every shadow, I swing at imaginary figures. I can't sleep. I'm losing my friends.

And through it all that pair of jaws goes impassively on, chewing away at the wall.

I'm beginning to worry about who's winning this fight to the finish.

Health Tests Offered At New Recreation Center

Numerous residents of the Nonantum - Newton - Newtonville area took part in the heart, chest and diabetes tests which the Newton Health Department conducted at the Hawthorn Recreation Center in Newton last Monday. The tests will be continued for a period of two weeks.

The house to house canvassing, conducted by over 60 residents under the direction of Mrs. Gerald M. Swartz of 152 Crafts street, brought in a list of 1000 names of persons who wished to be tested. Volunteers to serve as receptionists, clerks and typists at the screening center numbered 50, in addition to many Red Cross nurses, nurses' aids, Gray Ladies, and staff aids.

The Recreation Center, on Hawthorn street, just off Watertown street, will be open from 2:30 to 5 during the day on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and from 6:30 to 9 in the evening. On Saturday the hours are from 9:30 to 12 and 1:30 to 4.

The three screening tests take about 15 minutes and are offered to persons 18 years of age or over. The test consists of answering questions relating to disease symptoms, measurement for height and weight, blood pressure, and a heart examination with a stetoscope.

The tests are not being offered to those already under a physician's care for heart disease, tuberculosis or diabetes.

It is possible to have heart disease, tuberculosis, or diabetes without knowing it, according to the report by the Newton Health Department. Doctors can prevent or delay the progress of all these diseases, especially if they can treat them early. It is the purpose of the screening tests - find the persons who would benefit most from going to their physicians for advice, diagnosis, or treatment. The program is limited to residents of the Nonantum-Newtonville area between Crafts street and the Rawson-Hamilton Sponsored Bill Signed by Gov.

House Bill 950, filed by Representative George E. Rawson of Newton has been signed by Governor Dever as Chapter 489 of the Acts of 1951. The legislation as originally petitioned for by the Mass. Hospital Association, sponsored by Dr. [illegible] Stewart Hamilton of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital and Rep. Rawson, provided that the state, counties, and municipalities should reimburse hospitals for the full cost of care of welfare and old age assistance patients.

The Ways and Means Committee, however, set a limit of $12 per day on such reimbursements, and the act was passed with that amendment. It will help reduce the deficit which our voluntary hospitals incur each year in caring for these patients and is a step toward the full reimbursement which our hospitals greatly need.

"Bragg About Boston" In Newton

The "Bragg About Boston" program, broadcast daily over WCOP at 4:45 p.m., will originate its (Tuesday) July 24, 1951 broadcast in front of the Liggett Drug Store at Centre St., Newton Corner.

Nelson Bragg, emcee of the show, talks with local shoppers and housewives in the area, and the program is recorded at 11 a.m. so that the local folks can hear themselves on the air at 4:45 p.m.

Walter H. Irving pleaded nolo to the charges of selling ice cream without a license and using a loud signal to attract attention and his case was placed on file last Monday morning by Judge W. Lloyd Allen in Newton District Court. He had violated a city ordinance.

Rep. Herter Affirms Need of Al'marle Pool

Representative Christian A. Herter, Jr., of the 4th Middlesex district, representing Wards 1, 2, 3 and 7 and past president of the Newton Republican Club, in a communication to Harry Gath, Jr., Newtonville business man and sports sponsor for the past 20 years, endorsed Mr. Gath's "reactivation" program for the building of a swimming and wading pool, bath house and accompanying conveniences. Mr. Gath has requested a public hearing by the Board of Aldermen regarding his petitions signed by 1800 Newton citizens in 1948.

Mr. Herter stated, "I am very pleased that a renewed effort is being made to have a public hearing before the Board of Aldermen on the building of a municipal swimming pool at the Albemarle playground. I feel that such a swimming pool would be of immense benefit to the children of my district, particularly to those who live north of Washington street. Although Crystal Lake is available for swimming, it is largely inaccessible to the majority of families in Nonantum, Newtonville and West Newton, as are the MDC pools in Brighton and Waltham. I sincerely hope that if there is any conceivable way of financing it, the city of Newton will

New Office and Storage Building In Newton Centre

Ground was broken this morning on Center street in Newton Centre for the erection of an office and warehouse building for the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co., of St Paul. The firm's Boston office, with about 45 office workers, will move from its present location in downtown Boston upon completion of the one-story building, which is expected to be ready around February, 1952.

Serving the purpose of a storage and distribution center, the plant will handle such industrial items produced by the St. Paul firm as undercoating for automobiles, electrical tapes, and scotch and adhesive tape.

Members of the Newton Chamber of Commerce were present at this morning's ground breaking ceremony.

Vets Honor Pfc. Dellicicchi

A military funeral for Pfc. John D. Dellicicchi Jr., 24, of 198 California street, who died a week ago of injuries received in a tank accident at Fort Sill, Okla., was held last Monday morning with a high mass of requiem at Our Lady Help of Christians.

The accident happened on May 31 during maneuvers when the tank in which he was riding rammed into a gun attached to the tank ahead. Pfc. Dellicicchi was hospitalized at first and sent a telegram home to his father, John D. Dellicicchi Sr., and his brother, Alfred F., that he was fine, but the following day the family was informed of his death.

Cause of death, according to word received by his father, was "acute intestinal obstruction."

His body arrived at the Newtonville Station last Friday and was met by representatives of the Newton Veterans' Services Department, the Newton United Veterans Organization, and Newton Post 48, Sgt. George O. Carson Post 141, and Nonantum Post of the American Legion.

Pfc. Dellicicchi was born and raised in Arce, Italy and came to this country about five years ago. Besides his father and brother, he leaves his mother, Mrs. Teresa Dellicicchi and three sisters, Jean, Antoinette and Genozeffa, all of Arce, Italy.

Plan Street Construction

Newton plans to spend about $150,000 for reconstruction or resurfacing 25 streets urgently in need of repair. Street Commissioner Harold F. Young reports that work will be done as soon as the Board of Aldermen appropriates the funds.

Seven of the streets are listed for priority. They are:

Newtonville avenue, from Summit street to a portion recently completed in Newtonville; Exeter street, from Commonwealth avenue to Fuller street, West Newton; Lexington street, from Commonwealth avenue to Waban street, Auburndale; Walnut street from Worcester turnpike to Dedham street, Newton Highlands; Reservoir avenue, from Hammond street to Lee road, Chestnut Hill; Green park, from Center street, westerly, Newton; and, Sherbrook street, Newton Centre.

Other streets listed as urgent are:

Ward 2—Haviland street, Kimball street, Allston and Mt. Vernon streets, Shamrock street, and Lincoln road; Ward 3—Jerome avenue, Plympton street; Ward 4—Woodland road, Central street; Ward 5—Short and Southwick streets; Ward 6—Waban Hill road and Waban Hill Road, North; Ward 7—Marlboro street, Park avenue, and St. James street.

Edmands Pond Site Of Jackson Nature Study

The big event of the week for the children in the Jackson Homestead Summer Program was a trip to Newton's wonderful nature study area at Edmands Pond last Monday morning and afternoon.

Before going on the trip, each child was given a list of objects to find, such as things which are destroyed by insects, a whitestone, a bird's feather, etc. The children have become observant as a result of these trips and several have taken exploring walks alone or with friends, reporting to Miss McGilvrey on their experiences. The walks are followed by study for identification and information, assembling of treasures for the Homestead or personal collections, art work and stories.

On Monday the following girls and boys took the trip. Susan Savitt, 69 Kingswood road, Auburndale; Joan Meyer, 276 Franklin street, Newton; Margery Lynch, 26 Lewis street, Newton; Susan Haak, 65 Kingswood road, Auburndale; Roy Fairweather, 124 Staniford road, Auburndale; David Bridges, 6 Princeton street, Newton; Philip Blake, 188 Bellevue street, Newton, and Kenneth Beal, 21 Duffield road, Auburndale. The groups are limited to 12 children, and the other four children were absent.

Other projects interesting to the children are in the study of Indians and the days of the early settlement. Each week of activities is wound up with a treasure hunt for a prize. Most effective posters and displays made by the children will be on exhibition at the Homestead at the end of the program.

There are still several openings in the three remaining morning

Appointment For City Treasurer, Archie Whitman

Mr. Archie R. Whitman, City Treasurer and Collector for the Newton City Government, has accepted an appointment by L. Roberge, President of the Municipal Finance Officers' Association, Chicago, Illinois, as State Chairman for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, according to a release by Harold T. Pilsbury, director of Research for the City of Newton.

One of the most essential positions in the organization of the Association it plays a vital part in promoting membership growth. Also, Mr. Whitman becomes a "front line" representative and as such he will advise the Executive Board of fiscal developments in this area.

The Association is engaged in the preservation of sound fiscal positions which requires a considerable number of factors which among others are the following: Revenues, Expenditures, Taxation, Budget Operation and Management, Debt and Debt Administration, Governmental Accounting, Public Employee Retirement and Co-ordination between Federal, State and Local Governments—all for a better understanding between the general public and the government.

Mr. Whitman will serve as Chairman for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts for a term to expire June 30, 1952.

Dr. Solinger To Survey College Biology Courses

A survey of elementary biology in the colleges of the country will be undertaken by Dr. Julian L. Solinger of 343 Lake avenue, Newton Highlands, associate professor of Biology at Simmons College, who has been awarded a Faculty Fellowship for this purpose. The fellowship, established by the Fund for the Advancement of Education under the Ford Foundation in April 1951, enables younger faculty members in colleges throughout the country to improve their competence in undergraduate teaching.

Under the fellowship, Dr. Solinger will make a critical survey which will examine not only the content of courses and methods of instruction, but the place of elementary biology in a program of general education. The plan, which will release Dr. Solinger from duties at Simmons College for one year, includes a survey of the subject, not only in the colleges of New England and along the Eastern Seaboard, but in institutions in the Midwest, Northwest and Pacific Coast.

"The swift progress of science," according to Dr. Solinger, "has confronted the biologist with a great mass of vital material, a large part of which must be considered for inclusion in the course of elementary biology. For an efficient assimilation of this new material, it becomes apparent that a shift in emphasis may be needed, and biology teachers all over the country are expressing concern, as well as diversified opinions as to the problem of content, philosophy, and method."

Dr. Solinger, a graduate of Brown University, PhD. 1938, joined the Simmons College faculty in 1939 and for the past five years has been in charge of elementary biology at the College. He is a member of the American Society of Zoologists, the National Assn. of Biology Teachers, American Association for the Advancement of Science, and the American Association of Biology Teachers.

Adams Report Voted As Garden-Type Apartments Approved In Some Areas

After three public hearings, the hotly disputed "Adams Report," a plan for revisions of the Newton zoning ordinances, was finally passed into the zoning laws of Newton last Tuesday night by the Board of Aldermen, thus permitting the building of "Garden Type" apartments in some specified districts in Newton.

The hearing, conducted by the Claims and Rules Committee, Ernest G. Angevine, chairman, was held so that further objections to the "Adams Report" could be aired, after some revisions by the Aldermen. Chairman Angevine pointed out that the incorporation of the report, with revisions, would not change the private residence zone, and that the report would actually make it more difficult to erect the six-story structures because the areas had been reduced.

The specific changes included in the report were to restore a part of Walnut street near Cabot street to a single residence B zone, thus keeping it free of the garden-type apartment. The areas in which the six-story apartment houses can be built, classified the Resident E zone, are much smaller than under the present ordinance in which this type of apartment can be erected. As explained by Chairman Angevine, these areas are located on the westerly side of Walnut street, from existing business zone to Page road, on the northerly side of Washington street from Lowell avenue to Parsons street, and on the Worcester turnpike in the area bounded by Florence street and the Brookline line near the present Chestnut Hill shopping Center.

Under the present ordinance, garden-type apartments will be allowed only by permission of the Planning Board and the Board of Aldermen, in areas in which six-story apartments can now be built.

Approval of the report was voted by the 17 Aldermen present with no dissenting vote, and it was titled, Proposed Revision of the Zoning Ordinance of the City of Newton, Massachusetts, Chapter 38, Section 571 to 596.

Chairman Angevine explained the new zoning regulations in reference to the present laws. A large part of the old general resident zone, in which six-story apartments could have been built, have been moved to a Resident D district which has a two-family limit. Only garden-type apartments that do not exceed 2½ stories high can be built in the new Resident D zone with permission of the Planning Board and the Board of Aldermen.

Garden-type homes cannot be built in the old two-family zone, and there is no change in the old two-family district. That part of the new zone law which deals

New Officers Go On Duty

Three new patrolmen assumed office last Sunday, filling vacancies resulting from the retirements of Patrolmen William D. Condrin, Joseph F. Carroll, and Thomas M. Cummings. Those sworn into office were: James R. Veduccio, 27, of 40 Middle street, Newton, son of retired Chief and Mrs. Nicholas Veduccio; Francis M. DeVito, 27, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeVito of 30 Circuit avenue, Newton Highlands; and Richard E. Duffy, 23, of 4 Arbor road, West Newton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew R. Duffy.

Appointments were made from the Civil Service List. The men will be assigned to older members of the department for a training period.

Patrolman Veduccio was born in Newton, graduated from Newton High School, and was employed by Raytheon Manufacturing Company. He has two sisters, Mrs. Alice Sorenson and Mrs. Gladys Tedeschi; and five brothers, Raymond, Edward, Robert, George H. and William R. George and William are also in the Police Department.

Patrolman DeVito, graduated from Newton High School, served with the Navy for three years, and has been employed at the Watertown Arsenal. His sister, Miss Barbara DeVito, is secretary of the Paraplegic Ward at Cushing Hospital.

Also a native of Newton and a Navy veteran, Patrolman Duffy is commander of the Burns-Kerr Post, American Legion, and secretary of the United Veterans' Organizations of Newton. A graduate of Newton High School, he has been employed at the State Engineering Division, working on Route 128. He is married to Natalie Cronin Duffy, daughter of the late MDC Officer William J. Cronin, who served at the Auburndale station for many years. His brother, Andrew is a past commander of the Burns-Kerr Post; another brother, Arthur, is completing a four-year term in the Navy.

Four Injured In 3-Car Collision

Four Newton youths were injured in a three-car collision shortly before midnight last Thursday night on Route 30, a mile from Cochituate square. Most seriously hurt was William R. Baldasaro, 19, of 16 Avon place, Newton, taken to the Leonard Morse Hospital in Natick with a broken nose.

The car which he was operating collided with two other cars and slid off the left side of Commonwealth road, through a stone wall and down a five-foot drop, according to police.

Released after treatment at the hospital was Richard Anthony Brown, 21, of 298 Tremont street, Newton. Richard O'Dowd, 18, of 17 Winthrop road, and Patrick Layden, 17, of 17 Oakland street, both of Newton, left the hospital without being treated.

Others involved in the accident were Mrs. Dennis J. Cronin of 24 Hammond street, Waltham and Marilyn A. Kilmain of 24 Charles street, Wellesley, both escaping with minor injuries.

Low Bidders

Low bidders for cleaning, repairing and waterproofing at Newton Reservoir in Newton were announced last Wednesday in a bulletin in Gainey's Construction News, daily reporter for the New England building industry.

Low bidders were Cement Gun Co., Boston, $23,560; and National Gunite Corporation, Boston, $24,680.

In high school she was active in sports and music.

Returns From Caribbean Cruise

Allen King McOsker Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen McOsker of 25 Prairie avenue, Newton, was among 700 Naval ROTC Midshipmen, representing 41 colleges throughout the nation, returning from an annual summer cruise in Caribbean waters last week to Norfolk, Va.

McOsker is a student at Tufts College where he played hockey and lacrosse. The cruise, given the title of Midshipman Cruise BAKER, was Task Group 86.2 and comprised the USS Macon, flagship, and five destroyers.

The Task Group left from Norfolk and visited Kingston, Jamaica, Santiago, Cuba, and the U. S. Naval Operating Base at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. All ships returned to Norfolk on July 13 where the midshipmen disembarked for summer leave.

McOsker served aboard the heavy cruiser USS Macon, commanded by Rear Admiral William Sterling Parsons, commanding the Task Group.

Miss Betty Ann Hamil Bride of Richard Minard

The Martha-Mary Chapel, South Sudbury, was the scene of the recent marriage of Miss Betty Ann Hamlin and Mr. Richard Alden Minard, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Alden Minard of Auburndale. The bride, daughter of Mrs. Charles E. Hamlin of Newton, was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. William A. Hitchcock of Waltham. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Harold G. Leland of the Waltham Congregational Church followed by a reception at Wayside Inn.

The bridal gown was white marquisette over taffeta, with a long tulle veil. A cascade of white delphinium and gypsophila formed the bridal bouquet. Miss Dorothy Hamlin of Portland, was maid of honor for her sister, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Chester C. Larner of Concord and Miss Mary A. Snyder of West Orange, N. J. Her attendants were gowned alike in aqua marquisette, with white satin bodices; they wore picture hats and carried glamellias.

Mr. Chester C. Larner was best man, and Mr. William M. White, of Waban, ushered with Mr. William MacDonald of Boston.

The bride is a graduate of Skidmore College. Mr. Minard graduated from Harvard University. They will make their home in Newton, after a trip to Maine and Canada.

Highland Glee Club Visits Falmouth

—o—

It has become axiomatic in the Highland Glee Club of Newton that "glee club weather" is the finest kind. This was again confirmed last Saturday when a large group of members traveled to Falmouth for a day's outing at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Capron where the colorful lawns and gardens with the scattered shade of apple trees made a delightful setting. Assisting his parents in directing the party was Mr. C. Hassler Capron of Newton Centre.

Clear, sunny skies with the cooling breeze off Vineyard Sound made conditions perfect for swimming, bowling on the green, tennis, and collecting good crops of sunburn. At noon, the host, who is a past president of the club, provided a luncheon of clam chowder and lobster with all the fixings to satisfy hearty appetites.

President George H. Wight acted as committee for the club in organizing the trip in response to Mr. Capron's invitation. To repay the interest of their hosts in this choral organization the day's activities concluded with a sing, led by Mr. D. Ralph Maclean, the club director.

Miss Anne Meyer Weds Alexander G. Marshall

Mr. Alexander Gordon Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander G. Marshall of Waban, and Miss Anne Elizabeth Meyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chris W. Meyer of Verona, N. J., were married Sunday in a ceremony in the First Presbyterian Church, Verona.

The bride's French Chantilly lace gown was full-skirted, with a short train. A cap appliqued with medallions of Chantilly caught the fingertip illusion veil. Her bouquet was glamellias and ivy.

The maid of honor, Miss Ann R. Tobler, of Verona, wore white Chantilly lace over green taffeta, with a matching helmet, and an old-fashioned bouquet of talisman roses, white carnations, and heather.

Mrs. Donald Knowles of Akron, O., and Miss Jane Terpening of Nyack, New York, were bridesmaids. Mrs. Knowles wore Chantilly lace over periwinkle blue taffeta and carried a cascade of pink glamellias; Miss Terpening's gown was lace over rose taffeta and her flowers were orchid glamellias. Helmets matched their gowns.

Best man was Mr. Hugh Flanders of Waban. The bridegroom's two brothers, Mr. James Marshall and Mr. John Marshall of Waban, ushered with Mr. C. William Meyer Jr., of Verona, N. J., the bride's brother; and Mr. Richard Bourne of Waban.

The couple graduated from Middlebury College. The bridegroom is attending Boston University. He served with the Army Air Force during the war. They will reside in Dedham.

Copley Plaza Ceremony For Miss Berkowitz

The marriage of Jacqueline Betty Berkowitz, daughter of Mrs. Nathan Berkowitz, 37 Newbrook circle, Chestnut Hill, and Hal Turin of New York City and Brookfield, Connecticut, took place in the Copley Plaza Hotel on July 8 at 4:30 p.m.

Rabbi Dudley Weinberg conducted the ceremony, at which the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Abe Berkowitz.

The bride wore a lovely ballerina length gown of white silk organza, appliqued with hand painted flowers. Her short silk net veil was caught to a halo of stephanotis. White orchids and stephanotis formed her bouquet.

Mrs. Benjamin Gold wore a pale green silk organza gown as matron of honor for her sister. A halo of pink roses matched her bouquet of roses and baby's breath.

Mrs. Berkowitz chose a lavender linen dress, afternoon length, for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Turin wore a grey gown with a lavender orchid.

Best man was Bill Turin, brother of the groom.

The bridal pair were feted with cocktails and dinner at the Copley-Plaza Hotel. After a wedding trip to Bermuda, they will make their home in New York City.

The bride was graduated from Quincy Senior High School, Quincy, Illinois. Mr. Turin graduated from college in New York.

Lucile Sarnie Bride Of James Kahrimanian

Lucille Elaine Sarnie, of Newton Centre, became the bride Sunday of Mr. Ralph James Kahrimanian, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Kahrimanian, Arlington. Father T. Postajian conducted the double ring ceremony, which was held in St. James Church. The bride's father, Mr. Eugene J. Sarnie, gave her away.

Miss Sarnie's gown was of French organdy, with a fingertip french cloche. She carried powder puff flowers, carnations, and confetti ball streamers.

Miss Norma Sarnie, who was maid of honor for her sister, wore a chiffon and taffeta gown, with a toast outer skirt over rose and aqua. She carried a basket of matching gladioli.

Mrs. Sarnie chose a navy chiffon gown with lace mauve accessories and an orchid corsage. The groom's mother wore rose lace with rose accessories, and also an orchid corsage.

Peter Goshgarian of Dorchester, cousin of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Louis P. Miele, of Hyde Park; Peter W. Sarnie of Roslindale; Gregory Najarian of Arlington; and Nelson Kazanjian of Arlington.

Following the reception, which was held at Mansion Inn, Cochituate, the pair left for a wedding trip to New York, Washington, Miami, Havana.

The bride was graduated from St. Thomas Aquinas and Boston Teacher's College. The groom graduated from Huntington Preparatory School and Suffolk University.

Mary Connolly Married At St. Bernard's Church

White gladioli decorated the altar of St. Bernard's Church, West Newton for the marriage of Mary Elizabeth Connolly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Josept Connolly, 16 Wiswall street, West Newton, to William Francis Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Brown of Natick, on July fourth. Rev. John J. Geegan, a cousin of the bride, and Rev. Francis Sullivan, officiated at the double ring ceremony, which was held at 10 o'clock mass. Mr. Connolly gave his daughter away.

The bride's gown was white satin with lace bodice and sleeves. She wore a cap-style veil, and carried a white rose centered with two orchids.

Miss Rose Patricia Collins of Dorchester was maid of honor for her cousin. Her strapless satin gown had a jacket with layers of net over the skirt. She carried yellow roses to match the dress.

The three other bridesmaids were Kathleen Connolly, Poughkeepsie, New York; Mary Cannon, Brooklyn, New York; and Elsie Brown, of Natick. Their orchid gowns were strapless, with lace jackets, and layers of net covered the skirts. Blended pastel roses formed their bouquets. The flower girl, Linda Gleason, wore an aqua dress and carried a basket of roses.

Mrs. Connolly's orchid gown was complemented by white accessories and an orchid corsage. The groom's mother chose a blue dress, with white accessories and an orchid.

Best man was Joseph Tartufi of Framingham. John Connolly of West Newton, Robert Donohue of Natick and John O'Brien of Brookline were ushers.

The reception was held in the Newtonville Women's Club. After a wedding trip to Canada, the couple will make their home in West Newton.

immediately undertake the construction of this long needed project."

Enthusiastic over Representative Herter's endorsement Mr. Gath said, "Naturally, the endorsements of Representative Herter and Alderman Beale gives indications of the need of such swimming facilities in Newton because both of them are familiar with the conditions in the north side of the city, particularly for youngsters. In addition, their civic interest is well established. They have blazed the trail for other public spirited citizens to endorse this public hearing which is only the beginning for what should be a completed project in 1952.

"I cannot possibly conceive any objections being raised against the building of the Albemarle project when the public press tells of building of MDC pools at Waltham, Brighton, Cambridge and the coming dedication of the beautiful facilities at the West End in Boston where $500,000 has been invested by the state. While it may be admitted that Watertown marks the beginning of the so-called Charles River basin what about the needs of Newton youngsters and adults who have been deprived of the Charles River beaches because of pollution. While I agitated city built, city operated swimming pools for three years no official action has ever been taken by Mayor Lockwood, the Board of Aldermen or the Recreation Commission. In fact there's a "man hunt" on right now at city hall trying to locate the petitions I filed on behalf of 1800 Newton citizens in 1948.

"Through the years in my various sports activities I have cooperated whole-heartedly with the Recreation Commission. Frankly, without a breach of confidence, I am convinced if Recreation Commission Johnson had his way the Albemarle pool would now be in use. He admits that he heard of the petitions but never saw them.

"With the acceptance of the Board of Aldermen of my request for a public hearing it is my purpose to invite the various civic and social organizations in the city to send representatives to the hearing.

"Commissioner Johnson has available plenty of facts and figures regarding the building of pools throughout the country including the costs. Further, I am sure the MDC and the city authorities in Boston would gladly cooperate with Newton in making available information regarding plans and costs for such projects.

"If any other public spirited citizens wish to cooperate with me like Representative Herter and Alderman Beale I will be glad to hear from them."

While in camp the unit will carry on difficult problems pertaining to supply as well as field training, including firing of various weapons and night march problems.

Will Leave

Cpl. Herbert C. Cole, 112 Quinobequin road, Newton Lower Falls, will leave Saturday, July 21, for Pine Camp where he will undergo two weeks of intensive summer training with his unit, the 304th Armored Cavalry Group. This period is the highlight of the training year and will be devoted to putting to practical field use the lessons studied during weekly winter drills at the Army Base.

During World War II, Cpl. Cole served with the 2nd Armored Division in Europe and was a member of the 304th's rifle team which distinguished itself by breaking the Pine Camp record last year. He is now studying chemical engineering at Northeastern University.

Training With Air Marines At Squantum

Six Newton men are participating in the annual two-week maneuver of the Marine Air Reserve at Squantum Air Base, according to a release issued this week. They are among almost 200 Marine air reservists who assemble at Squantum each year to combine their skills as mechanics, radiomen, ordnancemen, engineers, clerks and pilots in an intensive reserve training program.

The six enlisted men are: Joseph E. Boudreau, Newtonville; Richard M. Edman, Newtonville; Warren M. Evans, West Newton; Frederick W. Simpkins, Newton; Robert F. Tarantino, Newton Upper Falls; and Robert V. Whitney, Newton Highlands.

This year's maneuver has been highlighted by the forming of a new squadron to replace the fighter squadron called to active duty with regular Marine air components during the critical days following the outbreak of the Korean war last summer.

The screening staff consists of two physicians and a public health nurse from the Newton Health Department's Heart Demonstration Program; public health nurse's aides and other health and social organizations.

Medical guidance in planning the heart screening program has been provided by the Cardiac Program Committee, and a group of physicians from the staff of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital. Dr. Walter O. Blanchard is chairman of the Subcommittee on Case Finding.

Public participation has been stimulated by the Heart Committee of the Newton Community Council in cooperation with a village-planning committee. Mrs. Meyer Armet is chairman of the committee; Mrs. Louis Black is chairman of this group's subcommittee of publicity; Mrs. Frances Forgie is chairman of the Subcommittee of Evaluation.

The Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association has prepared posters and fliers for publicizing the program, and the Newton-Wellesley Hospital has contributed examining tables and screens for the program. The Newton Street Department has offered to transport equipment and making signs and the Engineering Department has helped by multilithing educational materials for the program.

Many residents of the Nonantum-Newtonville area are helping plan and carry out the program under the guidance of the following planning committee: Mr. Carmen A. Vitti, 582 California street, and Mrs. Gerald M. Schwartz, 152 Crafts street, co-chairmen; Mr. James B. DiAngelo, 112 Chapel street; Mrs. Irving Feldman, 222A Pearl street; Mrs. Carl J. Grip, 39 Bemis street; Mrs. Eliot F. Rogers, 29 North street; Mrs. Leonard F. Simonds, 568 California street; and Mrs. Jennie Venditti, 64 Chapel street.

Each committee member is chairman of a subcommittee which will conduct a house-to-house canvass to help residents make appointments for the screening tests.

Nonantum

Lester Kron, Sammy Freid's Hungarian Ward, was recently promoted to Staff-Sergeant. He visited his Nonantum friends on a ten-day pass from Fort Breckinridge, Kentucky, where he has the responsibility of training new paratroopers. After the American liberation, Sgt. Kron came to the U. S. in November, 1949, immediately paying his debt to this country by becoming a member of its armed forces.

In the short time that he was here he spent about three months with the Army in Korea where he was wounded and shipped back to a Fort Devens hospital for six months. The newly appointed sergeant has desires of making a career out of the service.

Richard Veduccio, son of the Police Department's ex-Chief Nicolas Veduccio, was appointed to the police force on July 10, making a count of three brothers in the department. Prior to this, the only other Newton family with three brothers on the force was the Jenkins family of 235 Crafts street, Newton. They are: Walter F. Jenkins on duty in Nonantum, James E. in Newton Corner, and Charles E. in Waban. All three have each spent at least thirty years on the force.

Stephan Paul Tabaldi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Tabaldi of 63 Gardner street, was baptized at the Church of Our Lady on July 1, with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Iadonisi of Cambridge as godparents. Baby Tabaldi was born at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital on June 1.

Spotted Touch-Me-Not

Gusts of wind help many wild plants to scatter their seeds, but the Spotted Touch-Me-Not doesn't need the aid of passing breezes. Its seeds are locked inside small, oblong pods. At the slightest touch, the pods burst open, flinging seeds all around.

The pressure may come from the weight of a falling twig or from a bird brushing against the plant. Sometimes, too, the stem of the Touch-Me-Not itself may move just enough to jiggle the pod. Then it explodes, just as if some tiny hand had pulled a hidden trigger.

As a matter of fact, though, the pod doesn't always wait to be touched. The National Wildlife Federation says that there comes a moment when it can't remain closed any longer. At this stage of ripeness, the pod bursts by itself.

The secret of the explosion is to be found in the way that the pod is built. It is constructed of an elastic plant material and made so it will open into five coils. When fully grown and ripe, it is ready to lose the shape of a pod and let its coils unwind. Instead of unfolding slowly, as the petals of a flower do, the coils jump out, as though they were tiny metal springs.

The plant which bears these amazing pods is a member of the jewel-weed family. Sometimes it stops growing at a height of two feet, but it may keep on until it is six feet tall. Spreading out from the main stalk are slender branches which bear long, narrow leaves, as well as the pods and delicate flowers.

The flowers are pale orange or gold, and they are dotted with reddish-brown freckles Each bloom is about an inch long and rather slender. Deep inside is a generous amount of nectar. Darting hummingbirds, with their long bills, have no trouble in reaching the tempting sweetness. But bees have to force their way between the petals to get their share of the blossom's treasure

While the flowers bloom from July through September, you'll have to tramp to some out-of-the-way places to see them With a liking for moist soil and shade, Spotted Touch-Me-Nots grow on low ground which stays wet much of the time Often they are found along ditches and streams and in damp woodlands.

According to the National Wildlife Federation, the plants thrive over a wide range of territory. They do well all the way from parts of lower Canada southward through the United States to Florida and west to Missouri and Nebraska.

GOP Better Able to Draft Eisenhower

If General Dwight D. Eisenhower is a candidate for President next year, it probably will be on the Republican ticket because the G.O.P. members are in a position to promote a draft-Eisenhower boom while the Democrats aren't.

Neither Democrats nor Republicans can state with certainty what Eisenhower's political leanings are, and it's quite possible that his views are somewhere in between those of President Truman and Senator Taft.

Sizeable groups in each political party would like to see Eisenhower nominated on their slate next year, each for the same reason. They believe he could defeat any candidate the other side could put up.

You could safely assume that if the professional politicians in either the Democratic or Republican parties were hand-picking a President, it would not be Eisenhower because of their uncertainty as to the degree of party regularity he would maintain in the White House.

But they aren't hand-picking a President. They're trying to select a candidate who could win, and they figure that Eisenhower comes closer to meeting that requirement, whatever his shortcomings from a political standpoint might be, than anyone else they might select.

With both parties talking about the possibility of backing Eisenhower, the Republicans are in a position to do something about wooing Eisenhower politically while the Democrats aren't.

A number of prominent G. O. P. figures, including Governor Dewey of New York and Senator Duff of Pennsylvania, are planning to stage a draft movement for the purpose of showing Eisenhower that the Republican Presidential nomination can be his if he wants it.

The Democrats can't do that, at least not now. President Truman is still the high man on their political totem pole, and unless and until he announces that he won't be a candidate for reelection they can't do any come-hither beckoning to Eisenhower.

Because of this it's possible that the Democrats may be caught with their draft down and may see the Republicans wrap up Eisenhower as a Presidential prospect while they are still awaiting some word from Mr. Truman as to what he's going to do.

While the opinion on the matter is by no means unanimous, most of the persons closest to President Truman are convinced that he will stand for another term next year.

As a matter of political strategy, however, the President could hardly say so now if he weren't going to run again because if he did he would have a very difficult time maintaining any real degree of control over Congress, and that could be the reason he is being so coy concerning his future plans.

The Eisenhower backers in the Republican ranks are under no such handicap. They simply have to conduct their movement cautiously and conservatively lest they make a mistake that would embarass Eisenhower in his present assignment and cause him to repudiate them.

There has been some speculation as to whether Eisenhower is aware of the attempt by a bloc of Republicans to promote him as a candidate for the Presidency and, if so, what his silence concerning it means.

It seems reasonably safe to assume that Eisenhower knows what is going on. The fact that he has not halted the movement with a pronouncement does not necessarily mean that he will agree to be a candidate when events require him to make a statement.

In one sense, Eisenhower is in the same position as President Truman when it comes to saying he won't run. The fact that he might be the next President of the United States adds enormously to his prestige in Western Europe and helps him in what he is attempting to do.

General Eisenhower has made two conflicting statements which are partly responsible for the doubt that exists as to whether he would agree to run for the Presidency on either national ticket.

Back in 1948 he practically foreswore public office and expressed the conviction that office-holding was not for professional soldiers under the fundamental concept of our political system. More recently he is reputed to have said that no patriotic citizen could refuse a draft call. There is no question but that Eisenhower considers himself both a professional soldier and a patriotic citizen.

Unless Eisenhower steps in and stops the movement being launched in his behalf, his name will be submitted next year to the voters in the Presidential primaries in some 15 States, including Massachusetts, where delegates to the national conventions are elected by popular vote.

Meanwhile, the Democrats have no real alternative but to stand by as onlookers while the Republicans attempt to sew up Eisenhower as a candidate.

Social Responsibility Talk At Wellesley Summer Institute

"Issues That Arouse Our Sense of Social Responsibility" is the topic to be discussed this evening (Thursday, July 19th) at 8:15 in Billings Hall at the Wellesley Summer Institute for Social Progress by Edward C. Lindeman of New York, lecturer and author of "Social Education."

M. Louise Walworth, 100 Homer street, of Newton is chairman of the Institute's executive committee and many local residents are attending the lectures and round tables.

Problems of labor management, peace planning, price control and inflation were discussed this past week at lecture and round-table sessions.

Benjamin Graham, vice president of the New York Stock Exchange Institute and an associate professor at Columbia, expressed his views in favor of price control in a talk on "Stemming Inflation" early this week (Monday, July 16). "As long as we have reason to fear that a third world war is a real possibility, I am inclined to favor the continuance of the basic control program," he said.

"While this program is undoubtedly a troublesome thing to live with, and while it may in fact prove to have been quite unnecessary, I think that it has the same justification as our huge arms program itself," he added.

John Daniels, widely known as a writer and lecturer in the field of labor-management, discusses his plan for industrial teamwork in a round-table discussion on Monday. Wednesday afternoon's speaker in the labor management round table was Gus Tyler, director of the political department, International Ladies' Garment Workers Union. Tomorrow afternoon (Friday, July 20) Francis McPeek, director of industrial relations, the Council for Social Action, Congregational Christian Churches of the U.S.A., will speak on "Can Industrial Relations be Ethical?" at 2 p.m. in Tower Court.

In another talk on inflation, John Harriman, Boston Globe columnist, told the Institute that the danger of inflation is still before us.

"The government's cash outlay now of 1½ billion per month will increase to nearly four billion a month by late fall." Just at the time when the armament program is swinging into full play there will be more to spend and less goods because of military needs.

Harriman recommended the four means to avoid inflation outlined by Bernard Baruch—increased production, higher taxes, a fiscal and credit policy, and price controls. "Until we make up our minds to use all four of these means," he said, "we will face a grave inflation danger."

Professor George N. Halm of Tufts College spoke on "Economic Cooperation: Key to Free World Strength." He emphasized the importance of the United States maintaining a high level of employment. "If we cannot fully accomplish this aim, we should give larger loans abroad so as to compensate for the falling off of imports as a result of a low national income," he said.

Dr. Alan Burr Overstreet, faculty chairman of the Institute, will close the 19th annual session on Saturday morning (July 21) with a panel discussion led by faculty members entitled "Meeting the Crisis and Accepting the Challenge." Theme of the Institute this year was "East and West — Crisis and Challenge."

The assurance that man's Life is immortal, indestructible, and wholly spiritual will be elucidated in Christian Science services next Sunday. The Lesson-Sermon is on the subject: "Life."

The Golden Text is from Romans: "The wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord." (6:23).

Among the selections read from the Bible (King James Version) will be this from Luke: "For he is not a God of the dead, but of the living: for all live unto him." (20:38).

Correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will include the following: "Life is without beginning and without end." (468:27) . . . "We all must learn that Life is God." 496:9) . . . "Because Life is God, Life must be eternal, self-existent." (289:32-1).

(1) We don't tie springs just 4 or 6 ways—we tie them fully 8 ways and with special twine.

(2) We don't just glue loose frames—we tear out old dowels, replace them with larger and new ones. We add brand new corner blocks.

(3) We don't tack seams at just the obvious spots—we hand sew seams throughout the piece.

(4) The welting isn't simulated—it's separate, individually made — that means it's stronger.

(5) The seams on the sides and backs aren't blind-tacked—all the seams are handsewn.

(6) We don't use ordinary fibre or excelsior—we use the new, expensive moss filling.

(7) We don't just repair your cushions—we make brand new cushions, springs and all.

(8) We don't put the fabric on carelessly—we make sure the pattern matches perfectly.

(9) We don't just cut from a pattern—we fit your cover as carefully as a tailor-made suit.

(10) We don't settle for second-best materials—we use only the highest quality throughout.

Roy L. Springer

Roy L. Springer of 41 Cotter road, Waban, formerly of Newton Upper Falls, passed away recently at his home.

Born in Franklin, Mass., the son of Warren Springer of Franklin and Rose Bulter Springer of Kittery, Maine, Mr. Springer was married to the former Rose Powers, who survives him. He was employed as a maintenance engineer for a textile company.

Survivors include his wife and five children, Frederick, Warren, and Roy, and Mrs. Martin Dailey and Mrs. John Allen.

Funeral services were held from the Joseph A. Fallon Funeral Home Needham on Tuesday, July 17, at eight o'clock followed by a high mass of requiem at nine at the Church of St. Philip Neri in Waban. Interment was in St. Mary's Cemetery, Needham.

WILLIAM J. COLLINS

William J. Collins, of 160 Melrose street, Auburndale, died suddenly at his home last week at the age of 53.

He was born in South Boston, the son of the late William J. and Margaret (McColgan) Collins, and lived in Newton for 20 years. He was employed by the New England Telephone and Telegraph Comany, Boston, and belonged to the International Brotherhood of Telephone Workers.

Surviving him are his wife, Kathryn R. (Keating) Collins; two sons, Sgt. William Collins Jr., U. S. Marines, stationed at Little Creek, Va., and Cpl. Donald Collins, U. S. Marines, stationed at Camp Lejeune, N. C.; a daughter, Miss Barbara Collins of Auburndale; and four sisters, Mrs. Grace Murray of Jamaica Plain, Mrs. George Kelly of Dorchester, Miss Mary and Miss Margaret Collins, both of Dorchester.

The funeral was held from the Thomas J. Lyons Funeral Home, West Newton, with a solemn requiem mass in Corpus Christi Church. Burial was in Holyhood Cemetery, Brookline.

CATHERINE E. HARRIS

After a brief illness, Mrs. Catherine E. (McMahon) Harris of 120 Adams avenue, West Newton, wife of the late Harry Harris, died Sunday at her home.

The daughter of the late Patrick and Mary McMahon, she was born in Wellesley and made her home in Newton for 10 years.

She leaves five sons, Walter of West Newton, Clifford of Somerville, Leonard of Brookline, William of Somerville and Roger of Waltham; two sisters, Miss Mary E. McMahon of West Newton and Mrs. Elizabeth R. Connelly of West Newton; two brothers, Daniel J. and Eugene McMahon, both of West Newton, and 14 grandchildren.

The funeral was held from her home on Wednesday with a requiem high mass in St. Bernard's Church in West Newton. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

ANGELO PARRILLO

Funeral services were held for Angelo Parrillo, 38, on Tuesday from the home of his mother, Mrs. Maria Parrillo, 30 Beecher place, Newton Centre, with a solemn mass of requiem at the Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre, at 9 o'clock.

Born in Boston, he was the son of Mrs. Maria (Genette) Parrillo and the late Joseph Parillo. He came to Newton as a small child and was educated in the Newton schools, graduating from Newton High School in 1931.

He leaves his wife, the former Antonette DeLuca, and three children, Anna Marie, Linda, and Joseph, all of Boston. Also two brothers, Guido and Pasquale of Newton Centre, and two sisters, Mrs. Ann Marie Vasquez and Mrs. Emily Fiore of Newton Centre.

Burial was at Holyhood Cemetery, Brookline.

Aldrich Rd Made Through St. To Aid Traffic Flow

Another step was taken this week to eliminate the traffic tie-up that results at Galen and Watertown Streets during the rush hours.

Lt. Andrew Donnelly, head of the local Traffic Dept., announced that Aldrich Rd., has been made a through street from Galen to Watertown Sts.

Motorists travelling on Watertown St. can take a right turn into Aldrich Rd. to Galen St., by-passing the lights at the bridge.

The opening of Aldrich Rd. will be a big boon to shoppers as that street leads into the big A&P parking area that accomodates 165 cars. Additional cars can also be parked in the lot by Sharaf's Restaurant which is adjacent to the A&P Supermarket.

Another advantage to be gained is the elimination of the necessity of motorists driving down Galen St. from Newton having to circle the Delta in order to get onto Watertown St. without violating the no left turn law.

Now they may turn left from Galen St. into Aldrich Rd. and left again if they want to go up Watertown or California streets.

The extension of Aldrich road is a project that has taken over more than two years and which necessitated a special Legislative Act to permit the Town to use a part of the Parker playground in building the extension.

(WATERTOWN HERALD—JULY 13, 1951)

Aldrich Rd. Opened, Will Ease Strain On Square

Although the work of applying the final surface is not completed, Aldrich road, between Galen street and Watertown street, has been opened to traffic in both directions and is expected to be of marked assistance in lessening traffic pressure at Galen and Watertown streets, as well as in the Square.

For one thing, it will do away with the necessity of motorists, who drive down Galen street from Newton, having to circle the Delta in the Square in order to get onto Watertown street without violating the old rule against a left turn at that point.

Under new conditions, they may turn left from Galen street into Aldrich road and turn left again if they wish to go up Watertown street or California street. Conversely, those coming down Watertown or California streets and bound for points on the South Side may leave Watertown street to drive through Aldrich road. It will also be a convenience for those wishing to shop at stores in the area.

The extension of Aldrich road is a project that has required more than two years and which necessitated a special Legislative Act to permit the Town using a part of the Parker playground in building the extension.

The surfacing of the street will soon be completed.

LAND COURT

To Ralph Orrill, Trustee, Mario D'Ercole and Eugenio D'Ercole, of Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; Ruth Cimerblatt, of Brookline, in the County of Norfolk and said Commonwealth; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by James J. Egan and Alice L. Egan, of Boston, in the County of Suffolk and said Commonwealth, to register and confirm their title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Newton, bounded and described as follows:

Northerly by Boylston Street 134.75 feet; Easterly and Northerly by land now or formerly of Mario G. D'Ercole et ux 111.52 feet and 12.58 feet respectively; Southeasterly by land now or formerly of Ruth Cimerblatt 316.39 feet; Southwesterly by Florence Street 135.65 feet; and Northwesterly by land now or formerly of Ralph Orrill, Trustee 363.21 feet.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

If you desire to make any objection or defense to said petition you or your attorney must file a written appearance and an answer under oath, setting forth clearly and specifically your objections or defense to each part of said petition, in the office of the Recorder of said Court in Boston (at the Court House), on or before the thirtieth day of July, next.

Unless an appearance is so filed by or for you, your default will be recorded, the said petition will be taken as confessed and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

CITY OF NEWTON

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS

Sealed proposals for the construction of an elementary school to be located on property between Nos. 441 and 495 Lowell Avenue, Newtonville, Massachusetts, will be received by the Public Buildings Commissioner, City Hall, Newton Center 59, Massachusetts, until 2 o'clock p. m., Eastern Daylight Saving Time, Wednesday, August 1, 1951, and at that place and time publicly opened and read aloud. All branches of the work will be included in the general contract.

All proposals shall be in duplicate on form furnished by said Commissioner. One of these copies (the original) is to be submitted to the Public Buildings Commissioner, accompanied by a certified check on a national bank or trust company in the sum of Twenty Thousand Dollars ($20,000.00) payable to and to become the property of the City of Newton if the proposal is accepted and the bidder neglects or refuses to comply with the terms of the proposal. The other copy of the proposal (without check) shall be submitted by the bidder to the Comptroller of Accounts, at Newton City Hall, 1000 Commonwealth Avenue, Newton Centre 59, Massachusetts, prior to the time set for the opening of bids (as required by the Ordinances of the City of Newton, Chapter 2, Section 22).

Plans and specifications may be obtained from the Architects, Maginnis & Walsh, 126 Newbury Street, Boston 16, Massachusetts, beginning at 2 p. m., Eastern Daylight Saving Time, Monday, July 16, 1951, on the deposit of $20.00 in cash or certified check payable to the City of Newton. The deposit will be refunded on return of the plans and the specifications in good condition, title to all plans and specifications remaining in the City at all times.

A surety company bond by a company satisfactory to the Mayor of the City of Newton, and in an amount equal to one hundred per cent (100%) of the contract price will be required from the successful bidder. The surety bond will be required from the general contractor only and will cover the work of his sub-contractors.

Attention is called to the fact that minimum wage rates are established for the work and are as set forth in the contract documents, in accordance with the requirements of Chapter 461, Mass. Acts of 1935.

The Public Buildings Commissioner reserves the right to accept or to reject any proposal, and to award the contract as he may deem to be for the best interests of the City of Newton, and any contract made will be made subject to appropriations and grants to meet payments thereunder.

ARTHUR CAMPBELL,
Public Buildings Commissioner.

LAND COURT
Case No. 14686
(SEAL) EQUITY

To WILLIAM M. JOHNSTON, EMILY J. JOHNSTON, now or formerly of Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; JOHN H. JOHNSTON, now or formerly of Worcester, in the County of Worcester and said Commonwealth, JAMES B. JOHNSTON, now or formerly of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk and said Commonwealth, GEORGE E. TAYLOR, ALICE JOHNSTON TAYLOR, JOHN A. ENMAN and GRACE JOHNSTON ENMAN, now or formerly of said Newton, or their Heirs, Devisees, or Legal Representatives:

GREETING:

WHEREAS, a suit in equity has been begun in our Land Court by WILLIAM M. HOWARD, formerly William M. Hurwitz, of said Newton, representing that he is the owner of certain land situated in said Newton, fronting on Cotton Street, that in the chain of title affecting said land there appears a deed from William M. Johnston, et al., to William Johnston dated July 31, 1920 and recorded in the Middlesex South Registry of Deeds, Book 4338, Page 413 which deed contained the clause that the same was subject to any outstanding mortgage; that it was the intention of the petitioners that the conveyance was to be made subject to an outstanding mortgage of record but that through mistake the words "of record" were omitted from the deed, and praying that said deed be amended accordingly.

WE COMMAND YOU, if you intend to make any defense, that on the FOURTH day of SEPTEMBER next, which day is the return day of this subpoena, or within such further time as the law allows, you do cause your written appearance to be entered and your written answer or other lawful pleading to be filed in the office of the Recorder of said Court at Boston, in the County of Suffolk and further, that you defend against said suit according to law, if you intend to make any defense, and that you do and receive what the Court shall order, adjudge and decree therein.

Hereof fail not, at your peril, as otherwise said suit may be adjudged and orders and decrees entered therein, in your absence.

And it appearing to the Court upon the suggestion of the plaintiffs that the whereabouts of some of the defendants are unknown and that they cannot be served with process,

IT IS ORDERED that notice of this suit be given by publishing a copy of this subpoena once each week for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in said Newton, the last publication to be one month at least before the said fourth day of September next.

Witness, JOHN E. FENTON, Esquire, Judge of our Land Court, the sixteenth day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifty-one.

Miss Althea Harris Weds Arthur Jackson of Lynn

John W. Harris of Newton Highlands, gave his daughter, Althea R. Harris, in marriage to Arthur W. Jackson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Jackson, Sr., of East Lynn. Dr. H. Daniel Hawver officiated at the double ring ceremony, which was held in the Newton Center Methodist Church Saturday. White gladioli, carnations, and greens decorated the church.

The bride's satin gown had a sweetheart neckline embroidered with seed pearls, a full skirt and a long train. Her illusion veil was held by a crown of pearl orange blossoms. She carried a colonial bouquet of stephanotis, white sweet peas, and gladioli.

Mrs. Henderson Stern, of Marblehead, was matron of honor, wearing a white organza gown, embossed with lily of the valley over orchid taffeta. She wore matching mitts and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow gladioli, marguerites, and lavender sweet peas. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Wilbur Austin, of Holliston; and Mrs. Laurence Aulinback of Lexington, were dressed like the matron of honor, except that their gowns were green. Yellow marguerites, yellow gladioli and feverfew formed their bouquets. Miss Barbara Linda Stern of Marblehead was a pretty flower girl in her dress of yellow organza over taffeta, with a skirt ruffle caught up by orchid bows. Her miniature colonial bouquet matched that of her mother, the matron of honor.

Mr. Kenneth M. Jackson ushered for his brother, as did Mr. Henderson Stern of Marblehead, Mr. Charles F. Sanborn of East Lynn, Mr. Winthrop E. Sears, of Nahant, and Mr. James M. Stone, Jr. of Swampscott.

Mrs. Harris chose a gown of hyacinth blue crepe with pale pink hat and gloves. Mrs. Jackson's gown was pearl grey with white accessories.

After the reception, which followed the ceremony in the church parlors, the couple left for a wedding trip to Lake George Region and upper New York State. They will be home after August first, at 4 Rainbow circle, South Peabody.

The bride was graduated from Newton High School and Lesley College, where she belonged to Beta Sigma Phi sorority. She taught in Attleboro before her marriage. The groom graduated from Lynn English High School.

Vet's Sendoff For 3 Newton Men

Three Newton selectees were honored with sendoff ceremonies Tuesday morning at registration headquarters at 430 Walnut street, Newtonville, the special program headed by William J. Maloney, United Veteran Organization chairman, assisted by Fred W. Sawyer, commander of the Sgt. George O. Carson Post, American Legion.

The city's three-man quota for this month was filled by Thomas Alfred Jr., of 185 Franklin street, Newton; Paul Francis Regan, 25 Aberdeen street, Newton Highlands; and Edmund Thomas Collins, formerly of 117 Nonantum street, Newton, now of 92 Lyall street, West Roxbury.

The men left by train at 8 a.m. for the Army Base in Boston from where they will go to Fort Devens for further assignment. In the absence of Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood, the city of Newton was represented by Alderman Arthur Scipione of Ward 2, who offered the appreciation of the citizens of Newton.

Principal speaker for the morning's ceremonies was Rev. Sylvio W. Barrette, pastor of St. John's Church in Nonantum, and a veteran of World War I. Rev. Barrette urged the selectees to keep in close touch with their parents and friends back home, and to acquaint themselves with their chaplain while in the service.

Also present were Ralph L. Maddocks Jr., past commander of the Chaplain William J. Farrell Chapter, DAV, and Elmer E. King, past commander of the United Spanish War Veterans of Newton, who presented each man with a pen and pencil set, donated by the United Veterans Organization. Miss Maida Flanders of the Newton Red Cross served lunch for the group, which also included Edmund T. Dungan, commissioner of veterans' services for the city of Newton, and Charles Duke, member of Newton Post, American Legion.

Bronze Star For Heroism In Korea

WITH THE THIRD INF. DIV. IN KOREA—Private First Class Richard Van Why, of Newton, Mass., has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal with "V" device for heroism in action, Third Infantry Division headquarters has announced.

Pfc. Van Why, the husband of Mrs. Doris M. Van Why, of 38 Elm street, Newton, is a member of Heavy Tank Company of the 7th Infantry Regiment.

The action for which Pfc. Van Why was decorated occurred near Chong San-myen, Korea, when Pfc. Van Why's tank unit was attacked by hostile forces. During the battle that followed, one of the tanks in the platoon became disabled and its occupants were forced to abandon the vehicle.

When Pfc. Van Why saw that one of the crewmen had been wounded as he dismounted, he disregarded the safety of himself, left the cover of the tank and assisted the wounded soldier to his own seat in the vehicle while he remained outside, completely exposed to flying shrapnel.

While in this precarious position, he was wounded by a mortar shell fragment.

Rotary Club Hears Rev. John Miller

Rev. John U. Mller, Pastor, First Baptist Church of Boston, addressing the Newton Rotary Club last Monday, spoke of his experiences as an Air Force chaplain, and chose as his subject, "Winged Victory."

His experiences with the armed forces reconvinced him that man was created to have communion with God. Rev. Miller found that as he went across the Pacific that this was brought to him again and again.

He cited an instance of an ensign aboard ship with spinal meningitis. There were no drugs to treat hm. He does not ascribe recovery to one thing or another, but a great many prayers were said for this ensign, and many things happened which in his estimation were modern miracles. He said that only one plane could go out for night fighting against the Japs, and yet they held on. In the jungle the missionary school and church of the Anglican missionaries had a cross which the Air force men made for them battered out of shell cases.

He described going into Manilla after the main battle with death and destruction still around to find many of the Catholic priests had stayed there all through the difficulties and maintained their faith and possessions. In conclusion he said that in his opinion he felt that it was not whether one was Protestant, Jewish, or Catholic, but whether they are children of light or darkness, and as far as ultimate victory is concerned, it would not be by armada, but by use of prayer.

Rev. Miller was introduced by Willard S. Pratt, and President Frederick A. Hawkins presided. Visitors included Jack Walsh, Waltham; James Miller, Providence; George DeCoen, Stanley Porter and Joe Dunn, Watertown; Daniel Newman, Needham; Sal DeFazio and Fred Rust, Wellesley; A. F. McWilliams and Russell Cameron, Boston; and Alton Crane, Belfast, Maine.

Toastmasters Club Hold July Meeting

The Newton Toastmasters Club held its July meeting this week at the Hammonswood in Chestnut Hill. Invited guests were the members of clubs in Boston, Quincy, Wakefield, and Wellesley — a total of 38 were present.

Master of Ceremonies and Toastmaster for the evening was Richard Halloran of Newton Highlands, who introduced William Medlicott of Auburndale as Topicmaster. The latter handed out some thirty topics and introduced each member present who talked on the assigned subject for two minutes. These topics were patented after the papers of Boswell and Johnson with three men discussing each of the following subjects: Field and Stream, Plays and Players, Technology, Growing Older, Paying the Piper, Games and Gambolers, and Toastmasters.

After each series of talks, the previous speakers were evaluated as to appearance, delivery, and speech content.

Following the extemporaneous session, Mr. Halloran introduced two speakers. Fred Astley of Wakefield, who talked on the subject "Super Polymers," the story of nylon; and George Joseph of Wellesley, speaking on "Three Feet to Success," each for two minutes.

Walter Downing of Wellesley served as Master Evaluator of the evening giving his opinions of the overall tempo of the meeting together with references to specific speakers.

Mr. Richard O'Brien, New England District Governor of Toastmasters International, also spoke his impressions and complimented the Newton Club upon its fine program.

Although the formal activities of the Newton Toastmasters Club 833 have been suspended for the summer, the weekly meetings will begin once again in September.

Rep. Rawson Aids Fight To Defeat Bill

Last Wednesday the House calendar carried a bill (House 2292) to establish a statistical bureau in the Division of Insurance, providing that the companies writing compulsory automobile insurance should reimburse the Commonwealth for the cost of its maintenance.

Representative George E. Rawson of the 4th Middlesex District, told the House that this was a clever ruse to set up a state-wide flat rate for compulsory automobile insurance through the back door. He called attention to the fact that in last November's referendum, the voters had repudiated the flat rate by a two to one vote—10 to one in Newton.

Rawson invited those whose constituents voted against the flat rate last fall to vote as their constituents had done. He also informed the House that the bill would add a larger number of employees to the insurance department which would result in the support of the insurance companies, thereby increasing the cost of insurance.

The Representative from the 4th district further stated the insurance companies would still have to maintain their own rating bureau, because the compulsory law does not apply to the supplementary coverage and to property damage. The House defeated the bill 140 to 77 on a roll call vote, and refused reconsideration.

To Command Bethseda Hospital

Navy Capt. Bartholomew W. Hogan, 50, formerly of West Newton, will become the new commanding officer of the United States Naval Hospital at Bethesda, Md., this week. Educated at Boston College and Tufts Medical School, Capt. Hogan has two sisters and a brother living in Newton. They are Mrs. Kenneth Anderson of 40 Lennox street, West Newton; Mrs. Jenny Farrell and Leo Hogan, both living at 2073 Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale.

Born in West Quincy but growing up in West Newton, Capt. Hogan served briefly as acting commander of the hospital in 1949 and for the past year has headed the United States Naval Medical School connected with the hospital.

During World War II he served aboard the carried Wasp as senior medical officer under the late chief of naval operations, Forrest P. Sherman of Melrose, who was the skipper when the Wasp sank off Guadalcanal on September 15, 1942.

As director of the Navy Medical School, Capt. Hogan has supervised training of doctors and corpsmen, many who are now serving in Korea.

Capt. Hogan will move to the commanding officer's quarters on the hospital grounds with his wife Grace and three children. They are Bartholomew Jr., 15; Thomas III, 11; and Mary, 3½. Their former home was in Chevy Chase, Md.

Reports to Naval Base at Newport

Ernest Albert Fontecchio, Seaman Recruit, USN, son of Mr. Samuel Fontecchio, 400 Langley road, Newton Centre, has reported to the Recruit Training Command, U. S. Naval Training Station at Newport, R. I., where he will undergo an eleven-week indoctrination course.

While at Newport Fontecchio will attend classes which include such subjects as seamanship, fire fighting, gunnery, swimming and life saving. Military drill and athletics round out a full day of instruction.

During their training recruits are given liberty frequently to visit nearby cities and towns. Off-duty hours may be spent participating in recreational and social functions provided on the Station.

Graduated in one of four general classifications, seaman apprentice, airman apprentice, fireman apprentice, or construction apprentice, recruits are assigned to ships and shore stations throughout the world. Many recruits are selected for immediate advanced training at various service schools.

Local Chapter Assists in Fund for Mid-Western Flood

The Newton Red Cross is receiving contributions for the Special Disaster Fund for the Mid-western floods, which has been announced by President Truman. Although Red Cross has already allocated one million dollars of its current funds for relief work in this area, estimated needs will far exceed the resources of the National Organization.

Individuals who wish to contribute to the flood sufferers are urged to send their contributions to the Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, 21 Foster street, Newtonville.

In an official communication to the Chapter this week, National Red Cross stated that an estimated total of 45,880 families have been affected by the floods. Of these, 17,075 have already registered with Red Cross for assistance. At present 80 shelters are being operated by the Red Cross in 64 counties, 17,551 persons being housed in these shelters and 42,686 persons being fed by Red Cross. The real work of the Red Cross in the flood area is just beginning. Emergency needs have been met but for many months Red Cross will still be on the job assisting the victims to rebuild their houses and resume their normal way of living. All assistance given will be on the basis of need of the families affected and will be given outright, not lent.

Appointed to Workshop Staff

Miss Barbara M. Shields of 17 Park street, Newton, has been appointed a physical therapist for the Worcester Curative Workshop operated by the Bay State Society for the Crippled and Handicapped, Inc., the Easter Seal Agency, it was announced today by Charles S. Wilson, the Society's Executive Director.

Miss Shields, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Shields, is a graduate of Newton High School and Boston University College of Physical Education for Women and is a member of the American Physical Therapy Association.

Before coming to the Workshop, she was a member of the staff of the Lakeville State Sanitorium.

BARBARA M. SHIELDS

The Workshop, in the headquarters building of the Bay State Society at 30 Highland street, Worcester, provides training and treatment for orthopedically handicapped children and adults. The staff includes another physical therapist and an occupational therapist besides Mrs. Doris N. Hemmendinger, its director. The Workshop's program is guided by a Medical Advisory Board composed of leading physicians from the community.

Funds for the Center's operation come from the money raised in the Society's annual Easter Seal drive. It is one of several centers which the Society operates throughout the state for the crippled and handicapped, without regard to race or creed.

Elected Member Of Institute

Robert J. Henley of 72 Pine Grove avenue, Newton Lower Falls, certified public accountant, has been elected a member of the American Institute of Accountants, national professional society of CPAs. He has been associated for the past three years with the Boston office of Darmody, Todd & Co., public accounting firm.

Mr. Hanley, who was born in Watertown, is a graduate of the College of the Holy Cross, in Worcester. He holds a CPA certificate from the State of Massachusetts, obtained by written examination, and is a member of the Massachusetts Society of Certified Public Accountants.

At Squantum With Marines

Several Newton men are among the 200 greater-Boston Marine reservists that are taking part in the annual maneuvers at the Squantum Naval Air Base in Quincy. Among the enlisted men are former Air Scouts, Pfc. Bob Whitney and Pfc. Ernest Boudreau, both of Newton and pals since boyhood, who were charter members of Air Scout Squadron 1 established and sponsored by the Newton Rotary Club in 1946.

In 1947 four of the Scouts joined the Marine Air Reserve at Squantum. Sgt. Christy Tarantino of Newton Highlands and Cpl. Albert Duckworth of Newton Centre were activated with VMF-235 last year and are now on duty with the air-borne marines. Also with VMF-235 is Richard McLoughlin of Newton Highlands.

Other Newton reservists at Squantum with Whitney and Boudreau in VMF-217 and the newly formed VMF-322 are S-Sgt. Frederick W. Simpkins, Pfc. Richard M. Edman, and Pfc. Warren M. Evans.

During the two weeks from July 15 to 29, more than two hundred greater-Boston Marine reservists are taking part in their annual maneuvers at the Squantum Naval Air Station in Quincy. These flying leathernecks and their crew members are training with two Marine Air reserve squadrons to maintain air readiness with modern Corsair fighters.

Invited Guests At Summer Camp

Among the honored guests invited to the Annual Open House and Vistors' Day at Morgan Memorial's Fresh Air Camp at South Athol on Wednesday were Stephen P. Mungar of Newtonville and Frederick McIntyre of West Newton.

Several hundred persons participated in the affair which was held on a 769-acre camp site in the foothills of the Berkshires, one of the oldest summer camps for the underprivileged in the nation. The camp was thrown open to the public so that all the facilities and activities of the many separate camps for all ages were inspected.

More than 400 campers ranging in ages from three to 82 years and representing all faiths and more than 30 nationalities, are now attending the Fresh Air Camp, which centers about the spring-fed North Spectacle Pond.

Com. Murphy and YMCA's Bacon Support Gath

The preliminary plans for the building of a swimming pool, diving and wading pool, together with a bath house and accompanying facilities at the Albemarle Playground sponsored by Harry Gath, Jr., was given further impetus by James E. Murphy. The former alderman from Ward 1 and present member of the Newton Recreation Commission originated the first official act ever taken by a Newton city government agency advocating the appropriation of $100,000 at the June 13, 1950 meeting of the commission for the building of such facilities.

Commissioner Murphy's motion was seconded by fellow-member, William J. McCarthy. According to the official records of the meeting, the Recreation commission made the recommendation through Commissioner C. Evan Johnson to Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood.

"Mr. Murphy suggested a cost of $100,000," Mr. Gath said. "Plans were presented to the commission for their inspection. Mr. Murphy made a motion that the Commissioner write to the Mayor, asking for an appropriation of $100,000 for the erection of swimming pool and wading pool according to plans, or some similar plans, to be presented at the next regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen.

"The report is no secret to me. Commissioner Johnson read it off to me the other day but until Commissioner Murphy divulged it to me personally I would not make comment. I have the highest respect for Recreation Commissioner Johnson and we are the closest of friends through my sponsorship of city-wide sports

Parents' Night At YMCA Camp

On Thursday evening, July 19 over one hundred and fifty campers and parents attended the first Parents' Night sponsored by Camp Chickami, a Newton YMCA day camp. The event took place at the Riverside Camp Site where activity began with open house. A father vs. son softball game highlighted this part of the program with the sons edging out on a 11-10 decision. Other parents were able to visit the Nature Room and its many living wonders. The craft shop and its numerous handiwork, the woodlore center and other displays representing the camps program.

The second part of the event took the form of an assembly where Mr. John Crosby, chairman of the camp committee, welcomed all present and introduced the staff. The evening concluded with a counselor's skit, presentation of awards and refreshments for all present.

Mr. John E. Danielson, Director of the Camp, Don Robinson, Larry Glavin, Nils Parma, Arthur Postman, Alan Hampe, James Miller, Steve Buchanan, and Phil Himmelfarb, counselors were on hand to direct and describe events.

Aldermen Vote Changes Sick Leave Ordinance By 12-3 In Special Session

By a vote of 12 to 3, important changes in the sick leave and vacation ordinance for city employees was passed at a special meeting of the Newton Board of Aldermen last Thursday night. The new revisions were drawn up to eliminate abuses of the sick leave and to provide more allowances for illness. The board also approved the appointment of a full-time city physician to examine city employees who claim illness.

The special meeting was called after Alderman Leo M. Cannon of Ward 1 raised a charter objection on the voting of the sick leave at last Monday's aldermen's meeting. (A charter objection during the first meeting on an issue forces the aldermen to hold a second meeting.)

Second meeting objections were raised by Alderman Winfred C. Anderson of Ward 7, who felt that the new provisions would cost the city more for enforcement than already lost through violations of the ordinance. But Alderman Clyde S. Casady of Ward Five said that clerical help could be borrowed from other departments and that not every employee claiming sickness would be visited.

Under the new revision, vacations and days off among the various city employees have been equalized, and would grant an additional work week vacation to those employees who have eight years and four months of service. Those who do not have this time accumulated will be promised an extra week of vacation after completion of 100 work days.

This provision, according to the aldermen, will give the employee with less than the specified period of service an incentive to save his sick leave in order to acquire an extra week of vacation.

But while the new revision was in the process of being discussed and voted on, serious objections came from the Newton Police Department, which felt that it was being discriminated against.

Representing the Police Department and engaged by the Newton Police Department Employees Association, Mr. Edmund L. Twomey claimed they would be losing time off under the new plan and policemen woould have less total days off per year. A suggestion was made

Reminder to Vets From Col. Furbish

Men between the ages of 18 and 26, separated from the Armed Forces and not previously registered, are required by law to register at a Selective Service local board within thirty days of the date of their separation. This also applies to those separated from the Coast Guard, the Coast and Geodetic Survey and the Public Health Service.

Colonel Chester A. Furbish, State Director of Selective Service, made that statement today in commenting on reports he said he had received from some of the Massachusetts local boards to the effect that they knew of instances in which the separated men were not complying with the law.

Colonel Furbish quoted Selective Service Regulations as follows:

"Every man who (a) has been separated from active service in the Armed Forces, the Coast Guard, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, or the Public Health Service, (b) has not been registered prior to such separation, and (c) would have been required to be registered except for the fact that he was in such active service on the day or days fixed for his registration by Presidential proclamation, shall present himself for and submit to registration before a local board within the period of thirty days following the date on which he was so separated."

Failure to comply with this Regulation, Colonel Furbish said, is a violation of the Law and makes the subject liable to heavy penalty. The State Director made it plain that it is not necessary for the man to return to his home. He may register at the local board most convenient to him, but he should give his home address when he registers.

Urge Appeal Letters For Branch Post Office

A suggestion for a direct appeal to the U. S. Post Office Department by residents of Nonantum for a branch post office for their area was recommended last Thursday night by Carman Vitti at a meeting of the United Italo-American Organization of Newton, in Columbus Hall.

Mr. Vitti reported to the session that he had just returned from a visit to Washington where he conferred with Congressman Christian A. Herter and was told that a bill requesting one Newton post office with sub-stations directly under it was introduced in the House of Representatives last March 31. The bill has been referred to the Post Office and Civil Service Committee, but it would be some time before definite action is taken.

During the meeting that lasted more than two hours, Mr. Vitti detailed the progress made for the establishment of a convenient postal service in the Nonantum area. He was advised in Washington to submit a report on the number of residents in the district, and the number of business and manufacturing firms to give a more detailed summation for the need of a local postal service.

The members of the attending organizations were asked to urge Nonantum residents to write letters to Congressman Herter emphasizing the inconvenience of using either the Newton Corner, Newtonville, or Watertown post offices. These that the Police Department sick leave remain as it once was, or restore the days lost when the department went on a five-day week. According to the 1950 five-day week ordinance, police employees lost their days off during vacation, and the new ruling created resentment in the department because it cuts the sick leave.

Under the new law the Police Department employees will have total days off per year far short of those granted employees in other departments. Mr. Twomey brought this fact out, saying it would cause discontent and resentment among police department officers, resulting in low morale and impaired efficiency.

Move To Avert Penny Shortage In New England

—o—

The New England family piggy bank may provide the solution to one of the worst penny shortages in local history.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Boston today made a direct public appeal to all New Englanders to turn in pennies to their local banks in an effort to head off a shortage which already has resulted in partial rationing.

The Boston bank, which supplies the needs of banking institutions throughout New England, is literally scraping the bottom of the penny barrel. It needs dimes too and urges New Englanders to turn in their dime banks as well as their penny accumulations.

Coins should NOT be sent to the Federal Reserve Bank but should be turned in at local banking institutions, either for deposit or for currency.

programs while he has been functioning as Commissioner."

In addition, Mr. Gath, having received the endorsement of the building of a swimming pool and additional facilities at Albemarle playground from Rep. Christian A. Herter, Jr. and Alderman-at-large John C. Beale, has merited the support of Frederick S. Bacon, president of the Newton YMCA, whose indoor swimming pool was built in 1912. Mr. Bacon admits that the pool is inadequate for the needs of the male youngsters and adults who want to use it. Mr. Bacon heartily endorses the planning immediately for the building of an outdoor pool at Albemarle, adding that it will be a civic movement for the betterment of all Newton youngsters and adults.

In submitting Mr. Bacon's official statement of president of the Newton YMCA, Mr. Gath said, "Certain it is that separate and apart from the outdoor program of the Recreation Commission, the YMCA serves the indoor needs through the time when the great outdoors in Newton cannot be taken advantage of—but is only for males. What about the little girls, 'teen-agers' and mothers who cannot enjoy such facilities though able and wanting to do so. Definitely, I think Mr. Bacon's statement is a most important one for acceptance by public spirited citizens of Newton."

Mr. Bacon's statement is as follows: "What? Only two places to swim in Newton, a city of 80,000 plus? One public and one private. Crystal Lake for a few weeks a year and the YMCA all year 'round! And swimming is one of the best body building sports and a must for every child physically able.

"The YMCA has for many years advocated swimming for all youngsters and every year this character-building organization teaches thousands to swim.

"The Newton Y's pool is taxed to its limit and does not have the facilities to offer its use to all children of the city. We regret that such is the case.

"The construction of a pool at Albemarle playground would be a tremendous asset and benefit to the residents, especially the children, on the north side of the city. They are surely entitled to as much consideration by the city fathers as those on the south side.

"Anything that can be done to help the physical well being of our children, who will be the men and women to carry on our nation, is worthy of the support of our citizens.

"I heartily endorse the action of Alderman John C. Beale and Representative Christian A. Herter, Jr. in advocating the construction of a pool at Albemarle."

Based upon Mr. Gath's "reactivation" program for the building of the Albemarle swimming pool, there is likelihood that the Horace Mann Associates, who originally sponsored the playground development, will be "reactivated." This organization composing some 300 residents of the area, many of whom as young men served in World War II, who have since married and have children, have full knowledge of the worthiness of Mr. Gath's activity for the building of the swimming facilities at Albemarle.

New England Assembly Of United Church Women

The second New England Assembly of United Church Women will meet at Tower Court, Wellesley Colleye, Tuesday to Thursday, August 14, 15 and 16, bringing together women from six states to confer on interdenominational work for women.

This is the first time since the United Council of Church Women became the Women's Department of the New National Council of Churches, that church women in this area have planned to come together to discuss the Church — under the theme "Bound by God's Far Purpose." A distinguished group of leaders will speak. All church women interested in united service are invited.

On the committee in charge of assembly will be Mrs. Allan Knight Chalmers of Newtonville.

The president of the Women's Department, Mrs. James A. Wyker, makes her first official visit to New England at this time to interpret the Council's program and objectives. Her address is scheduled for the general session at 9 a. m. on Wednesday.

On Tuesday night Miss Luella Reckmeyer, official observer at the United Nations, will talk on "Women in the World Scene." One of a team of 15 American women spending six weeks this summer in Germany consulting with German leaders on the status of women, labor legislation, juvenile delinquency and other social problems confronting women today, she will bring up to the minute news from women in other lands.

On Wednesday at 7:30 p. m., the dean of Boston University's School of Theology, professor of sociology and exponent of the Christian Social Gospel, Dr. Walter G. Muelder will address the Assembly on "Social Christianity in America." Dean Muelder returns to this country from a session of the World Council's Committee of Twenty-five meetings at Geneva.

Miss Davida Ivy Hotz and Mr. Searle B. Rees were married June 30 in the garden at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Lawrence Bjorkholts, 44 Carl street. Mrs. Rees is the daughter of Mrs. Johnson Hotz of Newton Highlands and Mr. Lester Hotz of Norwood. Both the bride and groom are studying in the Boston University School of Medicine. Mrs. Rees is an alumna of the University and her husband is an alumnus of M.I.T.

Mr. Andrew F. Lane of 14 Saxon road, chief of storage and terminal facilities in the Office of Price Stabilization, has been named acting director of the port division.

—o—

Mr. G. Winthrop Brainerd of Manchester road, who has been connected with the Newton School Department since 1924, has been appointed to be the head of the Burr-Williams District in Auburndale. The new Williams School is one of the most modern buildings in our city. The careful planning of convenient details make it a remarkable example of up-to-date production.

Mr. Brainerd served first in Newton as principal of the Horace Mann District where he completed 19 years of most creditable direction. He was then advanced, taking charge of the Stearns-Lincoln-Eliot District on the retirement of Mr. Kenelm Winslow.

Mr. Brainerd is now dean of Elementary principals, taking the place of Mr. William A. Leighton, former dean, who died last year. He won his Bachelor's degree at Amherst College, and his Master's degree at Teachers' College, Columbia University, early in the 1900s.

Newton-Wellesley A Good Place To Work Says Personnel Directors

"The Newton-Wellesley Hospital is a good place to work," says Miss Gertrude Loud, Personnel Officer at the hospital, who makes her home in Waban. "The mere fact that our employees stay with us for long periods is one indication that they like working in the hospital. In one department alone, the average length of service has reached the impressive figure of eighteen years."

There are several reasons why this is true according to Miss Loud. At the hospital one finds that one is working in clean, pleasant surroundings with congenial people. Good food is available at low cost either in the cafeteria or in the attractively redecorated Coffee Shop, and transportation costs to and from the hospital are low and it is easy to get to the hospital from almost any point in the area which it serves. Work programs are well supervised and vacation schedules are liberal and fairly organized. Above all, however, stands the very real sense of satisfaction that the hospital employee derives from the knowledge that his or her work is actively helping others.

Miss Loud, a life-long resident of Waban, has been Personnel Officer at the hospital for the past seven years. Prior to that time she had been associated with the Engineering Societies Personnel Service and Construction Reports, Inc.

Recently the hospital has added a new title and a new responsibility to her many other functions. Following a course of training, Miss Loud is about to embark on a program of work simplification and methods studies. This should have the beneficial effect of making the hospital worker attain greater productivity more easily and should make a substantial contribution to the hospital's efficiency.

Labor turnover at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital averages only between 2.5 per cent to 3.5 per cent per month, a figure which compares very favorably with most other hospitals in the Greater Boston area and which is well below ordinary industrial averages.

Still, recruiting of new personnel is one of the major functions of Miss Loud's department. Competition from local industry makes it difficult at times to find people who are equipped to handle the many jobs the hospital has to offer. And there are many different types of jobs to be filled — 115 different job classifications being listed from cleaners to professional nurses and technicians.

Aside from the competition from local industry there are other factors which make it difficult to keep the nursing department fully staffed. Miss Loud calls these the three M's—Marriage, Maternity and the Military.

At present, due to the above factors, the nursing staff is almost 25 per cent below its ideal strength. And with all three of the M's making continued inroads, immediate improvement in this situation is unlikely. So the hospital has an urgent and continuing need for volunteer help in all capacities. Miss Mable Hobbs, Director of Volunteers at the Hospital stands ready to answer any inquiries about volunteer opportunities.

Miss Loud is aided in her work by Miss Leah Keever, of Auburndale, daughter of Dr. Henry Keever. As Assistant Personnel Officer, Miss Keever is in charge of all employment interviewing and placement.

Miss Loud's department also supervises production of the hospital's house organ and next year Miss Barbara Finkelstein of Newton Centre, Senior Clerk, will act as editor of this welcome little publication. Then, too, her department conducts a regular series of educational programs for all hospital employes. These are held monthly in two sessions so that all may attend and informal presentations and discussions are carried on covering such subjects as: the Community Chest, Fire Prevention, Social Security, Safety, Food Handling, the Heart Program, Accounting Procedures and Social Service.

But perhaps as important as any function filled by Miss Loud and her assistants are the almost endless surveys and tabulations and statistical analyses designed to compare operations at the Newton-Wellesley to other hospitals. These comparisons are of prime value in making sure that your hospital can continue to give a quality of hospital care and service second to none.

That the truth about God and man, as stated in the Bible, is a healing truth—by which mankind can be freed of every kind of discord—will be emphasized in Christian Science services next Sunday. The Lesson-Sermon is on the subject "Truth."

The Golden Text is from Isaiah: "We have a strong city; salvation will God appoint for walls and bulwarks. Open ye the gates, that the righteous nation which keepeth the truth may enter in." (26:1,2).

Among the selections from the Bible (King James Version) to be read is the following: "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made." (John 1:1,3).

Readings from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will include these statements: "Everything good or worthy, God made. Whatever is valueless or baneful, He did not make,—hence its unreality." (525:20-22).

Sgt. Thomas Leehan of the Newton Police Department will go on pension after his vacation, which started Monday.

Do You Know Massachusetts!

(Compiled by State Planning Board)

DO YOU KNOW THAT . . . Building permit records showed only two-thirds as many new dwellings undertaken in Massachusetts during June this year as in June a year ago, indicating that the curbs already imposed are ample for the purpose intended . . Of the 39,639 marriages in Massachusetts in 1949, 19.5 per cent of the brides were under 20 years old, 42 per cent were 20 to 24 years, and 17.9 per cent were 25 to 29 years . . . Of the grooms, 4.1 per cent were under 20, 40.3 per cent were 20 to 24, and 26.9 per cent were 25 to 29 years old . . . Evidence seems conclusive that the existence of America, or at least the Massachusetts coast, was known to the Norsemen nearly 500 years before Columbus' discovery . . . Of the 36 leading industrial centers in Massachusetts the ten having the highest average weekly wage earnings per factory worker during June were Beverly $78.79, Pittsfield $75.55, Lynn $74.98, West Springfield $71.42, Worcester $70.96, Chicopee $68.89, Peabody $67.44, Springfield $65.92, Gardner $65.77 and Waltham $65.03, as reported by the Department of Labor and Industries . . . Massachusetts imports of merchandise from foreign countries in April amounted to $132,800,000; exports were $7,100,100 . . . Approximately 1,500,000 passengers use the South Station in Boston each month . . . There are 6500 street letter boxes in the Boston Postal District . . . Associated Industries reports that Massachusetts holds outstanding leadership in the manufacture of instruments, having an output worth more than $100,000,000 a year.

Flood Relief

President Truman in a special appeal has asked the American public to give generously—at least $5,000,000—through local Red Cross chapters to aid flood-stricken fellow citizens. The nation's second greatest flood which has caused an estimated billion dollars damage in Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Illinois. Present Red Cross resources are not sufficient to handle the enormous rehabilitation job that will continue for many months after the floods subside. Your contribution will give you a feeling of justifiable pride.

Thousands of people in Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Illinois have been driven from their homes by flood waters. Many have been sheltered and fed by the Red Cross. Homes have been destroyed or damaged beyond the ability of owners to repair. In the midst of such despair it is good to know that the Red Cross is prepared to help rebuild, repair, or refurnish the homes of families on the basis of their need. It's a gigantic job that will require more money than the Red Cross can provide from its present resources.

"The real work of the Red Cross in the flooded area of the middle west is just beginning. Its heaviest task is just ahead. Months from now, long after the memory of these floods slip from the minds of people in other sectins, the Red Cross will still be on the job assisting victims. The money the Red Cross provides for rebuilding a house or refurnishing it, or for helping a family find the means to help itself will be given outright, not lent." These were the words of President Truman in asking the American public to contribute to the Red Cross to aid the disaster-stricken people of Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Illinois. Won't you help—through your local Red Cross chapter.

House Probe Nothing but Sound and Fury

Some of our law-makers by now must be privately wishing that they did not needle District Attorney Alfred B. Cenedella when he appeared before the legislative judiciary committee some weeks ago to urge the creation of a Baby Kefauver commission to investigate crime in Massachusetts.

One of the unusual aspects to the sensational probe into the "payoff" rumor is that it is clearly evident that Cenedella did not originally go to the State House for the purpose of relating the story that he insists was told to him by Judge John S. Derham.

Cenedella was in the State House on other business. While there he met Republican House Leader Charles Gibbons who suggested that he appear before the judiciary committee and support a proposal for the establishment of a crime commission along the lines of the Kefauver committee.

Some of the committee members showed a hostile attitude to Cenedella, challenged his statements about crime in the Bay State and disputed the need for such a probe as was being sought. In one of the exchanges Cenedella hotly asserted that he could cite one matter which should be investigated and offered to give names, dates and places if the committee desired them.

Having needled Cenedella into making the statement that he did, the committee members hastily backed away from his challenge and shut him up rather than seek the information he claimed to possess. That caused the furore which resulted in the investigation by the House rules committee.

Had Cenedella been allowed to give his testimony without interruption, offer the opinions which he is qualified to give on the basis of his official position as District Attorney of Worcester County and been permitted to continue on his way, it is probable that no reference would have been made to the reported conversation with Judge Derham.

Whether the needling members of the judiciary committee performed a public service or disservice in prodding Cenedella to the point where he made his statement, is a question that is likely to draw conflicting answers.

Now, however, the House rules committee has completed its investigation without reaching any conclusive finding. It is obvious that either Cenedella or Derham is lying. Their testimony is in such direct conflict that they both can't be telling the truth.

Whether there is any way of clearing up the doubt that exists in the minds of a great many persons, including legislators, is uncertain, but up to the time that this is written the House rules committee has not been able to resolve to the satisfaction of its own members the question of exactly what report should be submitted.

Ultimately the question as to what, if anything, further is to be done to get to the bottom of the contradictory statements, will be dropped into laps of all the House members, including those whose needling was responsible for Cenedella's original utterance. They may well find themselves in a position where they will be open to criticism from some source, whatever they do.

Recently there have been rumors that the committee has found flaws in the testimony of one of the major witnesses. If that proves to be the fact it may be a spectacular development. There is a possibility, of course, that the entire matter never will be settled to the satisfaction of everyone.

Whatever happens, a good many people are likely to wonder why it took Cenedella so long to repeat the story he says was told him by Judge Derham and why it came out only under the needling by members of a legislative committee.

Red Cross Chapter Offers Course in Home Nursing

In line with the national slogan of the American Red Cross, "Mobilize for Defense," the Recruitment Committee of the Newton Chapter at its meeting on July 11 decided to make Home Nursing a major objective for its fall program. The Blood, First Aid, Water Safety and Volunteer Services are also in full swing.

The Recruitment Committee's goal is to have one member in each household trained for nursing emergencies at home and in shelters. Men are not to be excluded. In fact, courses are to commence for men in September—every fraternal organization, every father and husband is urged to enroll at the Chapter House, 21 Foster street, Newtonville, for a course in practical home nursing.

Already there have been courses for prospective fathers and mothers. In the words of recent graduates, the course proved intensive, instructive, and good fun.

Recent graduates in home nursing instruction include: Mrs. John C. Beale, Mrs. Eleanor Bean, Mrs. Frank Benson, Mrs. William Carmen, Mrs. Curtis Drury, Mrs. Rose Freeman, Mrs. William Gold, Mrs. S. D. Krinsky, Mrs. Bernard La Vine, Mrs. J. Elizabeth Mann, Mrs. Bernard Mendelsohn, Mrs. John Powell, Mrs. Edward Richmond, Mrs. Udel Rosenberg, Mrs. Chester Singer, Mrs. Dolores Solee, Mrs. Ruth Yaffee. Also Mrs. Signe Anderson, Mrs. Elizabeth Clarke, Mrs. Edith Deming, Mrs. Helen Forslind, Mrs. Flora Gaudet, Mrs. Ruth Haigh, Mrs. Evangeline Kinchla, Mrs. Walter Kisiel, Mrs. William Lowery, Mrs. Lillian Laurie, Mrs. Anna E. Tucker, Mrs. Phyllis Wiggin.

Those completing the course in Mother and Baby Care and Family Health recently were: Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gerstein, Dr. and Mrs. I. Asimov, Mr. and Mrs. M. Gallagher, Mrs. Marion Renke, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cummings, Mrs. Jean Osborne, Mrs. Virginia Klein, Mrs. A. Mangini.

The committee in charge of the new all over recruitment program on a chapter wide basis includes: Mrs. John C. Beale, chairman; Mrs. Donald L. Gibbs, Mrs. Wilbur B. Bullen, Mrs. Harry F. Kazmier, co-chairmen. Also Mr. Maxwell P. Gaddis, Mr. Harold D. Jobes, Mr. Donald L. Gibbs, Mr. Philip K. Brown, Mr. Frank E. Dowcett, Mr. Gilbert J. Champagne, Mrs. Robert W. Moore, Jr., Mrs. P. Edward Eden, Mrs. D. Morley Lodge, Mrs. George F. Koller, Mrs. G. Dana Sprague, Mrs. H. J. Levensohn, Mrs. Ralph Keyes, Mr. Riley J. Hampton; Mrs. Ernest Kuebler and Mrs. Ruth B. Taylor are in charge of the Home Nursing program.

Carr School PTA Hears Talk On Atom Bomb

Protection against the A-bomb was the subject of the last Carr School P.T.A. meeting of the year, held at the school on Tuesday evening, May 15. Harry L. Walen, director of the Civil Defense program in the Newton Schools and himself a teacher at the Newton High School, introduced the subject by explaining the three principle sources of danger from A-bomb explosion: namely, flash, fire, and radiation.

The direct effects such as burning or blinding from the original explosion are immediate, Mr. Walen explained, and if you escape the injury during the first minute of the explosion, the chances are you will not suffer further injury. The effects of radiation are, however, likely to appear later on, but even these can be avoided by proper precautions. The disastrous effects of bombing in Hiroshima and Nagasaki might have been reduced by 50% to 75% if people had been prepared to take precautions.

A documentary film explaining what people must be prepared to do under varying circumstances was presented for the instruction of the parents and teachers, and Mr. Walen answered numerous questions.

A short song period under the direction of Mrs. Ingeborg Jarratt, teacher of music in the Beaver Country Day and Brookline High schools, relieved the otherwise serious nature of the program.

Advice on Polio By Dr. Feemster

—o—

What are your chances of having paralytic poliomyelitis in your life time? The answer is: very small. If you leave out the word paralytic, the answer is the reverse, since most people old enough to vote have already had a mild attack of polio.

So states Dr. Roy F. Feemster, Director of the Division of Communicable Diseases, Massachusetts Department of Public Health.

"While one person in a community is having the paralytic disease, one hundred or more are having it in the unrecognized form. In fact, poliomyelitis is a harmless disease in most people," Dr. Feemster maintains.

Fear and panic during the polio season, Dr. Feemster has pointed out, often put pressure on public health authorities to do usless things in an attempt to fight polio.

Actually, the best thing local health departments can do during the polio season is to advise parents to let their children carry on normal activities with their usual neighborhood playmates.

The most important single activity of all medical and public health workers during the polio season, according to Dr. Feemster, is to make sure that the few people who do have the paralytic disease get the best care available.

Newton Nutrition Center

Do you know that cantaloupe gives as much vitamin C as orange juice? Take advantage of the season and serve cantaloupe often—as breakfast fruit or as an easy dessert. The price is attractive too—about five cents a serving.

When you buy cantaloupe, follow your nose. The fragrance of the ripe fruit is a safer guide than the softness at the stem end—too many other shoppers may have pressed it before you came along. The rind of cantaloupes is soft and thin, covered with a greyish veining or netting. When ripe, the rind under this netting is yellow. Avoid cantaloupes that have a deep soft spot at the stem end or that have bruises. Decay spreads rapidly in this fruit and will spoil the flavor of the whole melon.

For a tasty colorful dessert, combine cantaloupe balls or cubes with watermelon in Melon Surprise:

1 cup cantaloupe balls
1 cup watermelon balls
Sprigs of mint
1 lemon (grated rind and juice)
1 orange (grated rind and juice
1 cup sugar.

Chill melon balls. Cook sugar with fruit juice and rind over boiling water to make a syrup. Chill. Arrange melon balls in frosted sherbet glasses, top with syrup and garnish with sprigs of mint.

To frost glasses, chill in refrigerator until serving time. Remove from refrigerator and dust with powdered sugar.

Other good combinations with cantaloupe, for salad or fruit cup, are:

Peaches, green grapes, orange juice
Watermelon, honeydew melon, lime juice
Blueberries in quarters of cantaloupe topped with powdered sugar.

'Panic' Is Health Foe, Says Expert

Still Necessary to Nail Down Lie!

It was one of those sweltering hot nights early this month, a night when a shipment of whole blood had to be rushed by plane from the Logan International Airport, the first leg of the long trip, to Pusan, Korea.

Red Cross volunteers and nurses along with the doctor on duty at the 314 Dartmouth street Center had expected to quit at 5 p.m., but meanwhile the emergency call arrived. As it was, they worked until 9 p.m., foregoing their evening meal because donors came rushing to help.

One of the donors was a man in his early 50's. Worked in a downtown office, lived in the suburbs, and was a nice kind of a guy.

After he had given his pint of blood, one of the nurses, who was a Navy nurse during World War II, said, "Thanks a lot for coming in. I'm sure one of the boys in Korea will be trankful for it."

"It's a shame they will have to pay for it," he grumbled. "I came in here because my wife insisted on it."

"But!" said the nurse. "Whatever makes you think they'll have to pay for it? No one ever pays a cent for blood given through the Red Cross. Didn't you know that?"

He was fixing his tie, but stopped. "You mean no one ever pays for blood they get from the Red Cross? What about all these stories I hear that you have to pay for it?"

The nurse, who had heard the stories, said, "There's never any payment for blood from the Red Cross."

She sat down alongside the donor and explained how blood given by the people at Red Cross blood centers is used.

Whole blood, she told him, collected and shipped by the fastest possible means to Korea, goes out of Red Cross hands and into the hands of the military medical services. The Red Cross turns the blood over to these medical men who have complete authority over where the blood will be used. Either a hospital in Tokyo, where wounded soldiers now are recovering from wounds, or any other military hospital in Japan, or right to the front lines where field units are operating.

Red Cross personnel do not handle blood for the wounded. Military doctors do.

Then, other blood needed for the military is sent from Blood Centers like those in Boston to laboratories where it is processed into plasma. These laboratories are commercial companies which, under an accounting procedure, charge the Red Cross for their work although the plasma again goes to the military authorities. For this laboratory processing, the Red Cross is reimbursed by the Defense Department. These charges are the extraordinary charges that the Red Cross, out of funds collected from the public in March, could not possibly afford. Processing the plasma costs the Defense Department more money in itself than the Red Cross spends on operating the nationwide program, and these costs for the Red Cross include buildings, medical staffs, and recruitment of donors.

"How about the local hospitals?" asked the suburban donor.

The nurse told him that all the large hospitals in Massachusetts have their own blood banks, and they're among the best in the world.

The big hospitals themselves collect from 60 to 80 percent of all the blood they need for their patients, the remainder comes from the Red Cross.

None of the blood given to the patients that comes from the Red Cross costs the patient a dime, and that's the story of the program—people helping other people to get well.

The nurse did point out, though, that the hospitals charge the patients for checking blood from the Red Cross to make sure it's the right type of blood, and another charge would be for pumping the blood into the patient. Both of these are legitimate hospital charges.

The man sat back, satisfied that the nurse was telling the truth. "Come to think of it," he said, "I'm ashamed of myself for thinking the Red Cross would sell blood. I should have thought it out, because if the Red Cross did sell blood there wouldn't be any Red Cross. The newspapers would see to that."

With that, he left the building feeling good that he did come in to give a pint of the red stuff for a kid in Korea.

Family Piggy Bank Can Do Good Turn For Reserve Bank

—o—

The New England family piggy bank may provide the solution to one of the worst penny shortages in local history.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Boston today made a direct public appeal to all New Englanders to turn in pennies to their local banks in an effort to head off a shortage which already has resulted in partial rationing.

The Boston bank, which supplies the needs of banking institutions throughout New England, is literally scraping the bottom of the penny barrel. It needs dimes too and urges New Englanders to turn in their dime banks as well as their penny accumulations.

Coins should not be sent to the Federal Reserve Bank, but should be turned in at local banking institutions, either for deposit or for currency.

Working on the gravity principle, flotation machines separate impurities from coal at many modern bituminous mines.

Toluene, one of the coke-oven chemicals taken from bituminous coal, is a major ingredient for TNT, a high explosive.

o

Last year China produced 40 million tons of coal to more than double the 1949 output, but there are four states in this country which did better.

o

The British miner produces an average of 1.72 tons of coal per day. The American bituminous miner, in contrast, has an average of .48 tons.

o

Coal consumption by U. S. electric utility power plants amounted to almost 92 million tons in 1950—almost 10 per cent more than in the previous year.

There are more than eight thousand bituminous coal mines in the U. S.

MISS PATRICIA HUGHES, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Hughes of 29 Mill street, Newton Centre, will participate in the Annual Boston Feis at Suffolk Downs in Revere this week. The 14-year-old girl won a second prize medal last year for dancing and will execute the eight-hand reel, three-hand jig, and the four-hand reel for this year's Feis competition.

Check Battery Failure During Summer Weather

—o—

"One out of every four automobile breakdowns on the road this summer will be caused by battery failure," the Massachusetts Division of the American Automobile Association warned this week, in urging vacationing motorists to have their batteries checked carefully before starting on a trip.

"High mileages during hot-weather travel mean high temperatures under the hood," the American Automobile Association's emergency road service department pointed out. "This means trouble for any battery, especially one which has outlived its usefulness even though it never actually has failed.

"More gadgets electrically operated on post-war cars and poorer electrical connections in older cars also put a heavy strain on batteries and have contributed to the increase in breakdowns of this type," the AAA said.

"Too many drivers neglect their batteries—aside from adding water periodically—until something causes them to fail. It is a simple matter to insure a trouble-free vacation this year by checking in advance at a service station."

John W. Spargo, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Spargo of 14 Aspen avenue was a winner in Class B for boys between 10 and 12 inclusive in the 13th annual Boston-Traveler Chevrolet Soap Box Derby. The winners in this class were presented with a Fellow watch of Swiss make. Beside each watch there was a gold wrist band in addition to a leather one on the watch.

Mrs. Harry Snyder, with her three-week-old son, Harry Jr., of Danville, Pa., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Quartermain of 10 Higgins street.

—o—

Mrs. Mary Fairbanks, wife of the Rev. Edward Fairbank of 138 Hancock street passed away suddenly, July 21. Memorial services were held at the Walker Missionary Home.

—o—

A visit this week by Bob Bean from West Thornton, N. H., where he is employed for the summer was a pleasant surprise to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Bean of Melrose street.

—o—

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fox of Melrose street have completed construction of an outdoor fireplace at the rear of their spacious grounds, also occupied by a very beautiful garden. The new addition was christened recently by a wienie and hamburger roast partaken of by a group of Mrs. Fox's friends, called the Sewing Circle which has been meeting at intervals all winter. The refreshments were "tasty," the day was fine, the company most congenial. Altogether it was a highly successful party.

In these days of plane trips, or by auto, train or bus, we take off our hats to an Auburndale resident who rode his bicycle to northern New Hampshire, a round trip of some 300 miles taking it by easy stages over several days. He reports the White Mountain scenery as lovely as ever, and the keen air every bit as wonderful and invigorating as in days of yore.

WHY BRISTOL UPHOLSTERING IS DIFFERENT

(1) We don't tie springs just 4 or 6 ways—we tie them fully 8 ways and with special twine.
(2) We don't just glue loose frames—we tear out old dowels, replace them with larger and new ones. We add brand new corner blocks.
(3) We don't tack seams at just the obvious spots—we hand sew seams throughout the piece.
(4) The welting isn't simulated—it's separate, individually made — that means it's stronger.
(5) The seams on the sides and backs aren't blind-tacked—all the seams are hand-sewn.
(6) We don't use ordinary fibre or excelsior—we use the new, expensive moss filling.
(7) We don't just repair your cushions—we make brand new cushions, springs and all.
(8) We don't put the fabric on carelessly—we make sure the pattern matches perfectly.
(9) We don't just cut from a pattern—we fit your cover as carefully as a tailor-made suit.
(10) We don't settle for second-best materials—we use only the highest quality throughout.

Two parcels of land situated in said Newton, being parcels "A" and "B" on a compiled plan No. 1060 of land in Newton, Mass., by Everett M. Brooks Co.—Civil Engineers, dated May 23, 1951, recorded with Middlesex So. Dist. Deeds on June 27, 1951, and more particularly described as follows:

PARCEL "A"
Northwesterly by Spiers Road seven hundred and fifty-three and 35/100 (753.35) feet,
Northerly by the junction of Spiers Road and Dedham Street forty-four and 42/100 (44.42) feet,
Northeasterly by Dedham Street eleven and 62/100 (11.62) feet,
Southeasterly by land of Wilfred C. Esty seventy feet (70),
Northeasterly by land of Wilfred C. Esty sixty feet (60),
Southeasterly by land of Holyhood Cemetery Association six hundred sixty-two and 44/100 feet (662.44),
Southwesterly by lot #1 on said plan one hundred feet (100).
PARCEL "B"
Northeasterly by Dedham Street three hundred and sixty-three (363) feet,
Southeasterly by land of James Esty two hundred (200) feet,
Northeasterly by land of said James Esty fifty (50) feet,
Northwesterly by land of said James Esty two hundred (200) feet,
Northeasterly by Dedham Street four hundred and twenty-three (423) feet,
Easterly by the junction of Dedham Street and Spiers Road twenty-seven and 29/100 (27.29) feet,
Southeasterly by Spiers Road seven hundred and seventy-seven and 28.100 (777.28) feet,
Southwesterly by sundry lots and the land of Saw Mill Brook Parkway one thousand and 13/100 (1000.13) feet,
Northwesterly by sundry lots and Indian Ridge Road seven hundred and two and 52.100 (702.52) feet, Northeasterly by land of Clement Esty and Susan A. Esty two hundred (200) feet, and Northwesterly by land of said Susan A. Esty one hundred (100) feet:

setting forth that they desire that all of said land may be sold at private sale for not less than fifty-thousand dollars, and praying that partition may be made of all the land aforesaid according to law and to that end that a commissioner be appointed to make such partition and be ordered to make sale and conveyance of all, or any part of said land which the Court finds cannot be advantageously divided either at private sale or public auction, and be ordered to distribute the net proceeds thereof.

If you desire to object thereto you or your attorney should file a written appearance in said Court at Cambridge before ten o'clock in the forenoon on the sixteenth day of August 1951, the return day of this citation.

Witness, John C. Leggat, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this twelfth day of July in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifty-one.

(SEAL) EQUITY

To WILLIAM M. JOHNSTON, EMILY J. JOHNSTON, now or formerly of Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; JOHN H. JOHNSTON, now or formerly of Worcester, in the County of Worcester and said Commonwealth, JAMES B. JOHNSTON, now or formerly of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk and said Commonwealth, GEORGE E. TAYLOR, ALICE JOHNSTON TAYLOR, JOHN A. ENMAN and GRACE JOHNSTON ENMAN, now or formerly of said Newton, or their Heirs, Devisees, or Legal Representatives:

GREETING:

WHEREAS, a suit in equity has been begun in our Land Court by WILLIAM M. HOWARD, formerly William M. Hurwitz, of said Newton, representing that he is the owner of certain land situated in said Newton, fronting on Cotton Street, that in the chain of title affecting said land there appears a deed from William M. Johnston, et al., to William Johnston dated July 31, 1920 and recorded in the Middlesex South Registry of Deeds, Book 4338, Page 413 which deed contained the clause that the same was subject to any outstanding mortgage; that it was the intention of the petitioners that the conveyance was to be made subject to an outstanding mortgage of record but that through mistake the words "of record" were omitted from the deed, and praying that said deed be amended accordingly.

WE COMMAND YOU, if you intend to make any defense, that on the FOURTH day of SEPTEMBER next, which day is the return day of this subpoena, or within such further time as the law allows, you do cause your written appearance to be entered and your written answer or other lawful pleading to be filed in the office of the Recorder of said Court at Boston, in the County of Suffolk and further, that you defend against said suit according to law, if you intend to make any defense, and that you do and receive what the Court shall order, adjudge and decree therein.

Hereof fail not, at your peril, as otherwise said suit may be adjudged and orders and decrees entered therein, in your absence.

And it appearing to the Court upon the suggestion of the plaintiffs that the whereabouts of some of the defendants are unknown and that they cannot be served with process.

IT IS ORDERED that notice of this suit be given by publishing a copy of this subpoena once each week for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in said Newton, the last publication to be one month at least before the said fourth day of September next.

Witness, JOHN E. FENTON, Esquire, Judge of our Land Court, the sixteenth day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifty-one.

Health for All

Poliomyelitis

With the exception of occasional heat waves, these summer months, bringing with them vacations and other outdoor sports, are the most pleasant of the year to many people.

But for many mothers, July, August, and September are "polio months," the time when poliomyelitis, or "infantile paralysis," is most likely to go on the rampage. Unless there is a polio epidemic in the vicinity, however, parents are needlessly terrified of the disease just because it is summer.

Polio is feared because people associate death and permanent crippling with it. But it is not invariably fatal or crippling. Of those who get the disease, 40 to 60 per cent fully recover without paralysis; another 20 to 30 percent recover with only mild paralysis, and 15 to 25 percent are left handicapped.

We do not know how polio spreads, when it is likely to attack, or just how to prevent it. But we know that polio is a disease of the spinal cord and the central nervous system, caused by a tiny virus which attacks the nerve cells. Research is going on, however, in the hope of gaining more specific knowledge about the disease.

Like many other illnesses, if polio should strike, a person has his best chance of avoiding permanent injury when the disease is found and treated in time. Parents should be on the alert for any symptoms in a child which may mean polio: listlessness, headache, upset stomach, fever, or pains or stiffness in the muscles. If any of these symptoms appear, it is best to play safe and call the doctor immediately.

The best defense against polio is prevention, and the doctor can give parents the best advice on protecting children. However, there are some general precautionary measures which should be observed.

1. Keep children away from crowds, since it is believed the virus is spread from person to person.
2. Watch that children do not become over-tired or chilled, because either can lower their resistance and allow the polio virus to get a foothold.
3. Avoid the dangers of polluted waters and don't let children swim in water which has not been declared safe by health authorities.
4. Keep the children extra clean. See that they wash their hands frequently, especially before eating. Keep food as well as garbage covered and safe from flies.
5. Postpone any surgery at this time on the child's nose, mouth, or throat, unless the doctor says it is urgent.

INSIDE CIVIL DEFENSE

Following are frequently asked questions and their answers.

Why do we need civil defense?

President Truman, in submitting the 1952 civil defense budget to Congress, said: "We must act on the assumption that the Soviet Union has atomic bombs and that they have the planes that can drop these bombs on our cities. The lives of many millions of people may depend on the development of a strong civil defense program to meet such an attack."

How will civil defense help us?

It is—and has been for many months—the task of the Massachusetts Civil Defense Agency to organize existing resources in manpower, equipment, supplies and services so there will be a prompt and effective reaction to any enemy attacks, if they come. The basic responsibility falls on the State Government and Civil Defense Agency and, through them, on local cities and towns.

Looking Ahead

Mutual assistance is provided between each region, between each city and town, and between Massachusetts and other states, in event of disaster. As a result of careful planning, the local director will be able to provide first aid, food, pure water, essential communications, emergency transportation, resumption of water, gas and power services, adequate police and fire protection—all this and a great deal more.

Mary Rosalie Gahan Weds Mr. Stephen Littleton

Miss Mary Rosalie Gahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Gahan of Newton Centre and North Scituate, became the bride Saturday of Mr. Stephen Francis Littleton, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Littleton of Newton Centre. The Reverend George Sullivan officiated at the 9 o'clock Mass in Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre. The bride's brother, Mr. John W. Gahan, Jr., gave her away.

The bride's white Alencon lace gown matched her Dutch cap, which had a chapel-length veil attached to it. Orchids and stephanotis decorated her prayer book. She wore an heirloom diamond and amethyst necklace.

Miss Ilione Littleton, sister of the bridegroom, was her only attendant, gowned in hyacinth blue lace, with a violet tulle hat and bouquet of mauve gladioli.

Mr. Richard A. Carroll of West Newton and Mr. Francis T. Sullivan of Brighton ushered.

The bride attended Regis College and bridegroom attended Boston College. They will live in North Scituate following a wedding trip to Canada.

Annual Meeting And Outing For Newton Realtors

—o—

The annual meeting and outing of the Newton Real Estate Board was held on Thursday, July 19, at the Woodland Golf Club. The guests of honor were John T. Burns Sr., founder of the well known real estate firm of John T. Burns & Sons, and Ray Hofford, executive vice president of the Boston Real Estate Board.

The meeting was attended by a large majority of the members of the Newton Board and, in spite of the unpleasant weather, many took part in the golf matches, putting contests and other outdoor activities, which were supervised by Mrs. Kate Smith, of Longwood Associates. Many attractive prizes donated by members of the Board were awarded to winners of the various contests and as door prizes.

John T. Burns Sr. spoke briefly about some of his interesting experiences during his many years in the real estate business. Mr. Hofford pointed out to the members of the Board that their designation as "realtor" makes their position in the community a responsible one, and that the public is rapidly learning the many advantages of doing business with a realtor.

There was an informal discussion of local real estate matters, after which the following officers of the Board for the 1951-1952 fiscal year were elected: president, Joshua W. Brown of W. Frank Brown & Sons; vice president, George W. Odell of John T. Burns & Sons; secretary-treasurer, John E. Giles, of the John E. Giles Insurance Agency.

Swimming Pool Facilities Gain Further Support

Senator Lee With Those To Approve

The increasing interest of Newton's public spirited citizens in the building of a swimming, diving and wading pool with other facilities at Albemarle playground sponsored by Harry Gath Jr., for the past three years was given further impetus by the endorsements of Senator Richard H. Lee from the Middlesex-Suffolk district and Mrs. Jeanette C. West, a member of the Newton Recreation Commission.

Senator Lee, who sponsored successfully the building of the MDC supervised pool at Faneuil assured Mr. Gath of his support for the building of the Albemarle pool as an opening wedge in the need throughout the Garden City for such facilities. Senator Lee represents the entire city of Newton, part of Brighton and Cambridge.

In his communication, Senator Lee said, "I am glad to hear that the project of a swimming pool in the Albemarle neighborhood is being seriously considered at this time. Last year when you showed me the Stanley report on the needs for such a recreational feature, it seemed like a pipe-dream, because very few city fathers were taking the project seriously.

HEALTH RECREATION

Actually a swimming pool affords healthy recreation and muscle development to more youngsters than almost any other form of recreation. Tennis

CITY SEEKS TAX REFUND

Brings Test Case Against Com. Long

"One of the more arbitrary methods which Tax Commissioner Long has chosen to adopt this year in order to collect more money for the Commonwealth is properly being challenged by Newton," according to the Newton Taxpayers' Association.

Other municipalities with a similar interest at stake are watching the developments in the test case, which is being brought in the name of Chairman Wright of the Board of Assessors. The case is a petition in mandamus for an order to require Long to return to the city funds which, in the opinion of the city and the Taxpayers' Association, have been illegally collected by the state under color of a false assumption of authority.

The situation arose in connection with the collection of the motor vehicle excise tax. The procedure of collecting this tax is that upon receipt of the application for registration of a car, the Registry of Motor Vehicles issues plates, and turns over to Long the list of registered cars on the basis of which he sets the state-wide rate at which motor vehicles shall be taxed. He

1037 Local Residents Take Health Screening Tests

Volunteers Give Over 300 Hours Aiding Program

By CONSTANCE EARLY

During recent screening tests, Newton agencies worked with 123 volunteers testing 1037 Nonantum-Newtonville residents not under the care of a physician, for heart disease, tuberculosis, or diabetes. Since it is possible to have these diseases without knowing it, the purpose of the tests is to detect the symptoms, which if found in the early stages of the disease, can be treated effectively.

MANY COOPERATE

Volunteers put in over 300 hours conducting the screening tests, which took about 15 minutes per person. Heart screening consists of answering yes-no questions about possible heart disease symptoms; height and weight check-up; blood pressure tests, and stethoscope examination. Chest x-ray and urinalysis are also given. Most will learn that the tests showed no disease. A small percentage will be urged to consult their doctors for ad-

Demonstration

Over Three Hundred Take Part In Safety Program

Over 300 Newton children took part in the summer Water Safety Exhibition at Crystal Lake last Sunday. Miss Claire McCarthy, Director of the program, announced the events and explained to the assembled parents that this midsummer demonstration was held for the purpose of showing them skills being acquired during the summer by their children. Other speakers during the exercises were Kenneth E. Pryor, Alderman-at-Large, C. Evan Johnson, Recreational Commissioner, Frank E. Dowcett, Volunteer Chairman of the Newton Red Cross Water Safety Program, and Maxwell P. Gaddis, Chairman of the Newton Red Cross Chapter.

Appreciation was expressed by Miss McCarthy to Police Chief Philip Purcell and Safety Officer Charles Feeley for the public address system, and to C. Evan Johnson, Recreational Commissioner, for the cooperation of the city in making available facilities at Crystal Lake for the program. She also thanked Joseph Deeley of the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway for extending five cent bus tickets to children going to and from the Lake; to Mrs. Lawton Swett and her committee who tok care of the ice cream served the youngsters; to Mrs. Charles Delaney and Mrs. Solomon M. Kozol for secretarial help; to the instructors, Miss Betty Duffy, Miss Margaret Mary Lane, Miss Kathleen Maguire, Miss Caroline Sanroma and Miss Alice Wetherell, a volunteer worker; and to Gilbert J. Campagne, Chairman of First Aid, for assisting in the teaching of artificial respiration.

PARTICIPANTS

Children taking part in the water demonstration were as follows:

Placement Test Dates Announced

—o—

Warren J. H. S. To Start School Sessions Sept. 10

Placement test will be given to children of Grades 7, 8 and 9 living in the Warren Junior High School district, who are new to the Newton school system, at the Warren Junior High School Friday morning, September 7, beginning at 8:45 o'clock. This will include children who have moved into Newton during the summer, and children from grades who are planning to enter Warren Junior High School from parochial schools and private schools.

Pupils who report to the school for the placement tests are asked to bring transfer and report cards with them. Any other material, which may be helpful to the school in making placements, should be brought at this time.

MAKE-UP TESTS

Make-up tests for incomplete work for regular Warren pupils will also be given Friday morning, September 7, at 8:45 o'clock. The schedule will be as follows: English, 9 to 10 a.m.; Mathematics, 10:15 to 11:15 a.m.; Social Studies, 11:30 to 12:30.

Pupils of Warren who are making up tests in other subjects will also report at 8:45 o'clock Friday morning, September 7.

The office of the school will be open for registration of new pupils from Tuesday, September 7, from 9 to 12 noon and from 1 to 4 p.m.

School will open Monday, September 10, for pupils as follows: Junior I (Grade 7) 8:30 to 12 noon. Junior II and III (Grades 8 and 9, 1 to 2:30 p.m.).

J. Edward Theriault Named Official of State D. A. V.

J. EDWARD THERIAULT

Elected Treasurer

Past Commander J. Edward Theriault of the Chaplain William J. Farrell Chapter, DAV, of Newton, was elected treasurer of the Massachusetts Department, Disabled American Veterans, at the close of the three-day convention in Boston last Sunday.

Mr. Theriault also was elected a delegate to the National DAV Convention which will be held the last week of this month in Milwaukee, Wis.

Timothy J. O'Neil of Jamaica Plain was named commander and other officers elected include: Walter Mason, senior vice-commander, and Paul Sullivan of Boston, junior vice-commander for the First district which includes Newton.

The convention voted unanimously to send the new commander to Washington to protest the removal of the Veterans Administration District Office from Boston to Philadelphia.

Repeal of Personal Tax Bill To Be Felt Here

If, and when, the repeal of the personal property tax law, which is now under consideration in the legislature is passed, it will have a decided bearing on the future tax rates of this city and will probably mean an increase in the Newton tax rate of three or more dollars a thousand on property.

The bill increasing to $5000 the exception in the personal property tax levy, which was given preliminary approval by the State Senate Monday, would in effect be a repeal of the tax here where over 95 percent of the personal property assessments are less than the proposed exemption, according to the city assessors.

Under the present law an exemption on personal property tax is $1000 while the Senate bill, if enacted would increase the exemptions to $5000. Chairman John D. Wright of the Newton Board of Assessors has pointed out that less than five percent of personal property assessments in the city exceed $5000 and Newton officials have expressed opposition to the repeal of the personal property tax unless a substitute tax is provided.

Here a total of $825,000 is expected to be raised from twenty-one and a half million in personal property assessments this year, according to Mr. Wright.

Think Yeggs Did Newton Hold-up Also

Police now believe that the trio of armed yeggs who robbed the Somerville National Bank last Friday and escaped with more than $30,000, are part of a gang which staged the Newton National Bank robbery earlier this year.

Search has been intensified for a 52-year-old man believed to have been the "brains" in previous bank robberies. The man, who defaulted a $20,000 bond, is being sought in 20 States.

State and local police and FBI agents inclined to this theory after a dozen tips on the whereabouts of the getaway car proved fruitless.

Rebel At The 'Stalling Tactics' Of Democrats

Four Republican first-term members of the Massachusetts House of Representatives have joined forces in open rebellion against what they termed "stalling tactics" whereby the Democratic leadership in the House is deliberately prolonging the 1951 session at great expense to the taxpayers and with little accomplishment to show for it.

Representatives J. Robert Ayers (R) of Weston, Christian A. Herter, Jr. (R) of Newton, William P. Constantino (R) of Clinton, and Philip F. Whitmore (R) of Sunderland joined in a petition for the enactment of an amendment to the Massachusetts Constitution making it mandatory that the Legislature dispose of its business and be dissolved by the first week in June of each year. Under existing law there is nothing to prevent the Legislature from continuing to sit until the beginning of the regular session next year.

The first action in this organized attempt to limit legislative sessions came in the form of a motion made by Rep. Ayers that the rules preventing the filing of petitions at this time be suspended to permit him to present the petition, signed by all four members, for immediate consideration by the House.

In arguing for the motion Rep. Ayers presented facts showing that Massachusetts is the only state in the country having annual legislative sessions whose Legislature has not finished its business and gone home. Missouri, New Hampshire and Pennsylvania are the only other states whose legislatures are still in session and they meet only every other year.

Mr. Ayers, formerly a member of Governor Saltonstall's secretarial staff and currently a member of the Board of Selectmen of Weston, advised the House that in 26 states there is a definite limitation on the length of the legislative sessions ranging from 36 days in Alabama to 120

Opening Marked With Success

The management of the new James H. McManus restaurant and dairy bar located at 65 Galen street, Watertown, just below Newton Corner, stated this week that they had received many favorable comments on the facilities and equipment which was available to their customers.

Patrons were loud in their praise of the pleasant attitude of the employees in serving them, not to mention the excellent quality of the food and famous ice cream which is a feature of this well-known firm.

Newton residents will find the new McManus restaurant in a very convenient location with ample parking facilities available and the management cordially invites all who have not as yet partaken of the excellent food served here, to pay the restaurant a visit and verify this fact.

Considering Residence Tax Bill

According to the Newton Taxpayers' Association, "the personal property tax is rightly coming under fire this year and for the average householder, it it may be abolished." The Senate Monday passed a provision providing for $5000 exemption on personal property taxes instead of the $1000 now granted under the law. Such an exemption would practically wipe out the personal property tax for the large majority of residents here.

Continuing the Taxpayers' Association believes the poll tax is another rather arbitrary grab and produces very little net return and cites that in Newton,

Take Plane Souvenirs

Youngsters in Newton Upper Falls led police a merry chase Sunday afternoon and night. They continually forced open the doors of a small monoplane, forced down Saturday in a field near Olde Field road, and attempted to rip souvenirs from the fuselage.

The plane is the property of William F. Kamsler, 26, of Jenkinstown, Pa., who was forced to land as his gasoline supply neared exhaustion after he lost radio contact with Bedford Airport.

Police had cruising cars drive to the edge of the field to keep a watch on the plane, about 300 yards from the Worcester turnpike, but high grass and shrubbery hid the young souvenir hunters from their view. The tail-wheel was removed along with the wing lights.

The plane was towed from the field Monday.

Herter Sees Coal And Fuel Scarcity

Congressman Christian A. Herter today issued a statement, in which he predicts a possible shortage of coal and fuel oil this winter and suggests that the wise consumer stock up during the summer months for their winter supply.

Information he has received would indicate that the mounting burden of defense and defense supporting traffic will, by this fall and winter, make such heavy demands upon the nation's transport capacity as to necessitate spreading the normal peak movement occurring in October and November to be spread over a longer period including the summer months.

"Defense plants are already stepping up production," Congressman Herter says, "and their requirements for coal and other fuels will grow steadily greater. Transportation must be provided this year for 10 per cent more coal than was produced in 1950 and freight cars suitable for hauling coal are in short supply and will become more so. The situation is, if anything, more acute with respect to tank cars suitable to the transportation of fuel oil and liquefied petroleum gases. Cars of these types are experiencing an increasingly heavy demand in high priority defense activities."

Change In Ward Lines Is Needed

Alderman Clyde S. Casady, chairman of the Committee on Ward Lines and Education, speaking at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club Monday, stated that the city is faced with unbalanced representation because of out of date ward lines which, if not changed in 1954, cannot be altered for another ten year, or 1964.

He said that 52 percent of the taxable property in Newton is in Ward 5 and 6, and that only 66 perecent of the eligible population here are registered voters.

Between 1940 and 1950, Alderman Casady pointed out, 63.7 percent of the net growth of the city was concentrated in Wards 5 and 6, and is even higher at the present time.

The two largest wards combined, contain 42 perecent of the voters, he stated, whereas the two smallest wards combined contain only 17 percent.

In his talk he referred to two plans previously submitted but not approved, the Bowen Plan in 1934 and the Colby Plan in 1944.

Large white bouquets decked the altar of the First Baptist Church, Needham, when Phyllis Elaine Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Harrison of Bourne, Mass., became the bride of Ralph Foster Goodwin, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Goodwin and the late John J. Goodwin, of Needham, in an afternoon wedding July 21.

Reverend E. Gage Hotaling officiated at the ceremony, at which the bride was given away by her father.

The bride wore a white bauffant gown of marquisette, with a mandarin neckline and French illusion veil caught from a pearl tiara.

Miss Barbara Harrison, of Boston, was maid of honor for her sister. Her marquisette bouffant gown was yellow, with matching cap. The orchid flowers in her hair matched the varied shades of orchid in her bouquet.

Another sister, Miss Anne E. Harrison, of Bourne, and Miss Anita M. Carlson, of Newton, also attended the bride. Their bouffant gowns or orchid nylon taffeta were ballerina length, with matching picture hats. They carried colonial bouquets of mixed flowers.

Mrs. Harrison chose a sheer blue print with white accessories for her daughter's wedding. She wore a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother wore a sheer pink print, white accessories, and a corsage of mixed flowers.

Best man was the groom's brother, Harold C. Goodwin, and the ushers were Alvin Bullard and Robert McEvoy of Needham.

A reception in the church vestry followed the ceremony. After a honeymoon in New Hampshire, the couple will live in Newton.

The bride graduated from Burdett College. Mr. Goodwin is attending Northwestern University.

Newton Men Visit Turkey

—o—

Four Newton, Mass., area men, Lt. Thaxter P. Spencer, USN, husband of Mrs. T. P. Spencer of 38 Devon road, Newton Center; Thomas F. Bryson Jr., seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Bryson of 39 School street, Newton; William R. Gould, seaman, USN, of 65 Washington street, Newton; and Richard E. Flaherty, seaman, USN, of 14 Thaxter road, Newtonville, visited Izmir, Turkey, July 23, when the light cruiser USS Worcester anchored at the Asia Minor port for a five-day call.

The most important town in Asia Minor, and a principal port of the Turkish Republic, Izmir is one of the earliest homes of the Christian Church. Many churches in the United States now bear its ancient name of Smyrna. Tours of the city enabled the crew of the ship to see many Roman ruins that dot Izmir.

Miss Emily Woods, daughter of the late Professor and Mrs. Frederick S. Woods, of Newton Centre, was married Friday to Joseph Alexander Ferguson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Ferguson, of Lincoln, New Hampshire, in a small ceremony attended by the immediate family and a few close friends. Rev. Morrison Russell Boynton officiated at the marriage, which was held at 3:00 o'clock in the bride's home.

Miss Wood's gown was navy blue chambray with white pique trim. Her corsage was white Eucharist lilies and babies' breath. Mrs. Charles J. Brown, sister of the bride, was matron of honor in turquoise linen with a corsage of pastel shades.

The groom's brother, Andrew J. Ferguson of Hanover, N. H. was best man.

After a wedding trip to Maine, the couple will make their home in Newton Centre.

The bride was graduated from Bradford Junior College. The groom attended the University of New Hampshire. A World War II veteran, he served in Europe with the 85th Evacuation Hospital.

vice, diagnosis, or treatment. One or any combination of these tests may be taken, at the choice of the individual. Anyone 18 years of age or over is eligible, although at present the program is limited to residents of the Nonantum-Newtonville area between Crafts street and the Watertown line from Jackson road to North street. Persons screened will receive reports of results within three weeks.

The program's success is attributed to the cooperation of professional groups, civic organizations, and volunteers. The Heart Committee of Newton Community Council, directed by Mrs. Meyer Armet, chairman, carried on the preliminary organization. Mrs. Louis Black, chairman of Publicity, and Mrs. Frances Forgie, chairman of Evaluation, worked with Mrs. Armet and a district-planning committee to stimulate participation. Posters and fliers from the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association, and education material printed by the Newton Engineering Department helped publicize the program. Other Newton groups generously facilitated their efforts: the Newton Street Department transported equipment and made signs; Newton-Wellesley Hospital contributed examining tables and screens; and the tests were conducted in the new Hawthorne Recreation Building, provided by the Recreation Dept.

Medical guidance in planning the heart screening program was given the Cardiac Program Committee, a group of physicians from Newton-Wellesley Hospital, with Dr. Walter O. Blanchard as chairman of the Subcommittee on Case finding. Chest x-rays were provided by the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association, using Christmas Seal funds. Diabetes tests were sponsored by the Newton Health Dept., and the Heart Demonstration Program of the Health Dept. sponsored the Heart program.

The screening staff consisted of two physicians and public health nurses from the Newton Health Dept. Volunteers who helped as receptionists, typists, clerks at the center included:

Mrs. W. S. Baker, Mrs. Carl Birmingham, Mr. Walter I. Burt, Mrs. Walter I. Burt, Mrs. Rose Capodanno, Miss Rose Marie Capodanno, Miss Betty DelGizzi, Miss Connie DelGizzi, Mrs. Nancy DeSantis, Miss Mary Egan, Mrs. Anthony Gatti, Miss Mary Gentile, Mrs. William Heatzig, Mrs. Carl Hudson, Mrs. Leon Huston, Mrs. Warren Huston, Mrs. Howard V. Jacobson, Mrs. Dorothy Kellem, Mrs. George Kent, Jr., Mrs. James Kirwan, Mrs. Helen J. Lord, Mrs. Anna Lucenta, Mrs. J. Carleton McCullough, Mrs. Catherine McDonald,, Mrs. Alice McIntosh, Mrs. Harold Montgomery, Mrs. Clyde M. Pate, Mrs. Henry H. Plimpton, Mrs. Margaret Rankin, Mrs. Helen Simonds, Mrs. Margaret Swanson, Miss Barbara Swartz, Mrs. Eli Swartz, Miss Ellen Swartz, Mrs. Gerald M. Swartz, Mrs. Jeanne Venditti, Mrs. Marie Visco, Miss Bernadette Vitti.

Also assisting at the screening center were Red Cross volunteers who worked as nurses, nurse's aides, gray ladies, and staff aides:

Mrs. Susan Cartier, Mrs. Ruth Davis, Mrs. Eleanor Dixey, Mrs. Ruth Eisen, Mrs. Lila Hare, and Mrs. Olive Walker; Mrs. William Bailey, Mrs. Nancy Durkee, Mrs. Clara E. Farmer, Mrs. Izora Henley, Mrs. Barbara Sampson, Mrs. G. W. Wales, Mr. Robert Walker, and Mr. Will G. Wilbur; Mrs. Edith Berman, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Wilbur Bullen, Mrs. Eleanor Levine, Mrs. Margaret Owens, Mrs. Nell Regan, Mrs. R. W. Stober, Mrs. Edith A. Thomas, and Mrs. Laura Wilson; Mrs. Edgar Boardman, Mrs. Sara Clark, Mrs. Edith Gilfix, Mrs. S. J. Hackel, Mrs. Martha Price, Mrs. C. A. Wentworth, and Mrs. John White. Mrs. D. Morley Lodge served as vice-chairman.

In addition to their work at the center, many of these people helped conduct a house-to-house canvass of the Nonantum-Newtonville area for the purpose of helping residents make appointments for the tests. Other canvassers were:

Co-chairmen of the entire program were:

Mrs. Gerald M. Swartz, Crafts street, and Mr. Carmen A. Vitti, 582 California street. Other members of planning committee: Mr. James B. D'Angelo, Mrs. Irving Feldman, Mrs. Carl J. Grip, Mrs. Eliot F. Rogers, Mrs. Lermond F. Simonds, and Mrs. Jenne Venditti.

Senator Lee–

courts and baseball fields take up a great deal of space and can only be used by a few people at one time, while a well built swimming pool can serve many youngsters of different ages simultaneously. The MDC pool at Faneuil has as many as 1300 youngsters every day.

"The children on the north side of the city of Newton are more in need of such facilities than any other youngsters in my district."

In her communication to Mr. Gath, Mrs. West stated, "It is understood that this reflects my own personal opinion, and in no way, is to be construed as an opinion of the Recreation Commission."

Mrs. West writes, "The predicament in which "swim-minded" citizens of Newton find themselves can well be likened to the child in familiar nursery rhyme: "Mother may I go out to swim? Yes my darling daughter. Hang your clothes on a hickory limb, but don't go near the water."

"The pollution of the Charles river which could be used in several places, makes it unfit for this sport, leaving Crystal Lake as a natural area, and the inadequate pool at the YMCA. Therefore, it seems that the question is, how many pools shall Newton have and where shall they be located?

NOT CONFINED

"It is generally acknowledged that swimming is a sport not confined to young people, for, with the expansion of recreational facilities and physical education in this fast growing community this beneficial activity may be enjoyed long after middle age."

Enthused by the ready endorsement of the Albemarle swimming pool project, Mr. Gath said, "Certainly when such public spirited citizens as Senator Lee, Representative Herter, Alderman John C. Beale, Recreation Commissioners James E. Murphy and Mrs. West together with Mr. Frederick Bacon, president of the YMCA endorse the building of a swimming pool at Albemarle there must be a definite need for such facilities. Let any Newton mother or father visit the MDC swimming pool at Stoneham, Cambridge, Faneuil and the West End of Boston as I have and see the hot-weather enjoyment youngsters and adults alike are having they will better appreciate the needs right now in Newton, reputedly a low-tax city, doubling its population within 25 years with all the accompanying tax valuation and yet since 1948 when I first presented the Albemarle swimming pool idea to Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood, supported by 1800 Newton citizens, nothing has been done about it. Even leaving the Albemarle site out of the picture, nothing has been undertaken in the entire city for the "cooling-off" process in Newton's torrid heat waves. Of course, Mayor Lockwood does not simmer while he summers in New Hampshire's lakes and ponds which are non-polluted as our three Charles river beaches are.

STANLEY REPORT

"Senator Lee's mention of the Stanley report possibly needs explanation. William Stanley, a Boston University senior, in writing his thesis preparatory to graduation, entitled it 'A Community Relations Study of Newton.' Mr. Stanley is now a successful business man in Watertown. He made a complete, intensive study of the recreational needs of Newton. As a Boston University football player and coach of the freshmen, together with playing on Gath's Guards basketball team and coaching the well known Gath's Juniors football team, averaging 12 years of age, Mr. Stanley sensed the recreational needs, including the Albemarle swimming pool, without 'coaching' from me. His report incorporated all the facts and figures any Newton citizen would want to prove the worth of the Albemarle development. Any civic minded organization or citizen is welcome to ready a copy of Mr. Stanley's thesis which I have in my possession.

"The 'pipe-dream' reference of Senator Lee is timely and well taken. To date the city fathers, other than Alderman Beale, have accepted the current agitation as just such in spite of the fact that thousands of Newton youngsters and adults, who are 'vacationing' right here in Newton, cannot enjoy ANY swimming facilities except in most limited numbers.

"In turn, Mrs. West, Newton born and educated, is definitely rated as one of the best informed persons regarding civic, social service and recreational needs in the city because of her numerous interests and activities. She deserves high praise for her interest in the handicraft work on the playgrounds and among the eight social centres organized for the fall and winter months among the girl teen-agers. Mrs. West has added much to the recreational benefits Newton youngsters are enjoying under a limited budget."

Queried as to any further activity by the "city fathers" re his request for a public hearing, Mr. Gath said, "'No comment' seems to be a favorite expression in many sources these days. That's the word from Newton city hall."

days in California with most of the states having a limit of 60 days. Even New York state, although not limited, has long since completed its session and dissolved. In a few of the states which have a time limit, the legislators may continue to sit, but their pay stops after the deadline. "If that system prevailed here," said Mr. Ayers, "our business would surely have been disposed of before now and we would not need to be debating this measure." He also pointed out that the tendency of the Democratic leadership to have bills held indefinitely in committee until a propitious moment arrived to present them to the House was a major cause for the extended term. One bill, a short, simple measure, he asserted had been at the top of the House calendar for four months, but was being held by the committee on bills in the third reading in the hope that it might be brought out and killed late some night during a long prorogation weekend.

Representative Herter, son of a former Speaker of the Massachusetts House who is now a distinguished member of Congress, a veteran of World War II and now holding his first public office, presented a searching analysis of the work which has actually been done by the House since it convened last January, nearly seven months ago.

TWO HOURS A DAY

"We have averaged a little over two hours a day actual session," he pointed out. "In January, the average was an hour a day and two hours a day in February. This is understandable as the majority of the bills were still being considered by committees. By March, however, most committees had completed the bulk of their hearings and there was ample legislation available to dispose of on the floor of the House. Yet, we worked less than two hours a day on an average during that month. April was a little better with three hours a day, but spring fever caught up with us in May and the average dropped back to two. During June and July the House has outdone itself by averaging, exclusive of the time spent on the budget, a little over three hours a day."

Herter went on to say that had the lower branch of the Legislature remained at work from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. each day from March 1 on, it would have been where it is now by the end of April. "It does not seem unreasonable, he continued, "to expect us to put in four hours a day, particularly when there is no committee work for the great majority of members." "I am convinced," said Rep. Herter, that with the application of what the public would consider a minimum effort, we can prorogue easily by June 1."

Herter demonstrated that there was ample precedent in recent Massachusetts legislative history for an early prorogation. During the last 20 years most of the annual sessions have been over in May or June. "It is only during the reign of the current administration," concluded Mr. Herter, "that we have still been on Beacon Hill in August. And based on the public pronouncements of the Democratic floor leader, it looks as if the 1951 session, with the exception of 1941, the year of the Coakley impeachment, will be the longest in the history of this Commonwealth. The right of free petition notwithstanding we can finish our work in May. This shilly-shallying is a public disgrace and there is no excuse for it."

Representative Philip Whitmore, for many years a Selectman and Moderator of Sunderland, an officer of several agricultural organizations, and a Trustee of the University of Massachusetts, explained to the House how the time of a member coming from a long distance was wasted, at great expense to the taxpayers, by the dilatory tactics of the Democratic leadership which unnecessarily caused so long a term.

Mr. Whitmore spoke on the situation of the 40-odd members who come to the House from so great a distance that they must live in Boston in order to be available for sessions.

TOO MUCH LEISURE

"Because the Legislature does not sit longer hours," said Mr. Whitmore, "we have too many hours of leisure, which the taxpayers support with travel expenses over too long a period of time."

Whitmore insisted that all legislative business could be done expeditiously and carefully if the Legislature sat longer hours per day and fewer days per year.

Whitmore also pointed out that the uncertain length of sessions discouraged many outstanding people from running for the office because of the impossibility of planning their private business affairs to dovetail with the demands of long legislative sessions.

"The people would welcome this change," claimed Mr. Whitmore, "it would not only save a substantial amount of their tax money but would increase the respect in which this body is held if our work were done in an orderly and expeditious manner."

Representative Constantino, a member of the bar from Clinton, in the central part of the state, and a member of the Massachusetts Civil Service Commission until his election to the House last year, concluded the argument for the petitioners by pointing out the uncertainties resulting at all levels of the state's economic and social existence by prolonged sessions.

"All elements of our body politic," said Mr. Constantino, "including labor, industry, agriculture and government services should know as soon as possible the laws and policies which will guide their conduct."

Constantino claimed that the dissatisfaction with the delaying tactics of the present leadership was not confined to Republican members but was being strongly voiced by many Democratic members of the House, particularly newer ones.

"In the first half of the present session," said Mr. Constantino, "the House disposed of 77.47% of the business before the House, in spite of the heavy load of committee work during that time. But in the second half," asserted Constantino, "in spite of committee work being largely finished, we have completed only 17.92%."

You Couldn't Make a Smarter Buy!
BEFORE you make any kind of deal on a new car, remember this: One of the most important things you buy when you buy a new car is its name!
Just think for a minute what the Pontiac name means:
It means a car so thoroughly good it will give you years of pleasure.
It means performance so satisfying you will look forward to every minute behind the wheel.
It means a car so beautiful it stands apart from everything else on the road.
The name Pontiac on your car means you are buying from a dealer who takes pride in the car he sells, the service he provides and his place in the community.
When you can buy all those things for the very low price of a Pontiac, what smarter buy could you make? Come on in and we'll talk deal—you'll be surprised how easy it is to become a Pontiac owner.

The Need Is Great!

The American Red Cross has acted speedily to do all possible to aid the stricken communities recover from the hardship and damage inflicted by the disastrous flood of the Missouri River and its tributaries.

With $90,000 set as the goal to be raised from Greater Boston to help the victims of the Mid-West floods, local residents are urged to give generously to help them begin their long climb back to normal living and working.

Red Cross has served more than a million meals since the flood started, and also has sheltered and clothed thousands. In Kansas, Missouri. Oklahoma and Illinois, Red Cross to date counts 183,188 persons homeless or stranded. Red Cross aid is being given outright, not lent, to those who now have no way of helping themselves.

The needs are staggering to contemplate. With immediate care for the injured and homeless, relief for the destitute and long-range assistance in rebuilding shattered lives, the job of the Red Cross will take a lot of money—much more than can be provided from its present resources.

We Can Anticipate, Can't We?

Eagerly anticipated, suddenly realized, and then regretfully passed—that's vacation in a nutshell. Yet who among us is there who does not annually experience all three phases?

Now at the height of its season, vacation time is a period in which we make acquaintances, acquire new friendships and become the richer, mentally and physically for it, though it must be admitted it is somewhat burdensome on the pocket-book.

We in New England are fortunate during this vacation season. We live in the midst of vacation land—no doubt about it. For nowhere in this country is there a section so richly endowed with scenic beauty as is New England. We have here the countryside, the mountains, and the seashore. The selection of the type scenery we like, is ours for the asking or if ones desire is varied, all three are available.

Indeed vacation is beneficial and it does us good to go away, relax and enjoy new environments. It does something which makes the other fifty weeks of the year, a pleasure to anticipate. All of which means we have realized our annual vacation, we regret it has passed but we still have the right to anticipate for the next fifty weeks, the pleasures it will bring a year hence.

Stockpile Coal Now

Near the end of June, Defense Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson urged that all consumers, including homeowners, government agencies, and industries, stockpile coal and other heavy fuels during the ensuing 90 days. This, he said, would mean a substantial contribution to the defense effort. He added, "With the maximum production impact of the defense program, as measured by requirements of raw materials, expected to occur early in 1952, the burden on our transportation facilities will be increasing rapidly this fall and winter. It is therefore highly important that much of the heavy fuel traffic which is normally concentrated in this period be spread over the summer months."

At about this time, Interior Secretary Chapman also urged coal users to buy and store as much coal as they can. He stated that a summer fuel-buying campaign is the only way full benefit can be obtained from the great productive capacity of the soft coal industry, because the demands of defense traffic on our transportation system will be much heavier next fall and winter.

Moreover, the consumer can definitely benefit himself by "hoarding" coal during the summer. It is cheaper now, and dealer service is good. Coal can be stored easily and safely. Those who wait until coal is urgently needed may have to pay a higher price, and may encounter delays in delivery.

In short, this is a case where we can help the growing defense program and help ourselves while doing so. Order and stockpile your coal now.

Taft Says He Is Undecided Whether to Run; Senate May Not Support Senator Douglas

Senator Robert A. Taft was a bit coy as to his political plans and Presidential aspirations when he came to Massachusetts last weekend to speak at the big Republican gathering in Plymouth.

He told newsmen that he had not actually decided whether he will seek the G. O. P. Presidential nomination and that he probably would not reach a decision until early next year after public sentiment had been reflected in the primaries in the early-voting States.

What Mr. Taft probably meant by that was he should have a pretty good idea by then as to his prospects of landing his party's endorsement at the 1952 Republican national convention.

Any impression, however, that Taft is sitting back and waiting for public sentiment to develop is strictly erroneous. His agents and emissaries have been working diligently in both the Midwest and South to line up convention support for him, and it would be a bit far-fetched to assume they are acting without his knowledge and authorization.

If you accept the theory that a man isn't a candidate until he formerly says so, then Taft is not yet a candidate for President. But as a practical matter, he has been working directly toward the Presidency for the past several months.

Right now Taft is the leading Republican candidate for the Presidency, and the only prospective opponent with the potential strength to defeat him for the G. O. P. nomination is General Dwight D. Eisenhower.

If you're disinclined to accept that appraisal, run down the list of possible Republican contenders, and you will find that unless the G. O. P. convention nominates Eisenhower or Taft, it probably would have to turn to a younger figure such as Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr. It could, of course, do a lot worse than Senator Lodge.

Governor Thomas E. Dewey has taken himself out of the race and has endorsed Eisenhower. But Dewey probably couldn't get the nomination if he wanted it. A majority of the Republican delegates undoubtedly would consider two shots at the Presidency enough for any man.

Harold E. Stassen has said that he would like a place on the Republican national ticket, but he concedes that he does not have the strength to oppose Taft, and consequently he is prepared to join a stop-Taft movement.

California's Governor Earl Warren presumably will come to next year's convention with the solid support of his State's delegation, but the impression he made as the Vice Presidential nominee would hardly lead to his selection as the Presidential standard-bearer.

General Douglas MacArthur has been mentioned as a Presidential prospect. Not only has he disclaimed any such ambitions but he probably is too old, and persons close to him intimate that his objective is a role as military advisor to the next President, in which capacity he would be able to settle his differences with the members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

That doesn't leave much of anyone other than Taft and Eisenhower in the center of the Republican stage. A good many G. O. P. politicos believe that Eisenhower will allow himself to be placed in the race early next year and that he will oppose and defeat Taft for the nomination.

It could well be, of course, that Taft realizes he could not defeat Eisenhower and that he intends to retire from the field if Eisenhower enters it. Maybe that's the reason for his coyness in insisting that he is not as yet a candidate when his agents actually are doing everything possible to sew up convention votes for him while Eisenhower is still in Europe.

Douglas Relying on Senatorial Courtesy

Through long years of custom in which the members of the United States Senate usually carefully respected the rights and feelings of their colleagues, the body came to be known as the "Gentlemen's Club."

Traditionally, the Senate is reluctant to confirm an appointment by the President of the United States if the Senator from the home State of the appointee rises and announces that the person involved is obnoxious to him.

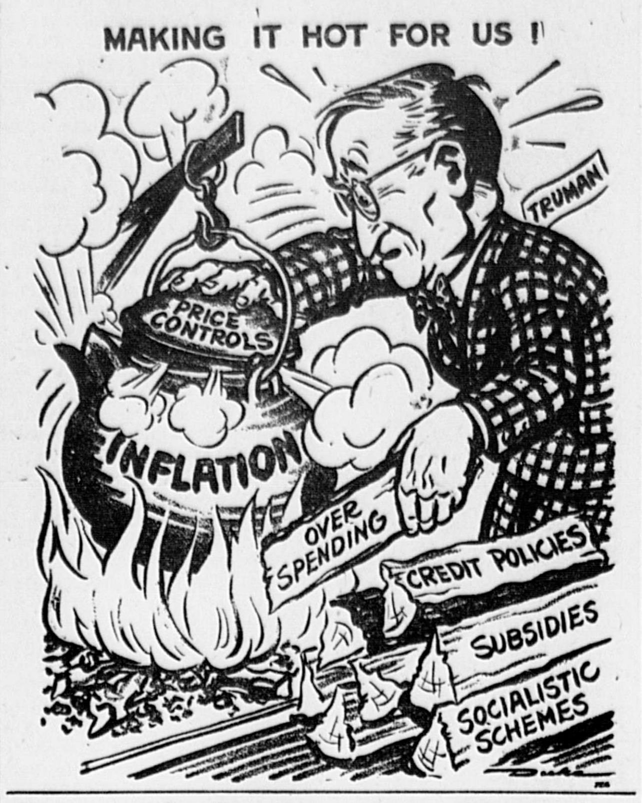
Washington observers familiar with Senatorial courtesy and protocol are awaiting with more than ordinary interest the outcome of the clash between President Truman and Illinois Senator Paul H. Douglas over the appointment of two men to the Illinois federal bench.

Since Douglas is the only Democratic Senator from Illinois and most of the time could be classed as a Fair Dealer, he apparently expected to be allowed to choose the men to be named as judges. But because Douglas had strayed occasionally from the reservation even to the extent of becoming involved in a public controversy with the President, Mr. Truman snubbed him and made the selections himself.

Now Douglas has served notice that he intends to ask as a matter of Senatorial courtesy that the appointments be rejected.

From the standpoint of practical politics, the weakness in Mr. Douglas' argument is that he should have the common sense to realize that any Senator who expects to name Federal judges in his home State must remain on good terms with the President who is the appointing authority.

While the Senators may be reluctant to deny customary courtesy to Douglas, they also may ask themselves why they should be expected to pull his political chestnuts out of the burning embers. They must remain in the President's good graces to retain the prerogative of dictating appointments, and they may well believe that Senator Douglas should expect to do the same if he wants that privilege.



Casserole Dishes Can Help Solve Your Budget Problems

Casserole dishes can help you solve your budget problems. There's plenty of economy in the many combinations of foods that you can serve in casserole—economy in time as well as in money.

Money savings can be considerable, since casseroles make it possible to make a little meat go a long way. And the food savings that add up from the appetizing ways of using left-overs are tremendous. By combining a few ounces of meat or fish with foods in a casserole you can make a delicious and satisfying meal for the whole family. Let your imagination and skill at combining flavors provide the variety.

Time is another important saving. One of the features we like about casserole dishes is that so many of them can be prepared well ahead of meal time. You can have them all ready to pop into the oven after a day of shopping or a trip to your favorite beach. (If you use glass or earthen ware dishes, be sure to put them from the refrigerator into a cold oven to avoid cracking). Many casseroles can be prepared without using the oven. Ones that are made with foods that "catch" on the bottom of the pan easily, can be cooked in the top of a double boiler—milk, cereals, egg sauces. Others can be cooked successfully in a heavy spider over low heat; a few minutes under the broiler will brown the top.

There are five ingredients that usually go into the casserole. Your variations depend on the foods at hand.

1. Topping: buttered bread crumbs, buttered cereal flakes, mashed potato chips. The topping adds that "extra touch" to give a crisp texture and attractive appearance. For top-of-the-stove casseroles, add topping just before serving.

2. The Sauce: white sauce, milk, tomato juice, gravy, meat stock or bullion. A white sauce made from milk, flour and seasonings is often a means of getting more protein food into the casserole. Most casseroles need a thickened sauce of some kind to hold foods together. Eggs can be used for thickening either with or in place of flour.

3. Protein Food: meat, poultry, eggs, cheese, dried beans, fish. One of these or a combination may be used. Dried beans and cereals stretch the protein value of meat and make a little go a long way without cheating your family of needed nutrients.

4. Vegetable: Peas, corn, asparagus, cabbage, peppers, spinach, potatoes, onions, carrots, celery. These add flavor, texture, color and variety to casserole dishes.

5. Starches or Carbohydrates: Macaroni, needles, rice and spaghetti are the usual extenders used. But breakfast, cereals can also be used to good advantage.

The success of a casserole depends on selection of foods that combine well in flavor and texture. When you use left-overs, give as much care and attention to preparation of the casserole as you give to the preparation of fresh foods—and use left-overs as soon as possible. Combine one strong flavored food with mild flavored ones. Experiment with spices and herbs but do it very cautiously—just a pinch at first; you can always add more, but you can't take them out.—Newton Nutrition Center.

Many persons in Newton fully realize how much you are interested in the establishment of a municipal swimming pool on the north side of the city. In recent weeks, there have appeared numerous articles by you and about you concerning your efforts to gather support for such a project. May I add just a word of caution to you from one who for several years advocated a municipal pool, and who has discussed it at length with Commissioner Johnson and a number of fellow aldermen: Please do not make a political issue out of this civic necessity.

Your sincerity in this project is not doubted by me. However, if through the press, you believe you can make a political issue out of this altogether necessary and badly missing function of the recreation department, you will not only fail, but in doing so will probably convince enough minds at City Hall that the project is not worthy of further consideration.

For the sake of the thousands of Newton boys and girls who need and are entitled to a municipal pool, let us attempt to keep politics out and work together with the elected officials for what you and I and many others believe to be a just cause.

Sincerely,
PAUL S. RICH,
Alderman, Ward 7.

News In Brief

SAVES BOY. Patrolman William L. Whelan, who applied a tourniquet to the arm of Michael Ferolito, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Ferolito of 126 Cherry street, West Newton, is credited with saving the boy's life after the youngster fell eight feet through a bulkhead and suffered severe cuts on his forearm after crashing through the glass of the cellar door Sunday.

Camp Frank A. Day Father's Club Elects Lester E. York President

At Camp Frank A. Day, Newton YMCA Resident Camp in East Brookfield, 92 fathers recently spent a week-end and participated in two days of scheduled events that the boys follow during the season. Needless to say, the schedule had to be geared down to the pace that the fathers could keep up with.

After the Sunday dinner, the Camp Frank A. Day Father's Club held a meeting with all the fathers in camp attending and new officers were elected, consisting of Lester E. York, president; Stanley Hackel, secretary-treasurer; and William A. Holliday, Camp Improvement Committee chairman.

The newly formed Camp Improvement Committee will endeavor to assist the camp director in attaining new and greater improvements for the benefit of the boys attending and who will attend in the future.

The preacher this Sunday will be Rev. William A. Spurrier, Instructor of Religion and Director of the Christian Association in Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn. The service will be held in The Eliot Church at 10:45 a. m.

Mr. Herbert Irvine will be the organist and Mrs. Marjorie H. Schumacher will be soloist.

The adoption of the increased exemption bill might well result in a $3 increase in the real estate tax rate next year, he explained.

About 75 percent of real estate owners in the city, who are now also assessed for personal property taxes, might get slight reductions in their total tax bill as a result of the new proposal but the other 25 percent would have to make up the loss, Mr. Wright said.

AS ALTERNATIVE

The bill to raise the exemption on household effects from $1000 to $5000 was offered by its sponsor, Sen. Francis J O'Neill, D., of Attleboro, as an alternative to outright repeal of the tax law, as recommended by the Special Commission on Taxation.

Sen. Richard H. Lee of this city said the proposed exemption "would just about cover the average family and still catch the man with the oriental rugs or grand piano."

The personal property tax law has long been a controversial law and its opponents have contended that it cannot be adequately and fairly applied. Consequently not all communities in the State make a personal property tax assessment on the theory that there is no equitable way to arrive at a proper assessment. Other communities, however, Newton included, have attempted to carry out the provisions of the bill and repeal, or modification of it, will have a decided effect on the tax rate here in the future.

New P. O. Money Orders Should Not Be Stapled

—o—

Patrons of more than 42,000 post offices found a new type postal money order on sale early in July. The new money order appears in the form of a punched card instead of the customary paper slip and purchasers fill out the same application and pay the same fees as required in the past.

With the advent of the new money order came complaints that they are being received folded, stapled, etc. Postmaster Francis A. Crowley particularly urges users to remember that these new money orders must not be folded, stapled, spindled or mutilated in any way since they are to be issued on punched cards and processed by machinery.

Boston has been named the regional post office for the New England district. The first new money order sold in the district was purchased by Postmaster Crowley. It bore the serial No. 1 and he in turn made it payable to the Postmaster General of the United States as a memento of this occasion.

Tax Bill–

it only produces a gross of about $50,000.

The association is considering sponsoring a bill to replace the personal property and poll taxes with what for lack of a better name at this stage is called a "residence" or "occupancy" tax. The tax would be one which would be levied by the various cities and towns on their legal residents at a rate equalling a percentage of the local tax rate. If, for example, it were 10 percent, Newtonians in 1951 would pay $3.84.

It is felt that such a tax would emphasize the cost of operating the municipalities to voters who either pay their local taxes in their rent costs, or hardly at all under frozen rents. It would tend also to have assessors in some communities assess more realistically, rather than having low assessments and high tax rates or vice versa.

Test Case–

then forwards to the Assessors in the cities and towns a list of those cars registered in the different municipalities, and the Assessors then bill the car owners for the excise tax. This tax is for the use of the municipalities except in those cases where the owner resides outside the Commonwealth. In those cases, the tax goes to the state.

Because many car owners did not follow the instructions on the registration application and instead of naming the legal municipality in which they reside, named a subdivision of it, such as naming Chestnut Hill, Waban, Auburndale, Jamaica Plain, Dorchester, etc. Long has claimed that, since there are no such municipalities legally in Massachusetts, the state can take the tax. Therefore, he has billed the car owners who made such entries on their applications upon the form used for out of state persons subject to the tax. The funds are being retained by the state, and the municipalities are thereby deprived of them.

The Taxpayers' Association contends that the proper remedy for Long to have taken was to have had the applications returned as being improperly filled out, due to the fact that it is hard for Long's clerks to remember or look up the various localities in each municipality.

In its bulletin the Newton Taxpayers' Association states that "if the Commissioner were a private individual in this connection a good criminal case against him could be made out for obtaining money under false pretenses" and it "requests Newtonites to fill their forms out properly next year."

Rev. Holmes At Sunday's Union Service

—o—

Minister Emeritus of Community Church in New York City, Rev. John Haynes Holmes, will preach at the August 5 Union Service to be held in the Newtonville Methodist Church. His sermon subject at this service will be "Open Doors to Life."

Rev. Holmes became minister emeritus on his seventieth birthday, after having served the society for forty-two years. He has been a life-long fighter for the dignity and rights of man, and an author of many books, magazine articles, and pamphlets.

The co-operating churches in the Union Services held during the summer months are: Auburndale, Central, Newton Highlands, and Second Congregational; First Unitarian, Lincoln Park Baptist, and Newtonville Methodist. The latter will be host church for the rest of the services extending through the first week of September.

WHY BRISTOL UPHOLSTERING IS DIFFERENT

(1) We don't tie springs just 4 or 6 ways—we tie them fully 8 ways and with special twine.

(2) We don't just glue loose frames—we take out old dowels, replace them with larger and new ones. We add brand new corner blocks.

(3) We don't tack seams at just the obvious spots—we hand sew seams throughout the piece.

(4) The welting isn't simulated—it's separate, individually made — that means it's stronger.

(5) The seams on the sides and backs aren't blind-tacked—all the seams are hand-sewn.

(6) We don't use ordinary fibre or excelsior—we use the new, expensive moss filling.

(7) We don't just repair your cushions—we make brand new cushions, springs and all.

(8) We don't put the fabric on carelessly—we make sure the pattern matches perfectly.

(9) We don't just cut from a pattern—we fit your cover as carefully as a tailor-made suit.

(10) We don't settle for second-best materials—we use only the highest quality throughout.

A petition has been presented to said Court by Robert A. Esty of North Attleboro in the County of Bristol and Clement Esty of Newton in said County of Middlesex, representing that they hold as tenants in common undivided parts or shares of certain land lying in Newton in said County, and briefly described as follows:

Two parcels of land situated in said Newton, being parcels "A" and "B" on a compiled plan No. 1060 of land in Newton, Mass., by Everett M. Brooks Co.—Civil Engineers, dated May 23, 1951, recorded with Middlesex So. Dist. Deeds on June 27, 1951, and more particularly described as follows:

PARCEL "A"
Northwesterly by Spiers Road seven hundred and fifty-three and 35/100 (753.35) feet,
Northerly by the junction of Spiers Road and Dedham Street forty-four and 42/100 (44.42) feet,
Northeasterly by Dedham Street eleven and 62/100 (11.62) feet,
Southeasterly by land of Wilfred C. Esty seventy feet (70),
Northeasterly by land of Wilfred C. Esty sixty feet (60),
Southeasterly by land of Holyhood Cemetery Association six hundred sixty-two and 44/100 feet (662.44),
Southwesterly by lot #1 on said plan one hundred feet (100).
PARCEL "B"
Northeasterly by Dedham Street three hundred and sixty-three (363) feet,
Southeasterly by land of James Esty two hundred (200) feet,
Northeasterly by land of said James Esty fifty (50) feet,
Northwesterly by land of said James Esty two hundred (200) feet,
Northeasterly by Dedham Street four hundred and twenty-three (423) feet,
Easterly by the junction of Dedham Street and Spiers Road twenty-seven and 29/100 (27.29) feet,
Southeasterly by Spiers Road seven hundred and seventy-seven and 28.100 (777.28) feet,
Southwesterly by sundry lots and the land of Saw Mill Brook Parkway one thousand and 13/100 (1000.13) feet,

Report Explains Causes of Yearly Deficits of Hospital

An excellent report from Newton-Wellesley Hospital explains the causes for yearly deficits of that fine Red Feather institution. The report, verbatim, follows:

"Due to a number of factors, virtually all voluntary hospitals are faced with an annual operating deficit. In short, more money is spent by the hospital in supplying care and services than it receives in income. Newton-Wellesley Hospital, more efficiently managed than many, still finds at the end of the year that it has spent more than it has received. This annual deficit is met in two ways: by grants from the Newton and Wellesley Community Chests and by drawing on the hospital's capital reserves. Obviously continued draughts on reserves cannot continue indefinitely.

"The largest single source of hospital deficits is in the free care that your hospital must grant to those who are unable to meet their hospital bills. Not all of this money by any means goes for complete payment of the whole hospital bill. Many patients are able to pay part of the cost of their hospitalization, but would be knocked out financially if they were called on to pay the full amount of the cost of their care.

"The hospital's deficit for free care is produced in separate yet related manners. State and city welfare patients must be given care at the hospital. And yet the amounts alloted by state and city welfare agencies fail by a substantial amount to pay for the actual cost of maintaining these patients in the hospital. Last year there was a difference of $44,683 between the amount received from state and city welfare and the cost to the hospital of providing treatment and food and drugs and housing and all of the other essentials to restoring these patients to health. Then there was a large group of patients who were not eligible for state or city welfare aid and yet who could not meet either all or part of their hospital bill. Last year care in the amount of $77,444 was provided for members of this group. A small amount of additional deficit is produced by workmen's compensation cases and the cost of hospitalizing employees.

"This year the community chests of Newton and Wellesley have allocated $75,000 to help defray this operating deficit. Of this, $60,000 is a grant from Newton and $15,000 comes from Wellesley. The total amount accounts for only approximately 5 per cent of the hospital budget for the current year. But without the generous grants contributed by the two communities, the hospital would long since have exhausted its reserves and would be in serious financial difficulty.

"Let us look for a minute at a typical case and see the kind of help that your Red Feather dollars bought for members of the communities. Mary X, aged four and a half, was the eldest of four daughters. Her mother died suddenly and unexpectedly, forcing the father to farm out his family among such relatives as could care for the youngsters. Then Mary fell ill herself. As the oldest child, her mother's death had affected her more than it had her sisters. Her father had been distracted by the suddenness of his wife's death and by the difficulties of breaking up his home. He had been almost snowed under by the debts incurred during his wife's brief but tragic illness. Mary's condition grew quickly worse and it became necessary to admit her to the hospital. Her father had been receiving helpful advice on many other aspects of his problems from the Family Service Bureau, another Red Feather agency, and it was through this organization that Mary's admission to the hospital was arranged.

"Mary was definitely overwhelmed by her mother's sudden death, and this affected her resilience, making her recovery slow and difficult. Her father literally did not know where to turn to get money to pay for her hospitalization, let alone to pay full board for the other youngsters who were staying with relatives. When he was told that the hospital would be able to help with his bill, through the generosity of Red Feather funds, his relief was touching and immediate. It meant so much to him to know that his daughter was receiving the best of care and one worry at least was somewhat alleviated."

(SEAL) EQUITY

To WILLIAM M. JOHNSTON, EMILY J. JOHNSTON, now or formerly of Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; JOHN H. JOHNSTON, now or formerly of Worcester, in the County of Worcester and said Commonwealth, JAMES B. JOHNSTON, now or formerly of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk and said Commonwealth, GEORGE E. TAYLOR, ALICE JOHNSTON TAYLOR, JOHN A. ENMAN and GRACE JOHNSTON ENMAN, now or formerly of said Newton, or their Heirs, Devisees, or Legal Representatives:

GREETING:

WHEREAS, a suit in equity has been begun in our Land Court by WILLIAM M. HOWARD, formerly William M. Hurwitz, of said Newton, representing that he is the owner of certain land situated in said Newton, fronting on Cotton Street, that in the chain of title affecting said land there appears a deed from William M. Johnston, et al., to William Johnston dated July 31, 1920 and recorded in the Middlesex South Registry of Deeds, Book 4338, Page 413 which deed contained the clause that the same was subject to any outstanding mortgage; that it was the intention of the petitioners that the conveyance was to be made subject to an outstanding mortgage of record but that through mistake the words "of record" were omitted from the deed, and praying that said deed be amended accordingly.

WE COMMAND YOU, if you intend to make any defense, that on the FOURTH day of SEPTEMBER next, which day is the return day of this subpoena, or within such further time as the law allows, you do cause your written appearance to be entered and your written answer or other lawful pleading to be filed in the office of the Recorder of said Court at Boston, in the County of Suffolk and further, that you defend against said suit according to law, if you intend to make any defense, and that you do and receive what the Court shall order, adjudge and decree therein.

Hereof fail not, at your peril, as otherwise said suit may be adjudged and orders and decrees entered therein, in your absence.

And it appearing to the Court upon the suggestion of the plaintiffs that the whereabouts of some of the defendants are unknown and that they cannot be served with process,

IT IS ORDERED that notice of this suit be given by publishing a copy of this subpoena once each week for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in said Newton, the last publication to be one month at least before the said fourth day of September next.

Witness, JOHN E. FENTON, Esquire, Judge of our Land Court, the sixteenth day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifty-one.

SYBIL H. HOLMES, Recorder.

THIS IS NOT A TRICK "before and after" photograph. Alexander Tedesco (right) recently welcomed his twin, 1st Lt. William Tedesco, to the Transportation Research and Development Station, Fort Eustis, Virginia. Al is at present an aeronautical engineer with the air branch of the station, where Bill, one of the Transportation Corps' first helicopter pilots, was recently assigned. Sons of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Tedesco, 249 Auburn street, Auburndale, both attended Northeastern University, from which Al was graduated in 1949. Bill was a flight officer with the Massachusetts National Guard before re-joining the Army. Both served in the Air Corps during World War II. Their father is the Newton distributor for the Kaiser-Frazier automobile. Al's wife, the former Ellen Logue of Jamaica Plain, and Bill's wife, the former Barbara Ann Marcell of West Newton, are living at Newport News.

Boyd, 17-Year-Old Novice, and Clancy, of Oakley, Win at Golf

Doug Boyd, 17-year-old novice from the home course, and Clayton Clancy from Oakley, combined their varied talents Sunday at Brae Burn to win the 4th Member-Guest Handicap tourney.

With Clancy advising his protege on every shot, the unsung team defeated Junior Anderson of Needham, 1948 winner, and member Bob Meier 1 up, in the final.

Saturday they ousted the defending champs, Kemble and Reed, from the tourney and Sunday morning they bumped former state champion Clark Hodder and Hank Loudon in their semi-final match, 5 and 3.

Although young Boyd started golf seriously just this year, and never has broken 95 at Brae Burn, some of the older members thought his 18 handicap was too high for this tourney. Actually, Doug helped Clancy with his strokes on just one hole in the final, that coming on the ninth which he won with a net birdie.

Anderson and Meier were one up at the turn but then Bob, who is Junior's boss in the elevator business, got hot for the next six holes, being a net four under par for that stretch.

When the tense teen-ager banged home a 15-footer for a winning par on 17, the match was all even for the first time since the fourth hole. Going up the 18th, Boyd, Clancy and Anderson all hit the green in two, but Junior three-putted from 40 feet above the cup for a losing bogey.

Boyd, who enters Harvard in the Fall, is the youngest ever to win the tourney. The Newton lad was at Brae Burn at 7 o'clock Sunday morning, practicing for his matches. During the first nine holes of the final match, Doug's nervousness hurt his game, as he picked up on three holes and helped his partner only on the ninth.

Deaths and Funerals

JOSEPH H. POTTER

—o—

After a long illness, Joseph Henry Potter, 79, of 143 Bridge street, Newton, died last Wednesday afternoon at a Boston convalescent home.

Born in Dover, England, he had lived in Lexington for many years and made his home in Newton for the past four years. He was a retired electrician and worked for the Boston Edison Company.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Peter Marchant of 18 School street, Newton, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held at the Joseph G. Vahnte Funeral Chapel in Newton on Saturday. Burial was in Mount Feake Cemetery, Waltham.

o

ELLEN H. LADD

—o—

Funeral services for Mrs. Ellen Healy Ladd, 71, of 444 Winchester street, Newton Highlands, who died at her home last Sunday, were held Wednesday morning with a 10 o'clock mass at Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church, Newton Upper Falls.

Mrs. Ladd was a native of Boston and had lived in Milton for 38 years before moving to Newton about a year ago.

Besides her husband, William B. Ladd, she leaves three daughters, Miss M. Gertrude Ladd of Newton; Mrs. Walter J. Fandel of Milton; and Mrs. James F. MacGregor of Barrington, R. I.; and three sons, William B. Jr., of Lexington; Harold J. of Milton and Capt. J. Raymond Ladd of the U. S. Air Force.

Burial was in Milton Cemetery.

EMMA F. TILTON

—o—

Mrs. Emma F. Tilton, 82, of 26 Chase street, Newton Centre, died last Thursday. Widow of Eugene H. Tilton, she leaves a daughter, Mrs. Marjorie T. Perry of Newton Centre; a son, Thomas A. Tilton of Weston; five grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Friday at the First Church (Congregational) in Newton Centre.

ELIZABETH WHITE

—o—

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth (DeCoste) White 87, formerly of 60 Dalby street, Newton, was held Saturday at the Thomas Memorial Funeral Home, Watertown. A requiem mass in St. John the Evangelist Church, Newton, was held also.

Mrs. White, a Newton resident for more than 50 years, died Wednesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alice Boudreau at Northfield, Vt. She was born in Cape Breton, N. S.

She leaves, besides Mr. Boudreau, two other daughters, Mrs. Vida Tetreault of Woonsocket, R. I., and Mrs. Lillian Cartier of Flint, Mich.; one son, Clifford White of Chatham, seven grandchildren, and one great-grandchild. She was the widow of Anthony White.

Interment was in the family lot in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

FREDA B. DELOREY

—o—

Mrs. Freda B. (Anderson) Delorey, 77, wife of William J. Delorey, of 65 Kaposia street, Auburndale, died Friday at her home.

Born in Sweden, she lived in Auburndale for 50 years, and belonged to the Auburndale Congregational Church.

Surviving Mrs. Delorey are three sons, Fred H. of Auburndale, Arthur R. of Waltham, and Charles W. of East Dedham; two nephews in Franklin, and several nieces in Sweden.

Services were held in the Newton Cemetery Chapel Saturday, and interment was in the Newton cemetery.

o

MARY FRANCES TIRRELL

—o—

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Frances (Mahoney) Tirrell of 39 Osborne park, Oak Hill Park, was held Friday from the Martin E. Conroy Funeral Home, Newton Corner. A solemn mass of requiem was held in Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church, Newton Upper Falls, at 9 o'clock.

Reverend Alfonso G. Paladino was celebrant, Rev. John Wall, the deacon, and Rev. Theodore Seckel the sub-deacon. Reverend Daniel J. Scully of St. Mary's Church, Charlestown, was seated within the sanctuary.

Bearers were George H. Thorne, John M. Shea, George Linehan, George Freedman, Emilio DeLollis, and Henry J. Chandonait Jr. Delegations were present from the branch stores of S. S. Pierce, where Mrs. Tirrell was employed for many years. Also present were delegations from the Newton Post, American Legion, and Legion Auxiliary.

Burial was in New Calvary Cemetery, Roslindale, with prayers by Fr. Wall.

Newton Doctor Awarded $3000 Fellowship

Dr. Ernest M. Daland, president of the Massachusetts division of the American Cancer Society, announced recently that Dr. Marjorie B. Lees of Newtonville has been awarded a $3000 fellowship for basic biochemical research.

Dr. Lees, the wife of Dr. Sidney Lees, assistant professor at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, is the mother of a year-old son. She received her doctorate from Radcliffe last June, and is engaged in basic research on biochemistry of the nervous system. She directs scientific research at McLean Hospital, Waverly, and will continue her research on the chemistry of brain tumors. She received her undergraduate degree from Hunter College, and her master's degree from the University of Chicago.

No Cases Of Polio In Newton

—o—

No cases of poliomyelitis were reported in Newton so far this year, according to an anouncement by the Newton Health Department, which dated their report from the week ending July 21. For that period, there have been 17 cases reported in Massachusetts, and the total for the month of July for the state was 29.

There is still little tendency for cases to concentrate in any one area, and Marlboro, which has reported three cases, is not building up with any rapidity and may quiet down shortly.

If new cases continue to appear in Boston and the communities to the north as far as Beverly, the tSate Health Department says, "It will be well to stop scheduling elective tonsillectomies in the immediate future. There is little need to do so in any other area in the state as yet .

Cities reporting one new case for the week ending July 21 were: Athol, Beverly, Brewster, Brockton, Cambridge, Holyoke, Lexington, Lynn, Medford, Randolph, Revere, Somerville, South Hadley, and Wilmington.

The national total of cases for the year is still more than 10 per cent lower than for the corresponding period in 1950. The states in which the disease has been highest so far are: Texas, California, Louisiana, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Colorado, Illinois, Wisconsin, and Arizona.

First Church of Christ, Scientist, Newton

391 Walnut St., Newtonville
Sunday morning service 10:45
Sunday School at same hour
Wednesday evening testimony meeting at 8

—o—

The divine Love that heals the sick, comforts the sad, and redeems the sinner, will be the central theme at Christian Science services next Sunday.

The lesson-sermon, composed of selections from the Holy Bible (King James Version) and the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, is entitled "Love."

The golden text is from Jude: "Keep yourselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto eternal life." (1:21).

These selections from I John will be read: "My little children(let us not love in word, neither in tongue; but in deed and in truth . . . God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him." (3:18; 4:16).

Citations read from Science and Health include: "Love is impartial and universal in its adaptation and bestowals." (13:2-3). "Universal Love is the divine way in Christian Science." (266:18-19).

Petition Seeks To Have Paul Brook Covered

Residents Want City Action Now

A petition signed by thirty-three homeowners in the vicinity of Hagen road in Oak Hill, living beside or close to an open brook which flows at times vigorously under the turnpike back of Olde Field road, Great Meadow road, and Hynes road to Parker street, seeks to have the brook covered, at least in part from Parker street to Haynes road.

During the last year some forty new homes have been constructed in this area, bringing to the community an estimated sixty young children living in too close proximity to Paul Brook, which, in the interest of public health and safety, the petition contends, condition should be remedied.

The petition asks the City to take steps to cover Paul Brook from Parker street to Haynes road, a distance of approximately 500 feet, which the residents believe will protect the young children, as well as improve the appearance of the neighborhood and reduce breeding spots for mosquitos. The brook now flows within thirty feet from the back doors of at least a dozen of the homes. The petitioners are deter-

REPORT FROM EUROPE

(Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Balos of 119 Park street, Newton, together with their youngsters, are making a tour of Europe in their automobile which they took with them. Mrs. Balos speaks several foreign languages and is therefore, able to converse with the peoples of the several European countries and obtain first hand information relative to their thoughts and feelings. Her observations on conditions are timely and we believe will be found very interesting. In the following letter to Alderman and Mrs. Paul Rich, Mrs. Balos presents the first part of her trip through Europe.)
—Editor.

Zurich-Witikon, Switzerland
July 25, 1951.

Writing the date makes me realize that it's only 19 days since we landed at LeHavre. They have been wonderfully crowded days. In fact, as I look back it's surprising that so much was done in so little time.

At dockside we filled the tank with gasoline and journeyed forth to see Normandy—the Normandy you can't see from a train window. First, we explored the fantastic beach at Etretat: enormous cliffs, deeply eroded into great arches, caves, and isolated needles of rock the height of the John Hancock Building. On our way to Rouen we went by side roads and back roads to savor the peasant life—farms with thatched roofs, barns developed from medieval stone turrets, high-walled farmhouses surrounded by very tall trees making a thick hedge. Rouen was once a beautiful provincial capital which we had visited before the war. Now many of its finest old structures are either completely destroyed or badly damaged. The wonderful cathedral—among the best in all Europe—is pretty well ruined. It was especially sad to see some of the great window arches making broken stone lacework in the sky.

Then along the Seine, mostly high above the water, enjoying the beautiful wide panoramas which changed continually with the meandering course of the road and the river. To avoid the crowded hotels of Paris during the 2000th Anniversary of the city we stopped at the Yacht Club in Herblay, just down the river and only half an hours drive to the Etoile. The children adored the Club's swimming pool and we loved the peaceful and exquisite dinner on the terrace above the Seine.

Ceremonies To Be Held Thursday, August 23

Governor Dever, Mayor Lockwood Cut Ribbon Opening New Highway

Thursday afternoon Aug. 23 at 2 o'clock, the new Route 128 will be dedicated and the first part of the ceremonies will take place at the junction of Routes 128 and 9 in Newton-Wellesley on the Overpass.

Governor Paul A. Dever will cut the first ribbon, opening the new highway and greet Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood, who will cut the ribbon in the Newton area.

Mayor Lockwood will be accompanied by Director of Public Works W. S. Pratt; City Engineer U. M. Schiavone; Alderman Edward A. Fahey, chairman of the Street Traffic Committee; Alderman Kenneth E. Prior, chairman of the Public Works Committee; and Alderman Clyde S. Casady, chairman of the Educational Committee. Representing the Newton Chamber of Commerce will be Murray E. Sholkin, president; Rupert C. Thompson, executive secretary; Roy S. Edwards, chairman of the Board; William J. Baxter, director; and Thomas L. Gill, honorary director.

Mayor Lockwood will also make a few remarks relative to this great event in the history of Newton. Also a documentary film, which was started at the beginning of this project, will end with the dedication.

Police details will be under the supervision of Chief Philip Purcell.

Croker Named Newton Water Commissioner

Mark F. Croker of 1093 Chestnut street, Newton Upper Falls, superintendent of the water department for almost 20 years, was appointed water commissioner last Friday by Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood. He succeeds Joseph J. Murray, who retired last month.

Croker's nomination to the $5600 a year position will be submitted for approval by the Board of Aldermen at its meeting next Monday, Mayor Lockwood announced.

BORN IN NEWTON

Born in Newton June 18, 1902, Mr. Croker was superintendent of source of supply of the Water Department since November, 1932, and has been acting commissioner since Mr. Murray's retirement. After attending public schools here, Mr. Croker was graduated from Boston College in 1923 and has studied water works practices at Harvard University and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. During the winter of 1934-35, he attended the Harvard Graduate School of Engineering.

Following his graduation from Boston College, he was employed in the food service equipment business until his appointment to the Newton Water Department. During World War II, he served as supply co-ordinator for District N-3, of about 30 communities, under State Emergency plan of the adjutant general of the Commonwealth. He is now a member of the State Civil Defense advisory committee on Environmental Sanitation, relating to water supply and sewage disposal matters in time of disaster.

Two Ex-Fighter Pilots Among Hosp. Interns

Two ex-fighter pilots, one Dr. Francis J. Maguire, of West Newton, former U.S. Naval aviator, and Dr. William Sharpe, Jr., of Rockland, Maine, are presently completing their medical educations by serving as interns, or House officers at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, according to Dr. T. Stewart Hamilton, Hospital Director.

Dr. Maguire, a resident of West Newton served as a naval flier from 1942 to 1946 and Dr. Sharpe had a tour of duty with the air wing of the U.S. Marine Corps, flying from carriers off Okinawa. Dr. Sharpe holds the Air Medal with four clusters and the Distinguished Flying Cross with cluster. Both men took their medical training at Boston University School of Medicine.

Another intern, Dr. Arthur J. Schramm, a graduate of Tufts Medical School, served for two years at sea in the U.S. Navy. Dr. Schramm comes from Norwood, Mass. Dr. Paul H. Gates, of Boston, served for three years

Hahn Pleads Innocent To Charge

Herbert Hahn, 29, of 38 Sumner street, Newton Centre, appearing in Newton District Court Tuesday morning, pleaded innocent to a charge of stealing $50,000 from Mrs. Elizabeth Ellis King, 36, of 50 Dorset road, Waban and Judge Donald E. Mayberry set the bail at $10,000 and continued the case until next Tuesday. Bail was supplied by a friend of the Hahn family.

Accompanied by his attorney, Edward M. Dangel of Chestnut Hill, the defendant arrived at the court house shortly before 9 a.m., and was taken to police headquarters and booked on a charge of larceny by Sgt. James E. Corcoran, with Patrolman John W. Foley listed as the arresting officer.

TALKED OF MARRIAGE

Mrs. King, the daughter of Reuben M. Ellis, late president of the Philip Morris Tobacco Company, charges that Hahn stole cash and securities during an acquaintanceship of seven months when they talked about their marriage as soon as Hahn could be divorced from his wife.

On the complaint of "larceny of $50,000, monies of the United States," the defendant waived the reading of the complaint and entered a plea of innocent. Mrs. King, who was not in court, was represented by Atty. Walter McLaughlin of Belmont.

Named V-President Of Ass'n.

Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood has received notice of his election to the post of vice-president of the Massachusetts Chapter, American Society for Public Administration.

The Society is a nationwide organization of Federal, State and local officials, Research Directors, Consultants and Educators, and others interested in advancing the science of public administration and improving administrative techniques.

Local chapters of the Society serve as forums for the exchange of ideas and experience in the field of public administration. They focus attention upon administrative problems, foster cordial relationships upon administrative problems and generally advance the science and art of public administration.

Newton Explorer Scouts Living Life of U.S. Air Force Cadets

Explorer Scouts from Newton and Wellesley are living the life of United States Air Force Cadets this week at Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh, N. Y., in the 7th annual "Wings of West Point" Explorer Encampment.

In cooperation with the United States Air Force, the Scouts were flown in C-46 transport planes from Bedford Airport to the Encampment last Saturday. They will return in the same manner this Saturday.

At Stewart Field all facilities used by the West Point Aviation Cadets are available to the Scouts, including meals in the cadet dining hall, living quarters in the cadet barracks, the medical base dispensary and the hospital.

The program covers instruction in navigation, weather, power plants, link trainer, communications, instruments and parachutes. All activities are under the guidance of Col. E. D. Lancaster, Commanding Officer of Stewart Field and his staff. Aviation training is being coordinated by Lt. John Adams, U.S. Air Force Liaison Officer for the New England Region with the assistance of Air R.O.T.C. officers.

Newton Explorers participating are: Harry Chase, Robert Grehan, Richard Stover, William Waldman and James Dwyer of Air Squadron 1; George Blouin, Harold Trainor, Raymond Cormier, Ralph Boudreau and Lawrence Quinn of Explorer Post 44; Robert Forbes of Explorer Post 11; and John Farrington, Donald Dery and Gordon King of Explorer Post 7.

They are accompanied by seven Wellesley Explorers and by Edward E. Ross Jr., Advisor of Air Squadron 1.

Henry F. Long Not Losing Sleep Over Newton's Suit

Henry F. Long, guardian of the Bay State tax dollar has discovered that too many Massachusetts car owners, including some from Newton, either don't know the municipality in which they live or aren't intelligent enough to write it down on their auto insurance papers.

This peculiar situation came to light with the disclosing that Newton has brought suit against Mr. Long for a writ of mandamus in the name of the Newton Board of Assessors to compel the Tax Commissioner to turn over to the board all information regarding the registration of cars in the city's several sections where the postoffice address does not contain the word "Newton."

According to Matt B. Jones, city solicitor, Commissioner Long has been sending motor vehicle excise tax bills directly to the car owners in cases where the postoffice address on the registration application is Auburndale, Waban, Nonantum, Chestnut Hill or Oak Hill, and keeping the money for the State. Ordinarily state and municipalities share the money.

Newton's beef is that Mr. Long, in not looking up these places to determine in what municipality they are located and in not turning over to the city of Newton for collections, is depriving the city of a substantial sum of money.

NOT WORRIED

Is Mr. Long worried about the suit? Not so you would notice it. While he declined, and quite understandably, any comment on the outcome of the court action, you gathered quite emphatically that Commissioner Long has little fear of being on the losing end.

"We'll be in court," he said. "And we'll have the answer."

Mr. Long's answer is that "if people were only intelligent enough to know where they live and to write down the proper municipality on their registration application, then a situation such as the one that has wrought the ire of Newton officials, would not exist.

"It all came about, I guess," said the Tax Commissioner, "after we received several cards

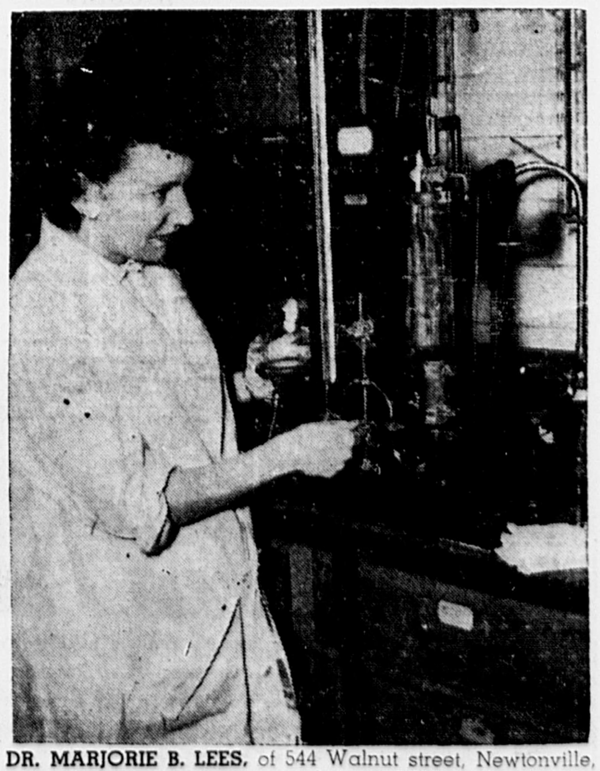
4 Escape Death In Plane Crash

As its pilot attempted to land, Monday night, a five-seater amphibian plane overturned and plunged into Haggerty's Pond, Andover, almost drowning the occupants, two young brothers and their wives. The couples, Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Hitchcock of 155 Oakleigh road, Newton; and Mr. and Mrs. William E. Hitchcock, of Orchard drive, West Acton, were brought ashore in a rowboat by two unidentified fishermen.

They were enroute from Biddeford, Me., to Bedford Airport, when Robert Hitchcock, piloting, decided to land on the pond to wash off salt water accumulated on the plane since an ocean landing [illegible] Maine. According to authorities, the plane was almost 50 feet above the landing point, when a sudden draft forced it nose first into the water, overturning it.

William Hitchcock was thrown into the water. His brother climbed out after him, but went back into the plane for the women. He dragged them, unconscious, onto the top of the plane, where the fishermen found them.

A fire department ambulance rushed all four to the Lawrence General Hospital, where the women were held for treatment of cuts, bruises, and internal injuries. Doctors report that their condition is not serious.



DR. MARJORIE B. LEES, of 544 Walnut street, Newtonville, a biochemist, has been awarded a $3,000 Fellowship for basic research by the American Cancer Society, it has been announced by the Society's Massachusetts Division. She is shown here at the Scientific Research Laboratory of McLean Hospital where she is helping Dr. Jordi Folch-Pi, laboratory director, in research involving biochemistry of tumors of the nervous system.

No Polio Up To August 1

In a resume of the prevalence of poliomyelitis up to the week ending July 28, the Newton Health Dept. states that no cases have been reported in Newton so far this year. There have been 79 cases in Massachusetts this year, as compared to 26 reported last year.

Although the number of cases has increased, it is gratifying to note that of the cases classified to date, nearly two thirds are non-paralytic. This may mean that other viruses (Coxsackie, etc.) may be producing confusing cases, which have been reported as non-paralytic polio. Most of the paralytic cases have been in Northern Worcester and western Middlesex Counties.

There has been no remarkable increase nationally. Total to date for 1951 is 4535, as compared to last year's total through July 20 of 4995. The disease is decreasing in Texas, but increasing somewhat in the East, South Central and Mountain States.

At an evening ceremony in the Union Church, Waban, July 27, Mr. Harbo Peter Jensen of Newton Highlands, gave his daughter Grace in marriage to Mr. Sven B. Stenquist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sven Stenquist of Natic. Dr. Joseph MacDonald officiated. A reception followed at the Waban Neighborhood Club, Beacon street.

Seed pearls trimmed the bride's ice blue satin gown, which had a full skirt and train. A satin crown held her fingertip veil and she carried stephanotis, gardenias and baby orchids.

The sister of the bride, Mrs. Roby B. Anderson, wearing a light blue strapless gown, served as maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Ralph Stenquist and Miss Phyllis Stiglish, Phyllis Marden was flower girl and H. Peter Jensen, Jr., the bride's brother, was ring bearer.

Mr. Ralph Stenquist served as best man and the ushers were Mr. Arnold Carlson, Mr. Edwin Williams and Mr. Rudolph Peterson.

Following a wedding trip, the young couple will reside in Natick.

WHY BRISTOL UPHOLSTERING IS DIFFERENT

(1) We don't tie springs just 4 or 6 ways—we tie them fully 8 ways and with special twine.

(2) We don't just glue loose frames—we tear out old dowels, replace them with larger and new ones. We add brand new corner blocks.

(3) We don't tack seams at just the obvious spots—we hand sew seams throughout the piece.

(4) The welting isn't simulated—it's separate, individually made — that means it's stronger.

(5) The seams on the sides and backs aren't blind-tacked—all the seams are hand-sewn.

(6) We don't use ordinary fibre or excelsior—we use the new, expensive moss filling.

(7) We don't just repair your cushions—we make brand new cushions, springs and all.

(8) We don't put the fabric on carelessly—we make sure the pattern matches perfectly.

(9) We don't just cut from a pattern—we fit your cover as carefully as a tailor-made suit.

(10) We don't settle for second-best materials—we use only the highest quality throughout.

Phyllis Marie Hurd Bride Of Gilbert Grassilli

Saturday afternoon in a double ring ceremony at Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church, Newton Upper Falls, Miss Phyllis Marie Hurd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Hurd, of Newton Upper Falls, became Mrs. Gilbert Harold Grassilli. Her husband is the son of Mrs. Mary Grassilli, also of Newton Upper Falls.

The 3 o'clock ceremony, performed by Rev. Alfonso G. Pallidino, was followed by a reception at the Colonial Inn in Medfield. The bride was given away by her father.

Her white nylon marquisette gown was fashioned with a bouffant skirt en train, a fitted bodice with nylon yoke, and long sleeves. Venetian lace traced the wrists and standing collar of the yoke. Seed pearls trimmed her cap of matching lace, which held a fingertip illusion veil. The bride carried a white satin prayer book with orchids and baby's breath.

As her sister's maid of honor, Miss Mildred Hurd wore pink net over aqua taffeta, with a headpiece of pink net. She carried a pink satin prayer book with pink roses.

The groom's brother, Emilio Grassilli, was best man. Ushers included Albert Graham of Waltham, and Roger E. Hewitt of Cochituate, both brothers-in-law of the bride.

Mrs. Hurd and Mrs. Grassilli, in the receiving line, wore light-blue crepe and aqua nylon, respectively, and each had white accessories.

Honored With Bridal Shower

Miss Ann DeMichele was honored recently at a miscellaneous bridal shower, given for her at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry DeMichele, 960 Chestnut street, Newton Upper Falls.

About 40 guests attended the shower, which was given by Miss Mary Welch of Framingham. Miss Welch will be maid of honor in the October wedding when Miss DeMichele becomes the bride of Joseph V. Klocker, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Klocker of Waban. Assisting Miss Welch were Mrs. DeMichele; Mrs. Dorothy Fernald, who will be matron of honor; Miss Dorothy Coffey; and Miss Anne DeMichele, aunt of the bride-elect.

The decorations were cleverly carried out in pink and blue, with a rose motif. Miss DeMichele was seated beneath a bell which showered her with rose petals. The shower cake was also pink and blue.

Miss DeMichele and Mr. Klocker will be married at Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church, Newton Upper Falls, October 27.

with the 11th Armored Division of the U.S. Army, emerging as a sergeant. Following the war, Dr. Gates spent a year in study at the Sorbonne, in Paris, France. He is another Tufts Medical School graduate.

Dr. Chester W. White is following a somewhat unusual program at the hospital. His internship will be completed over a three year period due to the fact that Dr. White will be teaching Pharmacology at B.U. Medical school during the winter terms, so he will only have the summer months for his hospital training.

Along with the five interns, three young men are completing training as Surgical Residents at the hospital. Dr. Frederick M. Davies, of Waltham, Mass. took his medical course at Harvard Medical School and then served as intern at the New York Hospital. Dr. Davies is a veteran of three years of sea duty aboard a U.S. Navy destroyer escort. Dr. Earle M. Davis, of Reading, Mass., had two years of duty in the U.S. Army and is a graduate of the College of Medicine of the University of Vermont. Dr. Davis completed his internship at Newton-Wellesley Hospital. The third member of this senior group is Dr. Robert Steinsieck of Newton Centre. A graduate of Brown University and the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Columbia University Dr. Steinsieck served for two years as Post Surgeon at the Army Air Field at Memphis, Tennessee.

Two third year medical students who are spending the summer months as "externs" at the hospital round out the staff of men in training. They are: Charles E. Billings, Jr. of Newtonville, a student at the New York University College of Medicine and William H. Cain of the Medical College of the State of South Carolina. In order that they may gain accreditation for their work and to provide proper supervision it has been necessary for Dr. David Skinner, Pathologist at the hospital, to be appointed to the faculties of the two schools in question.

Double Ring Ceremony at Fried-Gordon Nuptials

Barbara Ruth Fried, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Fried of Auburndale, became the bride July 22 of Mr. Ellis Lippman Gordon, son of Mr. Lewis Gordon, of North Carolina, in a double ring ceremony performed at Temple Emmanuel. Rev. Gabrial Hochberg officiated at the marriage, in which the bride was given away by her father.

Miss Fried chose a pink satin suit, covered with chantilly lace. She wore matching accessories and a white orchid. Her sister, Norma E. Lurie, of North Carolina, was maid of honor, wearing a red afternoon dress with white accessories and flowers. The bride's mother wore a beige lace gown with an orchid and matching accessories.

Mr. Lewis Gordon was best man and ushers were Melvin Gordon, Alfred Gordon, Kalman Gordon, and Dr. Allan Lurie.

Following the reception, which was held in the Empress Room at the Hotel Somerset, the couple left for a wedding trip to Atlantic City. They will make their home in Statesville, North Carolina.

The bride was graduated from Newton High School. Mr. Gordon attended the University of North Carolina.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Duff To Live In Washington

Miss Shirley Place became the bride recently of Mr. Owen Douglass Duff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Duff of Newtonville, in a double ring ceremony held in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Marr of Needham. With Reverend Franklin A. Bower, the bridegroom's brother-in-law, officiating, Mr. Marr gave his daughter away.

Her bouffant gown was white net and lace with matching net and lace veil. For flowers, the bride carried stephanotis and gladioli.

Mrs. Patricia Rounding was matron of honor for her sister, wearing aqua nylon, a headpiece of veil and flowers, and carrying sweetheart roses.

James Hope of Waban was best man.

Mrs. Marr chose a gold silk gown for her daughter's wedding, while Mrs. Duff wore a turquiose faille dress.

After a wedding trip to Cape Cod, the couple will reside in Washington, D. C., where the bridegroom is stationed with the U. S. A. F. The bride attended Nasson College. The bridegroom attended the University of Maine. Both are graduates from Newton High School.

Miss Mary Praught Bride Of Mr. William Glavin

The altar of St. Patrick's Church, Watertown, was banked with white gladioli for the Saturday morning wedding of Miss Mary Praught, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ebba Praught of Waltham, and William Glavin, son of Mrs. William Glavin and the late Mr. Glavin of Newton Lower Falls. Reverend John P. Sullivan performed the double ring ceremany, in which the bride was given away by her brother, Austin, of New York City.

The bride's gown, of white marquisette over satin, was princess style, with an overskirt and long train. Her tulle fingertip veil was held by an orange blossom tiarra, and white satin streamers caught her bouquet of orchids and gladioli.

The attendants wore different colors, but were gowned alike, in marquisette over satin, with matching mitts and picture hats. Maid of honor for her sister was Miss Edna Praught, in nile green, carrying purple gladioli with green satin streamers.

Another sister of the bride, Mrs. Adelaide Kelly, and Miss Mary MacDougall of Brighton were bridesmaids, wearing light blue and pink gowns respectively. Mr. Kelly's bouquet was pink and white gladioli with blue streamers, while Miss MacDougall carried violet and pink gladioli with pink streamers.

Best man was Martin Galvin, brother of the groom and ushers included Thomas Glynn of Newton Lower Falls and Thomas Kelly of Watertown, the bride's brother-in-law.

After the reception, which was held in the Hotel Lenox, Boston, the couple left for a trip through Canada and the White Mountains. They will live in Watertown.

Announce Marriage of Miss Elizabeth Newcomb

Mr. Sumner W. Newcomb of Newtonville announces the marriage of his daughter, Elizabeth Newcomb, to Mr. Henry Wetter, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wetter of Memphis, Tennessee.

Mrs. Wetter graduated from Pembroke College in June; Mr. Wetter graduated from the Tome School, Port Deposit, Maryland, and served as a Lt. (j.g.) in the Naval Air Corps.

After a wedding trip to Bermuda, they will live in Dedham.

Plan June Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Freeland Bird of West Newton announce plans for a June wedding for their daughter, Miss Nancy Ann Bird, to Mr. Frederick A. Pitschke, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Pitschke of Rockford, Illinois.

Miss Bird was graduated from Beaver Country Day School in 1948, and made her debut in the 1948-1949 season. She is a senior at Rockford College, where she is a member of the Socratic Honor Society.

Mr. Pitschke, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, received his master's degree there in 1948 and is now an engineer for the Sunstrant Machine Tool Co.

A Timely Warning

Registrar of Motor Vehicles Rudolph F. King has issued a timely warning on the unnecessay use of the automobile horn.

Not a small amount of auto horn blowing is unnecessary and is the result of a lack of consideration and thoughtlessness.

Certainly during hot nights it is difficult at best, to get the necessary sleep and rest. To be awakened unnecessarily by the inconsiderate blowing of auto horns, is downright annoying.

If there is anything which calls for a gripe, it is the practice of some motorists in calling for a friend, to sit in their car and honk the horn incessantly, rather than get out of their car and ring the friend's door bell.

Such practice is not only downright rude; it brands the "honker" as one who is extremely ill-bred, and pays little compliment to the one being called on.

It's The Hidden Taxes

Everything is high in price today, and a good percentage of the cost is in hidden taxes, which you never see—but pay, nevertheless.

From your dollar, 31 cents is taken for taxes of which 11 cents is out in the open where you can see it go, but 20 cents is hidden taxes.

For example, a few of the hidden taxes are:

154 in a cake of soap.
189 in a suit of clothes.
201 in a gallon of gas.
205 in a new car.
127 in a roast of beef.
53 in a loaf of bread.

Democratic Senator Byrd says 10 billions can be saved in government administration without impairing a single essential service. The Hoover Commission found that we waste one dollar in every ten we spend on government.

You can do something about it by demanding the adoption of the Hoover Report, and by writing your Congressman.

Current Comment

Derham's Testimony Unbecoming a Judge . . . Stalling Tactics Delay House Action . . .

Even the most cynical and hard-bitten politicians must have been disgusted by the testimony given by Judge John S. Derham concerning the gambling habits of Mrs. Cenedella, the wife of the Worcester County District Attorney.

It was one of the cheapest and sleaziest things to come to the attention of this observer in a long period of politics, for no matter how bitter political battles become, the combatants just don't attack even by inference, the wife of an adversary.

After telling the House rules committee how he sat on a beach with Mrs. Cenedella and picked the horses on which they were going to bet and after remarking that the District Attorney's wife was one of the best customers of a "bookie" in her home town, Derham in a subsequent appearance before the committee sought to have that portion of his testimony stricken from the records.

By way of apology for his statements, he said in effect that he had been under strain and stress when he made them, and the inference presumably to be drawn is that under normal circumstances he would not have made what amounted to an attack upon a woman.

That might be an understandable excuse for an ordinary citizen, unaccustomed to the hurly-burly of politics and public life, who became emotionally upset when called before a legislative committee for questioning.

But Derham isn't supposed to be so easily rattled under pressure. He's a lawyer who has appeared in court to defend persons charged with commiting crimes, and he has waged legal battles to save his clients from going to jail.

He also is a judge of this Commonwealth, and as such he is expected to display judicial temperament—even under pressure — and there must be a measure of pressure involved when it is necessary to decide whether a man should go to prison or retain his liberty.

Entirely aside from the question whether Judge Derham did or didn't tell District Attorney Cenedella that he was going to make a $2000 payoff to Attorney General Francis E. Kelly, this writer can't help but wonder after reading Derham's testimony whether he is temperamentally fitted to serve as a judge and to sit in judgment on other people.

Since the testimony given before the rules committee was public, there has been a rather discreet silence on all sides concerning the manner in which Judge Derham conducted himself, as reflected by the stenographic report of the proceedings.

Well, in our opinion it was despicable, and the fact that Judge Derham went back and tried to get it expunged from the records indicates that he either realized that or was told by someone that his testimony wasn't very judicial.

That Judge Derham, like a great many other people, does not consider illegal gambling, or placing a bet with a bookie, much of a crime, doesn't exactly clear up the situation.

The difference between Derham and most other persons who share that view is that he's a judge and as such is sworn to uphold the law as it is written, not as he thinks it should be.

And the testimony given by Derham himself doesn't reflect very highly upon him as a judge.

* * * * *

From the standpoint of the average citizen, the so-called Cenedella case has become a rather sorry mess. Cenedella himself hasn't exactly been any unrelenting racketbuster, for it has been common knowledge that the top Massachusetts racketeer has operated for years in Cenedella's Worcester County domain.

Attorney General Kelly's sudden probe into Cenedella's administration shapes up at this time as a reprisal for the embarassment caused Kelly. If Cenedella has been guilty of any wrong-doing, Kelly didn't break any speed records in moving in on him.

When you add in the fact that a district court judge contributed little to the judicial dignity of the State, you have a picture that isn't very pretty.

It took the Democratic leadership in the House of Representatives rather a long time to decided that it could not defeat a bill requiring that the Governor's Council hold public hearings before freeing murderers and other serious criminals from prison.

The need for such a change in the law has been underscored by the pardons that have been granted and denied. It was pointed up last fall when a friendless Woburn girl, sentenced to life imprisonment for allegedly starving her baby to death, was refused a pardon despite the opinions of leading authorities that she did not deliberately commit the crime of which she was convicted, while the prison doors were opened for hammer slayers and other brutal killers.

Not only would it be a healthy thing for the public to know why a prison inmate is granted a pardon, or denied one, but it is also information to which the people are entitled, and it is time that the veil of secrecy which for years has surrounded the Governor's Council, was stripped away.

Notwithstanding all this, the measure requiring public hearings in the consideration of pardon petitions, was held up for a period of several months in the House before the members were allowed to vote on it. It is another instance of the stalling tactics in a large measure responsible for the fact that this Legislature did not conclude its business weeks ago.

Report–

Paris itself, we found out that evening, was jammed with visitors come to enjoy a fairlyland of lighted fountains and floodlighted buildings and monuments and open squares. On Montmartre there was music everywhere. The streets were so full of people that all traffic was stopped; but everyone was in a gay holiday mood. Part of the Anniversary celebration was a great demonstration of regional folk dancing and singing. Almost 700 men, women and children had been brought in from all parts of France and the colonies—including the French Congo—all in traditional festival costumes, all of these quaint, many of them elaborate with rich embroidery, brocade, hand-made lace, and ribbons of silk or velvet, handed down through the generations. After the folk-dancing there was popular dancing in the streets and squares until dawn. But we didn't wait for that. Instead, we rose early and lugged the children through the magnificent palaces of St. Germain, Versailles, the Trianon, and the Petit Trianon.

Chartres was our next main stop. We climbed all over the famous cathedral—untouched by the war—explored the back streets, looked through the shops and markets, and enjoyed an extraordinary dinner.

At this point I'd better explain that we tried to stop in small places, off the tourist beat, and thus get as close as possible to the real France. Many interesting experiences resulted. We were almost always the only friendly foreign guests in years, and conversations were usually illuminating. In one place, on the restaurant wall, was posted a fly-specked map of the village. It was complete down to the last detail, with each house and barn drawn in, and the half-dozen streets carefully named. This was a German map, a souvenir of the enemy occupation. It had been left in place, we were told, partly because it was the first and only map the village had ever had, and partly as a reminder of the bitterness of the occupation years. Our conversations centering around the map confirmed—and anticipated—the many other such informal talks we had with everyday Frenchmen in small towns and large. The French hate and fear the Germans. This hatred is so strong and deep that many dislike to speak about it.

At another little hotel in a small town we spent an evening talking with a Frenchman and a Belgian. Naturally—in Europe, at least—much of the talk was on international affairs. Of one thing there can be absolutely no doubt: Europeans in general will go to any lengths at all to avoid war. And if war should come anyway, their attitude is that it will be fought without their personal contribution. They are likely not to fear Russia at all if they are in the lower social echelons, even when they belong to centrist or rightist parties; they are likely to be somewhat apprehensive if in the middle classes; and they are almost unanimously fearful of Russia if they are propertied people.

What about DeGaule? He's not much liked, but he's greatly preferred to any other rightist leader now available. Would DeGaule's accession to power bring on domestic strife? An uneasy "c'est possible." What about chances for a third world war? Yes, it may come, of course—but we won't fight.

On the whole France is making an astonishingly good and fast recovery. When we were here just two years ago people were still cleaning up the rubble of war, patching up patchable houses, and just barely getting along. Today the main roads are excellent and even the secondary and local roads are surprisingly good. There is a vast amount of new construction everywhere—residential, farm, commercial, and industrial. Practically all the many hundreds of destroyed bridges are rebuilt or rebuilding. There are plenty of new French cars on the roads, although two years ago most were still burning charcoal or run by compressed gas from tanks on their roofs. Thus far this trip, we've seen only one of each of these wartime relics, as against many thousands of very good new cars. The American-made cars one sees almost always carry Belgian, Dutch or Swiss license plates. Food is plentiful and varied, but relatively expensive for the French. Farm machinery seems only slightly less rare than two years ago, and even 40-acre level fields are very often mowed with the hand scythe. But the French are a wonderful people. They're doing all right at the moment.

I see that I've wandered far afield, and far too long, with the best parts of the trip not even mentioned.

Please give our best to all our Newton friends.

Dora Balos.

of Boston, $887,271; and, Farina Bros., of Newton, $910,000.

Bids are being analyzed to determine which is the lowest for the basic construction after certain alternatives are excluded. Most of the funds for the construction of the two-story building will probably come from the $4,000,000 building loan, authorized in 1949, in which there is still a balance of more than $500,000, it was stated.

The bids received include the cost of landscaping the area after the completion of the construction.

The new school has been planned for over two years and it is expected that work will begin early in the fall so that the building may be ready for occupancy by September, 1952.

mined that the City take action to eliminate the inherent danger of this open stream before some real tradgedy occurs. Just as the City has a responsibility to protect its citizens against open road construction on the public highways, so do the petitioners contend that obvious danger areas should be of equal concern, such as the Paul Brook.

Moves in recent years to have Paul Brook covered in the interest of public safety have met with complete procrastination on the part of the city, it is claimed, partly because the expense involved in constructing a suitable culvert was greater than the need for protection for the petitioners involved. However, with the construction of homes during the last few years closely abutting the brook, the need for submerging the waterway has become very much more urgent and made more imperative and understandable for the construction now of this culvert.

A committee of concerned citizens and parents, headed by John W. Ryan, Mrs. Sidney Lewis, Alan J. Tichnor, Mrs. Edward Dashefsky and Jerome R. Salton, have contacted the local aldermen and other city officials as well as the Oak Hill District Improvement Association, whose officers have endorsed the petition. It is hoped some action will be taken on the petition by the board of aldermen when they meet August 15, in providing cover for this Brook by the most economical procedure possible.

Too many tragedies have already occurred elsewhere in Newton, involving young children wandering into the water near their homes, the petitioners claim, and since Paul Brook is one of those areas which is particularly treacherous and exposed, the petitioners believe the City should lend aid to prevent further tragedy by taking immediate steps to cover this open brook.

There are scores of such "places" or "localities" throughout the State, Long pointed out, which are not actually municipalities.

Boy Scout Allotment Explained

By DOROTHY G. BAKER

A full and most descriptive report of the budget and expenditures from the Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, explains how the $18,553.00 grant from the Newton Community Chest to this Red Feather Agency is used.

"Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, embraces Newton, Wellesley and Weston, and obtains its operating funds from the Community Chests of these three communities. The Council was granted a total of $24,692.00 for 1951, of which about 75%, is being supplied by the Newton Chest, 19% by Wellesley and 6% by Weston. These proportions are about equal to the distribution of boy membership in the Council. In addition, the Council expects to realize a profit of $100.00 from the sale of supplies, making a total budget of $24,792.00 for the year.

"In order to appreciate the reason for this Red Feather support, and the manner in which the budget is expended, it is important to know what Scouting is and does. The goal of Scouting is character development, helping boys from 8 to 18 years old to be good citizens and thus develop into worthwhile members of the community. The National and Council organizations exist to help community groups use a nation-wide program to this end, community groups such as churches, schools and clubs who are the sponsoring institutions of Norumbega's 42 Cub Scout Packs, 51 Boy Scout Troops and 23 Explorer Scout Posts. The sponsoring institutions supply their own regular meeting places and use their own leaders to provide constructive experiences for the neighborhood boys.

"The boys' work is not done for them. It is done by them, with continuing training, help and advice from the Council. The idea is to help the growing boys help themselves, to help them develop the habits of self-reliance and individual initiative essential to a free people, while they are doing the things they like to do. The program carries them back to nature where they feel the independence and thrill of personal accomplishment characteristic of the pioneer.

"Service to the community is an integral part of the Scouting program. As an example, last year local scouts distributed almost 100,000 posters and pieces of literature for the Community Chest, Red Cross and other social agencies. The Scouts also participate in street clean-up campaigns, food and clothing collections, Fire Prevention Week and wildlife conservation programs.

"The most popular and educational phase of the program is camping, available to all Scouts who are at least 11 years old. During the school year the boys use Nobscot Reservation in Framingham-Sudbury for week-end camping, and many of them spend the month of August at Camp Quinapoxet, the summer camp in West Rindge, N. H. During the summer, other Scouts go to Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico and Wings of-West-Point in New York, or participate in the Wilderness Canoe Trip and the Mountain Pack Trip. All of the camping facilities except Nobscot reservation are self-supporting.

"On the basis of the present membership of 3,329 boys, the Council budget is equal to $7.45 per Scout. This money is used primarily to operate the Scout-Office—71% is spent for the salaries of the three professional leaders and two secretaries; 12% for general office overhead, such as rent, telephone, electricity and the like; and 6% for training, advancement, programming and allied purposes.

"The remaining 11% of the budget is used to maintain Nobscot Reservation, most of which is for the salary of the permanent ranger. Funds to pay for permanent facilities at Nobscot Reservation and Camp Quinapoxet do not come from the Community Chest but are raised by such methods as the recent Scouting Exposition. In addition, the Scouts themselves collect waste paper and participate in Chest-approved money-raising activities to build Troop cabins at Nobscot Reservation.

"Norumbega Council has had an enviable growth. Related to the number of boys of Scout age, the Council has the highest membership in New England, and has held this first-place position for three successive years. Furthermore, the quality of Scouting is the highest. This record has been attained by the effective teamwork of a fine staff and 1,200 devoted volunteer men and women."

Junior High School Girls Aid in Work

—o—

The Pomroy House, a Newton Red Feather Agency has the assistance of several Junior High School girls during the summer as Junior Leaders. The summer playschool program under the leadership of Miss Ruth Arnold is carried on for children 4 to 7 and provides a varied program for the little children of this age.

The Misses Janet Farrell, Betty McLaughlin, Dorothy Boughan, Patricia Murphy, Lucy Colella, Martha Maguire, Cornelia Cassidy, Mary Maguire and Katherine Neville are the young women volunteering sixty hours each for this important community activity. These young girls are learning early in their lives the value of helping each other.

Red Sox Host to 250 Children

—o—

The Boston Red Sox were hosts to 250 school children, composing the Newton School Patrol, at Wednesday's game. The children, under 12 years old, are being feted in recognition of their service in the school patrol during the school year.

Bus transportation was provided by Newton Elks Kiwanis and Rotary, with members of the Newton Women's Auxiliary accompanying the group. Newton Police Chief Philip Purcell, Frank Simmons, Warren L. Huston, and Charles E. Feeley arranged the program.

Hold Services For Deceased

—o—

Memorial services for the parish dead of Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church in Newton Upper Falls were held at St. Mary's Cemetery in Needham Sunday, with Rev. John R. Wall, pastor. The services are being held on the first Sunday of each month through November.

Plums A-Plenty

—o—

Take advantage of delicious fresh plums to give your family a treat they'll enjoy and remember. This year's crop of plums, mainly from California and Michigan, is about a fifth larger than last year's crop and larger than average. Marketing specialists of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture says that plums aplenty will be on markets this week at reasonable prices. Fresh plums not only are good eaten out of hand and taken on picnics. They also may be cut up for chilled mixed fruit bowls, fruit cups or salads. Plums are favorites for home-made jams. For making jam later, or for jellied puddings, whips, sherbets and cobblers, sweetened plum pures, canned or frozen, is convenient and delicious. The fully ripe fruit is best for puree.

¾ cup sugar
½ cup water
12 fresh plums, blue or red
2 egg whites

Combine ½ cup sugar with water and plums. Simmer until plums are tender and press through a sieve. Cool. Beat egg whites nearly stiff, beat in remaining sugar and fold in plum puree. Pour into freezing tray of refrigerator and freeze until firm, stirring once or twice while freezing. Serve 4 to 6.—Newton Nutrition Center.

First Church of Christ, Scientist
391 Walnut street, Newtonville. Sunday morning service and Sunday School at 10:45 o'clock. Wednesday evening testimony meeting at 8 o'clock. The superiority of spiritual over physical power will be pointed out in the Lesson-Sermon on "Spirit" at Christian Science services Sunday. The Lesson-Sermon is composed of selections from the Holy Bible (King James Version) and the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. The Golden Text states: "Not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the Lord of hosts." (Zechariah 4:6).

Plan Action to Secure Faster Accomplishment of Pool

The Horace Mann District Improvement Association was "reactivated," according to Harry Gath, Jr., at initial meeting held at the home of Ernest L. Sullivan, 9 Edinboro terrace, Newtonville.

Under discussion at the meeting was a proposed action to be taken to secure the building of a swimming, diving and wading pool at Albemarle playground.

A committee of the group will meet with Mr. Gath Monday night. This committee consists of Arthur Gallant, Katherine Gallant, George Woods, Cecilia Woods, Victor Nicolazzo, Katherine Nicolazzo, Herbert McKenney, Paul Patrillo, John J. Fitzgerald, Wilfred Doucette, John Quinn, William Shea, Mrs. Helene Keough and Mrs. Helen J. Sullivan.

In speaking of the project Mr. Gath said: "In the 15 years since the acquisition of the Albemarle property, I cannot possibly understand why such an able city administration as we have cannot sense or appreciate the need for a swimming pool on the north side of the city when they have acres to spare and funds to do with, whether it be a bond issue or not."

Rev. Vere V. Loper to Preach At Union Service Sunday

The Rev. Vere V. Loper, D.D., will preach at this Sunday's Union Service to be held in the Newtonville Methodist Church. Dr. Loper, nationally known Congregational Christian Churchman and Moderator of the General Council of Congregational Christian Churches in America, is minister of the oldest church in Berkeley, California.

The subject he has chosen for his sermon will be "The Nature of Our Hope." "The outward paraphernalia of churchmanship is important, but meaningless, if we do not build the inner substance of churchmanship which consists of the constant recognition that Christ not only lives in the church, but is its only head," adds Dr. Loper, whose successful pastorates in six states have demonstrated his ability to produce good churchmen.

Dr. Loper was elected Moderator of the General Council of Congregational Christian Churches in 1950. This is the highest honorary office in the power of the Congregational Christian Churches to bestow upon a member. He came to this important post of denominational leadership at a strategic and difficult period when the question of the merger of the Congregational Christian Churches with the Evangelical and Reformed Church has caused great differences of opinion and even legal action.

His present church in Berkeley is sometimes described as a "three-in-one church," or, "a small city church, a suburban church and a university church," since its outreach includes all these aspects. Dr. Loper had previously held pastorates in Mass., Montana, Minnesota and Illinois. His church has long maintained close relationships with the University of California and the Pacific School of Religion where he is an Associate Professor.

Active in civic affairs in Berkeley, Dr. Loper in 1947 received the Benjamin Ide Wheeler award bestowed biennially upon the resident considered by a representative local committee as being "the city's most useful citizen." He has been President of the Community Chest, the Rotary Club and the City Commons Club.

The co-operating churches and ministers in the Union Services held during the summer months ars: Auburndale Congregational Church, Rev. Chauncey E. Blosson; Central Congregational Church, Rev. Randolph S. Merrill; First Unitarian Society in Newton, Rev. John Ogden Fisher; Lincoln Park Baptist Church, Rev. Russell E. Gundach; Newton Highlands Congregational Church, Rev. Frederic Groetsema; Second Church in Newton, Rev. Robert Clyde Yarbrough; and The Newtonville Methodist Church, Rev. Hamilton M. Gifford. The latter will be host church for the rest of the services extending through the first week of September.

Newtonites Are Honored for Services

Among the men and women who were honored Tuesday for completing 10 or more years of service with the U.S. Department of Labor, were three Newton residents, Joseph F. Nolen of 12 Marshfield road, Newton Centre; Arthur C. Gernes, of 34 Lafayette road, Newton Lower Falls; and, George H. Foley, of 37 Mountfort road, Newton Highlands.

Each received a bronze button and a certificate from Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin.

Mr. Nolen is connected with the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions. Mr. Gernes is Regional Director of the Bureau of Employment Security, and Mr. Foley is Regional Attorney of the Office of the Solicitor.

Investigate 2 House Breaks

Newton Police are investigating two recent house breaks, involving the theft of cash and jewelry.

Aaron Rosenberg, 40 Woodchester drive, Chestnut Hill, reported missing two watches and a fountain pen, valued at a total of $150. The house was entered sometime between July 21 and Sunday. A neighbor, Henry Halpern, discovered the break when he entered the Rosenberg home on an errand for the Rosenbergs, who were in Cohasset. The thieves gained entrance by breaking the screen on the porch and the living room door glass.

Another burglary was at the home of Henry Barboni, of 70 Oakdale road, Newton. Sometime between 9 Friday night and Saturday noon, thieves entered the house through an unlocked window over the bulkhead at the rear. They took the contents of a piggy bank, which amounted to approximately $100.

Approve Transfer Of Two Licenses

It was announced Friday that the State Alcoholic Beverage Control Board approved the transfers of two liquor licenses granted by the Newton Licensing Board.

Joseph C. Muse of 396 California street, Newton, now holds the malt and wine license of the Linwood Cafe, 50 Adams street, Newton, formerly held by Harry Ferullo. Also transferred was the beer and wine package license of Newton Upper Falls Public Market, 203 Elliot street, Newton Upper Falls. New officers are Edmund H. Campana, treasurer and manager; Joseph Prestira, president; and Mildred M. Willis, clerk.

Albermarle Pool

Editor, The Graphic:

The movement for the Albemarle pool reminds me of how we handled a similar problem some forty years ago. At the time I initiated a project for the acceptance of Cabot Park as a public playground and we were told that the Aldermen had then a policy of action only if the citizens furnished a portion of the expense. We therefore organized a committee to raise the money needed and found this easy as citizens showed generosity towards such a worthy project. We obtained the necessary subscriptions and the Aldermen accepted the Playground which has been of benefit ever since.

It may be that the same process should be used for this Albemarle Pool which is certainly a very worthy object. Those interested might organize a finance committee which could make a deal with the Aldermen on the funds needed, and it should not be hard to raise the money needed.

HAMPTON NOT A CANDIDATE

Announces Withdrawal From Mayoralty Contest

Says Mayor's Announcement For Another Term "A Great Surprise"

Alderman Riley J. Hampton, who announced his candidacy for Mayor last May, today (Thursday) stated that he is withdrawing his name as a candidate for Mayor in the November election.

In announcing his intention to withdraw from the contest, Alderman Hampton stated: "Early this year I was urged to become a candidate for Mayor of Newton, at this Fall's election, on the assurance that Mayor Lockwood had decided to retire from office. The Mayor, himself, asserted to me on a number of occasions that he definitely would not seek re-election and further advised many of our mutual friends that he would retire. It was only after these friends and I had received such positive statements from him that I announced my candidacy.

Had Assurances

"As late as May 15, I continued to have his assurances; so it was a great surprise to me when the newspapers of May 31 carried Mr. Lockwood's announcement that he would seek another term. This sudden and unexpected change has made it necessary for me to abide by my original decision, because I agreed to enter the contest only if the Mayor was not a candidate for re-election; consequently, I am withdrawing from the contest and will not seek public elective office this Fall. I cannot embarrass myself nor my friends by changing my previous statements given to them in good faith.

Deeply Appreciative

"I am deeply appreciative of the assistance and offers of assistance in the interest of my campaign and regret that many who wanted me to continue my candidacy may be disappointed.

Kinsmen Scholarship Is Awarded Bruce Macdonald

Bruce Macdonald, of 150 Mt. Vernon street, Newtonville, recipient of the Kinsmen Scholarship, left this week on board the "Nova Scotia" for Magdalen College School at Oxford, England. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland B. Macdonald. Having finished his sophomore year at Newton High School, he expects to return next year for his senior year and graduate in June, 1953, with his class.

This scholarship award is one of five preparatory school awards given each year to American students for a year's study at several of England's better known schools. The scholarship foundations was set up following the war by the parents of some of the English children who were in American homes during the war as evidence of their appreciation of the care and protection their children received here.

Committee Selection

The scholarship awards are made by a committee in Washington headed by Paul Elicker, formerly principal of Newton High School.

During vacations, Bruce expects to visit in Barrow-in-Furness, Lancashire, with the Baldwins, whose daughter, Elizabeth "Bridie" Baldwin lived with the Macdonalds and attended the Horace Mann School from 1940 to 1945.

Long's Tax Case Is Set For Sept. 5

Tax Rate Boost Seen As Personal Tax Faces Change

Real estate taxpayers will have their total bill increased next year if the exemption on furniture and other household goods under the personal property tax law is raised to $5000, Rep. Howard Whitmore Jr., stated Tuesday.

Monday the House of Representatives went along with the Senate to approve the raising of the exemption from the present $1000 over vigorous objections of representatives from cities where the tax is strictly enforced.

One of Few Cities

Newton, together with Springfield and Brookline, is one of the few cities which have really gone after the tax," said Rep. Whittmore.

The bill now goes back to the Senate for enactment, returning to the House for similar processing, and finally to Governor Dever for final approval. "There is very little doubt that it will be passed," said Rep. Whitmore.

In joining those protecting the bill, Rep. Whitmore described the present method of assessing valuation of personal property as a "hit and miss assessment proposition." Many persons, he contended, would rather pay more on their real estate tax than have their personal belongings checked by assessors.

Described by one state representative as "an irksome one," the personal property tax has long been widely disputed.

"Assessors," protested another legislator, "have no right to go into domiciles to see what property amounts to. Money that would be paid for our household furnishings by a willing buyer would be small."

John D. Wright, chairman of the Newton Board of Assessors, said that if the $5000 exemption on personal property becomes law, Newton's tax revenue in this respect would be cut considerably. However, he pointed out, there are still many who have personal property in excess of $5,000. In addition there are the utilities,—telephone, gas, and light companies,—which would also contribute a good portion.

About $3 Increase

Should the personal property tax be completely abolished, this would undoubtedly mean about a $3 increase in the prevailing tax rate, Mr. Wright predicted, unless there was another source to take its place. An exceptional increase in building might absorb this amount, he said, pointing out that 1950 was one of those years, bring an increase of $15,000,000 in the total valuation.

It is not expected that such a

Hearing On Writ of Mandamus To Be Held In Suffolk Superior Court

It has been announced that the city's legal action against Tax Commissioner Henry F. Long will come to a head Wednesday, September 5, when a hearing on a writ of mandamus will be heard in the Suffolk Superior Court, Boston.

The hearing will seek to determine whether Commissioner Long has the right to collect for the state the motor excise taxes of residents of Newton who inadvertently may have stated their residence as a section of Newton, such as Waban, Auburndale, Chestnut Hill, etc., instead of writing "Newton" as their legal residence.

John D. Wright, chairman of the Newton Board of Assessors, in whose name the mandamus writ was brought by City Solicitor Matt B. Jones, states that it is reported the city of Quincy may join Newton in the suit and that other communities, including Boston and Brookline, have indicated their support of Newton in the action which the city has brought against Commissioner Long.

Seeks Accounting

The writ of mandamus seeks to have Mr. Long account to the city for excise taxes collected from residents of Chestnut Hill, Waban, Auburndale, and Oak Hill, who were billed directly by the state, since their registration applications failed to include "Newton."

According to Commissioner Long, the clerks in his department send the excise bills directly to the owners when they are unable to determine readily which community is entitled to the taxes.

In the case of an application from "Chestnut Hill' the clerk has no way of knowing whether to credit Newton, Brookline or Boston, it was stated.

Mr. Wright, however, states that in the past, when one of the communities received the name of a resident of one of the others for collection, the collector would forward it to the correct city or town.

$3,200 Received For Flood Relief

The Newton Chapter, American Red Cross has received $3,200.75 toward its quota of $6,500 for the Midwest Flood Relief. Contributions will continue to be received throughout the month of August for assistance to families who have lost their homes in the worst flood disaster in years. Never before have so many homes been completely destroyed by flood. Anyone wishing to aid flood sufferers may send their contributions to the Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, 21 Foster street, Newtonville.

Trial Period of Parallel Parking On Centre Street To Take Place Shortly

It is understood that chairman Edward Fahey of the Street Traffic Committee of the Board of Aldermen will shortly issue instructions to have angle parking of automobiles on Centre street, between Centre avenue and Richardson street, eliminated and that a trial period of parallel parking in that section will be undertaken. It is expected that the proper signs, notifying motorists of the change, will be made within a week.

Elimination of angle parking in favor of parallel parking in this area will mean the elimination of only three parking spaces and should allow for a freer movement of traffic on this busy thoroughfare. If the trial period of parallel parking proves a solution to the present existing problem, it is likely that the entire part of Centre street, from Church street to Newton Corner will be restricted to parallel parking.

Ample Parking Area

It was pointed out that in ordering this trial, the city has now available between Richardson street and Centre avenue, ample off-street parking facilities which was established at considerable expense to the city.

Although the order for a trial period was not the direct result of an accident which occurred last Friday afternoon at this spot when a parked automobile, angle parked, suddenly shot up over the curb and broke a large plate glass window in the Hubbard Drug store, it nevertheless focused attention to the existing situation more sharply. Fortunately no one was on the sidewalk, which is ordinarily well travelled, at the time of this accident. Had they been, fatalities very likely would have resulted.

Alderman Anderson Gets Unanimous Vote of Confidence From Members

The resignation of Alderman Winfield C. Anderson as chairman of the Franchises and Licenses Committee of the Board of Aldermen in protest against the granting of a permit for collecting admission fees for Sunday tennis at the Longwood Cricket Club, was not accepted by President Wendall R. Bauckman of the Board Monday night.

Bauckman said that the protest would still stand but in view of the fact that Alderman Anderson had over the period of three years performed an exemplarary job as chairman of the committee, he felt that he would ask if Alderman Anderson would retain the chairmanship.

Alderman Riley Hampton asked that a full vote of the Board confirm the President's refusal on the basis of the reasons stated.

It was seconded by Alderman Fahey and a unanimous vote was recorded.

Alderman Anderson agreed to remain as chairman of the committee and thanked the Board for their vote of confidence.

Miss Vera Griffin Joins District Nursing Ass'n

Miss Vera B. Griffin has accepted the position of Educational Director as assistant to Miss Hilga S. Nelson, Executive Director of the Newton District Nursing Association.

She will fill the vacancy created when Miss Elizabeth Porter accepted a full time teaching position with the Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

Miss Griffin comes well equipped for the position as she holds a Bachelor's degree in Public Health Nursing from Simmons College. She resigned recently from a similar position with the Visiting Nursing Association of Chicopee, Mass.

Her experience covers many phases of public health work, including 12 years in Essex County as the Executive Secretary of the County Tuberculosis Association.

Alice Lee to Represent U.S. At World Jubilee

A Senior Girl Scout, from Newton has been selected by the International Committee of the Girl Scouts of the United States of America to represent the Girl Scouts of the nation at the Australian Jubilee Camp, August 27th to September 5.

Alice Lee of 206 Church street, Newton, will attend an international gathering of Girl Scouts and Girl Guides from Australia and countries in the Eastern and Pan-Pacific areas, being sponsored by the Girl Guides Association of Australia and to be held at Narrabeen, New South Wales. Approximately 400 girls will have opportunities for sharing customs, songs, dances, program ideas and good times in a friendly international setting. The girls will share a common interest in the Scouting program and a common belief in its ideals.

ALICE LEE

Active In Troops

For the past eleven years, Alice has been active in troops sponsored by the Newton Local Council Girl Scouts, Inc., a Red Feather Agency, and has been a member, since 1947, of Mariner Ship No. 32 qualifying last June as an "Old Salt," highest mariner rank.

In 1950, Alice was named as alternate delegate to the international encampment at Our Chalet, the camp of the World Association of Girl Scouts and Girl Guides at Adelboden, Switzerland.

Rawson Flays Administration Attempt To Place Burdensome Taxes On Thrift

"I do not trust the present administration or the legislature not to lay burdensome and onerous taxes on thrift whenever they seek funds to balance a swollen budget," stated Representative George E. Rawson this week in explaining his stand in opposition to House Bill 2718 which proposed to tax Savings Banks, Cooperative Banks and Savings and Loan Associations.

Continuing Representative Rawson said: "Two years ago I led the successful fight to kill a similar bill, denouncing it as the most cruel, vicious and wicked tax bill ever to come before the General Court.

"This year's bill called for a very small tax, to be sure, but the principal was the same. Savings accounts, cooperative bank shares and life insurance are the people's thrift, their means of providing for the inevitable 'rainy day.' They should be secure from rapacious, grasping hands of a wasteful and extravagent government, and I propose to fight to keep them inviolate as long as I am on Beacon Hill.

Insignificant Taxes Grow

"The passage of this bill would have established in law the right of the State to tax thrift. It would have been 'getting the camel's head under the tent,' as the saying is. Should that right once be established, I do not trust the present administration or the legislature not to lay burdensome and onerous taxes on thrift whenever they seek funds to balance a swollen budget. Every so-called 'temporary' tax has been made permanent. Insignificant taxes have grown burdensome. History would surely repeat itself in this case.

"Those were my reasons for opposing the bill in the House last week. Enough House members evidently shared the same views, so the bill was killed by a roll call vote of 116 to 102."

REP. GEORGE RAWSON

Attempt To Have Building Razed Defeated 11 to 5

An attempt by Alderman Paul S. Rich at the meeting Monday night of the Board of Aldermen to get immediate action on an order for razing of the buildings at 353-355-357 Washington street, Newton, described as "poverty row" was defeated by a vote of 11 to 5 after a heated and fiery exchange of words.

Voting against the proposal of Alderman Rich which read: Pursuant to G. L. c. 139, sec. 1—the Board of Aldermen hereby make and record an order adjudging the buildings located at 353-355-357 Washington street, Ward 1, to be a nuisance to the neighborhood, and dangerous, and order said buildings be removed from the premises by not later than October 1, 1951," were Alderman Anderson, Angevine, Bigelow, Cannon, Fahey, Davis, Hampton, Mattson, Scipione, Wood and President Bauckman.

Voting with Alderman Rich in favor of an immediate razing were Aldermen Casady, Merrill, TenBroeck and Terkelson.

The principal opposition to the proposal of Alderman Rich was registered with heated words from Aldermen Anderson, Cannon and Hampton.

A hearing to have these structures razed was held June 4.

Merrill To Resign As Alderman

Alderman-at-Large from Ward 1, Carleton P. Merrill this week stated that he will not be a candidate for re-election at the November election, but that he

Edward J. Sweeney Claims Bride At Connecticut Rites

In a recent ceremony at St. Mary's Church, New London, Conn., Miss Caroline M. Santora, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Santora of Waterford, became the bride of Edward Joseph Sweeney, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Sweeney of 41 Wildwood avenue, Newtonville.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. John J. Moran of St. Mary's Church, and the bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of imported lace over a satin hoop skirt, with a Queen Anne collar, long pointed sleeves, and a bouffant skirt terminating in scalloped lace. Her veil of French illusion was caught to a lace crown, trimmed with tulle and seed pearls.

Miss Joan Massad of New London was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Sally Sheflott and Miss Ann McCafferty of New London and Miss Barbara Rogers of Groton.

William F. Sweeney of Newtonville was his brother's best man and the ushers included Robert Sousa, James Santora, the bride's cousin, and William Race, all of Waterford.

A reception was held at Holy Ghost in New London, after which the couple left on their wedding trip through New England and down the Eastern seaboard. They will reside in Portsmouth, Va.

The bride was graduated from William Memorial Institute, while the bridegroom attended Newton High and Trade School.

PARAMOUNT
WED., AUG. 29
Matinee - Evening

Pictured above is the FRANKENSTEIN MONSTER and his beautiful "victim", Miss Claire Roberts, Hollywood Starlet. This is one of the many scenes from the "Asylum of Horrors" Stage Show playing the Newton Paramount Theatre on Wed. Only, Aug. 29. Dr. Silkini, th eghost master, uses every known device of stage craft to attempt to convince you that there are spirits and a spirit world. He will also introduce you to a nice little paly fellow known as the wild man, and a gorilla that escapes fromt the stage and runs wild in the audience. Nice friendly fellow this Dr. Silkini. The bobby sox girls are respectfully requested to forget their Joes for this one day and come with an older boyfriend, one who is more experienced and will not scare so easily. It has been Dr. Silkini's experience that the young Joes can't take it, and it's those young boys rather than the bobby sox girls that faint away. Don't miss seeing FRANKENSTEIN in person, together with a host of beautiful Hollywood starlets all on the stage of the Newton Paramount Theatre, Wed. Only, Aug. 29. Are Given Surprise Shower

More than one hundred city hall employees ond Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood, were present at a surprise bridal shower held in the cafeteria of the City Hall, to honor Miss Helen E. Kavanagh, secretary to the director of public works, and Edward F. Cannon, sewer maintenance foreman.

The couple, who will be married at Our Lady Help of Christians Church this Saturday, received gifts from each department at the hall. Mayor Lockwood spoke briefly, and Miss Kavanagh was presented with an orchid corsage. The cafeteria was decorated with flowers.

Australian Jubilee Camp, it was necessary to give evidence of such skills in outdoor living and camp craft as use and care of tools (axe, hand-axe, jackknife, shovel, etc.) knot-tying, firebuilding, cooking, sanitation, tent pitching, leadership of games, songs, dances, arts and crafts, ceremonies and dramatics.

Her camping experiences during the last eleven years have given Alice ample opportunity to perfect such skills. Day Camping at the Newton Girl Scout Day Camp, weekend camping with her troop and summer camping at Camp Mary Day, sponsored by the Newton Girl Scout Council led to broader adventures at Camp Helen Storrow, Vineyard Sailing Camp and a gypsy Mobile Unit Trip in 1949, all sponsored by the Massachusetts Girl Scouts. This summer, Alice is serving as assistant sailing counselor at Camp Hoffman, West Kingston, Rhode Island, summer camp of the Rhode Island Girl Scouts.

Alice is the daughter of the State Senator and Mrs. Richard H. Lee. She is a 1951 graduate of Newton High School where she was active in the school band, orchestra and a capella choir, tennis and soft ball teams, school legislature, debating, dramatic and music clubs.

To Major In Social Sciences

Alice, who is eighteen, will enter the University of Massachusetts this fall to major in the social sciences as preparation for her chosen career—that of a professional worker in Girl Scouting.

The expenses of the trip will be met by the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund created in memory of the founder of Girl Scouting in the United States. Contributions to the fund are made yearly by Girl Scouts throughout the country. During her stay in Australia, Alice will be the guest of the Girl Guides.

boom will continue this year, he added.

Newton now derives approximately $750,000 from the personal property tax. With a $5000 exemption, the city would probably lose from $350,000 to $400,000, according to Rep. Whitmore. This increased exemption would relieve many persons of the personal property tax they are now paying, he pointed out. In order to regain the amount lost, the burden of the tax would be shifted to the real estate taxpayers, he said.

taking of land and construction of a water main through private land, from Hartman road, southwesterly, War 5, to service the proposed tank.

The taking was opposed by the owner, Arnold Hartman, who agreed that the tank was necessary to service the area, but said that the adjoining property would be a better site. The taking of his land would depreciate the value of other land owned by him, Mr. Hartman contended. night. The taking was opposed by the owner of the proposed site.

Public Works Director Willard S. Pratt urged the taking of Section 54, Block 18, part of Lot 44, Oak Hill, for the proposed MDC storage tank. He told the Board that the land is now vacant and has trees on one side which would partially conceal the tank and prevent it from deteriorating the value of the surrounding land. He also requested the adoption of an order for the

Oak Hill Park Womans' Club To Hold Tea

A membership tea, the first event on the fall calendar of the Oak Hill Park Woman's Club, will be held September 15 from 3 to 5 at the home of the president, Mrs. Frederick J. Wood, 131 Wiswall road, Oak Hill Park.

Alderman Carlton was elected as alderman-at-large from Ward 1 in 1949 and has been an active member of the board. During his tenure of office he has served on the Public Works Committee, the Off-street Parking Committee and the Street Re-naming Committee of the Board of Aldermen.

Robert K. Broadhead Weds Miss Isabel Turnbull

In the chapel of the Brick Presbyterian Church of Rochester, N. Y., August 4, at 7 p.m., Miss Isabel Louise Turnbull, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Turnbull of Rochester, became the bride of Mr. Robert Keys Broadhead, son of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Broadhead of Central Close, Auburndale. Rev. Harold L. Clark, formerly assistant at Brick Church and now associated with the Rochester Federation of Churches, officiated.

For her wedding, the bride wore a ballerina length gown embroidered organdy over white taffeta, with heirloom veil of Belgian lace, chapel length, and carried a bouquet of white roses, shattered chrysanthemums and stephanotis.

The bride's sister, Miss Mary G. Turnbull, was the maid of honor and she was gowned in white organdy over orchid taffeta, ballerina length with yellow glamelias with a tiara of the same flowers.

The bridesmaids were Miss Joan Hodge of Dolgeville, N. Y., a roommate of the bride at Lasell Junior College, and Miss Lois Hunter of Kenmore, N. Y., the bride's cousin. They wore gowns of white organdy over yellow taffeta, ballerina length, and carried orchid glamelias and tiara of the same flowers.

Mr. Eugene Flowers of Wellesley served as best man and the ushers were Mr. Andrew Terkelsen of Auburndale, and the bride's cousin, Dr. Warren H. Jones of Rochester, N. Y.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the Mary Rummey Shaw Room of the Brick Church Institute.

The bride was graduated last June from Lasell Junior College while her husband graduated last June from Newton Junior College.

Plan To Wed In November

Mr. and Mrs. Erastus Beethoven Badger of Winchester and Oyster Harbors announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Jane Badger, to Mr. John P. E. Dempsey, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. E. Dempsey of Newton.

Miss Badger was graduated from Dana Hall and attended Finch Junior College in New York City. She made her debut in the 1950-51 season.

Mr. Dempsey prepared at Hebron Academy, was graduated from Harvard University with the class of 1945, and from Boston University School of Law. He served in the U. S. Naval Air Corps as a lieutenant (jg).

A November wedding is planned.

The 33rd national gathering of recreation leaders from all parts of this country as well as from Canada and some foreign countries will discuss in detail this year more than fifty principal problems of the recreation movement in America.

Special emphasis at the Congress this year will be given such subjects as recreation for military personnel, industrial recreation, community-wide cooperation in the planning and conducting of recreation programs, recreation in churches, problems of recreation board members, and separate sessions for executives, supervisors and club leaders.

Recreation for older people will also receive particular attention as will recreation for youngsters below school age.

Hahn Faced With More Complaints

nue, Newton Centre, will report trict Court, the Newton insurance man described by an attractive Waban divorcee as a "blond Lothario," faced more trouble when a complaint of extortion and three additional larceny charges were filed against him.

At the same time, a Holyoke woman complained to police that the defendant received $4,000 from her in a real estate transaction in 1946.

The defendant, Herbert Hahn, 29, of 38 Summer street, Newton Centre, pleaded innocent to the four larceny complaints and the extortion charge, and the case was continued until September 27 by Judge Donald E. Mayberry.

Bail was continued at $10,000 on the original larceny charge, while the defendant was released on nominal bail on the extortion complaint and on his own recognizance on the new larceny complaints, each charging theft of over $100.

The Personal Property Tax

Latest developments in the legislature indicate very plainly that the personal property tax which has been on the statute books for some years, is about to be considerably modified so that in effect, for all intents and purposes, it practically amounts to a repeal of the act.

Consequently, Newton along with a few other communities which have been applying the personal property tax, is going to feel the full brunt of the revision of the law and will have to increase its real estate tax rate in no small amount come next year unless other income is to absorb the loss of revenue from the personal property tax.

This tax for years has been a most controversial tax, particularly among the assessors of the State with the result that only a small minority of the communities imposed the tax on its residents. The purpose of the personal property tax was, of course, to make the non-property owner as well as the property owner, share in the operation of municipal costs and in theory this was sound reasoning. Even with modification of the personal property tax provisions, some way should be found by the State to lessen the burden of taxation on real estate owners and make non-property owners rightfully assume their share of the cost of government. The old theory that the rent payer pays a proportion of his rent for the operation of the community in which he resides has long since been relegated to the past, as it should be.

Yet notwithstanding these sound facts, repeal or modification of the personal property taxes, we believe, highly desirable. No board of assessors can, or could, apply it fairly and equitably no matter how sincerely the attempt was made. It just couldn't be done and for the most part was assessed on a percentage basis on the value of the real estate. Such procedure hardly could be called fair and equitable.

Although Newton along with a few other communities is bound to feel the modification of the law through increased tax rates, the step which the legislature apparently is about to take is, we believe, proper and just.

Time for Soul-Searching

The West Point case can serve as a most salutory warning against the commercialism associated with football in our schools. The stressing of gridiron victories, to the overshadowing of sound education, has long been a scandal to those who believe that schools were intended for learning and not for the glorification of star athletes. The spreading collegiate basketball mess, and now this tragic incident at West Point, certainly offer graphic illustration of the unhealthy influence that big-time athletics has exerted upon our colleges.

The dismissals at West Point represent in effect a volcanic discharge from a simmering cauldron of decay that has corroded the roots of our national level of public morality, as the headlines in our metropolitan dailies steadily attest.

It would seem, then, a good time to take stock of basic principles, to find out just what the school is supposed to do. As things stand now, there can be little doubt that learning has taken a back step before the ballyhoo of professionalized sport, virtually turning our schools into rah-rah institutions.

Is the school intended to turn out good men and women who are attuned with sound moral and social sense, or is its intent to provide a false scale of values and a lot of memorized factual knowledge that has no philosophical cohesion?

Which is the more vitally important: glittering material success or soundness of character? And then, should a degree be considered prima facie evidence that a graduate has perfected his education and is ready right away for a position of prominence in society? Many of our college graduates seem to make that fatuous assumption. Where did they get the idea? From their instructors? Did their professors teach them, on the other hand, that education continues while life exists, and goes far, far beyond the awarding of a sheepskin for completing so many 'semester hours'?

Now should be a very good time to recast the curriculum in the light of fundamentals, to bring order out of the chaos of free electives and the light-diet courses selected by the student according to taste.

Now is indeed high time for soul-searching by our colleges; time to put far more stress on scholarship and much less on the building of giant stadia; and time to emphasize intellectual humility in place of the hero worshipping of fleet half-backs.

Cenedella Case Test for Attorney General; Democrats Say Kelly Made Serious Error

One thing the so-called Cenedella case may establish is whether an Attorney General is all-powerful in his ability to clip the wings of a District Attorney who displeases or offends him.

A good many Democrats, including a number of supporters of Attorney General Francis E. Kelly, believe that Kelly made a serious mistake when he sent Judge Crehan into Worcester County to take over District Attorney Cenedella's office.

Kelly, understandably, was angered by Cenedella's testimony that Judge John S. Derham told him he was going to make a $2,000 payoff to the Attorney General, but only clearcut evidence that Cenedella was conducting himself improperly would justify Kelly in stepping in and superseding him.

As Republican House Leader Charles Gibbons has repeatedly stressed, either Cenedella or Derham lied in his testimony before the House rules committee.

No evidence has been produced to substantiate the insistence by Cenedella that Derham did tell him the story, and the Democratic rules committee members by inference, at least, concluded that Cenedella was the liar.

If you accept that theory, then you must be ready to believe that a responsible elected official manufactured from whole cloth a completely fictitious story implicating a close friend. That, of course, is a possibility, but it is difficult to understand what motive Cenedella would have for doing so.

It is just as plausible to theorize that Derham might have made the remark, even if there was no basis for it, for the reported "payoff" story could just as well have been a figment of his imagination as Cenedella's.

Even Kelly is not in a position to state that Cenedella rather than Derham did the lying. All he can testify to is that Derham made no payoff to him and that there was no deal between them. He can't say of his own knowledge that Derham didn't make the remarks attributed to him by Cenedella.

Kelly, obviously, is not exactly a disinterested party to the proceedings. If the story was unfounded, then he was the victim of some vicious fiction. But what sympathy might have been aroused for him has been pretty well dissolved by his action in seeking to strip Cenedella of his powers.

The Attorney General himself has virtually forced a further probe by some agency such as the Supreme Court. Any possibility that the matter might be dropped and allowed to die out was just about eliminated when he sent Judge Crehan into the District Attorney's office.

Some observers suspect that Kelly was deliberately trying to bring matters to a head when he sought to supersede Cenedella with Judge Crehan.

Eisenhower Supporters vs. Critics

Every experienced politician knows that a candidate for a Presidential nomination who becomes conspicuous too early in the race immediately becomes a target for hostile sharpshooters.

That isn't so important in the case of Senator Robert A. Taft because there isn't much that can be said about him that hasn't already been said many times.

The draft Eisenhower movement, however, has reached the stage in the Middle West where the powerful Chicago Tribune last week trained its editorial guns on the General.

Because it is assumed that the Tribune will spearhead the fight to prevent the Eisenhower forces from capturing the Illinois delegation, the theme of its attack was the subject of considerable comment. In its editorial the Tribune said in part:

"As a Republican candidate Eisenhower would be a joke. He achieved his advancement through New Deal patronage, and he is not likely to forget it. . . . His supporters must also be aware that his candidacy would bring his military record in World War II under view. It was he who called off General Bradley's victorious armies when they were across the Elbe, thus reserving for the Russians the enormous political advantage of capturing Berlin."

What effect, if any, such blasts will have on Eisenhower is debatable. It's possible that they might cause him to run if he were wavering in his decision. What might be more likely to influence Eisenhower to repudiate his political sponsors would be a public impression that he should concentrate on his highly important mission to Europe.

A consideration, on the other hand, which could tend to project Eisenhower into the Presidential race is the sharp conflict between his views and those of the Taft-MacArthur Republican wing as to the value of the European understanding which Eisenhower is directing and which MacArthur believes should be abandoned.

As one supporter of Eisenhower recently put it, the men seeking to engineer the movement to draft him are walking on eggs. One mistake on their part undoubtedly would cause the General to decide he didn't want the G.O.P. Presidential endorsement.

Anesthesia Trends Permit Advanced Surgery

Purely apart from the tremendous blessings wrought by modern anesthesia in bringing about relief from pain, but perhaps of even greater medical significance have been those developments in anesthesia which give greater scope and security to the surgeon, according to Dr. Reginald S. Hunt, Chief of the Anesthesia Department at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital. Dr. Frank Lahey, Director of the famed Lahey Clinic, has even stated that developments in surgery have followed developments in anesthesia which have permitted more prolonged and more radical surgical techniques than would have been possible even a few years ago.

Last year, Dr. Hunt and the members of his department brought blessed relief from pain to more than 5,000 patients at the hospital. Anesthesia was administered to almost 3,000 surgical cases and to some 515 patients who were having their tonsils and adenoids removed. In 1341 maternity cases, delivery was made easier for mother and doctor alike by the timely arrival of the anesthetist. Finally there were 216 accident cases of sufficient severity to call for anesthesia. In countless other accident cases relief from pain was achieved by the use of local anesthetics and these were too numerous even to list.

FAR FROM NEW

In spite of the fact that recently perfected techniques have brought this branch of medical science to the forefront, it is far from being new to medicine Dr. Hunt explains. Ether was first used as a surgical anesthetic right here in Boston when Dr. W. T. G Morton, a dentist, performed a tooth extraction on a patient rendered insensible through inhalation of ether. This monumental event in medical history took place in 1846 and marks the beginning of modern pain-free surgery. Prior to 1846, many experiments had been conducted with varying degrees of success and it is certain that the ancient Greeks and the Chinese were familiar with certain anesthetic drugs, but Dr. Morton's successful demonstration provided the necessary impetus to give the new science its birth.

It was Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, famed "Autocrat of the Breakfast Table," who gave anesthesia its present definition as being a "state of local or general insensibility to external impressions." Dr. Holmes was reknowned in the medical world for his pioneer work in childbed fever even before he gained a wider fame as a literateur.

SPINAL ANESTHESIA

In 1884, the first successful operation under spinal anesthetic was performed and today Dr. Hunt tells us that spinal is used in 85 percent of the cases which permit its use at the local hospital. Because there is less likely to be nausea following spinal anesthesia and because it provides a high degree of relaxation in the muscles of the abdomen, making the surgeons task much easier, spinal is the anesthesia of choice in the majority of cases involving abdominal surgery.

This brings forward another important point. It is vital that the anesthetist should prepare the patient for surgery so that he is not only insensible to pain, but is also relaxed. A relaxed patient means that the surgeon does not have to struggle to overcome muscular tension in cutting through tissue or, for example in reducing a fracture of the arm or leg. The patient suffers less operative injury when truly relaxed and so experiences less post-operative discomfort and can expect a more speedy recovery. In order to bring about this ideal condition, some member of the anesthesiology department visits each patient prior to operation and writes a series of orders for preoperative medication. These medications help in presenting the patient to the surgeon in the best possible physical and mental condition. Some of the drugs help take the sharp edge off of worry while others help prevent excessive salivation which could impede the easy induction of anesthesia. After medication, most patients are able to make the trip to the operating room in a relaxed frame of mind and without serious physical discomfort.

Altogether some 16 different drugs or medications are used by the anesthetist, care being taken, of course to select the ideal combination to produce the desired effect on the patient. The anesthetist also visits the patient several times after the operation to make sure that all goes well.

It is the responsibility of the anesthetist to keep close track of the patient's condition during the operation itself and to keep the surgeon advised as to just how the patient is doing. In conjunction with this duty it is often necessary for the anesthetist to administer intravenous fluids or actual blood transfusions. Of course a constant record of the patient's pulse, respirations and blood pressure is maintained throughout the course of the procedure.

REACTIONS VARY

Individuals vary widely in their reactions to various anesthetics and it takes an average of 11 minutes per patient to induce a deep enough sleep to permit active surgery. The patient, however, is conscious only during the first few minutes of the administration of inhalation anesthesia. There are, in general, three stages of anesthesia through which each patient travels. The first stage is that of induction, during which the patient remains partially conscious. The second stage is a phase of excitation during which muscles may contract and expand spasmodically. The third stage is surgical anesthesia, during which the patient is completely unconscious and utterly relaxed. Sometimes it is desirable to produce an unusually profound degree of relaxation and to this end the anesthetist administers synthetic curare-like drugs which help prevent muscle spasm. Curare was first known to man as a deadly poison used on the tips of blow-gun arrows by the South American Indians. In the hands of the skilled anesthetist, this paralizing drug can work wonders.

As an example of the perfection of techniques, Dr. Hunt cites the use of the modern anesthesia machine, which has virtually replace the old, more inexact trip cone method. The hospital has 10 of these machines, each of which costs some $1,200. In the hands of the trained operator, these machines permit much closer control over the administration of the anesthetic and thus allow much better supervision of the patient's condition.

EMERGENCY CALLS

Because of the fact that many emergency calls for anesthesia are part of hospital routines, it is necessary to maintain an around the clock staff in this department. Altogether nine people carry on this vital service at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital. The department is headed by Dr. Hunt, who holds both a B.S. degree as well as a PhD. degree from M.I.T. Dr. Hunt completed his medical studies at B. U. and took his internship and his residency at Mass. Memorial Hospital. This was followed by post-graduate at Bellevue Hospital in New York. After six years of private practice, Dr. Hunt came to the Newton-Wellesley Hospital in 1943 and has ever since been chief of the department. He is a Fellow of the American College of Anesthesiology and a Diplomate of the American Board of Anesthesiology.

Working with Dr. Hunt as assistant residents in anesthesiology are Dr. John E. Shaw and Dr. Joanna Metcalf. Dr. Shaw is a graduate of Boston College and Georgetown Medical School. He served his internship at Cambridge Hospital and then went into the army. Following his army service, Dr. Shaw studied anesthesiology at Boston City Hospital. Dr. Metcalf is a graduate of the University of Vermont and of the College of Medicine at the same university. Her internship and residency were both served at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital. A native of Lithuania, Mrs. Karlonis made her home in Newton for the past 22 years. She was a member of the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary at Mary immaculate of Lourdes Church in Newton Upper Falls.

Besides her husband, she leaves two children, Mrs. Veronica Griffin and Mrs. Ann Spink of Newton Upper Falls, and seven grandchildren.

Funeral services were held this morning (Thursday), with a solemn high mass of requiem at Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church at 9 a.m. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery, Needham.

o

PFC. ALAN TAYLOR

A military funeral at the National Cemetery, Fort Bliss, Texas, was held Sunday for Alan Chandler Taylor, U. S. Marine killed in action in Korea in September, 1950.

Mr. Taylor, who was 20 years old, was the son of Dr. and Mrs. Alan Boardman Taylor, Congregational Christian medical missionaries of the American Board of Foreign Missions in Durban, South Africa, where he was born.

During the furloughs of his parents, Mr. Taylor made his home at Auburndale and enlisted in the United States Marines in Boston, after completing his first year at the University of Vermont. He trained at Parris Island and Camp Lejeune, sailing for Korea in May, 1950, being killed in action during the landing on the beaches near Seoul.

Young Taylor was a Private First-Class of H Company, Third Battalion, 7th U. S. Marine Regiment, First Marine Division.

Interment was in Texas because that state is the home of his sister, Mrs. James Elliott, 4115 Broaddus street, El Paso. Both Private Taylor's father and mother are on duty at McCord Zulu Hospital, Durban, South Africa. One brother, Richard Boardman Taylor, ex-pilot in the South African Air Force during World War II, is studying medicine at the Witwatersrand University in South Africa. A second sister, Miss Eileen Taylor, is a nurse at the Massachusetts General Hospital, and was a lieutenant in the Nursing Corps in World War II serving on the Lido Road campaign.

Believes Ten Team Big Leagues Are A Possibility

Bobby Doerr, star second-baseman and captain of the Boston Red Sox baseball team was the featured speaker at the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club held at the Brae Burn Country Club Monday.

Introduced to the gathering by Dwight Colburn, Doerr said that at the present time the Sox are 5 games behind in the league race but from past experience, the situation can change quickly and he pointed out that in 1948 towards the end of the season, the standings of the teams seesawed back and forth until a tie occurred necessitating a play-off.

Doerr stated that in his opinion Cleveland has the strongest team and that Garcia, one of their pitchers, has lost some of his weight and is now the fastest pitcher in the league.

He explained the recent losses of the Red Sox as due to a batting slump but that in recent games the players had shown signs of snapping out of it. He gave much credit to Vollmer who, he said, has been a great help to the team and that if it weren't for him, the Sox would probably be 12 to 14 games behind. Of Kiely the young pitcher, Doerr said that he is cool and calm and just stands there and throws. McDermott, he claimed, is improving his control and Droppo, a fine fellow to meet, should be one of the best players for many years to come.

He contended that present day fans like home runs and high scores although some prefer good pitching and low scores. When asked about the possibility of forming new leagues, Doerr thinks it more likely that as a result of the present Washington talks, 10 team American and National Leagues would develop although big West Coast Leagues are a possibility.

Bobby Doerr is a booster for Boston fans and he said that the Red Sox team as a whole say that Boston is the best city they play as far as sportsmanship is concerned.

Jack Barry Is Directing Play At Falmouth

Jack Barry, of 1420 Beacon street, Newton Centre, is playing the part of a worried man this week, as he watches the Highfield Players produce Eugene O'Neil's "Ah, Wilderness!" The reason? This is Jack's first experience at directing in a stock company.

Mr. Barry has done one of the hardest things his career will contain for him — after acting with the resident company of the Highfield Playhouse (Falmouth) for the past six weeks, he has taken over the direction of the group.

The play he has chosen, "Ah, Wilderness!" is a comedy woven around the vexations of senior high school boy, Richard.

WHY BRISTOL UPHOLSTERING IS DIFFERENT
(1) We don't tie springs just 4 or 6 ways—we tie them fully 8 ways and with special twine.
(2) We don't just glue loose frames—we tear out old dowels, replace them with larger and new ones. We add brand new corner blocks.
(3) We don't tack seams at just the obvious spots—we hand sew seams throughout the piece.
(4) The welting isn't simulated—it's separate, individually made — that means it's stronger.
(5) The seams on the sides and backs aren't blind-tacked—all the seams are hand-sewn.
(6) We don't use ordinary fibre or excelsior—we use the new, expensive moss filling.
(7) We don't just repair your cushions—we make brand new cushions, springs and all.
(8) We don't put the fabric on carelessly—we make sure the pattern matches perfectly.
(9) We don't just cut from a pattern—we fit your cover as carefully as a tailor-made suit.
(10) We don't settle for second-best materials—we use only the highest quality throughout.

Highland Glee Club Takes Part In Vesper Service At Rindge, N. H.

For the sixth consecutive year the Highland Glee Club of Newton journeyed last Sunday to the Cathedral of the Pines in Rindge, New Hampshire to participate in the Vesper Service. The club's original appearance at this beautiful spot overshadowed by Mount Monadnock was at the dedication of this unusual and now widely famous shrine to the memory of Lieut. Sanderson Sloane, an Air Force casualty in World War II. Families and friends of the club made the annual pilgrimage again this year and picnicked in the woods and fields on the nearby farm of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Sloane, formerly of Newton, who are the parents of Lieut. Sloane.

In spite of the earlier showers and threatening storms, an estimated attendance of 3000 visitors filled the open auditorium for the Vespers at which Dean E. J. Van Etten of St. Paul's Cathedral, Boston gave the invocation and sermon. Conducted by D. Ralph Maclean, glee club director, the first two anthems, the Treharne arrangement of the Bach Chorale "Grant Us To Do With Zeal" and Haydn M. Morgan's "Bow Down Thine Ear, O Lord" were presented a cappella. The third anthem "The Green Cathedral" by Earl Hahn is permitted exclusively to the use of the Highland Club at the Cathedral and was sung with organ accompaniment by Bertram F. Whipple, a member of the glee club. Mr. Whipple also played the prelude and postlude numbers and accompanied the singing of several hymns by the club and congregation. The fourth anthem by the club, the Robinson arrangement of Bortniansky's seventeenth century hymn "Lo, a Song of Cherubim" was also sung unaccompanied.

The glee club feels strongly that it is an honor and privilege to be invited to participate in the summer series of services at the Cathedral and they were endowed with Mr. Sloane's personal thanks and praised for their high musical standards.

LETTERS --

"OUR HOME TOWN"

Editor, Newton Graphic:

I am writing for my sons Marshall, aged 8, and Eliot, aged 7, who have recently completed a two-weeks' summer program at the Jackson Homestead on Washington street.

Their enthusiasm and appreciation of the excellent opportunities offered by the Newton Recreation Department are unbounded (and this is shared by their parents). They wish particularly to say, "Many thanks" to Mrs. Madeleine Arnold, Director and Resident Hostess of the Jackson Homestead and to Miss Nancy MacGilvrey, Representative of the Recreation Department in charge of the summer program.

During the past two weeks, Marshall and Eliot have been made more conscious of nature and more cognizant of the world about them. They have been on nature hikes and are planning future trips with their parents.

They have found natural treasures and have learned to identify them. They have brought their parents a "Nature Scrapbook" filled with many accomplishments of which they are justly proud.

They have heard stories of the dinosaurs which were undoubtedly inhabitants of Newton in prehistoric days. They have learned Indian lore and have made posters and displays illustrating projects undertaken.

And to culminate this glorious summer program, they were taken to Prospect Park for a picnic where they had a "weenie and marshmallow roast."

I am certain that Marshall and Eliot and the other children who participated this summer, have been greatly enriched as a result of this wonderful exposure. These are the projects that influence the development of responsible future citizens. In addition, such projects may contribute to producing well-adjusted persons some of whom through their exposure to nature will have had their interest sparked to explore further and finally select one of many jobs dealing with the great out-of-doors.

These are some of the activities vocational advisers highly endorse because they serve as stimuli for young minds.

Our vote of thanks also to Mr. Evan C. Johnson, Recreation Commissioner, and to his many assistants, who are doing a splendid job at Crystal Lake and the playgrounds of Newton. Adults and children who take advantage of the excellent recreation program offered at any playground or at the swimming areas, are enjoying some of the finest recreation facilities to be found anywhere.

The Winokur family is proud of claiming Newton as "our home town."

Parke Snow To Open New Unit In Newton Centre

A new suburban unit of Parke Snow, Inc., the ninth in this department store group, will be opened at 1211 Centre street, Newton Centre, Thursday, August 23rd.

This new unit, comprising approximately 15,000 square feet of selling space, has two main selling floors, one on the street floor, the other downstairs.

Main floor departments include: Men's and Boys', Women's and Children's apparel and accessories; Corsets; Daytime wash frocks; Uniforms; Robes and Housecoats; Footwear.

Downstairs departments include: Notions, Domestics, Home furnishings, Housewares. The offices are located at the rear of the street floor.

Departments have been treated as a series of individual shops, by arrangement of fixtures, and colors. There is a spacious parking space at the rear of the store.

Mrs. Margaret Wanberg, formerly associated with the Parke Snow, Inc. Waltham store, as assistant manager, will manage the new Newton Centre store.

In continuous operation since 1882, Parke Snow, Inc. operates other department stores in Somerville, Fitchburg, Roslindale, Wakefield, Waltham, Gardner, and Salem. A new unit in Norwood has opened on May 24.

Two Captains Named by Fire Department

Two captains were appointed in the Fire Department Monday night following approval by the Board of Aldermen, it was announced Tuesday by Acting Chief Francis J. Linnehan, who stated the appointments were made by Chief John E. Corcoran, who is on vacation.

Acting Chief Linnehan also announced the transfers of three members of the department.

Appointed captains from the existing Civil Service list were George E. Saunders, 49, of 10 Lowell avenue, Newtonville, and John F. Faherty, 54, of 1670 Centre street, Newton Centre.

New assignments announced were Lt. George F. Herlihy from Engine 2 to Engine 3; Dexter L. Briggs to Engine 8, and Charles C. Cerone, to Engines 3 and 9.

Fallen Tree Is Cause of Power Shortage

A good part of Auburndale and West Newton was without electricity for over a half hour Tuesday morning, after a tree fell down at Commonwealth avenue, near Prince street, West Newton.

The fall of the tree took down three lighting circuits, disrupting power in that locality at 11:15 a.m. and it was not until 11:45 that power was fully restored by the Boston Edison emergency repair crews.

Has No Authority To Do Work On Private Property

During the past few weeks many requests have been received by the Newton Public Works Department pertaining to the control of the Japanese Beetle.

Under General Laws, the City has no authority to enter and spray on private property for the control of this pest. Consideration is being given for petitioning the State Legislature to have this pest included under the specified General Law authorizing the City to expend public funds and assess private property for the spraying and control of the Japanese Beetle.

Auto Breaks Store Window As It Jumps Curbing

Last Friday afternoon, an automobile, which had been angle parked, jumped the curb as the operator stepped on the accelerator and shattered a large plate glass window at the Hubbard Drug Company, 425 Centre street, Newton Corner.

Irving Abrams, 36 Magnolia avenue, Newton, reported to police that he had parked his car, leaving the motor running. On his return, he asked his daughter, Mrs. F. Penn, to drive. The latter, being unaware that the hydromatic drive was in operation, stepped on the gas and the auto jumped the curb, crashing into the store.

Approve Loan For New Claflin School

At its meeting Monday night, the Board of Aldermen approved the issuance of a public building loan for $600,000 and the appropriation of $555,000 for the new Claflin School on Lowell avenue, Newtonville.

At the same time, acting chairman Earle D. Wood of the Finance Committee reported that the $600,000 bond issue would exhaust the $4,000,000 buildings loan, outside the debt limit, authorized by the Legislature in 1948. A total of $780,000 will be required for the new school, but the rest will be appropriated next year, Mr. Wood reported.

Playground Equipped By Newton Kiwanis Club

Last Sunday the new Curve street playground in West Newton, equipped by the Newton Kiwanis Club for younger children of the vicinity, was dedicated with over 200 parents and children in attendance.

The project was described as "only the beginning" of the development of play areas by the Kiwanis Club by President Thomas J. Lyons, who presented the equipment to Rev. Louis E. Ford, pastor of Myrtle Baptist Church, for the community. Mr. Ford expressed the gratitude of the community for the interest shown by the club and Mrs. Helen Houston, chairman of a Mother's Committee, announced that a rotation system of supervision by mothers had been set up.

Past Lt. Gov. James B. Riggs of the Fifth Kiwanis Division was master of ceremonies and speakers included Lt.-Gov. William Cantor; Alderman Kenneth E. Prior, representing Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood, and John F. Donahue, Newton Recreation Department supervisor. Lt.-Gov. Cantor complimented the Newton Club on the successful completion of the project and said that such programs are the heart of Kiwanis work.

The project was in charge of the Ways and Means Committee and the directors of the club, including: Dr. Ernest A. Marcoux, chairman; Mr. Riggs, William E. Halliday, Frank D. McMullen, H. J. Pettingill, Dr. Arthur B. Norley, William M. Cahill, V. P. MacKay, Raymond A. Bowman, George W. Bryson, Edmund F. Cheverie, Dr. John A. Conory, Dr. Robert J. Muse and Judge Francis V. Terry.

The land for the playground was purchased several years ago by the Newton Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs and the Chamber of Commerce.

Civil Defense Communication Test Held Tuesday Successful

All means of communication now available in Newton for the flow of emergency Civil Defense messages were tested Tuesday evening, it was announced by Arthur J. Swett, acting director.

Do not be alarmed if you overhear talk about an atom bomb incident for it will only be part of the communication test language being used.

Within the Department of Civil Defense of Newton, all Headquarters and Communication personnel, together with each Deputy Director, were alerted to report to their emergency Civil Defense posts. One purpose of the local test was to determine the length of time necessary to alert all Civil Defense volunteers and to put into practical use theoretical personal alert plans.

Since Mayor Lockwood was appointed Sector Leader of Sector 4, Region 5, Civil Defense Agency of Mass., the local Civil Defense Headquarters has assumed the additional duties and missions of processing any requests for Civil Defense assistance from Brookline, Watertown, Waltham, Needham, Wellesley, Dover and Weston. The communication facilities from Newton to each of these communities were also tested. During the absence of Mayor Lockwood, Arthur J. Swett will be Acting Sector Leader, "doubling in brass."

Joins Move To Bar Dates With MenWhoDrink

Miss Daphne Fisher, 17-year-old Newton Upper Falls girl, was among several outspoken young lady members of the national WCTU who urged a general restriction against dates with all young men who drink, before the 77th convention of the group at the Hotel Statler in Boston.

Rallying around the slogan "lips that touch liquor shall never touch mine", was Miss Fisher who resides at 1198 Chestnut street and who is first vice-president of the Massachusetts Youth Temperance Council.

Miss Fisher revealed that with her girl friends she has been conducting a quiet campaign which has resulted in several college students abstaining from drinking during dates.

In general agreement with her were several other young speakers, who claimed that drinking is rampant among college men yet one young lady stated that "believe it or not girls who don't drink get more dates with boys."

130-Ft. Plunge Proves Fatal to Newton Man

William J. Gervalis, 39, a carpenter, of 25 Mechanics street, Newton, was killed Sunday in a 130-foot plunge from Echo Bridge into Charles River in Hemlock Gorge, Newton Upper Falls.

Eugene Marcure, 46, of 47 Court street, Newton, who was fishing down-river, heard a scream and saw Gervalis plunge into the water. He pulled him to shore and worked on him with artificial respiration for about 10 minutes until police arrived with a pulmotor.

Friends said Gervalis had been despondent for some time, and had been missing most of the day before his death. The man was pronounced dead by Dr. William Giles, of 112 Bullough park, Newtonville, who worked with police for more than 30 minutes in an attempt to revive him.

Registrar In Advanced Warning To Newton Motorists

ROUTE 128 OPENS TODAY

Routes 9, 20 and 128 To Be Patrolled

Registrar of Motor Vehicles Rudolph F. King this week cautioned Newton motorists who are planning to be away over the Labor Day week-end next week to use extreme care in their driving. His warning was issued to motorists in this area by the Waltham office of the Registry at a meeting of all Hearing Officers and Supervisors held in Boston Monday.

In issuing this caution, Registrar King stated that Labor Day holidays will bring to our highways the greatest amount of traffic of the entire summer season. Many will take advantage of the last long week-end, but many more will be bringing back their families from a long summer vacation.

These will be some of our most precious cargoes, he stated, as they contain mother and the children coming back to go to school. Be careful as an accident may result in the complete wreck of an entire family. He added, "Remember that for the carelessness of a few seconds, you may have a life time of memories."

Routes 9, 128 and 20 will be patrolled by local inspectors Carter, Schofield, Stitt, Sheehan and Christensen under the supervision of Hearings Officer Mullen and every effort will be made to keep these roads safe from noon on Friday, August 31, to midnight of Monday, September 3.

He concluded his remarks by stating that "Belmont is the safest town in the United States Let us make Newton, Watertown and Weston the safest area in the State."

Auburndale Vet, Age 19, Home Soon

Among the 1430 Army personnel who have seen action in Korea and who arrived in Seattle Tuesday, was Pfc. James S. Paine, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Paine of 331 Lexington street, Auburndale, who enlisted in the service on his 17th birthday, October 15, 1948, and has been overseas for 28 months.

Pfc. Paine is a native of Newton and attended Warren Junior High School and Newton Trade School, and after enlisting in 1948, took his basic training at Fort Dix, N. J.

He went to Japan in April, 1949 and from there was sent to Korea in June, 1950, where he has been doing construction work with the 8th Army.

He has one sister, Janet, and one brother, George, both of Auburndale.

Damage Is Caused By Heavy Storm

The heavy storm Monday, the third within a week, caused two skidding accidents, resulting in injuries to six persons, flooded cellars, a road washout and interruption of electric light service.

Most seriously injured was Mrs. Sybilla W. Allen, 67, of 266 Highland avenue, West Newton, who suffered possible rib fractures and was held at the New-

Request Swimming Pool Hearing Before Alderman

With all the gusto and spirit which prompted their original action 15 years ago in sponsoring the acquisition of the property for Albemarle playground, the Horace Mann District Improvement Association under the leadership of newly reelected Ernest J. Sullivan, 9 Edinboro terrace, Newtonville, held their second "reactivation" meeting at the home of Harry Gath, Jr., 600 California street, Newtonville where the endorsement of practically all the veterans organizations of all the Newtons were announced and enthusiastically received.

Following the wholehearted endorsement last week by the Sgt. Eugene J. Daley Post, VFW, President Sullivan presented to the 32 attending, that full support had been received from William J. Maloney, chairman of the United Veterans Organization as well as from the executive committee of Newton Post, No. 48, American Legion.

PROGRESS MEETING

Speaking to the assembly, Mr. Sullivan said, "This is a progress meeting and it certainly is just that. Back in 1936 when a little group of us living in the neighborhood of Albemarle's few golf holes, opposite the Horace Mann school, agitated the acquisition of that property for playground use we had no silent denials from city hall.

We demanded and got action from ex-Mayor Edwin O. Childs. Today is another day. Our original organization of boys and girls have grown into manhood and womanhood, yes, to fathers and

Five Newton Boys Given Official Send-off Monday

Monday morning at 7 o'clock five Newton boys were given a send-off from Registration headquarters, 430 aWlnut street, Newtonville. The group included Melvin J. Milender, 25 Lancaster road, Newton; Richard T. Porter, 27 Mason road, Newton Centre; Charles W. Robinson, 80 Berkelry street, West Newton; Roger W. Martin 170 Winchester street, Newton Highlands and Raymond W. Lyko, 1934 Chestnut street, N. U. Falls.

Representing Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood, who was unable to attend, was Alderman Winfield G. Anderson, who expressed to the boys Newton's gratification for their sacrifices also the well wishes of all Newton citizenry.

Hugh S. Boyd, a member of Board 116 read the roll and assigned Chas. Robinson as leader of the group to the Army Base.

Reverend Sydney Adams, rector of Centenary Methodist Church, Auburndale, spoke to the boys and gave the blessing.

William J. Maloney, Chairman of the UVON, acting as master of ceremonies also introduced Edmund T. Dungan, commissioner of Veterans' Service and Robert Wombolt, JVC of Chaplain Wm. J. Farrell Chapter, DAV, who expressed to the boys the well wishes of all Newton Veteran Organizations. Also in attendance was Charles Duke, member of Newton Post, A. L.

Elmer E. King, P. C. Thomas Burnett Camp USWV of Newton presented each boy with a "Going Away" card from the commanders of the member organizations of the UVON and Edmund Dungan presented them a pen and pencil set, a gift of the City of Newton.

Following the exercises, the group entrained at Newtonville for the Boston Army Base, from where they were sent to Fort Devens for assignment.

"State-wide Venture Now A Reality'

In his remarks at the dedication exercises of Route 128 which will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon (Thursday) Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood will state:

"For many years the City of Newton has experienced a flow of traffic directly through its highways, and for a number of years the Newton City Government and the Newton Chamber of Commerce energetically sought relief from the many local phases of congestion and slow movement necessarily caused by much cross traffic.

"Today we are meeting to pay homage to the capable organization which has wrought this magnificent circumferential highway, the new Route 128, out of countryside and suburban cities. In a relatively short period of time this capable organization has presented not only a solution to one of our greatest traffic problems, but rendered it a simple procedure for Newton citizens to reach all points north and south, as well as to make many other important connections with a great saving of time. This transportation artery serves Newton with great importance as to economy of time and safety and brings us closer to outlying sections.

"We take just pride in the association of William F. Callahan, a citizen of Newton, as Commissioner of Public Works in this vast project, as we gratefully acknowledge our appreciation of the many outstanding public services rendered by another of our well-known citizens, the Master of Ceremonies, a Traffic Engineer of national, high reputation, Edgar F. Copell.

"We thank, and we congratulate, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, represented in the person of Your Excellency, Governor Dever, for the insight into our needs and the solution of our problems. We thank the Legislature, some of whom are present, for their active cooperation and able assistance, accord high credit to the engineering staff which has labored so worthily over the countless problems presented, and the contractors and their staffs who have brought this beautiful work and this event to the happy conclusion we today celebrate.

"The citizens of the fifteen villages of Newton pay tribute to the state-wide venture now a reality. Our exaltations are by all means justified, and we rejoice with you in this happy occasion."

Carr Playground Wins 4 Out Of 5 League Championships

Carr Playground, by winning 4 out of 5 District League Championships and many other awards, was one of the few playgrounds for many years to set such a record in any one season of competition and was the highlight of the District Play Day held at the Hawthorn playground last Thursday afternoon for the Nonantum-Newtonville areas composed of the Albemarle, Boyd, Carr, Hawthorn, Horace Mann, Stearns and Victory playgrounds sponsored by the Newton Recreation Department under the supervision of Recreation Commissioner, C. Evan Johnson. The District Play Day was directed by Recreation Supervisors Mrs. Hovgaard and Nicholas P. Tedesco. A special guest of the occasion was Mrs. Worthing L. West, member of the Recreation Commission.

Tenants Face Rent Boost

It has been estimated that tenants of about 8000 rental units in Newton are facing the possibility of rent boosts up to 20 percent over the 1947 ceilings, under the new Defense Production Act, on the basis of applications which have been submitted by landlords and which continue to flow into the Middlesex County rent office in Cambridge.

The new act allows for increased costs and prices claimed by landlords. On approval of the rent office, a copy of the notice is sent to the tenant and the new rent goes into effect immediately. The tenant may appeal within 15 days, indicating why the increase, in his opinion, is not justified. In the meantime, however, he is required to pay the higher rent.

It is possible that some tenants will not feel the full impact of a 20 percent increase due to the fact that in 1947 and 1948, some landlords were permitted to increase rents 15 percent under a statutory lease, and will now be able to impose only an additional 5 percent raise.

In cases where adjustments already have been made since June 30, 1947, the landlord may apply only for the difference up to 20 percent.

A state rent control act, superceding this act and "protecting the rights of tenants who cannot stand further rental increases," appeared as a recent possibility, but state legislators have not taken any action as yet.

Dedication To Be Held At 2 O'clock

Exercises To Be At Junction of Routes 9 — 128

Impressive ceremonies will mark the official dedication and opening of new route 128 this afternoon (Thursday) at 2 o'clock when Governor Paul A. Dever will cut the ribbon signifying the opening of the route to the public after months of construction work and at a cost of millions of dollars. The dedicatory exercises will take place on the Newton-Wellesley line at the junction of Routes 9 and 128.

State, city and town officials, together with an impressive list of dignitaries, have been invited to this historical event which will mark a milestone in the State's huge highway program. The new route 128 will do much to alleviate traffic congestion in several cities of the State, including Boston, as it will by-pass the centers of population and provide a speedy thoroughfare which will connect up with the Newburyport turnpike at its northern end, near Lynnfield.

A program arranged by Edgar F. Copell, Director of Ceremonies, in keeping with the occasion

Youngsters Set Fire At Sherman Co.

A fire, believed set by children, damaged a shed on the property of the Sherman Paper Products Company at 156 Oak street, Newton Upper Falls, Tuesday.

The blaze, starting on the inside of the shed, spread to the walls and through the roof of the one-story wooden structure. The fire was discovered by employees in a nearby building. Although the shed is not in use, it will have to be torn down, officials stated.

New Sidewalk For Carr School

The Sidewalk Committee of the Carr School P. T. A., of Newtonville, through the cooperation of Willard F. Pratt, director of public works, has ben successful in obtaining flanking concrete sidewalks for the Carr School.

A complete concrete sidewalk now extends from California street to Linwood avenue. The Sidewalk Committee, composed of William R. O'Connell, chairman; Anthony Gatti, and Paul D'Angelo, also has been largely responsible for the procurement of a crushed stone walk from Linwood avenue to Watertown street. According to school authorities, the old walk made the children's feet muddy as they went to and from school.

ton-Wellesley Hospital, after a head-on collision between the car she was driving and a car operated by Joseph P. Gandolpho, Jr., 17, of 13 French street, Watertown, who suffered a leg injury, according to the police.

Also injured in the crash were Miss Katherine T. Allen, 38, also of 26 Highland avenue, who suffered a cut on her forehead and a possible fracture of her left wrist; Mrs. George Hannauer, 74, of 137 Monadnock road, Chestnut Hill, who suffered injuries to both legs and multiple cuts and bruises, and Miss Helen Koehm, 53, also of 137 Monadnock road, who suffered injuries to her left ribs and right leg.

Electric power along the Worcester turnpike failed during the storm but service was restored soon, it was reported. The worst road washout was on Collins road, Waban, where a 10-inch trench was dug by the heavy rain.

Pool–

mothers who endorse Mr. Gath's movement 100 percent for the planning and building of the open air swimming, diving and wading pool at Albemarle.

"To further emphasize the importance of these endorsements I cannot miss the fact that 2606 men and women left Newton to do battle in World War 1. In the World war 2 affair Newton contributed 9250 and to date the Garden City has taken 575 for the Korean war. Those men and women represent the life-blood of Newton young citizenry. The unselfishness with which they all served or are serving is indicated in these endorsements."

President Sullivan then gave a full report of Mr. Maloney's statement speaking for the United Veterans Organization as follows: "Personally I have contacted most of the United Veterans Organization delegates and they are all in accord with Harry Gath's proposal calling for the planning and building of an outdoor swimming, diving and wading pool at the Albemarle playground. Officially, I know it has already been endorsed by the Sgt. Edward J. Daley Post, VFW and the Newton Post, 48, American Legion. Formally, this matter will be discussed, Tuesday, Sept. 11 at our meeting at the War Memorial building.

CITY HAS PROBLEM

"While it may sound ethereal, we here in Newton have a juvenile and parental delinquency problem in the summer time. The fresh air of Albemarle swimming pool together with its unlimited recreational advantages for youngsters and oldsters alike for all the Newtons would be a decided help toward solving this problem. The building, and properly supervised pool, under control of the recreational commission would be a distinct asset to the city.

"Possibly Newton citizens do not realize this one item in the use of the Faneuil pool by Newton youngsters. Going and coming from there, they likely come from all sections of Newton. That means miles they have to travel and they possibly spent the bus fare for soda pop or other refreshments. Then they start to thumb their way home. That is both a traffic and safety hazard to contend with.

"From Newtonville square they would have ready access and exit to all the Newtons. It is centrally located and the traffic and safety hazards of either Watertown or Crafts streets could be easily handled."

Chairman Maloney announced that he was asking all Newton veteran organizations to discuss the subject at their next meeting. He also advised all Newton citizens who are interested in the project to contact their aldermen soliciting their support for the Albemarle project.

The official action of Newton Post, 48, American Legion, was voiced by Adjutant Hugh L. Brinkley, 79 Warwick road, West Newton with his letter to Chairman Sullivan. "At the executive committee meeting of Newton Post 48, American Legion, held Aug. 14 a motion was passed favoring the erection of a swimming pool at the Albemarle playground. We sincerely hope that this project will be successful so that the needs of the young people of this section of the city will be taken care of."

SORELY NEEDED

As a part of the "progress meeting" chairman Sullivan said, "When such veterans organizations as the VFW, American Legion and the United Veterans Organization together with the Newton YMCA give unanimous support for such a recreational project so sorely needed, where do politics enter into the picture except with selfminded politicians themselves. There is only one answer. They did not think of it first and the man who has befriended more sports development throughout the Newton's, Harry Gath, Jr., is accused of that after two decades of recreational promotion in the city. The veterans of the Korean War, even such as Lt. Col. Peter Birmingham, Lt. Col. Leahy, Lt. Commander Brad Dyer and Lt. McLaughlin (Marines), graduates of Gath's Guards, have already voiced their favorable opinions for the building of the Albemarle project."

The Horace Mann members then addressed a request to City Clerk Frank Grant asking for an open hearing before the Newton Board of Aldermen in September.

On the assumption that such a public hearing would be held Chairman Sullivan announced that Atty. James P. Gallagher, former International Vice President of Kiwanis Clubs had been engaged as counsel for the presentation of the Association's case before the city fathers.

Miss Palmer Married In West Newton

White summer flowers decorated the Unitarian Church of Wellesley Hills Saturday for the wedding of Miss Frances Ann Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Norcom Smith of Wellesley Hills, to Dr. Lawrence Winston Macdonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Macdonald of West Newton. The 4 o'clock candlelight ceremony was performed by the Rev. William Brooks Rice, and a reception followed in the parish house.

The bride's gown of white Chantilly lace and marquisette had a full skirt and a train, and her chapel-length veil of illusion was held in place by a fitted bonnet of marquisette trimmed with orange blossoms. She carried a white prayer book with white gladioli, stephanotis and ivy.

Mrs. Arthur M. Aldrich of Dayton, Ohio, sister of the bridegroom, was the matron of honor. She wore a full-skirted gown of orchid marquisette with a wreath of ivy in her hair, and carried a cascade of white gladioli and ivy. The bridesmaids were Miss Ronda Smith, sister of the bride; Miss Eleanor Holt Ernst and Miss Marilyn B. Smith, all of Wellesley Hills and Katheryn Moulton Smith, another sister of the bride, also of Wellesley Hills, was a junior bridesmaid. They were gowned alike in full-skirted green marquisette with wreaths and bouquets, like those of the matron of honor.

Mrs. Smith, the bride's mother, wore a gown of periwinkle blue chiffon with a blue veil and pink gladioli in her hair. Mrs. Macdonald, mother of the bridegroom, was gowned in beige lace over rose taffeta, with a rose flowered cloche and a corsage of pink gladioli.

Mr. Arthur M. Aldrich of Dayton, Ohio, was the best man, and the ushers included Mr. Robert Gray Esterberg of Newton; Mr. Robert Cloutier of Brookline; and Mr. Leonard Mooney of Natick.

The bride is a graduate of Lasell Junior College. The bridegroom attended Boston University and was graduated from the Massachusetts College of Optometry. He recently took over the practice of Dr. Edwin P. Leonard, Jr., of Newton, where they will make their home at 471 Washington street, following a wedding trip to Maine.

Miss Smith Wed To Dr MacDonald

Wearing a gown of white satin with a finger-tip veil caught to a French lace cap, and carrying white Eucharis lilies, sweet peas and swansonia, Miss Julia Birge Palmer was married last Saturday afternoon to Mr. Alvan Rand Alley, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Alley of Short Hills, N. J. The 4 o'clock ceremony was performed in the Second Church in Newton, West Newton, by the Rev. Virgil E. Foster of Chicago, Ill., against a background of white dahlias and lemon leaves. A garden reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Palmer of West Newton.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride had her sister, Miss Martha K. Palmer, as maid of honor. She wore a gown of orchid starched chiffon over taffeta with a band of orchid sweet peas and sweetheart roses in her hair to match the cascade of flowers she carried. The bridesmaids were Miss Eva Jo Gregg of Waban; Miss Abigail Macomber of West Newton; Miss Mary Ann Kinne of Briarcliff Manor, N. Y.; and Miss Marilyn Kennedy of New York City. They were gowned alike in highlight blue starched chiffon over taffeta and carried cascades of blue delphinium and sweetheart roses to match the bands of flowers in their hair.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Palmer wore dusty-pink lace with a hat to match and a corsage of white baby orchids. Mrs. Alley, the bridegroom's mother, wore blue lace with a shell pink satin hat and a corsage of blue baby orchids.

Mr. Theodore C. Alley was his brother's best man and the ushers included Mr. William H. Alley, Jr., another brother; Mr. David J. Palmer, brother of the bride; Mr. Kent M. Truslow of Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; Mr. Stewart S. Knapp of Meriden, Ct.; and Mrs. John A. Mitchell of Haverford, Pa.

The bride was graduated from Cornell University with the class of 1950 and is a member of Delta Delta Delta Sorority. The bridegroom prepared at the Pingry School, Elizabeth, N. J., and was graduated from Cornell University in 1949. He is a member of Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity and Phi Kappa Tau honorary fraternity. During World War II he served in the Air Corps.

After a motor trip through New Hampshire and Maine, they will make their home in Cambridge.

(1) We don't tie springs just 4 or 6 ways—we tie them fully 8 ways and with special twine.
(2) We don't just glue loose frames—we tear out old dowels, replace them with larger and new ones. We add brand new corner blocks.
(3) We don't tack seams at just the obvious spots—we hand sew seams throughout the piece.
(4) The welting isn't simulated—it's separate, individually made — that means it's stronger.
(5) The seams on the sides and backs aren't blind-tacked—all the seams are hand-sewn.
(6) We don't use ordinary fibre or excelsior—we use the new, expensive moss filling.
(7) We don't just repair your cushions—we make brand new cushions, springs and all.
(8) We don't put the fabric on carelessly—we make sure the pattern matches perfectly.
(9) We don't just cut from a pattern—we fit your cover as carefully as a tailor-made suit.
(10) We don't settle for second-best materials—we use only the highest quality throughout.

And Still More

Speaking before the Newton Rotary Club this week, Arthur C. Gerves, Regional Director of the Bureau of Unemployment Services stated that while the Massachusetts tax for unemployment is now 2.9 percent, Governor Dever believes it should be raised to 8 percent but that a compromise figure of 6 percent will probably result.

This, despite the fact that there is less unemployment in Massachusetts today than has been the case for some years. The reason why the tax should be increased, according to some sources, is because the unemployment fund is practically depleted or at best at such a low level that it must be built up.

All this is very logical reasoning, perhaps, but why has the fund reached such a low level? All because of the chiselers who in the past have been permitted to milk the fund to its present low level of reserve.

And no doubt, some part of this chiseling has been the result, indirect at least, of politics and politicians.

Now, because the fund has reached a low level, the industrious, hard working men and women of this state are to be asked to pay a higher percentage of their wages into an unemployment fund which has sunk to its present level because of chiseling and abuses which have been permitted to exist.

It just doesn't make sense, yet the industrious working public undoubtedly will soon find their "take home" pay less than it is now due to a system which reeks with abuse. When is the public going to wake up?

Wisdom's Beginning

In some respects there is a more cordial entente existing between youth and adults today than in the more austere past when children were made to mind in fear and trembling. There is much good in today's attitudes when the young are allowed to grow in freedom from fear, even though their insouciance may bother oldsters at times.

Yet there is one disturbing element in this unrestrained exuberance of our boys and girls in that they too often come to hold in amused contempt the wise opinion of adults around them. Youth (ourselves a while back) always had an idea that it had the answers, but this generation seems to have ALL the answers and wants to jettison the tradition and accumulated wisdom of all that has gone before.

As one observer recently commented: the young persons are prone to divide adults into two groups—hypocrites who violate the rules of conduct they lay down for boys and girls to follow, and old-fashioned fuddy-duddies who object to fun and good times. On the other hand, he said, adults too often steel themselves against the freshness and optimism of youth, rejecting real gems of wisdom solely because they come "from the mouths of babes."

It would look like a situation then where a meeting of minds could be effected without too great stress and strain, with more genuine regard for the thoughtful opinions of the young folk, and, on the other hand, more respect for the experience and wisdom gathered in the good fight.

After all, in the athletic arena the young respect the seasoned performer, the scarred veteran. Look at the heavyweight fight field today. Well, life is the greatest of all arenas, and its emergencies and vicissitudes can call forth all a person's vitality, nerve, endurance, courage, ability and know-how in order to keep going and to maintain some semblance of an even keel.

The green recruit never scoffs at the veteran when the machine guns start chattering. He's mighty glad to have him alongside. So don't sell your adults short, young friends, for it's a long, steep, rocky road ahead.

Learn to gather up the crumbs of wisdom that the worldly-wise discard from the table. It's good to have a lot of confidence, so long as it is not foolhardiness, but in the long run there is no more sure staff than that of humility. Socrates was much sought after by the youth of his day and he had this to tell his pupils: "The beginning of wisdom is the realization of one's own ignorance."

August's Birthstone

The birthstone for August is either the peridot (pronounced pair-a-doe) or the sardonyx.

The peridot stems from a Greek word which means "golden gem." Its color varies from yellow to green. The most desirable shade is a soft delicate green, which seems to lose the yellow undertone at night, and is often incorrectly called the evening emerald. The most important known source of this gem is St. John's Island in the Red Sea.

According to one legend, reported by the Jewelry Industrial Council, the peridot was supposed to have come from the Serpent Isle in the Red Sea—guarded by zealous watchers, whose duty it was to put to death any unauthorized persons who appeared. Not even those who had a right to seek the gem could find the peridot in daylight. It was not until nightfall that it was revealed by its radiance. The seekers then marked the spot, and acquired the stones in daylight.

Legend relates that a peridot will repel the terrors of the night. When set in gold, this lovely stone exerts greater power. For even greater power as protection against evil spirits, the stone was pierced and hung by the hair of a donkey on the left arm.

The peridot is supposed to give its wearer a sane mind and a merciful disposition.

The sardonyx, alternate stone for August, is a brownish-red, opaque gem found mainly in Brazil and Uruguay. It is frequently carved to make delicate cameos.

Probably the most famous of the known sardonyx gems is a ring given to the Earl of Essex by Queen Elizabeth. When Essex was held in the Tower for execution, he sent the ring to Elizabeth as a sign of his peril, and a mute plea for help. However, the ring fell into the hands of his enemies, who made certain that the Queen never saw it and Essex was executed.

Current Comment

It is quite possible that our present Legislature may wind up with the distinction of taking longer to do less than any previous General Court in the history of Massachusetts.

As this is written, it is impossible to forecast any likely end to the current legislative session, or to predict a date for prorogation. The latest date on which the Legislature has concluded its business in the past was August 31. This Legislature is almost certain to sit well into September and possibly longer.

If you scan its list of accomplishments, you find that the really major ones are comparatively few, indeed, and that matters which were talked about as long ago as last January still remain to be settled.

One reason above all others responsible for the lengthy session, which now is costing the people about $15,000 each week in extra expense, is the political maneuvring on the part of both parties.

Last week on Beacon Hill, for example, was taken up largely by Republican attempts to block the enactment of a tax program and to Democratic efforts to prevent any measure of consequence from being put to a vote.

As far as any real progress was concerned, the Legislature might just as well have been on vacation. Stalling tactics were deliberately adopted by the Democratic leadership in the House because so many Democrats were absent that the Republicans held a voting superiority in a body whose actual membership is 124 Democrats and 116 Republicans.

The Republicans are guilty of their own inconsistency because they have voted for numerous increased expenditures but then have refused to enact the taxes to meet the commitments they had a part in making. They have helped to cause an unusual muddle by voting to incur bills but declining to pay them.

This situation stems in part from the fact that Governor Dever in 1949 caught the Republican legislators napping and put over what amounted to a two-year tax program. When the G.O.P. members woke up, they discovered that Mr. Dever had raised all the taxes necessary in 1949 and that he didn't have to adopt any in 1950—a fact that did not handicap him a bit in his bid for reelection.

The Democrats would like to do that again. The Republicans, having been outsmarted once, are determined not to let it happen a second time. It would suit their purpose if no new taxes whatever were adopted this year and all of them were placed on the books in 1952 so they would be reasonably fresh in the minds of the voters when they go to the polls for the next State and Presidential election.

Of course, the Republican position would be a little stronger if the G.O.P. members refused to commit themselves to the expenditures until next year. You can hardly justify the Republican action in voting a raise costing $11,000,000 for State employees and then refusing to provide the money to pay it. If they are against the tax to finance the salary boost, then logically they should also vote against the increase itself.

The idea behind both the Democratic and Republican strategy is that people's memories are short, that a tax enacted now will be pretty much accepted and taken for granted a year hence and wouldn't be a compelling issue in the 1952 election.

How this situation will ultimately be resolved can't be accurately forecast right now. If the Democratic leadership in the House could succeed in getting its entire party forces together for a few consecutive days, it probably could get through the tax legislation desired by the Dever administration.

The G.O.P., of course, controls the State Senate by a margin of 22-18 and theoretically has the votes to kill any measure it desires to keep off the statute books. But Republican discipline isn't as good in the Senate as it is in the House, and there have been scattered indications that some G.O.P. votes are available to the administration when they are needed.

The Democrats publicly blast the Republicans for playing politics and for voting for an expenditure on one hand and refusing to pay for it on the other. Privately, however, they concede that if the tables were reversed they'd probably try to do the same thing themselves as, indeed, they have in the past. It's all part of the great game of politics, but at times it can be rather wearying to th people.

To Present Hospital Panel At Rotary Club Meeting Monday

An informative trip behind the scenes at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital will be afforded Rotary members and their guests at the regular luncheon meeting, held at Brae Burn Country Club, Monday, August 27th. With Dr. T. Stewart Hamilton serving as moderator and introducing the panel members a short talk on several of the hospital's departments will outline how each department serves the hospital as a whole and will give considerable insight into the complexity of the modern community hospital.

Dr. David Skinner, Chief Pathologist, will discuss the services rendered by the laboratory and will describe the scope and significance of laboratory procedures. Miss Myrtice L. Fuller, Director of Nursing will present the nursing picture in capsule form. Mrs. Kenneth Palmer, Director of Social Services, will tell how her department helps those who are temporarily unable to help themselves. Mrs. Louise Shively, Dietician, will explain how her department is able to cope with the problem of preparing special diets as well as providing tasty, health-giving food for the staff. Mr. Robert R. Walker will outline the role of the volunteer in the hospital and will present a review of volunteer opportunities. The whole program is scheduled to last 30 minutes.

Talk Is Given By Princess Ileana

Last Thursday morning, the whole of Camp Patoma gathered in the dining rooms to hear Princess Ileana of Romania, now living in Newton, mother of campers, Marie, Elizabeth and Dominic Hapsburg, gave an informal talk on the customs, conditions, and history of her country. Both campers and counselors were fascinated by her delightful and interesting presentation of the facts regarding the past and present situation there, the customs of the people, the changes that have taken place under the present regime. A question period brought a host of inquiries from the campers of all ages, dealing with all phases of Romanian history, habits, customs, products, industries and culture.

Princess Ileana closed her talk with a very serious and inspiring contrast between the freedom enjoyed by American children and the virtual slavery existing in her beloved country since the Communists took over the government. This event will remain as one of the most memorable of the campers' weeks at Patoma.

Parents Day Is Held At Camp Patoma

At the Parents' Day exercises at Camp Patoma in Holliston many of the campers from the Newtons won high awards.

In the Girls' Camp, the Best Camper prize in the Pawnee Tribe went to Sue Appel of West Newton; Marie Magdelena Habsburg of Newton won the Best Camper Prize in the Seminole Tribe. Most Improved Camper Award in the Seminoles went to Holley Peirce of West Newton. The Best Swimmer Award in the Navajo Tribe went to Elisabeth Habsburg of Newton, as well as the Swimming Award. Many other specific awards, such as, Red Cross certificates in swimming, National Rifle Association certificates and badges in riflery, and Camp Archery Association certificates in Archery were made.

In the Kindergarten Tribe, the Apaches, the Honor Camper Award went to Deborah Conant of West Newton. Sportsmanship prizes were given to Ronald Carkner of Newtonville and James Cail of Newton.

In the Boys' Camp, the highest award, Honor Camper, went to Peter Grant of Waban, who was also Best Camper of the Crow Tribe; second prize to Richard Williams of Chestnut Hill; Peter Brotman of Chestnut Hill was Best Camper of the Cherokees; Whitney Foster of West Newton was Best Camper of the Algonquins. The award for Sportsmanship in the Commanche Tribe went to Walter Kreske of Newton Center; and in the Cherokee Tribe to Samuel Appel of West Newton. The Most Courteous Award in the Seneca Tribe was won by David Wagenknecht of West Newton, and in the Cherokees by John Hurwitch, Chestnut Hill. The award for the Most Improveed Camper in the Commanches was given to Carl Brotman, Chestnut Hill; in the Iroquois Tribe to Arthur Pollan, from Guatamala, visiting his grandmother in Newton Center; in the Senecas, to Marshall Levine, Auburndale.

Charles Snider of Newtonville won the Camp Baseball Award and the prize for Proficiency in Riflery. Best Archery prize was given to Warren Kindred of Newtonville; Best Swimmer Award in the Seneca I Tribe to Roger Kindred of Newtonville; Best Swimmer Award in Seneca II Tribe to Dominic Habsburg of Newton. The award for the Most Self-Reliant in the Sioux-Mohawks went to William Pfeiffer of Waban and the Sportsmanship Prize in the same tribe to William Krell of Waban. Many other specific prizes and certificates were awarded for progress in swimming, archery, and riflery. Besides the eighty children enrolled at Camp Patoma this summer from Newton, there were fourteen counselors and others in the staff of fifty-four.

Director Thomas W. Leydon states that this was the most successful season from all points of view in the sixteen years of the Day Camp's operation.

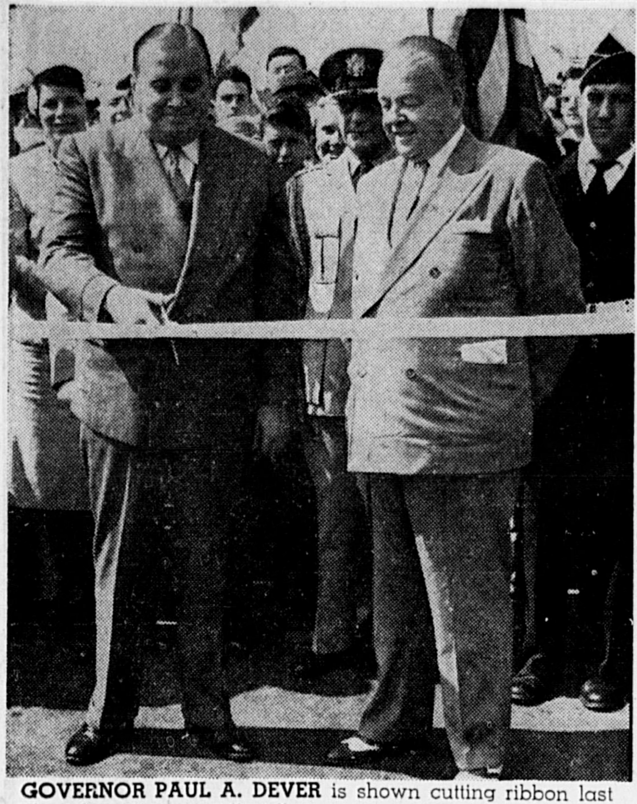
Colorful Ceremonies Mark Opening of New Route 128

PROPERTY TAX BILL IS SIGNED



GOVERNOR PAUL A. DEVER is shown cutting ribbon last Thursday afternoon officially opening new, modern highway Route 128 which cost in excess of $20,000,000. Looking on approvingly is Commissioner William F. Callahan of the Massachusetts Department of Public Works. The official ceremonies marking the opening of Route 128 to traffic was held at the Newton-Wellesley line.—Photo by Graphic Staff Photographer Welsh.

Highway To Be of Great Aid To Motor Traffic

Dedication and opening of Route 128, the State's new circumferential highway, took place at the junction of routes 9 and 128 at the Newton-Wellesley line as scheduled last Thursday afternoon with all the pageantry of a holiday, the atmosphere of highway success and a telegram from President Truman. Following the ceremonies, a cavalcade of assorted vehicles, from an 1890 high wheel bicycle and a calliope to a team of oxen and 100 antique cars, rolled over the highway carrying public officials, spectators and horseless carriage experts.

The highway was no sooner dedicated by Governor Paul A. Dever and officials of the communities through which it passed, than thousands of automobilists forced officials to open it 12 hours ahead of time.

STRESS ADVANTAGES

Govern Dever, along with Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood of Newton, Mrs. Marion Peirce, chairman of the Wellesley Board of Selectmen, Commissioner of Public Works William F. Callahan in speeches commemorating the opening of the new super highway, stressed the advantages of the project and predicted it

Three Local Men Added To Faculty

Three Newton men have been added to the faculty of Northeastern University's Evening School of Business and College of Liberal Arts, according to an announcement by Dean Albert E. Everett.

Eugene D. Goddess, 526 Quineboquin road, Waban, will teach Techniques of Supervision and Edwin R. Knox, 105 Fairway drive, West Newton will teach Group Insurance, in the College of Business. John P. Mallan, 54 Erie avenue, Newton Highlands, will give a course on the Soviet Union in the Evening College of Liberal Arts.

Asks Public To Demand Enforcement

Chief Philip Purcell of the Newton Police Department today issued an appeal to motorists to help cut down accidents over the coming Labor Day Holiday.

Chief Purcell pointed out that holiday traffic deaths have been increasing throughout the nation at an alarming rate during the past few years. Each of the holiday periods have been reaching new heights in tragedy. The 1951 observance of the holiday threatens to be as tragic as 1950 unless enforcement agencies, individuals, and organizations interested in safety do everything possible to prevent a recurrence.

"It is generally agreed," the Chief stated, "that rigid enforcement of traffic laws plays a big part in keeping down the toll of highway accidents. But to make such enforcement possible, the public must be willing not only to accept it, but demand it. Traffic officers must know their efforts will be supported and are, in fact, expected.

"The Newton Police Department will do everything in its power to make the streets of Newton safe," the Chief continued. It is the responsibility of everyone to support our efforts in this campaign by observing the following: obey all traffic rules and regulations, obey traffic signs and signals, take it easy on the road and don't speed, be courteous to other drivers and pedestrians, and above all, don't drive while drinking."

Others Pass Swimming Tests Here

The following children passed swimming tests recently at Crystal Lake in the "Learn to Swim" program of the Newton Chapter, American Red Cross:

Beginners: Maura Malloy, Karen Myers and Stuart Sandler of Newton Centre; Wilma Kennedy, Newton Upper Falls; David McHugh, Newton Lower Falls; Joel Adelson, John S. Nicholson and Frank Swett, Newton Highlands.

Intermediates: William Morris, Newton Centre, and Natalie Wetherell, West Newton.

Parke Snow's Opening at Newton Centre Has Large Attendance

EXTERIOR VIEW of the beautiful, new Parke Snow store which was opened last week at Newton Centre. The Newton store is the ninth unit of this widely-known organization, and is efficiently equipped for the utmost in shopping comfort.

Ninth Store Meets Fine Reception

Parke Snow's new unit at Newton Centre, which was opened on August 23, at 10:30 a.m., was crowded by interested shoppers, many of whom were waiting at the door when the store was opened. Many favorable comments were heard on the new interior arrangements, the quality of the merchandise carried, and the extensive assortments available.

The opening was strictly business There was no speech-making, no ribbon cutting. However, surprise gifts of roses were given out by the thousands to first day customers.

This new unit comprises approximately 15,000 square feet of selling space, on two floors. Street floor departments include Women's and Children's, Men's and Boys' apparel and accessories; Cosmetics; Lingerie; Corsets; Uniforms; Wash Dresses; Robes and Housecoats; Fashion Shops. Downstairs may be found Notions; Domestics; Home Furnishings; and Housewares. Offices are at the rear of the street floor. There is a capacious parking area at the rear of the store.

Departments are treated as a series of individual shops, by arrangement of fixtures, and colors. Two conventional display windows are set at either side of the clear glass front, so arranged that the outside shopper may get a view of the interior. Colors are in the pastel tones, giving the impres-

Exemption Increased To $5,000

Governor Paul A. Dever Tuesday signed into law a bill exempting household furniture and personal effects from local taxation up to $5000. At present the personal property tax exemption is only $1000. As a result, property owners in Newton are faced with the possibility of a sharp increase in their tax bill next year as the more than $700,000 which the city has been receiving from the personal property tax has all but been wiped out and the revenue from this source very possibly must be met by property owners here.

It is not believed, however, that the entire $700,000 will be placed on the shoulders of the property owners because a certain part of this sum will be recovered but how much is problematical.

Unless revenue from other sources, now unforeseen, is secured, the tax rate here is due to increase, possibly by as much

Copy Must Be Sent In Early

Because Monday is a holiday, Labor Day, news and advertising copy for publication in next week's issue of The Graphic should be sent to this office Friday and Saturday of this week to insure publication.

The Graphic will be published next week at the usual time, Thursday morning, but the holiday shortens up the time for preparation of copy and other facilities. Consequently, news and advertising copy should be sent to The Graphic office as early as possible. Cooperation in this matter will greatly facilitate in giving adequate coverage to both news and advertising copy.

Miss Justina C. Crosby Wed In Connecticut

Announcement nas been made by Mrs. Justin W. Crosby of Newton Centre of the marriage of her daughter, Miss Justina C. Crosby of Litchfield, Connecticut, formerly of Newton, to Arthur W. Williams of Goshen, Connecticut.

The wedding took place at 4 p.m. last Saturday in the Congregational Church in Litchfield in the presence of the immediate families. The Rev. Robert L. Edwards, Pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Miss Crosby had Miss Evelyn G. Dempsey of Bantam, Connecticut as her only attendant. Clarence Sjogren of Brooklyn, New York served as best man. Miss Crosby's gown was fashioned with an imported rose-point lace bodice with sweetheart neckline and nylon tulle ballerina length skirt in white over pale pink taffeta. She carried a bouquet of white orchids. Miss Dempsey's ballerina length gown was of white lace over pale blue taffeta. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet.

A dinner for the immediate families was held at "The Boulders" on Lake Waramaugh in New Preston, Connecticut.

The couple are now on a wedding trip to Bermuda and on their return will make their home at "Windy Top," Goshen, Connecticut.

Mrs. Williams graduated from Newton High School and the University of Massachusetts and is now employed as Home Demonstration Agent for the Litchfield County Extension Service. Mr. Williams is a builder and a dairy farmer in Goshen, Connecticut.

Miss Eleanor Stuart Married To Mr. Palmer

With the bride's uncle, the Rev. Robert M. Russell of Santa Barbara, Calif., and her grandfather, the Rev. Arthur J. Brown of New York City officiating, Miss Eleanor Stuart became the bride Saturday afternoon of Mr. John Clinton Palmer, son of Mrs. Arthur E. Palmer of West Somerville and the late Mr. Palmer. There were white gladioli and dahlias on the altar and cibotium ferns in the chancel of the First Parish Church, Brookline, for the 3:30 ceremony, and white dahlias marked the pews. A reception followed on the lawn at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Harold Coe Stuart of Brookline.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of antique satin with a yoke and sleeves of illusion. Her family veil was fashioned of Duchesse lace and she carried a semi-cascade of Eucharis lilies. Mrs. Earle K. Moore of New York City was the matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Martha R. Hoffman and Miss Jean Hosie of Boston; and Miss Adele C. Saklad of Brookline. They wore gowns of red shantung faille with matching velvet caps and carried sprays of white delphiniums.

Miss Elizabeth D. Horrax of Chestnut Hill was the honorary maid of honor and Mrs. Darcy Curwen of Chestnut Hill and Mrs. L. Manlius Sargent, Jr., of Needham, were honorary bridesmaids.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Stuart wore pale turquoise taffeta shantung with a brown tulle turban and a corsage of rubrum lilies. Mrs. Palmer, the bridegroom's mother, was gowned in periwinkle blue chiffon and lace with a matching velvet hat and a gold orchid corsage.

The best man was Mr. Irving L. Luscombe of Nutley, N. J., and the ushers included Mr. David E. Young of Westbury, L. I., N. Y.; Mr. Gordon E. Chandler of Winchester; Mr. John W. Bicknell of Ithaca, N. Y.; and Mrs. Edward J. Bernard of West Somerville.

The bride attended the Winsor School and was graduated from St. Catherine's School, Richmond, Va., and from Smith College. She is a member of the Junior League. The bridegroom was graduated from the University of Maine and served for three years in the European theater during the war.

Miss Marie F. Terry Is Married In Newton

The Rev. John Mullarker officiated Saturday at the marriage of his cousin, Mr. John Henry Monahan, and Miss Marie Frances Terry, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Francis V. Terry of Newton. The ceremony was performed in the Church of Our Lady Help of Christians, Newton, with a reception following at the Hotel Beaconsfield.

The bride, whose father gave her in marriage, wore a gown of white organza, a fingertip veil of illusion, and carried a cascade of stephanotis and white orchids.

Miss Ruth Ann Terry, maid of honor, was gowned in pale blue picolet and carried salmon glamellias. The bridesmaids, Miss Virginia M. Cass of Belmont and Miss Elizabeth N. Crowley of Medford, wore pink picolet gowns and carried cascades of rose glamelias. Carol Terry of Hopkinton, the flower girl, carried a basket of rose petals with her aqua organza dress.

Mr. Monahan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Monahan of Jamaica Plain, had his brother, Dr. Thomas J. Monahan, Jr., of Jamaica Plain, as best man. The ushers were Dr. Daniel H. Clancy of Weymouth, Mr. John F. Beatty of Miami Beach, Fla., Mr. Joseph L. Delaney of Newton Centree, and Mr. Thomas R. Shea of Holliston.

The bride was graduated from Radcliffe College and Mr. Monahan is a graduate of Holy Cross College and Harvard Law School.

Nonantum

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Valente of 41 West street, celebrated their twenty-first wedding anniversary Sunday. It was also Mrs. Valente's birthday. They have one son, Joseph, Jr., who is seventeen.

WHY BRISTOL UPHOLSTERING IS DIFFERENT

(1) We don't tie springs just 4 or 6 ways—we tie them fully 8 ways and with special twine.
(2) We don't just glue loose frames—we tear out old dowels, replace them with larger and new ones. We add brand new corner blocks.
(3) We don't tack seams at just the obvious spots—we hand sew seams throughout the piece.
(4) The welting isn't simulated—it's separate, individually made — that means it's stronger.
(5) The seams on the sides and backs aren't blind-tacked—all the seams are handsewn.
(6) We don't use ordinary fibre or excelsior—we use the new, expensive moss filling.
(7) We don't just repair your cushions—we make brand new cushions, springs and all.
(8) We don't put the fabric on carelessly—we make sure the pattern matches perfectly.
(9) We don't just cut from a pattern—we fit your cover as carefully as a tailor-made suit.
(10) We don't settle for second-best materials—we use only the highest quality throughout.

Happy Holidays

Modern electric appliances are constantly bringing happy holidays from old-fashioned, laborious housekeeping . . . and the whole family benefits. These appliances are labor-savers and money-savers, too. Maybe there should be a special holiday in celebration of Electricity in the Home . . . called "NO-Labor Day"!

All kinds of jobs — in homes — commerce — industry — are easier and pleasanter for the people who do them in the age of electricity. And all kinds of necessary things — Including the vital products for National Defense — are being made better, faster and cheaper — thanks to invisible, indispensable and incomparable electricity! Happy Holidays!

Grant Aids Greatly In Girl Scout Work

By Dorothy G. Baker

The $14,300 allocation of the Community Chest to the Newton Local Council Girl Scouts for 1951 will be spent largaly for staff and office facilities and upkeep. Since this grant enables the Council to obtain the best in the field in executive capacities the 465 volunteers who work with the 1781 girls in the 119 troops will be excellently trained and the Scouts will benefit greatly.

Group leadership courses are featured supplemented by those in special skills, preparation for overnight hikes and outdoor activities. The girls who range in age from seven to 17 are offered many choices in various fields. Homemaking is a favorite one with the Intermediate scout, who also joins the Brownies and Seniors in international friendship projects such as "schoolmates overseas". One hundred forty-five school bags were assembled, packed and sent in 1950 and the trend of interest indicates that such activities will continue in 1951.

"To help other people at all times" is part of the Girl Scout's promise. To keep this promise in 1951 scouts will participate in service projects such as filling solicitors' kits at the Community Chest office, making tray favors and toys for hospitals, helping at the Girl Scout office, and entertaining at homes for old people. Since the bulk of the allotment is used for supervisory purposes the girls help themselves by carrying out one money-raising project a year for funds for troop activities.

Girl Scouts will learn about cooperation among agencies within the community since facilities of the All Newton School, the YMCA, many churches, schools and other buildings will be used as meeting places for scout groups. Personal cooperation of members of the fire and police departments in health and safety programs and Boy Scouts who will assist in setting up tents at camp teach the group the necessity of learning to live helpfully in a community before attempting the wider fields of country and world.

Dramatics and camping (entirely self-supporting) will continue to be favorite activities and will also indicate to the girls that success depends upon group cooperation, patience, good sportsmanship, ability to accept criticism and to get on with other people.

Past performance concretely illustrating the success of the program of the Newton Local Council Girl Scouts was the honor awarded a senior scout who was chosen 1950 alternate for the highest Girl Scout award, the Juliette Low Award, which is given to four girls in the United States each year.

In an interesting annual report for 1950 the Commissioner writes "As one of Newton's Red Feather services, the Girl Scouts present to their membership and to the community a story of progress. Our goal for 1951 is to offer Girl Scouting to every girl who wants to join and to give the Girl Scouts already enrolled an opportunity to become responsible citizens. . . People who respect the rights of others and work willingly with them; people who are resourceful and self-reliant, who have imagination and courage; people who try to live according to their belief in the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of men. Girl Scouting is helping girls to become people like that."

Palsy Benefit Set for Sept. 25

A musical performance for the benefit of the United Cerebral Palsy Council of the Newton-Wellesley area entitled, "Spotlight on Youth," is to be held Tuesday, September 25 at 8 p. m., at the Newton High School Auditorium. THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT

PAUL A. DEVER
GOVERNOR

We, the citizens of Massachusetts, are once again given the opportunity to join with the Children's Cancer Research Foundation, in cooperation with the Variety Club of New England, the Boston Braves and the Motion Picture Industry in the noble fight against Cancer.

Cancer does not discriminate in its attack. Race, color and creed provide no barrier against this horrible visitation.

Children affected with Cancer present a grave problem. The alarming increase in the number of children stricken in this fashion and the present need for greater facilities whereby Cancer can be studied and its victims treated, commends this public appeal as worthy of our best efforts.

The peoples of this State have shown by the quality and quantity of their generosity toward this charitable activity that they feel that the "JIMMY" Fund is worthy of the support of all citizens of this Commonwealth.

Therefore, I, Paul A. Dever, Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, do hereby proclaim as

JIMMY TIME

AUGUST 26 through SEPTEMBER 9, 1951

and do urge the people, through the medium of the "JIMMY" Fund to do your part in stamping out Cancer among children.

GIVEN at the Executive Chamber in Boston, this fifteenth day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifty-one, and of the Independence of the United States of America, the one hundred and seventy-sixth.

Paul A Dever

By His Excellency the Governor,

Edward J Cronin
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Please Be Careful

Here, as elsewhere in this issue, we are stressing the fact that motorists cannot be too careful in their driving over this coming Labor Day week-end. Too much emphasis cannot be placed on the need to drive sanely and carefully over this week-end. It is one of the most dangerous week-ends for motorists in the entire year. It is the last of summer's holidays and for a large majority of people, the last chance to enjoy the countryside so that consequently the highways are jammed with traffic.

It is not pleasant to know that of the many people who will start out sometime during the four-day period for perhaps their last real outing of the summer, some of them will end up, not at home, but in hospitals, and that a few will be fatally injured and never come home at all.

Experience has shown that heavy traffic means accidents, some of which are likely to be fatal. However, holiday dangers are the same kind that motorists and pedestrians face every day of the week. There are merely more cars on the road and hence more dangers. A calm, sincere, realization of this fact with a little extra caution can prevent the great majority of these dangers. Take your time, be courteous, don't lose your temper and above all, don't drink and drive your car at the same time over this week-end.

Be extremely careful, won't you? We want to see you, smiling, happy and well, come next Tuesday morning.

The Common Redpoll

The Common Redpoll is a small bird, but a hardy one. He spends his summers in Canada and his winters in the northern United States. He may go as far south as Virginia, Alabama, Kansas, Colorado, and Northern California. But he is more likely to stay up where the snow is deeper and the temperature falls lower.

Though the ground is buried under a white blanket, the Redpoll manages to get seeds for food. His favorites are the seeds of alder and birch trees. When he finds some, he clings to a branch and picks open the seed coverings. As the seeds pop out and drop to the ground, he flies down to collect his harvest.

All around him are other Redpolls, busy at the same task. They like to stay in flocks, whether they are traveling or settled down for the season. They also enjoy the company of goldfinches, and the two kinds of birds often fly together.

The best way to identify the flying Redpolls, says the National Wildlife Federation, is to listen for their call. They seem to be saying, "Chut, chut, chut, chut, chut." The sound may remind you of the muffled noise which comes from small pebbles being rattled between cupped hands.

At other times the Redpoll cries, "Pi-ree, pi-ree, Ti-er, tier." It is a sweeter call than his flight sounds, and there is a touch of sadness to it as he sings from a treetop.

In every other way, though, Common Redpolls are gay, active birds. They chatter both in the air and while they eat, and they seldom sit still for long. They aren't easily frightened, either. When something startles them, they may whirl into the air for a short flight. But they quickly settle down as though nothing had happened.

The flock is a colorful sight, because the birds all wear red caps. Under their throats are patches of black. The upper parts of their bodies are streaked with brown and gray. The male Redpolls also have streaks of pink underneath, but the females do not. This is the one mark by which you can tell them apart. Both the males and the females are about 5¼ inches long.

In winter and summer, the Redpolls live in groves of birches, clumps of willows and alders, and in old weed fields and pastures. They may put their nests at almost any height, but usually they build in the low branches of a willow or birch. If a tree isn't handy, they may use a clump of thick grass for a nesting place.

To start their nest, the Redpoll parents collect small twigs for a foundation. With the twigs they mix grass, moss, and other soft materials. The final lining is made of downs, fur, and feathers. In this snug spot are laid five or six small, blue-green eggs which are spotted with reddish-brown.

Both the baby birds and the parents eat insects while they are in Canada. As the days get shorter and the weather turns cold, they fly down to the United States, where they can feed on seeds for the winter.

Increase in State Tax Bill, But How Much? Democrats Predict Truman Will Run Again

It will be some little time yet before the people of Massachusetts learn the full extent of the new tax bill they will be called upon to pay.

They can be reasonably certain now that they will pay higher taxes on the cigarettes and gasoline they buy and that their State income tax bill next year will be somewhat bigger.

Those taxes, however, will not cover the added expenses that will be incurred for old age assistance, and no one at the State House will venture a guess as to what additional taxes will be enacted to meet that obligation. As a matter of fact, no one at the State House knew up to the time that this was written how much the old age bill is likely to go up.

A measure recommended by the legislative committee on pensions, which would boost minimum payments, allow greater exemptions for old age assistance, would cost about $20,000,000.

That would not include the additional expense involved in increasing the allowances for elderly persons now receiving more than the proposed minimums but who are in need of help because of rising living costs.

State House observers surmise that the Senate ways and means committee will be somewhat less liberal than the committee on pensions are that the old age bill will be trimmed down, with the likelihood that the provision referring to aliens would be stricken out. It would cost the State about $9,000,000 a year if non-citizens are made eligible for old age help.

Some liberalization of the old age law is almost certain to be enacted, however, and whatever additional expenses result will have to be met with new taxes.

One revelation which has surprised this writer is that at this stage of the legislative session, well beyond the customary prorogation date, it is still impossible to get any clear picture of the State's tax and financial problems.

Not more than a handful of legislators out of the 280 members of the House and Senate have even a vague idea of what taxes will be needed or how they are to be raised. Most of the law-makers just vote for or against the tax bills as a matter of politics. Some of them think nothing of voting for an expenditure of money but against a bill to obtain the taxes for the expense involved.

The members of the Senate and House ways and means committees are accepted as the experts on financial matters, but sometimes they're not exactly infallible.

Last week the House ways and means committee recommended the passage of a bill to double the State income tax, increasing the levy from 1½ to 3 per cent. This move, it was announced, would raise $11,000,000.

But when the measure reached the floor of the House a ways and means committee member moved that it be returned to his committee. It had been discovered, he said, that the bill would raise $23,000,000 rather than $11,000,000.

That seems to be an error of rather substantial mathematical proportions, particularly since it wouldn't appear to be too difficult to estimate how much the State would take in if it doubles its levy on personal income.

Subsequently, it developed that the measure probably would have been defeated anyway, and the committee decided to boost the income tax by the indirect means of eliminating present deductions allowed for federal taxes and for the State taxes of the previous year.

That would mean that the people would be paying taxes to the State on money they pay over to the federal government, but it's probably better politics to wipe out exemptions and then try to convince the taxpayers that you didn't really increase their taxes.

* * * * *

Democratic leaders from the Middle West met last week at French Lick, Ind., and reached a number of political conclusions, among them:

1. President Truman will be a candidate for reelection in 1952.
2. Mr. Truman would defeat Senator Taft but would face hard sledding if General Eisenhower is the nominee.
3. Supreme Court Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson of Kentucky would probably be the Democratic choice for president in the unlikely event that Truman decides not to run again.
4. Eisenhower is not likely to battle for the Republican nomination which he could have had for the asking in 1948 but turned down.
5. Democratic prospects are considerably brighter than they were at this time four years ago.
6. President Truman should be able to carry New York State which he lost in 1948 because of the candidacy of Henry A. Wallace.

Those are all the opinions of Democratic politicians, of course, and in some instances the wish undoubtedly is father to the thought. This department is doubtful that the Republican convention will nominate Senator Taft. We suspect that they will put up Eisenhower for the very reason that the Democrats are hoping Taft is the man they will have to battle.

Leisure Time Activities For All ...... At Pomroy House

By DOROTHY G. BAKER

The 1951 grant to the Rebecca Pomroy House from the Newton Community Chest is $6,175 which is about 50 percent of the operating cost of "The House on Hovey street." The balance is obtained from fees and income on invested funds.

This Red Feather neighborhood center for leisure time activities for boys, girls, women and elderly people of the vicinity offers opportunities for social contests through clubs and classes. Nearly 900 individuals find pleasure and satisfaction in creative activities.

Groups of all ages are served—the youngest members are found in the nursery school group while the oldest members are found in the adult group of 60 years and over. The nursery school is held from 8:15 to noon Mondays through Fridays for 38 weeks. About 30 youngsters between three and five attend the classes. A well-equipped playground is a popular spot at Pomroy House especially during the period when the ten-week play school is being conducted.

The adult group of "over 60" is an increasingly popular social group. The women sew, knit, or make scrapbooks while the men enjoy bridge, whist, checkers, or perhaps the newer game of Canasta. Group singing is well-liked, too. Tea parties and special birthday parties add a festive feeling to the get-togethers.

The afghans, bed covers and scrapbooks fashioned by the women of the group find their way to Cushing Hospital in Framingham and the Peabody Home in Newton Centre. Visits by the group to these institutions are enjoyed by hosts and guests.

A familiar sight at Pomroy House are groups of teen-age girls busily and happily concocting delectable culinary masterpieces and fashioning smart and wearable wardrobes for themselves. Piano and dancing lessons, dramatics and special fun events add to the enjoyment of group participation.

A varied program of crafts, dressmaking, lectures, drama, and social activities appeal to the women's groups. A recent addition to the crafts classes is one in ceramics which is becoming increasingly popular. A Mother's Club and Parent-Teachers' Association serve as helpful mediums for the solution of mutual problems.

Special activities throughout the year such as trips to historical and interesting spots, parties, and plays round out the life at Pomroy House. The structure has been remodelled and renovated since it was first built as a rectory 130 years ago. The aim, however, has always been to keep a homelike atmosphere.

A summer day camp for boys and girls is run in cooperation with the West Newton Community Centre. Other coordinating Red Feather agencies include the Newton District Nursing Association which aids in the health program; the Newton-Wellesley Hospital which offers student participation; the Family Service Bureau which assists with case work; and the All-Newton Music School, with piano work.

The large "family" at Pomroy House is capably cared for by a staff consisting of the executive director and her assistant, a nursery school teacher and two assistants, two part-time sewing teachers, one for the women and one for the children; a dancing teacher and a leader for the "over 60" group. Eleven Newtonites volunteer their services at various times during the week to aid in the work of "The House on Hovey Street."

News In Brief

CHILD SAVED. A 2-year-old Auburndale boy, Joseph Wightman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Wightman, of 7 Wabasso road, was saved Sunday from drowning in his backyard wading pool through the cooperative efforts of his brother, his mother and father. After being told by another son, John W., 7, that a "turtle" was in the pool, and fearing the turtle might harm her children, Mrs. Wightman ran to the pool and saw her child floating on the surface. She pulled the child to the land with a rake and screamed for her husband who applied artificial respiration until the boy showed signs of life. Police and firemen who were summoned in the meantime arrived together with a physician who ordered the lad sent to the Newton-Wellesley Hospital for observation. First placed on the danger list, the boy has now fully recovered from his narrow escape from death, according to the latest report.

STREET REPAIR WORK. Street Commissioner Harold F. Young has announced that a $150,000 street repair program will start shortly. Bids for the contract work will be opened at City Hall next Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

gia. His other four brothers, Leo M., Paul V., William F., and Robert T., served in World War II. His other brother, James S., Jr., and his only sister reside at home.

Pvt. Cannon graduated from Our Lady's High School in 1948 and last March was inducted into the Army and immediately sent to Camp Pickett, Va., for basic training. He was later sent for further training to the Army cooking school at Camp Gordon, Ga., and from there was sent to Fort Devens last week, where he will be stationed.

He formerly played baseball and basketball while a student at Our Lady's High School and he is a member of Newton Lodge of Elks and Our Lady's Holy Name Society.

His brother Leo M., was a lieutenant, USNR, serving during World War II in the Navy, for the most part in the South and Southwest Pacific, with the Naval Air force, while Paul V., was a commander and first mate in the Maritime Service during World War II and spent over four and a half years at sea. Prior to the war he had served a full hitch in the Coast Guard.

His other brother, William F., was attached to the Army Air Corps which arrived in the Philippines November 20, 1941 and he was through Bataan, Corrigedor, the Death March, and two prison camps, where he finally died on or about March 3, 1943, being one of the first from Newton to have died in the Service during World War II.

Robert T., the fourth brother, is presently a State Police officer, and was formerly in the Coast Guard as a coxwain with four years service, mostly at sea, in the Atlantic, Mediterranean and Pacific oceans.

Mrs. Broderick, director of the River street playground, with a goodly number of mothers, took a group of about 45 children by bus for a happy day at Nantasket last Wednesday. On arrival, swimming was the first diversion, before eating the box lunches brought from home. Then the amusements were visited. Tired yet happy, in spite of the severe electrical storm, the group arrived at the playground safe and sound at about 5 o'clock. Their director had added another wonderful experience to the profitable days spent by the enthusiastic youngsters in her charge during the summer.

Archbishop—

tery in Brookline will be Deacon and the Reverend W. Seavey Joyce, S.J., of Boston College, Subdeacon.

Six years ago, at the request of Archbishop Cushing, Mother Georgia Stevens of the Pius X School of Liturgical Music in New York, opened the first Liturgical Music summer session at Newton College of the Sacred Heart. The Archbishop invited religious, organists and choir conductors of the Archdiocese to attend courses at his expense. This summer, under the direction of Mother Josephine Morgan, R.S.C.J., the school has 140 registered students of whom forty are lay musicians.

Among the students this summer is Miss Rose Miscio of Washington, Pa. Miss Miscio, an organist and a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music, is blind and is always accompanied by a seeing-eye dog. Another student is Mr. Berj Zamkochin, organist of St. Theresa's Church in West Roxbury, winner of a Fulbright scholarship in music, and also a graduate of the New England Conservatory. The youngest student is Paul Rouse, ten and a half, of South Boston, a pupil at the Gate of Heaven School. Paul, who is studying Gregorian Chant, once played the organ for a Confirmation ceremony at the Gate of Heaven Church when Archbishop Cushing presided.

Dr. Goldstein was president of the Wilkes Barre B'nai B'rith, vice-president of the Zionist District in Wilkes Barre and chairman of the Youth Division of the United Jewish Appeal. He is a member of the National Council of Jewish Education.

In accepting his new post, Dr. Goldstein stated his aim to be the continuation, intensification and enrichment of the Temple Emanuel educational program, designed to prepare the student for active, intelligent participation in the religious life of the Temple and in the total cultural experience of the Jewish community.

Exemption—

as three dollars per $1,000 of valuation, or better.

Although many communities in the Commonwealth have not imposed much, if any, personal property tax on their residents in the past, Newton, together with Springfield, Brookline and some others, have really gone after the tax.

With the exemption on personal property increased from $1000 to $5000, it is clearly evident that these communities must find other sources of revenue, if possible, or their tax rates must show a decided increase next year.

In this connection, Chairman John D. Wright of the Board of Assessors pointed out recently that there are still many who have personal property in excess of $5,000. In addition, there are the utilities—telephone, gas and light companies—which would also contribute a good portion.

He also pointed out that an exceptional increase in building here might absorb the contemplated loss of revenue from the personal property tax source although such a possibility is somewhat remote.

The special commission on taxation authorized by the Legislature to study Massachusetts tax problems had recommended outright abolition of the personal property tax but after debate in the Legislature, it was agreed to raise the exemption from $1000 to $5000 rather than wipe the law off the statue books entirely.

With signing of the bill Tuesday by Governor Dever, the $5000 exemption on personal property now becomes law.

Route 128—

would aid greatly in the promotion of highway safety in this State. Archbishop Cushing pronounced a eulogy and the Rev. Russell H. Bishop of Newton Centre, dedicated the highway to safety. The entire program was arranged by Edgar F. Copell of Newton.

After the ceremonies drew to a conclusion, Governor Dever and Commissioner Callahan cut the ribbon stretched across the highway, officially signifying the opening of the new highway.

Following this act, Governor Dever and Commissioner Callahan led the cavalcade which also included the 86th Army Band from Fort Deven, old and new fire apparatus, military detachments, two bad auto wrecks on trailers, ambulances, a horse and buggy, and finally, the giant road building machinery that helped to construct the highway. The cavalcade proceeded over the entire route to Lynnfield and stops were made in the various communities through which it passed, where further exercises commemorating the opening, were observed.

Included in the cavalcade representing Newton, in addition to Mayor Lockwood, were local State officials, members of the Board of Aldermen, a citizens delegation, and a group representing the Newton Chamber of Commerce.

President Truman, in his telegram which was read at the ceremonies stated:

"Hearty congratulations to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts on the achievement of another milestone in traffic efficiency through the opening of Route 128. These limited access highways point the way not only to the promotion of traffic safety and the conservation of time but they make a distinct contribution to national defense where they touch military installations."

The new road permits trucks as well as passenger automobiles. It has no tolls, no billboards, no roadside stands, because of a recently enacted law.

The new highway runs along a circle with a radius of approximately 11 miles from the center of Boston and forms a vital link in the system connecting the Wilbur Cross parkway in Connecticut to the New Hampshire toll road.

PLANNED IN 1939

It was first planned in 1939 and cuts all the main roads radiating north and west of Boston to provide a way around the congested Metropolitan area. It is the longest "limited access" highway in the state and sometimes is called the "The Northern Circumferential Highway."

The opening of route 128 should relieve Newton's streets of much of the through traffic which entered the city prior to the opening of the new route Thursday afternoon. In his speech at the dedication exercises, Mayor Lockwood said, among other things: "Today we are meeting to pay homage to the capable organization which has wrought this magnificent circumferential highway, the new Route 128, out of countryside and suburban cities. In a relatively short period of time this capable organization has presented not only a solution to one of our greatest traffic problems, but rendered it a simple procedure for Newton citizens to reach all points north and south, as well as to make many other important connections with a great saving of time. This transportation artery serves Newton with great importance as to economy of time and safety and brings us closer to outlying sections."

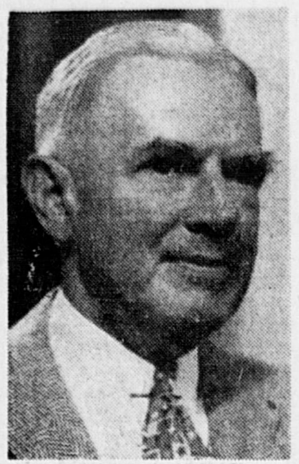
Donald D. McKay to Head Salvation Army Drive

Donald D. McKay of 46 Woodcliffe road, Newton Highlands, will head the 1951 Salvation Army Drive in Newton. He has been named General Chairman of the Army's Friendly Appeal which will start in Newton on September 11.

A graduate of Amherst, McKay is a former member of the Newton Board of Aldermen, serving as chairman of the Finance Committee of that body during his term of office. He recently retired as a member of the Boston investment counsel firm of Standish, Ayer & McKay, Inc. He has been a resident of Newton for the past 36 years.



DONALD D. McKAY

Active in many local charitable campaigns, he is a former vice president and general chairman of the Newton Community Chest. He is a trustee of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital and a director of the Stone Institute and the Newton Home for Aged People. He is also a director of the Newton Taxpayers Association.

Present plans call for the conclusion of the drive two weeks after the September 11 starting date. Additional information will be found in next week's edition of this newspaper.

Newton's goal for this year's drive is $26,000.

Local 1505 Endorses Pool Plan

It has been announced that the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 1505, AF of L, Newton's largest industrial union, mostly represented by workers in the local Raytheon plants, have gone on record favoring the building of the Albemarle playground swimming, diving and wading pool, as originally sponsored by Harry Gath, Jr..

The Horace Mann Association recently received the announcement of this support at a meeting held at Mr. Gath's home, with President Ernest L. Sullivan presiding.

In addition to the Raytheon union endorsement, President Sullivan outlined a plan for a membership drive throughout the territory, the north side of the city ,and the selection of a temporary program and policy committee to formulate the plans requesting a public hearing before the Board of Aldermen together with whatever other activities the Association would engage in later.

Airline Stewardess New Handbook Is Now Available

A brand new handbook on Airline Stewardess work and training was delivered to Robert K. Burns, Registrar of Ward School of Airline Training, Room 448, 120 Boylston street, Boston. Ward would like every girl qualified to begin a Stewardess career before January 1 to have a free copy.

This fascinating threecolor booklet is fully illustrated. It has pictures of Ward graduates from all over America who are now flying for Pan-American Airways, Trans World Airline, Eastern, Delta Capital, Northeast and other major airlines. These successful Stewardesses tell you in their own words about Flight Stewardess work and how you can become an Airline Stewardess.

And, the handbook contains full information on Ward Stewardess training; what you learn and how you learn it as a trainee, the airline equipment in use and the flight service classes at Ward. You will find all details on how Ward arranges flight assignments for graduates through guaranteed Stewardess employment interviews, on when you can enter training, when you will earn your wings, and how little you pay for the nationally known airline accredited Ward Stewardess course.

All young ladies who are interested in taking this course should contact Robert K. Burns, Registrar of Ward at LIberty 2-1833.

SECOND OF TWO 1951 ECLIPSES of the sun. If the weather is clear in the early morning this Saturday, New Englanders who arise before the sun will see a very unusual spectacle, the second of two 1951 eclipses of the sun. In an annular eclipse the moon's umbra or dark shadow is too short to reach the earth. An observer at the point X sees the dark disc of the moon surrounded by the bright ring of the sun as shown at the left of the diagram. This effect is visible to observers along the central path of the eclipse. New England will not be in the central path of the September 1st eclipse, but they will see the unusual spectacle of the sun rising in partial eclipse.

85 Newton Scouts Receive Camp Quinapoxet Awards

The second and final Court of Awards of the summer was held at Camp Quinapoxet, West Rindge, N. H., last Saturday evening, August 25, at which 85 Newton Scouts received awards earned during the final two weeks at the Camp. The presentations were made by Arthur F. Veinott of Newton Highlands, Chairman of the Council Advancement Committee.

The Court of Awards, held to recognize Scouting progress made during the summer, granted Second Class Scout and First Class Scout Awards, and Merit Badge Certificates. A Scout who has accumulated the required number of Merit Badges becomes a candidate for the rank of Star, Life or Eagle Scout, which will next be awarded at the Council Court of Honor in late October.

Second Class Scout Awards went to Richard Hohman of Troop 4B; Henry Chambers, Thomas Clancy and Alden Eames of Troop 7; and Joseph DiCarlo and Charles Redler of Troop 21.

First Class Scout Awards were received by Robert Wulff of Troop 2; Richard Dahlquist of Troop 4B; Robert Purinton Jr. of Troop 5; Kent Brauninger and Thomas Clancy of Troop 7; Craig Springer and Fred Nobbs Jr. of Troop 9; Michael Harting of Troop 11; Bennet Serkin and David Ritchie of Troop 19; William Goldberg and Arthur Goodman of Troop 25; David Woods and Martin Gorney of Troop 27; and Wallace Palmer and Andrew Morrison of Troop 100.

Motorists to Face Stiff Enforcement

Vacations and leaves of absence have been cancelled and all activities curtailed so that 230 Registry Inspectors will be on the highway from tomorrow noon (Friday) through next Tuesday, to help regulate and control traffic over the Labor Day week-end.

The telephone and teletype state-wide communication system will be operated on a 24-hour basis with extra personnel to keep Registrar King and his staff advised of the traffic situation in every part of the Commonwealth and make it possible for them to send mobile units of inspectors to strategic areas.

Registrar King said, "We have 1,304, 974 registered motor vehicles and 1,755,616 licensed operators. This means the heaviest highway traffic over Labor Day week-end in our history.

"All Registry men are giving up their holiday to make the highways safe so you may enjoy yours.

"By reasonable operation, respect for the rights of other highway users and courteous consideration for all, we will prevent accidents and save lives."

Placement Tests at Dav September 7

Frank Ashley Day Junior High School will give placement tests here on Friday, September 7 at 9:00 a.m. This is for all new pupils, but does not apply to the seventh graders coming from our elementary schools.

Make-up tests for incomplete marks or for pupils who have been tutored in a subject will also be given.

The school office will be open beginning Tuesday, September 4, through Thursday, September 6, from 9:00 a.m., to 12:00 noon for registration of new pupils and to issue transfers.

New pupils should register as early as possible and should bring transfer and report cards with them. Parents are urged to accompany children whenever possible.

School opens Monday, September 10, at 8:45 for 7th grade pupils; at 1:00 p.m., for 8th and 9th grade pupils.

Newcomers Are Urged to Register

Newcomers to the Weeks Junior High School district who did not register in June are requested to telephone the Weeks Guidance Office for an appointment for registration during the week of September 3.

The Weeks Junior High School opens for seventh graders Monday, September 10, and for eighth and ninth graders, Tuesday, September 11.
